What Should Be Done?

"Shall the People of Minnesota Give the Power of Prohibiting Strikes to the Courts?" The problem of differences between labor and the employer is one that has been very much before the public for the past few years at least. Many plans have been presented with a view to bringing about peaceable settlement of these disputes. Go to the high school auditorium Friday evening at eight o'clock and hear what the debating teams of the Roseau and Thief River Falls high schools have to say on both sides of this subject.

Claude Bartlett Dies At Home of Parents Wed.

Wednesday morning Claude Bartlott, aged 27, passed away at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bartlett, who reside north of the Soo round house. The cause of the young man's early demise was an affliction of Hodgkin's disease, an unusual ailment, from which he had been suffering during the past six months. He had been receiving medical treatment in the cities but of no avail.

Mr. Bartlett was known to a large number of Thief River Falls people, having lived here for several years. He was born in New York state, March 31, 1896, coming to this city about 16 years ago and lived here a great share of the time since, attending the local schools and later employed on the Soo railroad. During the war he served with the U. S. forces and the year following its close he settled in Minneapolis where he was manager of Wrigley's restaurant until late spring when he became seriously ill. Two years ago he was united in marriage to Miss Beth Wahlmut of St. Paul. Deceased came to Thief River Falls at Christmas time to visit at his parental home where death finally overtook him.

Besides his wife and baby boy he also leaves to mourn his death, his parents, three sisters, Dorothy and Ruth of Thief River Falls and Mrs. Fred Scanlon of Minneapolis; and four brothers, Charles, Lee, Ray and Richard, all of whom reside in this city.

The funeral services will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock at St. Bernards church, Father Noesen conducting the services, which will be in charge of the Elmer Ecklund post of the American Legion.

Oklee Wins Decision in $7,500 Claim for Damages

The following item from the Red Lake Falls Gazette of last week may be of interest to those who have followed the progress of the claim of Mrs. C. O. Lindberg of Oklee against the village of Oklee:

"Word was just just received today that the Minnesota state industrial commission has disallowed the claim of Mrs. C. O. Lindberg for $7,500 damages alleged to be due from Oklee village for the death of her husband, whom she claimed died as the result of gas poisioning while in the employ of the village at the electric light plant.

The commission finds it to be the fact that Mr. Lindberg suffered so-called gas poisioning while in the village employ, but states that it was not a contributing factor to his death. The plaintiff, has ten days in which to appeal the case to the state supreme court in case she so desires.

Hearings on the case were conducted at the courthouse in this city before Referee P. C. Roynolds of St. Paul who was empowered by the commission to take evidence. First hearings were held in September and the case was adjourned until November 9 when it was concluded. Boughton & Boughton were the attorneys for the village, and H. O. Chommie of Thief River Falls was counsel for the plaintiff."

Erie Man Alleged To Have Sold Mortgaged Property

Another case was placed on the calendar of the February term of district court when on complaint of John Aga of Thief River Falls Frank Skibicki of Erie was brought before Judge Tarrant in municipal court and bound over to the February term of court the charge being selling mortgaged property.

On July 6 Skibicki, according to testimony, sold a Chevrolet car to Aga, without having stated that at the time of the sale D. G. Brownlee had a mortgage to the amount of $150 against the car, dated April 21.

Complaint was first made by Aga in September but owing to the absence of one of the interested parties, action was not taken until Sunday when Skibicki was brought to Thief River Falls by Sheriff Ihle. He was put in jail overnight and Monday appeared before Judge N. W. Tarrant in municipal court. After hearing of the evidence the defendant was bound over to the winter term of court which opens Feb. 6. Being unable to secure a $500 bond he is still in the county jail.

AUTO OWNERS MUST GET LICENSE TAGS BEFORE JANUARY 31

Secretary Mike Holm Announces That There Will be No Extension of Time This Year

Registration of automobiles is now in progress thoughout the state and all licenses for 1923 must be taken out before Jan. 31 to avoid a penalty of 25 cents a day. A large number of Thief River Falls and Pennington county automobile owners have not yet applied for their licenses for this year. Applications for licenses and assistance in making them out may be secured at the banks, notaries public, and various other places. All car and truck licenses expired Dec. 31, 1922 and owners have only one month in which to renew. There will be no extension of time this year it is announced by Secretary Holm, who is not authorized to do so, as in the past.

Section 19, chapter 461, of the 1921 session laws gives this provision clearly:

"Tax due May 15, 1921 and Jan. 31 thereafter. The tax required under this act to be paid upon a motor vehicle shall become due on May 15th, 1921, or as soon after such date as such vehicle shall first use the public streets or highways in the state, and shall become delinquent upon the expiration of two days thereafter, unless paid. Such tax and registration fee for any year may be paid at any time after Jan. 1 of that year."

A car must be licensed whether it is used or not. In case a car is dismantled and stored away, it is still taxable, and if the owner ever intends to use it again he will find that he has to pay the back years. Under the law this is a tax on the car. In other words, when this law went into effect automobiles were taken off the personal property tax list.

A person purchasing a new car, whether they use it or not, must, within two days, secure a license to avoid a penalty. In other words, whenever title of a machine passes from one person to another, application must be made within two days, either for a transfer or new license, as the case may be.

The new plates have a tan background with brown figures. They are attractive and not as conspicuous as the bright yellow of 1922. People are urged to get their application in early and avoid the customary rush as the time period expires.

"Manslaughter" Is Feature Film For Sunday and Monday

There were no photographers to record the dress and customs of the day when the barbarians overthrew ancient Rome. Nevertheless, Cecil B. DeMille has produced an historically faithful reproduction of this for his latest Paramount picture "Manslaughter," coming to the Lyceum Theater Sunday and Monday.

The episode in question is a historical cutback, which vividly depicts the descent of the barbarian hordes upon Rome. Weeks of research work on the part of the director, scenarist, and art director, preceded the filming of the scenes.

Leatrice Joy, who is one of the principles of the modern portion of the story, is the hostess at a lavishly beautiful Roman bacchanal which is interrupted by Thomas Meighan in the role of the leader of the Goths. Lois Wilson, John Miltern and Casson Ferguson are the other members of the notable cast who appear in this sequence.

A strikingly realistic gladiatorial combat is one of the many interesting features of the bacchanalian entertainment. Although this episode required more than a week to film and kept nearly a thousand people employed, it will occupy the screen for only a few minutes. It is used to point a powerful lesson and serves to draw an interesting comparison between ancient Rome and modern America.

Do You Know Him?

Relatives are anxious to learn the whereabouts of John Piehota who lived in this vicinity some time ago. He is known to have moved here in the spring of 1908 and at that time lived on a farm near Thief River Falls. Anyone knowing his present address or anything about the man please notify The Times.

Dr. Milan to Address Elks at Meeting Friday Night

There will be a regular meeting of the Elks lodge held on Friday evening at which time a number of interesting matters will be taken up. He will give a short history of sanatoria work from its earliest inception and touch upon the methods formerly used to combat the plague, comparing these with the modern plans of work.

This will be first of a series of talks on different subjects to be given at regular meetings of the Elks during the winter and spring months. The innovation is a part of the Elks' plan for greater community service, more of which will be announced later. It is particularly desired that there be a large turnout.

CREAMERY ASSN. ANNUAL MEETING SAT. JANUARY 27

Will be Held at Commercial Club Rooms For Election of Officers at 1 o'clock

Statement Shows Flourishing Business For Institution During Twelve Months Past

Association Had Cash Balance of Over $13,000 on Hand at Beginning of New Year

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Thief River Falls Co-operative Creamery association will be held at the Commercial club rooms in Thief River Falls Saturday, Jan. 27 at 1 o'clock. At that time the election of officers will take place and other business of importance will be transacted.

Important Year

In view of the fact that the stockholders have voted to erect a new $50,000 creamery building this spring it is considered of the utmost importance that the best men obtainable from among the stockholders be elected as officers and directors. In this connection it is quite likely that the re-election of a majority of the present board will be urged for the reason that these men are familiar with the plans formulated thus far and are the logical ones to look after the details of the undertaking.

Report Indicates Good Year

The annual report of Secretary P. Engelstad shows the institution to be in a flourishing condition and indicates that the business has been very successful during the past twelve months. A total of 535,098 lbs. of butterfat was purchased from farmers during the year. This is an increase of 3,272 lbs. over last year. The average price paid for butterfat was 40.7, which was about 3c less than last year.

116,526 Pounds Overrun

In the manufacture of butter the creamery had an overrun of 116,526 lbs. over the total pounds of butterfat purchased and made into butter. The amount of butter sold during the year was 635,607 lbs., while the amount of butterfat used in this production was 519,171 lbs. The average price received for butter was 37c.

The statement also shows that the city of Thief River Falls is a big user of the institution's output. The people of the city used 135,507 lbs. of butter manufactured at the creamery and the amount paid for this was $53,436.19. In addition to butter, the people in Thief River Falls purchased milk, cream, butterfat and cheese in sufficient quantities to make the total amount of money realized from city sales $68,536.31.

The grand total of receipts of the creamery for the year was $268,072.28. July with receipts of $35,662.39 was the banner month and January was the poorest, the amount for that period being $13,260.80.

The disbursements for the year amounted to $255,894.86, leaving a cash balance for the year of $12,177.42. This amount, in addition to a liberty bond of $1000 represents what the association has on hand toward financing the new building.

Landlord May Give Away Whole Carload of Clocks

Landlord Julien Provencher has this week installed a new telephone switchboard in the office of the Evelyn hotel. The old one had been doing service in a most satisfactory manner for ten years and would still no doubt be in excellent condition were it not for the unusual strain put upon it by persons calling up to enquire the time of day. Mr. Provencher is a patient man and wants to be accomodating, but the test to which his patience is put at times by people whose clocks are either out of order or in the pawnshop is something terrific.

Mr. Provencher says that at least five hundred times a day he is called away from whatever he may be doing to tell someone it is "ten minutes to four," or some other hour, and the practice has become something of a nuisance. He is seriously considering shipping in a carload of clocks and distributing them among the most flagrant offenders in this respect. He has threatened to discontinue giving out the time to anyone, but has never quite had the heart. It may come to that, however.

Purchases Gas Machine

A new addition to the equipment of the Thief River clinic was made last week when a machine for giving gas anasthetic was installed in the office. The contrivance is movable and can be taken to the hospital or private homes for confinement cases. The gas method of putting the patient to sleep is said to be preferable to the usual ether which has sickening after effects, and is coming widely into use among uptodate physicians. The machine is of the Heidbrink model.

Chas. Vorachek Has Operation

Hansel-Phalen

Thursday last week occurred the marriage of Miss Hazel Hansel daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hansel, to Theodore Phalen, both of Red Lake Falls. The ceremony was performed by Father Pelger at St. Mary's church in the presence of Miss Marie Thill, of Thief River Falls, cousin of the bride, and Louis Hansel, brother of the bride.

One of the outstanding features of the wedding was the fact that the wedding occurred on the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of the bride's parents, long residents of Red Lake county.

The bride was attired in a gown of crepe cashmere with grey hat to match and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home to the immediate relatives of the bridal party.

Mr. and Mrs. Phalen left on the morning train for Thief River Falls, from where they went to Winnipeg where they are spending their honeymoon. During their stay in the city they visited at the J. Thill and G. Huot homes. Upon their return to Red Lake Falls they will make their home in the D. Patnode home on the North Side.

Dale-Orringer

A wedding which will be a surprise to many friends and acquaintances of the contracting parties, occurred at Winnipeg last Saturday when Pearl Sether Dale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Sether of this city, became the bride of Arthur Orringer, also of this city and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Orringer of Cass Lake.

The couple is well known in the city, the bride having lived here for eight years and attended the local schools, and the groom has also made this city his home the past few years being employed as brakeman on the local division of the Soo line. The bride has attended Concordia college and for the past few months has been engaged as bookkeeper at the First National bank, which position she will retain, for the time being at least. She was also well known as reporter for the Tribune last year.

The newlyweds expect to make their home in Thief River Falls this winter. Their many friends extend their congratulations and good wishes.

Austin-Evenson

Wednesday evening, Jan. 10, Miss Lottie A. Austin and Oscar M. Evenson were quietly wedded at the Trinity Lutheran parsonage, Rev. T. E. Sweger officiating at the ceremony.

The bride is one of the proprietors of Black's Sweet Shop with which she has been connected the past five years, and is the daughter of Mrs. E. K. Austin of Fosston, while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Evenson of this city and has lived in Thief River Falls all his life. Both are well known to the people of this city and have a large circle of friends who extend their congratulations and best wishes. Mr. Evenson was until recently employed as a mechanic in the Northwestern garage but upon its closing started a repair shop on Horace avenue, near Rambeck-Stone's implement store, together with L. Sevig.

The newlyweds will make their home in Thief River Falls, the bride continuing as proprietor of Black's Sweet Shop.

NEENAH PHYSICIAN HONORED FOR HIS DISCOVERY

Most Unusual Document of Known Existence

Dr. L. W. Giffen, of Neenah, Wisconsin, in recognition for his untiring efforts and signal success in an epidemic in 1893, was given a testimonial in writing by fifty-one ministers gathered in conference at Zion's church, Milwaukee. The document is probably the most unusual in existence.

Terrible Epidemic

Dr. Giffen had to deal with an epidemic of diphtheria, croup and throat trouble. He developed a prescription which brought marvelous results. Several physicians used it, until it attracted the attention of half the state of Wisconsin and the ministers honored him with their most unusual document.

By reason of the fact that his medicine loosened and expelled the phlegm or mucous which gathers in cases of head colds, croup and the like. Dr. Giffen's prescription became known as "Muco-Solvent."

It is purely a vegetable compound, a solution of antiseptics so combined as to be a specific for suppurative and inflammatory diseases of the mucous membrane.

If you have a cold that does not respond instantly to the use of Muco-Solvent Salve, you should at once get from your druggist a bottle of Muco-Solvent Liquid (75c and $1.00 everywhere). Directions will be found with each bottle.

Why a Y. M. C. A.

There has been some discussion of the organizing of a Y. M. C. A. If here is anything the young men of the town should have, it is the Y. M. C. A. There is absolutely no place for the boys to go to and spend their time. They can't stay home and study and read all the time, and for that reason they don't stay home. Where do they go to spend the evening? No other place than the pool hall. They cannot help visiting them for there is no other places for them to go. Yet people criticize the way young men patronize these places. They do not stop to think who sends them there—their own selfishness in the past years, not providing some other place of amusement. Its up to the students in the high school to get together and discuss the matter with their parents and make them enthusiastic. Let's do all we can to help the matter out. The chances will be just that much stronger for us to secure a Y. M. C. A. for Thief River Falls.

SPORTSMANSHIP

Who are the honest-to-goodness true sportsmen in this or any other town. Sportsman may be classed in two classes, those that are true to their sports, and those that seem-to-be true to their sport, be it basket ball and foot ball, baseball, or any other game.

The true sportsman is the man or woman who will support their team, win or lose. We need more of these people, at our games, and all thru the country. That ever-lasting support for our team, and faith in our team, is what helps them to "victory." The players who know they are backed by a crowd of true sportsmen who mean all they say for them, who when they say "nice work fellows," say it with that true sportsmanship spirit, and mean every word.

There are too many seemingly true sportsmen who express in loud voices there sentiments about "how" good their team is as long as they are winning every game that they participate in, but who are silent as soon as their team happens to lose a game, or perhaps they would offer some alibi such as "If I were the coach," or "If so and so had done it this way."

A good loser and a good winner is true sportsmanship, when our team loses a game, boost for them all the harder; it will help them win the next one. The players will know that they are being supported and will put up a fight for their supporters.

A little clipping from the sport page of the Minneapolis Journal typically expresses the thought:

He may be found in ev'ry clime,
The man who knocks the game,
In any land, at any time,
The man who knocks the game;
A chronic kicker, one who would Prohibit anything that's good;
He know's it all—that's understood—
The man who knocks the game.

He's nothing, as a rule, at stake,
The man who knocks the game,
But still he kicks for trouble sake,
The man who knocks the game,
Just let him growl and let him roar
The world will move, it's moved before,
So do your boosting and ignore,
THE MAN WHO KNOCKS THE GAME.

Seniors Retain Lead in Clean Assembly Contest

lower classes in the "A Clean Assembly" contests. The latest report available shows the standings acquired by the several classes during the five school days of the week; and of these, the seniors received first place twice, and second place the other three times. Their closest competitors were the Juniors, with three firsts, one second and one fourth.

What's the matter with the seniors? THEY'RE ALL RIGHT! What's the matter with the rest of the classes? They can't compare with the seniors.

Come you lower classes! Don't let the upper classes beat you all the time. Boost for your own class; and tell all of your classmates to do the same—and soon your section of the assembly will be as neat as that of the seniors—and then you can strut around just as proudly as they do now, knowing that there is no vagrant piece of refuse lying on the floor as an eyesore to all who chance to pass by.

As It Ain't

The Prowler staff has assembled for its weekly meeting in its headquarters, the bookkeeping room. Little groups are scattered about the room until the hour 7:30 is reached. Von Albert the big chief then demands order and once again impressed upon his subjects the meaning of the word "work." This done, he demands that it be approved by the staff which obliged rather than hurt his feelings.

The next thing on the program is an account of the work done. Lucile responds that she had seven Seniors ready for the printers and to this Albert thanks her by saying "Good seven, hurry up eleven!" Myrtle then tells the bunch that she has with her tonight one or two Eskimo Pies apiece, six baby pictures and a bakers dozen snaps (were thankful for small favors). "Hank" Vorlicky likewise sang out that there hadn't been any football games since last fall, so he hadn't anything to write up, strange to say. The art department in the personage of Steve spoofs them by adding that none of our faculties have remained still long enough for a pose. It was suggested that the expressions of the faculty if taken at the right time would be subject matter for an artist (This caused considerable laughter). The meeting ensued by a report from Ruth, the joker, who said that if they didn't give her a feature section that her feet sure would be there. The compilation board didn't have anything to say so the big cheese put his crew to work with Mr. S. W. Powley the captain of the helm. The unfortunates that spoke were given the cold shoulder and gently reminded that little children should be seen and not heard in public.

With each department working on its own material it was surprising to say the least, to see what could be accomplished in several hours. The "tilting rod" ban was soon lifted and a more talkative atmosphere was assumed. Suddenly from a clear sky "The saddest words of tongue or pen are these, Be in at ten," was heard and one of the young ladies remarked, "The master's commands" and was assisted in putting on her galoshes. Everybody else took the hint. There was much indignation.

Sectional Declamatory Contest to be Held Here

One of the sectional declamatory contests of this district will be held in Thief River Falls. Superintendent Lindahl, the chairman of our declamation district has asked that the contest be held in this city.

The schools who will compete in this contest are Thief River Falls, Lancaster, Greenbush, Roseau, and Red Lake Falls. The dates which are being considered are February twenty-first, and March second.

Miss MacNair, "I don't like the way you are not fulfilling your task.

Ernest B.: "I have just missed out on it two times this year."

Miss MacNair: "Well we've had only two journalism days this year.

SENIORS VOTE ON IMPORTANT TOPICS

Class to Initiate New School Traditions; Class Dues Must be Paid Now

A number of important senior class activities for the year were acted upon at a senior class meeting held at the high school on the evening of January 9. Quite a goodly representation of the class came with the intention of doing some real work during the evening, and several matters of interest to the class as a whole as well as to the individual members were discussed and unanimously approved.

As the expense of publishing the annual will be somewhat greater than the income from the sale of the books, and the class was desirous of meeting the deficit without taking from either the class treasury or the revenue from the Class Play, it was decided that the class would institute a series of candy sales at the basketball games throughout the season, the proceeds from which are to go to the annual fund. A committee with Viola Buringrud as chairman was appointed to get donations of sugar from the boys and of candy from the girls.

Another important piece of legislation was passed in regard to class dues. As very few had paid up their dues of one dollar for the first semester and the class treasury was, as a result, depleted, it was felt that some stringent measure must be passed to make the members of the class realize the necessity of paying up their class dues. Consequently a resolution made by the president that paid up class dues for the first semester be made a requisite to participation in any of the activities which are paid for out of the class treasury, and to membership on any class committee, was unanimously approved.

The sentiment of the class being strongly in favor of a sleigh-ride party some time in the near future, a committee of Allison Stitt, Conrad Hovie, Edna Alexander, and Herbert Johnson was appointed to make the necessary investigation and arrange for the details of the outing, and report to the class at some later time.

In order to relieve the traditionless state of Thief River Falls high school, the class discussed the initiation of several school traditions that would both make for deeper school and class spirit and provide a number of annual events that would be milestones in the lives of students at the Lincoln. At least two events which will rank with the Fourth of July and the Fosston basketball game in the interest of the Linconites are planned for the near future. It is the wish of the class that their nature and the proposed time be witheld from publication.

At a class meeting some time ago it was decided that all important meetings should be held in the evening, as the class is much more inclined to settle down to the work in hand if they come to the school for that express purpose in the evening than if meetings are called after school.

Score 100%

Father: Why is it that you are always at the bottom of your class?

Jennie S: It doesn't make any difference, daddy; they teach the same things at both ends.

Were you at the game last Friday? If you were not, you surely missed something, and say, didn't we have some yelling tho! It was the most profitable time I had spent for a good many days.

You few students who were not there last Friday have lost the opportunity of seeing THAT game. It is the only game Fosston will play with Thief River Falls this year and even if you see one next year it will NOT be the game they played with Thief River Falls last Friday. Don't miss a game again!

You can't afford it, if you want to to be considered a loyal student to Lincoln High School.

How times and faces change. Watch for the baby pictures in the annual.

Basketball Team Plays at Stephen Friday Night

Friday the high school basketball team will journey to Stephen, where the second out of town game of the season will be played. Right here let us make one thing clear—our team is going up there to win.

The high school looks upon their team with a great deal of pride, and will back them to the finish. We have had a good start; we intend to finish the same way.

Many Eliminated in Declamatory Contests

Last Tuesday evening and Wednesday afternoon the elimination contests in declamation were held. Of the original thirty-four girls who tried out in these preliminaries seven were chosen: Pearl Weeks, Agnes Johnson, Liv Vistaunet, Grace Mostue, Lucile Roark, Lylian Arnold and Dorothy Swedenburg.

Due to the fact that there were only three boys, Herbert Johnson, Cleon Bottleson, and Melvin Engelstad, trying out for oratory there was no elimination contest.

Miss MacNair first tested the voices of all those who wished to take declamatory or oratory work, and then chose a selection best fitted for each voice. After this was done she requested that each one learn his selection, and then she spent a great deal of her time practicing with each one.

A large portion of her time is now being spent with the ten who are to appear in the local contest which will be held the first part of February.

All those who took part in this work whether they were winner in the contest or not feel that their time was not wasted, but rather that a great deal was profited under the splendid training of Miss MacNair.

A great deal of interest was shown in this work especially among the lower classmen. We are glad to have the Freshmen and Sophomores take an interest in the work because that is what will make winning contestants in a year or two. As a result of the great number who turned out this year we will have better material to pick from next year. Winning contestants are not secured from one year of work. It is the undividual who perseveres and takes part year after year who will win honors for himself and his school.

Days Worth $9.25 Apiece
(Wisconsin Apprentice)

Based on the wage scale of 1923 uneducated laborers earned on an average of $500 per year for 40 years, or $20,000. High school graduates earned on an average of $1,000 per year for 40 years, or $40,000. This high school education required 12 years of school of 180 days each, or 2,160 days. These 2,160 days in school added $20,000 to a life income, or $9.25 for each day spent in school.

So the child that stays out of school for the purpose of earning less than $9.25 per day is losing money. These figures are the result of investigations made under the direction of the United States bureau of education.

A committee of the Brooklyn Teachers' association in 1920 investigated the salaries earned by graduates of the elementry schools. They were able to trace 1,566 till they were 30 years of age. The average income of these boys was $1,253.05, whereas the average salary of the illiterate worker in Brooklyn was $500 per year. This difference of $753 represents the income of $15,000. So the days spent in the elementary schools were worth a capital investment of $15,000 to each of these boys.

BIG GAME WITH FOSSTON LOST 15-9

Large Crowd Sees Home Boys Beaten in Hard Game—C. Sorenson Stars

The big Fosston-Thief River Falls basketball game was one of the fastest games that the fans have seen for a good long time. The game from the first whistle to the last was thriller. A large crowd saw Fosston take the game from the local squad.

First Quarter

With a crowd wild with enthusiasm the game started with lots of pep on the part of the players. Both teams showing good team work until Thief River took the ball down the floor and Clifford Sorenson made a nice neat side-shot for the first two points of the game. Fosston got the tip-off at center, and with fast team work evened up the score. Clifford made another basket from the side of the floor, then a foul was called on Thief River and Fosston made another point making the score 3 and 4. Sorenson again made two points on a field basket and one on a foul, Fosston tossed in a basket, Thief River followed and the quarter ending with a score 9-5 in our favor.

Second Quarter

During this quarter both teams played a defensive game and no baskets were made by either team. Thief River called time out once. The half ended with the score 9-5 in favor of the locals.

Second Half

Both teams come back and showed the old fight. Fosston, playing a little harder game, had one foul called on them, but made a basket and raised the score 9-7. Fosston showed superior team work in this quarter, Thief River taking several shots, and not playing the old form of team work.

Fourth Quarter

Keene was substituted for Schutt, and the quarter began with a bang! Both teams showed determination to make the first basket, the basket that would give Thief River a lead, or Fosston a tied score. Fosston showed superior team work again, and succeeded in making four field baskets. Thief River called time-out. Fosston committed a foul giving Thief River two shots, but they did not make either of them. Thus, the game ended Thief River 9 and Fosston 15, spelling victory for the visiting team.

Clifford Sorenson played the star game for Thief River and S. Sovick playing running guard for Fosston showed good form in shooting. Both teams were well matched but it seemed Thief River could not get going with their team work the last half and the visitors had very good guards.

The team has no alibis to offer, but that they were defeated by a better team. From a spectators view point it seems that the old adage that a game is never won until the final whistle blows, has held true.

There was a very good crowd out to see this game and the management expresses its appreciation, and hopes to see the same crowd at the other games this season.

The team goes to Stephen this week on Friday. They are not giving up because of one defeat, but are determined to win the remainder of the games and get another chance to defeat Fosston at the tournament which will be held some time in March.

The lineup of the game was as follows:

T. R. F.		Fosston
Schutt	F	Tygeson, Capt.
Keene	F	Mark
C. Sorenson	F
LaBree	C	Sovick
S. Sorenson, Capt.	G	Halvorson
Herron	G	S. Sovick
Referee	- -	Collette of Warren

Work

On this work, work, work!
There's nothing else but work.
There's work in school and work at home,
And certainly not there alone,
For if you'd have a party
And make it good and hearty
There also you must work your bones
Until the last guest has gone home.

High School Tries to Get Prof. Cochran for T. R. F.

The High School is trying to secure Prof. Ira B. Cochran of Carlston College, to give an entertainment to the people of Thief River Falls. Prof. Cochran ranks with the finest readers of this section of the country. He is making a tour which includes Grand Forks, Crookston Agricultural College, and possibly Thief River Falls.

This will be a splendid opportunity for the citizens of Thief River Falls. It is very seldom possible to secure a reader of his type. Some of his entertainments are: "The Man of the Hour," "The Fortune Hunter," "The Man from Home," and "The Lion and the Mouse."

We feel that if it is possible to secure Prof. Cochran for an evenings entertainment, that the citizens of Thief River will be eager to take advantage of the opportunity to hear him. The date under consideration for this entertainment is February 16. Further data will be published as soon as definite arrangements can be made.

Candy Sale Promises Cut in Prowler Deficit

At the basket ball game Friday evening, candy was sold by the Seniors in order to raise money, to add to the Prowler fund.

Everyone knows it takes a great deal of money to put out an annual. The Senior class is therefore trying to raise funds in every way possible, so that they can publish a good annual, and have no deficit.

The candy was sold in a short time and the class decided to have more sales at the other games. A different system will be used in the future, however, so there will be enough candy to meet a greater part of the demand, which is always great at events of this kind.

PERSONALS

Myrtle Senate, formerly a member of the class of '23 visited school on Monday. Myrtle has been working in the cities since she left school here. She intends to enroll and continue her studies in high school.

Lucile has lengthened her main street to a back alley. General criticism seems to be against this style, and we hope Lucile will soon change her mind.

Sidney Schutt returned to school Monday morning after his absence on Saturday and Sunday. It is indeed a relief to have Sydney with us once more, and we hope he will be able to continue his studies without a more prolonged absence.

At this examination week personals are few and far between. Students are obliged to think more of their lessons, and less of the personal element involved, whereon personals can be founded.

Bert Umland has been experimenting with the radio, and has lately discovered a method of receiving telephone messages by radio. In view of this fact we give all "users of telephones" fair warning to guard their tongue lest Bert hear a little to much.

Sharpen your mind while you are able for the day of axe grinding shall surely come.

Steve Arneson relates that he came out heavy winner on his Christmas presents having sent only two photos and received six neckties, a shirt and several handkerchiefs.

The new year resolutions are insoluble. Mr. Holznecht reports having found only 39 detectives story magazines on his floor during the past week compared to the 107 picked up at the close of school for the holidays.

The lid of Rusty Anderson's desk has become a display case—he has the local agency for the Goodyear Necktie Corp., of Akron, Ohio. Unrivaled prices are quoted. The Progress wishes Mr. Anderson every success in his venture in the rubber business.

Alice Peterson, graduate of Lincoln High school, class of '14—Latin graduate of University of Minnesota, is now teaching English at Seattle, Washington.

Frank Archibald of the class of '20 is now employed at the Security National Bank, Fargo, North Dakota.

DEBATE TOMORROW WITH ROSEAU IS CENTER OF INTEREST

Tenseness of Feeling Prevails as Decisive Contest Nears; Debate Called at 8 O'Clock

Friday, January 19th, will be one of the big days for Thief River high school this year. The home debating team will meet the Roseau debators and will either be eliminated from the district race or eliminate Roseau.

The home team has been working hard, under Miss MacNair's coaching and have shown constant improvement and with the support of the student body, they have a good chance to win. Roseau has always had a good debating team, and it is reported that this year is no exception to that record. So it's up to us, the students, to get back of our team and boost them on to victory.

Thief River defending the negative. The negative brought us victory before and can do it again. It is up to Roseau, the affirmative, to prove that the Kansas type of Industrial court should be established in Minnesota.

The Kansan court was adopted in Kansas for the purpose of stopping strikes in that state; in some case it has done good, and in others harm. Everybody turn out and our team will prove why this court should not be adopted in the state of Minnesota.

The debate will begin promptly at 8 o'clock and it will be a appreciated if everyone will be there on time so that the speakers may not be disturbed.

The judges of the debate will be County Superintendent David Johnson of Marshall county, John Nystue of Middle River, and County Supintendede Erba Pouliot of Red Lake county.

The High School Vamp

Under the spreading Camel-tree,
The High School Vamp he stands.
This boy, a mighty man is he,
With long and slender hands,
And the muscles of his bony arms,
Are strong as rubber bands.
Weak in, weakout, at every turn
You hear his bassoon blow.
He came to High School not to learn,
But his sweet self to show,
To co-eds passing down the block
With cheeks and eyes aglow.
He goes on Friday to his class,
And sits beside his choice
With ears closed to the prof's loud bray
He hears his sweetie's voice
Whispering nothing, sitting there,
Which makes his heart rejoice.
Pigging, flunking, borrowing,
Backward through school he goes.
Each morning lying late in bed,
To finish out his doze;
Nothing attempted, nothing done,
When the term comes to a close.—

Pep Meeting

A rousing booster meeting to stir up to the highest pitch interest and enthusiasm over the Fosston basketball game was held in the high school assembly on Friday afternoon before the game.

The players and coach, who were all called upon to express their feelings, emphasized the fact that Fosston is Thief River's strongest rival, and that anyone who missed the game would miss the biggest event of the season. Miss McNair, who taught at Fosston and knows Fosston spirit and Foston coaching, issued a direct challenge to the patriotism of the student body when she said that Fosston has a student body that backs their team to the finish whether they are winning or losing, and consequently Fosston has a basketball team that is not beaten by a large score rolled up against them at the beginning of the game. May it be said for Thief River that her students rooted for their team also till the end of the game even tho the opponents were steadily gaining the upper hand.

Dennis McGinn of the class of'20 now attending St. Thomas College, is a member of the first squad at that school.

WOULD MEAN COMPLETE REVERSAL

Residents of Pennington and adjoining counties who are arguing against the petition for improving the Red Lake and Clearwater rivers and the construction of control works at the outlet of the first-named stream, are asking quite a lot, it seems to us. The same identical judges who were petitioned to establish the drainage district are now asked to set aside the recommendations of the board appointed by them for the purpose of meeting the demands made by farmers in the valleys of these two streams. In other words, they are asked to completely reverse themselves and now deny the relief they were formerly requested to grant.

When this drainage matter is considered it must be remembered that the enterprise was started at the behest of the farmers. The water power companies, of which we hear so much, were not particularly anxious to have the job undertaken, realizing that a very large share of the cost would fall upon them. The municipalities were getting along pretty well with the rivers in their present state and would not voluntarily have petitioned for their improvement, knowing that a considerable percentage of the cost would have to be met by them. The Indians wanted the improvement, but everything goes to indicate that they were not prepared to assume as large a share of the cost as is now assessed against them. The absentee landowner was certainly not looking for a chance to pay more in the way of taxes. No one was very insistent that the improvement be made—except the farmer. The courts, realizing that the farmer should under any circumstances have the first consideration, acted upon the request made by a very considerable number of these and ordered the district established. No objections were raised thus far in the proceedings.

Now that the preliminary work is completed and the real job is to be undertaken, some of these same farmers come forward with the request that the entire proceeding be thrown in the air. No reasons for such action exist at this time that were not present when the matter was first broached, yet the farmers were then the ones most insistant that the work should be undertaken. Their attitude is inconsistent, to say the least. If drainage and river improvement was advisable a year ago it still remains advisable. Nothing in either the original plan or program has been changed and the lands of the district are still as much subject to flood as was the case at that time. The objectors have certainly laid themselves open to a charge of inconsistency and the courts will be justified in disregarding their latest outbreak.

If, after due and proper consideration, the courts find that the request of the original petitioners should not be granted and the drainage project thereby automatically comes to an end, a heavy moral responsibility will rest upon those who have been instrumental in carrying the matter this far. Their original request has formed the basis for the expenditure of a large sum of money which, in case the project now fails, will be a total loss. In this loss, while wholly responsible, they will have no greater share than those who in good faith have steadily advocated that the improvement be made.

One thing is certain: Never again will land owners in the Red Lake basin secure the drainage of these lands under such advantageous circumstance. If the lands do not need drainage, well and good. If, as is generally admitted, drainage is absolutely necessary as a preventative of crop destruction by flood, it should be undertaken now. Under the present plan the farm lands are let off by paying a very small portion of the total cost. At a later date and under another plan they will be compelled to pay a far larger portion.

HAS THIS YOUR APPROVAL?

Do you really think the Salvation Army is doing a good work in Thief River Falls? If so, use the dollar sign as your mark of approval.

An attempt is being made to raise $2,000 for the army in Pennington county this year. This is not a large sum, but if secured, it will make a considerable increase over last year. The drive last year netted only $700, but in spite of this handicap the work was kept up. With the small sum at their disposal the officers made the following record:

Hours spent in visits, 483.
Families visited, 853.
Families advised, 592.
Families aided, 31.
Garments given, 238.
Pairs of shoes, 34.
Transients cared for, 11.
Open air meeting, 216.
Soldiers attendant, 127.
Open air attendance, 8,128.
Indoor meetings, 120.
Indoor attendance, 3,376.
Converts, 26.
Young People's meetings, 97.
Attendance, 1,202.
Jail and hospital visits, 16.
Inmates advised with, 13.
Free War Crys, 101.
Miles traveled, 2,000.
Towns visited, 120.
Open air meetings, 26.

This work was done by two army officers whose salary was $5 a week. If this amount of needed work will be done for $700, how much more can be done if this year's quota can be reached?

It is a great work, and it is your duty to help it along.

Mr. Brown In Rebuttal

To the Editor of The Times,
Thief River Falls, Minn.

I notice that in the local papers of last week Mr. Meyers gave voice to his swan song in connection with the Red Lake project. He takes the ground that my arguments have been personal abuse. Some small minds are that way. If you state a different opinion you are flinging personal abuse. Mr. Meyers started the whole thing by his letter first published and the writer has successfully refuted practically every claim Mr. Meyers has made except his inferred claim of being high and eminent in his profession. We will let that stand.

I also observe in the Times of last week a communication from Mr. Ed. A. Aubol who is a member of the Conservancy Board and Mr. Aubol also complains of unjustifiable attacks upon the board and upon all the engineers and the lawyer of the board. In this connection I will say as I have before that I only have the highest personal regard for Mr. Walker, the board's engineer, Mr. Boughton, the board's attorney and Mr. Willard, the State Drainage Commissioner. Also for most members of the board, including Mr. Aubol, I have only the kindest feelings and the highest regard and know them to be men of integrity. I do not engage in making any [illegible] upon any of the [illegible] in the letter of [illegible] that Mr. Aubol [illegible] in this matter [illegible] and that he has [illegible] objections to this [illegible] which the board devised [illegible] of the members of the board [illegible]. The board is a public [illegible] whose actions are subject to [illegible] and the members should [illegible] their official actions. That is all that I have criticized.

I feel very sure that if Mr. Aubol will think the matter over calmly as a farmer, and not as a member of the Conservancy Board, he will admit that if he was situated like the farmers [illegible] situated, and a proposition was made to assess Mr. Aubol's land for the purpose of constructing a project of equal benefit, according to all testimony, to the power interests and to the farm lands affected, and yet where the farmers, including Mr. Aubol, were called upon to pay or finance the whole initial cost, that Mr. Aubol would be in the front ranks of those raising their voices in protest. I say this in all kindliness and as a tribute to the intelligence of Mr. Aubol. It is what any sensible man would do. I still insist and maintain that the plan proposed officially by the board is nefarious, unrighteous, and a travesty upon fairness between man and man. The fair minded members of the Conservancy Board, of which Mr. Aubol is one, have been misled by false reports and possibly by associates on the board who have unduly influenced them, and I simply ask Mr. Aubol and the other members of the board to sit down and calmly think the matter over and try to place themselves in the other fellow's position. I feel confident that they will then adopt the position advocated by the objectors.

Respectfully yours,
Wm. J. Brown.

Practical Farmer Favors Drainage

Goodridge, Minn.
January 16, 1923.

Editor Thief River Falls Times:

A few farmers expressed their opinion regarding the Red Lake River project through the columns of the Tribune in the January 3rd issue. One bears no signature except "A Farmer." Mr. Brown's articles I must simply ignore. To accept W. J. Brown as a friend of the farmer is ridiculous. Evidently he has changed considerably since years past.

One writer states "that if said Red Lake drainage project is put through, as the benefit assessment now stand, it will result in paupering the farmers of eastern Pennington county." I can frankly admit that we are fast approaching such a state and unless we are relieved of our annual flood we will soon be paupers. I have lived in eastern Pennington county for over seventeen years—I intend to make it my home hereafter—I have experienced crop failure upon crop failure due to flood [illegible]

[illegible] for the Conservancy Board because the board [illegible] paid big fee for publishing notices and articles. For the benefit of [illegible] let me state that the State Drainage Engineer, State of Minnesota, determines what they shall be paid.

Matters of assessment, etc., have been explained fully by the Conservancy Board and if the people will rather take Mr. Brown's word than those that are actual farmers and are honestly and sincerely working for the farmers, well—

Yours Very Truly,
ELEV AAKRE.

Sorlom Does Not Approve

Thief River Falls, Minn.
January 17, 1923.

Editor of The Times:

"I have been reading letters written to The Times by several parties, about the proposed Red Lake River Drainage and Waterpower project, so I don't like to keep quiet any longer.

It seems to me the Drainage board and waterpower interests and those who live down stream and expect to sell land for power sites go the limit on this proposition. They are not assessed to pay any part of the cost of the project but receive money or expect benefits for working the farmers to believe they are to get out of it with 28% of their assessment. But talk is cheap: I would like to have those who work so hard for it, but are not assessed, to guarantee and put up security that the project will not cost more than 28% of our assessments.

If by misrepresentation, they succeed in getting it through, nobody under the sun is going to stop them from collecting the full assessment for cost and if that is not enough they can ~~put on a second~~ lien on our lands.

I also understand the Indians refuse to pay any part of the cost of this project so where is the money going to come from except these few helpless farmers already overburdened with taxes. The government protects the Indians, but the "Free and Equal" white people are left to the mercy of the big interests.

The consulting engineer, Mr. Myer, said the water power interest could not be assessed for supposed benefits. I suppose he meant the farmers could be assessed, as they already are assessed for "supposed" benefits.

This "project" may be allright if costs were distributed differently. The government should take hold of it and do the work and put a reasonable assessment on all those who are actually benefitted—and those who are not directly benefitted would maybe not object to a small assessment, say $16.00 per forty acres, the same as O. Hofdahl's land is assessed, at least I would not.—and collect a reasonable yearly rent from the waterpower companies, to repay the initial cost and the upkeep.

I own the SE¼ of Sec. 35, Town of Kratka, and am assessed $192.00 per forty acres with no benefit whatever. This land is assessed for two ditches before and two years ago a second lien was put on this land for one of these ditches.

The great majority of the farmers can not pay any higher taxes, and some can not even pay what is already on.

I would like to have the Drainage board publish a statement of who received all this money appropriated for this project and who gave them authority to spend thousands of dollars more.

Sincerely Yours,
P. O. SORLOM

Northfield School, Dist. 29

It is a remarkable fact that only one morning out of the school year so far have we had any tardiness. This was an unusually cold morning and seven pupils were about three minutes late.

Halvor Rynstad, Olga Nelson, Bernice Johnson and Gladys Jorde did not miss any spelling words during the month of December.

Some time during the first part of February we expect to have a Basket social. All kinds of games and contests will be arranged for. A Valentine post office, fish pond, and fortune telling booth will prove very interesting. There will be a candy counter where home made candies can be bought. We ask the girls to bring baskets and boys their pocket book. A good time is asured. Watch for the exact date in a later issue of the Times.

Crows Seen Near Crookston

Although the weather has been very mild in this section at various intervals, no reports have been made of crows seen in Pennington county. In Polk county, however, these spring indicators seem to have appeared unusually early this year, according to an item in the columns of Tuesday's Crookston Times.

While most local residents were figuring it was still the middle of winter, A. F. Boltman, farmer on the Kiewel farm west of Crookston, was announcing the first harbinger of spring in the form of two crows contentedly cawing in his fields. It is believed the crows made their return to the north country on the heels of the past few days of mild weather. Whether their appearance means an early spring yet remains to be seen.

Some people seem to have the idea that this world is a garden of Eden with a bunch of blank checks to fill out at convenience.

The Chiropractic Idea

THE materialist says that the soul of man is the result of a certain chemical combination, just as the flame of a candle is the result of a combination of wick and tallow; and just as the flame of the candle disappears when the chemical ingredients are consumed, so the soul of man disappears when the chemicals are exhausted.

Chiropractic teaches just the reverse of this idea. It teaches that instead of life being the result of a chemical combination, it is the cause, and that the chemistry of changing food into flesh and blood is known only to this life principle which they call Innate Intelligence. It teaches that all physical, mental and spiritual processes are manifestations of this "power within," and that the physical functions are functions—not of the body—but of "Innate Intelligence" through the body.

It teaches that the mechanism through which "Innate Intelligence" superintends all physical processes, is the brain and nerve system, and that whatever interferes with the function of a nerve interferes with the medium through which the work of the body is performed.

It teaches that subluxated vertebrae impair the conductivity of the nerves, thereby producing an abnormal functional expression in the part supplied by the certain nerves that are impinged, and that in order to eliminate the disease the subluxated vertebrae must be adjusted to normal position, so as to permit the normal transmission of the command or impulse over the nerves.

Employ none but a competent chiropractor.

DEFINITION
The practice of Chiropractic consists of the adjustment, with the hands, of the movable segments of the spinal column to normal position for the purpose of releasing the prisoned impulse

SIX GRABBED IN RAID STAGED BY U. S. OFFICIALS

Now in Jail Pending Hearing to be Held Before United States Court Commissioner

Bradley, Erickson And Vinje Places of Business Give Federal Men 100% Record

Owners of Buildings Will be Notified That Establishments Are a Public Nuisance

Federal liquor law enforcement officers raided three establishments in Thief River Falls Wednesday night and as a result six men are now lodged in the county jail. They are Chas. B. Bradley, A. H. Erickson, Ole Yatesund, Alfred Okstad, Conrad Vinje and Sidney Voldness. They will be taken to Bemidji Friday morning where they will appear before a United States Court Commissioner and either be released on bonds or held in jail until the next term of federal court at Fergus Falls. They will at that time appear before Judge Page Morris.

A Clean Sweep

The federal men made a clean sweep at the three places raided, securing the necessary evidence at all of them and scoring 100%. They arrived in Thief River Falls on the evening train from Bemidji and the three places were raided within a very few minutes after the train arrived.

At the Bradley barber shop, the proprietor, Chas. B. Bradley, was somewhat offended at first and assured the officers that he had no liquor there. A hurried search failed to disclose anything and Bradley was then asked to open the iron safe which he has in the shop. This he refused to do until he was told that it would be blown open if he didn't do it. Three pints of moonshine whiskey were found and Mr. Bradley was immediately placed under arrest.

Attempts To Spill It

When the officers entered the Conrad Vinje "soft" drink emporium they were at once recognized by Vinje. He made a dash for a back room and dumped a large pitcher of "moon" into a funnel that was placed in a hole in the floor for just such an emergency. The officers, however, were right on Vinje's heels and salvaged a little over a pint of the "moon" before the funnel could dispose of its contents. At this place Conrad Vinje, the proprietor, and Sidney Voldness, an employee, were placed under arrest.

Vigen Place Peaceful

At what has been known as the Vigen place, everything was very quiet and peaceful, previous experience evidently making the matter of a raid a very tame affair. This place, it appears, has recently been sold by Bennie Vigen to A. H. Erickson. Here the officers got about a quart of "white mule" and arrested three men, A. H. Erickson, Ole Ystesund and Alfred Okstad. The later is of the opinion that he selected a rather hazardous occupation. He started work at his new job at three o'clock Wednesday afternoon and at 8:30 was resting peacefully in the county jail.

Will Notify Landlords

While here the officers stated that the owners of all three buildings would immediately be notified that the business conducted therein constituted a public nuisance and that unless a change is made at once in the character of the business abatement proceedings will be instituted and the buildings closed for one year.

First Federal Raid

This is the first time that any local places have been raided by the federal authorities. A number of very successful raids by local officers have been conducted and now with the outside officials lending a hand it appears that "day by day in every way the business of selling "moon" is becoming less profitable.

Attended Treasurers' Meeting

John Gullingsrud, county treasurer, returned Friday morning from the twin cities where he spent the week attending a convention of the county treasurers of the state held at the St. Paul hotel, Jan. 16 and 17. There was an attendance of about 60 officials. John had the rather uncomfortable experience of being a passenger on the Minneapolis local Thursday, due at 8:39, but which did not get to Thief River Falls before 4:30 the following morning. The cause of this delay was the breaking of the locomotive drive wheel, which broke into pieces between Farwell and Glenwood. The locomotive did not derail, however, so no one was injured, only the heating apparatus was put out of commission, making it quite severely by cold for waiting passengers.

Athletic Exhibition Monday Eve.

G. A. Fallness, manager of the Thief River Falls athletic club, announces that the club will put on the first exhibition of the season Monday eve., Jan. 28, at the regular quarters under the Citizens State bank. The event will commence at 9 o'clock and will include two main bouts, one boxing and one wrestling, and other features. Those who take part will all be local members of the club.

Local Young Man At U. To Study Creamery Operation

Gunsten Bergland of Thief River Falls has enrolled in the Creamery Operators' Short Course which is now being given by the dairy husbandry division of the University of Minnesota and from four different states, have registered for this course. Mr. Bergland was for some time employed at the local creamery.

Dr. C. H. Eckles, chief of the dairy division of the university, says: "This course is designed especially for beginners in creamery operation. Special stress is laid upon such principles as testing butter, controling the composition of butter, keeping accurate and uniform accounts, and doing practice work in butter making. We aim to give every student a practical course in butter making and in the ordinary business connected with butter making. We have a splendid class of young farmers, creamery operators, and helpers."

J. R. Keithley, professor of dairy husbandry in charge of the course, is assisted by several members of the dairy husbandry staff. Among the special lecturers are Chris Heen, dairy and food commissioner; James Sorenson, secretary of the Minnesota Creamery Operators association, and A. J. McGuire, of the Co-operative Creameries Shipping association.

Creamery Dinner

Saturday from 11 to 12 the Commercial club will serve a 25c dinner at the auditorium for the farmers who will begin to attend the annual meeting of the Creamery association. All farmers are urgently requested to be present. The mater of sugar beet raising will be discussed at this time and all farmers should be vitally interested in this.

PRIDE OF PALOMAR WILL BE SHOWN AT LYCEUM TWO DAYS

One of the Really Big Attractions of the Year Booked Here For Sunday and Monday

Admirers of Peter B. Kyne's stirring novels, several of which already have reached the screen, will have an opportunity to see the picturization of his latest novel, "The Pride of Palomar," which now ranks among the best sellers of the current book season. The story was printed serially in the Cosmopolitan magazine and it scored tremendously. Now that the book has appeared, its popularity shows no sign of waning.

Admirably suited to adaptation to the screen, Cosmopolitan Productions picturized the novel for Paramount release in California, on the precise spots where the action of the story takes place. Many of the scenes were photographed at the old mission where "Ramona" was born. Interesting scenes in the garden of San Luis Rey Mission in Southern California are a feature in the picture.

Director Frank Borzage took his entire company to the Mission and surrounding country for the scenes of the picture. Mr. Kyne, the author, had laid out the locations, and all the producer had to do was to follow in his footsteps. In the book Mr. Kyne took a slam at coolie labor in California, and while most of the Japanese in Southern California are ignorant of the English language they were wise to the fact that the coolies had been attacked in the story and they wouldn't do a lick of work for the picture.

Marjodie Daw and Forrest Stanley are the featured players of an all-star cast which includes Joseph Dowling, James Barrow, Warner Oland and other notable plyers.

Skibicki Pleads Guilty; Gets Suspended Sentence

Frank Skibicki, aged 19, son of Mrs. Sarah Skibicki of this city, was taken to Warren last week and pleaded guilty before Judge Grindeland to a charge of having sold mortgaged property. He was given a suspended sentence to the state reformatory at St. Cloud until discharged according to law. The sentence was suspended for one year and defendant placed on probation. Sheriff Ihle was made probation officer, Skibicki having to report to him every month. County Attorney Theo. Quale of this city appeared for the state and J. R. Naeseth of Warren for the defendant.

Skibicki was arrested about two weeks ago and arraigned in municipal court where he was bound over to the winter term of court beginning in February. Being unable to secure a $500 bond he had to remain in the county jail until he decided to plead guilty before the district court. He was taken to Warren by Adolf Eklund and Paul Midderigh.

Plummer Man Injured In Fall While Loading Coal

While engaged in loading coal on a Soo line freight train engine at the Plummer station, Albert Brekke was seriously injured when he was knocked off the stand by a sudden application of air by the locomotive engineer and fell down several flight of stairs. He was injured about the face receiving several deep gashes in his cheeks and also being cut about his head. The freight crew made a quick trip to Thief River Falls with the injured man and medical aid was given him at the Swedenburg-Bowers hospital where he remained until Tuesday last week when he returned to Plummer. He is getting along nicely and will not be permanently injured, but will be unable to resume his work for some time.

Baby Boy Dies

Milton Herbert, the two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Jung, died Friday morning, Jan 19, following an illness the cause of which was an ailment of the blood. The child had been seriously ill the past five months but had been ailing for the past year. Funeral services were held from the Jung home Monday afternoon, Rev. J. B. Smith of the M. E. church and Henry Pope officiating. Interment was made in the Greenwood cemetery.

Those who mourn the loss of the little one besides his parents are Harriet, aged 6, Victor, aged 4 and a baby.

COUNTY WELFARE BOARD IS NAMED

State Board of Control Compliments Organization on Splendid Accomplishments

The State board of Control announced today the following appointments to the Child Welfare board of this county for the calendar year of 1923:

Chairman, Mrs. J. M. Bishop, Thief River Falls; secretary, Mrs. L. G. Larsen, Thief River Falls; Peter C. Wold, Kratka; Ole R. Sande, Supt. of schools, Thief River Falls, Ex-Officio. J. S. Roy, member of county board, St. Hilaire, Ex-Officio.

In commenting on the work of the various County Child Welfare Boards of which there are sixty-eight, the officials of the board of control said:

"The Welfare Boards are on the first line of defense in protecting the rights of childhood. The state must and does co-operate through its Children's Bureau, in developing standards and co-ordinating the work being done in the various counties, but the problem itself, the neglected boy, the delinquent girl, the illegitimate or feebleminded child, must be solved by the community. The child welfare movement in Minnesota is essentially in the hands of its child welfare boards. They give promise of splendid achievement in fulfilling their sacred responsibility."

The board commented favorably on the work being done in this county and urged co-operation with the new director of the Children's bureau, Charles F. Hall of Granite Falls, who succeeds William Hodson, formerly director, and now on the staff of the Russell Sage Foundation.

Corbett Sells Market

Walter Corbett, who for the past year has been operating the New Meat Market on Bridge street, has disposed of his business interests here and decided to move with his family to Los Angeles, Cal. The butcher shop was purchased by Peterson & Jahr, who took possession at once.

Mr. Corbett and family expect to leave for the coast the first of next month, intending to make their home in Los Angeles.

Williams Pays Fine

Bernie Williams was fined $25 in municipal court last Monday upon pleading guilty to a charge of drunkeness. The arrest was made by Sheriff Ihle Sunday afternoon, when he met Williams drunk on the street. Williams refused to keep off the street and after a little scuffling between him and the sheriff, was taken to jail where he remained until evening when he was released for appearance in municipal court the following day.

DR. H. W. FROEHLICH

DESERTED BY HIS FAMILY WHILE AT FARM BUREAU MEET

Wife and Six Children Pack Belongings and Leave For Parts Unknown

"Tough Luck," or words to that effect is reported to have been the exclamation of Charles Goodrich, a prominent farmer living near Greenbush, when he arrived at his home yesterday from attendance at a Farm Bureau meeting at St. Paul.

The reason for the violent language, it is reported, was the discovery that during his absence his wife and family of six or seven grown children had gone on a strike, packed their belongings and taken their departure to parts unknown.

Goodrich is one of the prominent farmers of Roseau county and has been prominently identified with all the progressive farm movements in his locality. He is president of the Roseau County Farmers' Stock Shipping association, secretary of the Greenbush Co-operative Creamery association and an officer of the County Farm Bureau. His farming operations have been largely in the line of stock raising and dairying.

According to the reports, the work on the farm has devolved largely upon his wife and family, and, with a herd of 50 cows and more than the usual complement of other animals to look after, besides the cultivation of many broad acres, the duties became too arduous for the returns which they received, so, it is alleged, during the absence of the head of the house, a family consultation was held and the strike called. Two of the older daughters, it is said, abandoned the country schools which they were teaching and joined the exodus.

On the eve of their departure a letter was written to a neighbor, telling of their intention and asking that he take care of the stock. This letter was not delivered for two days after it was mailed. When the neighbor visited the farm, he found things in a very demoralized condition. The cows had gone unmilked for two days; the horses, in search of food, had broken loose from their moorings mixed up in a grand melee of starvand had partially wrecked the barn; cattle and hogs and poultry were all ing and thirst-maddened animals.

As to where the family has gone no one seems to know. The oldest son lives in Canada and was home on a visit when the father went to St. Paul. The theory is that the mother and brothers and sisters accompanied him on his return to his Canadian home.

GUMMER WILL SEEK RELEASE FROM JAIL

William Gummer, serving a life sentence for the murder of Marie Wick of Grygla in the Prescot hotel at Fargo in June, 1921, announced through his attorneys that appeal papers would be filed in the state supreme court next week. The motion for a new trial will be heard by Judge C. M. Cooley, of Grand Forks, who presided during the trial in Barnes county a year ago.

Judge Cooley announced he had appointed William C. Green, of Fargo, states attorney at the time of the trial, as special prosecutor to represent the state in the appeal.

The appeal is based chiefly on the lack of sufficient evidence to sustain the conviction and the alleged erronous admission of testimony with reference to Gummer's acts with other women.

G. N. RAILWAY MAY BUILD NEW STATION HERE

Officials Address Business Men of City at Meeting Held Tuesday Afternoon

Question of Location Discussed And Majority Favored Present Site

No Information Given as to When Work on Structure May Be Started

Tuesday afternoon four officials of the Great Northern railway met with a number of the citizens at the Commercial club rooms and discussed the possibility of a new passenger station for Thief River Falls.

Ask Wishes On Site

The railway officials stated briefly the purpose of their visit here and asked an expression from those present as to the desired location for a new station in case one was built. A few expressed a preference for the west end of Third street but a large majority favored the present site The visitors stated that they were very much pleased that the site of the present station was preferred as for many reasons this was in accordance with the view of the company and that they would much prefer to have it this way.

Discuss Style of Structure

Some asked what kind of a station the company would be likely to build here and this was explained fully by E. A. Mills, master carpenter for the system. He pointed out that brick construction at this time is out of the question because of the cost and that the company has adopted a uniform class of construction for cities of this class. This consists of a substantial frame building sufficiently large to accomodate both the passenger and freight business. Large waiting rooms with all modern conveniences are provided and the exterior is stucco finish.

No Definite Promise

The officials who were here would make no definite statement as to the building of a new station here. They said that the entire matter would go before the directors of the company and be acted on in the due course of time. They did state, however, that a new station was badly needed here and that there wasn't much doubt but one would be built. The men here were T. J. Gavin, general superintendent of Duluth, J. H. Griffin, agent at Grand Forks, E. A. Mills, of St. Paul, master carpenter, and T. Thygensen of Crookston, division master carpenter.

He came to Thief River Falls about 18 years ago, entering the employ of the Hanson Barzen Milling company shortly after coming here and continued in their service at the local branch until he moved to Minneapolis about seven years ago, since which time he was been connected with the Montana and Dakota Grain company until he was taken seriously ill. In 1912 he was married to Miss Esther Kretschmar, daughter of Mrs. Anna Kretschmar of this city.

Besides his widow the deceased leaves to mourn his departure, his father at Buxton; three sisters, Mrs. Peter Syverson of Minneapolis, Mrs. Alex Spokely and Mrs. Albert Spokely of Nielsville; and four brothers, Olaf of Buxton, and Edwin, Louis and Ed. who reside in Montana.

The remains will be shipped to Thief River Falls and will arrive tomorrow morning, the funeral services to be held Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock under the auspices of the local Masonic lodge, of which he was a member. Gets Workhouse Sentence For Careless Auto Driving

Anton Finsand, a resident of Thief River Falls several years ago, was recently in the hands of the law in Minneapolis as the result of violating the auto regulations.

The following is an account of the incident as it appeared in a Minneapolis paper:

"Anton Finsand, 814 Tenth street south, whose wife was arrested recently by a policeman with a bench warrant for the husband, was sentenced last week to 10 days in the workhouse by Judge Levi Hall of the traffic court. He was charged with driving his automobile on the left side of the street, witnesses testifying that he struck an ambulance with a patient as a passenger.

Finsand was given a stay of three days. Failure of Finsand to come into court earlier resulted in the issuance of a warrant charging contempt of court. The officer who went to his home to serve it, took Mrs. Finsand into custody. The mistake was discovered after she had spent several hours in jail."

COMMITTEES WILL SOLICIT FUNDS TO ESTABLISH Y. M. C. A.

Movement Gaining Headway and Those Behind it Feel Confident of Success

The Y. M. C. A. movement in Thief River Falls is now well under way, a temporary organization having been started and plans being made for permanently establishing quarters for the young men of Thief River Falls to gather in wholesome recreation and desirable surroundings. As was announced in the Times previously, the library basement has been secured as temporary center. The admission fee for the first year has been set at two dollars for each young man entering the organization.

Yesterday a number of citizens, headed by the committee in charge of affairs, met at the Evelyn hotel to discuss matters pertaining to the situation, such as the equipment and the raising of the necessary funds. Various business men interested in the movement were selected to canvass the business section while the residence district will be covered by the women. The latter however, have not made definite plans at the time of this publication. The men chosen at yesterday's meeting and the section each one is to cover, follows: C. D. Gustafson, block 29; E. P. Brevig, and A. M. Langseth, block 30; Theo. Quale, block 35; F. L. Christenson, block 36; F. F. Haynes, blocks 37 and 28; Scott Laird, blocks 56 and 64; Clarence Pope, block 58; W. W. Prichard Jr., 34, 59, 60 and 33.

The temporary officers in charge are Rev. Chas. Gerlinger, chairman and Attorney Theo. Quale, secretary, and a committee composed of C. D. Gustafson, chairman, Supt. I. T. Simley and H. C. Nelson of the Penney store.

At a meeting of the boys in the high school the proposition was put before them by Supt. Simley. It was found that they were 100 per cent in favor of the proposed project, as will be seen in the columns of the Progdess. There are abount 75 boys interested in a Y. M. C. A. at the high school.

The canvassing campaign has been scheduled to begin Tuesday and continue through Friday when a meeting of everyone interested will be held at the municipal court rooms in the evening. It is anticipated that the Y. M. C. A. will be met with the endorsement of all Thief River Falls citizens and that everyone will assist those in charge in their efforts to perfect a permanent organization.

COMPANY GIVES BEET GROWERS BIG ALLOTMENT

Will Contract For 1500 Acres in Vicinity of Thief River Falls

Test This Year Will Determine Future of Industry For This Part of The State

Acreage Will be Alloted to Those Who Are Most Likely to Produce Good Crop

The committee of the Commercial club that has been actively engaged in securing a satisfactory sugar beet acreage allotment for Thief River Falls and vicinity for this year reports that they have been given the splendid total of 1500 acres. This is just ten times the acreage here last year.

Special Freight Rates

The beets from this territory this year will be shipped to Mason City, Iowa, as the Chaska factory has had all of its required acreage contracted for some time. In order to profitably raise and ship the crop it was necessary to secure a concession in freight rates and this has been granted by the Soo line. They have established a rate of $2.25 for Thief River Falls and tributary territory, which includes everything on the Soo line north to the Canadian boundary. This is a reduction from over $7.00 and assures the farmers a good price for the beets.

Must Make Application

All farmers who desire to secure a part of this beet acreage must secure an application blank from the committee and make proper application. This will then be passed on and sent to the sugar company, whose representative will then enter into contract with the farmer.

Immediate Action Necessary

It is of the utmost importance that the acreage be alloted to the farmers in the shortest possible time and all those who are interested should at once get in touch with Secretary McCann. It is likely that some meetings will be held and various methods used to distribute the acreage over as large a territory as possible.

Time For Securing Auto Licenses Extended Until March 31 by Minn. House

Under suspension of the rules, the House last Monday passed the special motor vehicle tax committee's bill extending the time for payment of 1923 automobile taxes to March 31. This will allow two more months in which to secure the necessary license, a change meeting with the hearty approval of many automobile owners throut the state.

This bill was drafted by Mike Holm, secretary of state, to meet a popular demand for partial exemption from delayed tax payments and penalties resulting Februray 1 until the new motor vehicle law is drafted. Under the provisions of the new bill there will be marked readjustment in the amount of taxes to be paid on old models of cars, and particularly on cars that have been selling on a decreasing market price.

At The Movies

The theatre goers of Thief River Falls will see a picture which they have long wished for when Ibsen's "A Doll's House" will be shown on the screen at the Lyceum tomorrow and Saturday. Particularly readers of the play will be interested in seeing this social drama produced on the film.

Nazimova, who has taken her place as one of America's most intellectual actresses, and who may be credited with having made Henrik Ibsen popular in America, is a firm believer in the Norwegian playwright and the doctrines he advanced in his plays. Nazimova's appraisement of Ibsen is particularly timely, since she is now appearing on the screen in this author's "A Doll's House," which will be seen here at the Lyceum Theatre Friday and Saturday.

"An Author's Horizon," says Nazimova, "is his limitation. If he can see beyond the edge of things, into the vast beyond, he will give to literature something lasting and worth while. Take Dumas, the younger, for instance. What did he accomplish by his "Camile?"

"This heroine was all seduction, softness and I love you, you love me, we love each other. Dumas seemed to know of but one career for woman outside of matrimony—the fast life, oblivion.

"Not so with Ibsen. He foresaw with his remarkable vision woman's present place in the world, the day when women need no longer be either more love-making machines or discarded and worthless fragments of humanity. He knew the time would come when a woman would have something to live for besides being a plaything for some man. He knew women would strive and conquer. And his Nora in "A Doll's House" paved the way for the emancipation of women.

"In many despects I consider Ibsen's Nora one of his greatest, if not his very greatest, feminine character. She is a real, pulsating character, and I am proud to be able to portray her on the screen."

BANKERS INDORSE BUREAU'S PROGRAM

Federation Officials Lose No Time in Getting Plan for 1923 Under Way

Initial steps to carry out the 1923 Agricultural Program for Minnesota, adopted by the recent annual convention of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, were taken last week by officers of the association. Essentials of the plan, including demands that co-operative marketing be extended, that prices for farm products be stabilized and that farmers be given government aid in re-establishing foreign outlets for crop surpluses, were presented to and adopted by a banker-farmer conference, held in Minneapolis.

The meeting, called by the Minnesota Farm Bureau and the Minnesota Bankers' association, laid plans for the organization of a joint council of farmers and bankers to study agricultural problems of the state. The council will be made up of a man from each group from each congressional district, to be named by the presidents of the bankers' organization and the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation.

An important phase of the conference was discussions and recommendations of better financing service needed by co-operative selling agencies in the state. J. F. Reed, president of the Federation, told the bankers that they must take a different attitude towards these organizations and give the farmer companies such favorable consideration as they merited, not only for the good of the banking business but for the good of the public, as well. He reiterated statements made at the recent Farm Bureau convention to the effect that too many bankers were inclined to hinder, rather than help co-operatives, because they were timid and afraid of a change in existing conditions.

The conference recommended reduction in tariff rates, enlarged bank discount facilities for the Northwest, reduction of taxes, better transportation and distribution arrangements and condemnation of further issuance of tax-free securities.

He'll Get Along

Th[illegible] so much pleasure in publishing [illegible]wspaper that some editors are refusing money as a reward for their services. It takes wind to run a newspaper. It takes a scintillating, acrobatic imagination, a half dozen white shirts and theatre tickets to run a newspaper. But money—heavens to Betsy and six hands around, who ever needed money to run a newspaper. Kind words are the medium of exchange that do the business for the editor—kind words and church social tickets. When you see an editor with money, watch him. He will be paying bills and disgrace the profession. Make him trade it out. Then when you die, after having stood around and sneered at his jimcrow paper, be sure and have your wife go in for three extra copies, and when she reads the generous and touching notices about you, forewarn her to neglect to send fifteen cents to the editor. The editor knows it and what he wants is heartfelt thanks. Then he can thank the printers and they can thank the grocers. Don't worry about the editor. He has a charter from the state to act as the doormat for the community. He'll get the paper out somehow, and stand up for you when you run for office, and lie about your pigeon-toed daughter's wedding, and blow about your big-footed boys when they get a $9 a week job, and weep over your shriveled soul when it is released from your grasping body, and smile at your wife's second marriage. He'll get along. The Lord only knows how, but the editor will get there somehow.—Clearbrook Leader.

Are You Ashamed of Your Post? Certainly Not!

Well, then, don't be afraid to ask the ex-soldier who is not a Legion man to join you. Ask him who put the state bonus across, the state tuition for veterans, the state soldiers' preference law, and many other laws which help him. Tell him the only thing that will secure him national adjusted compensation is ORGANIZATION, that the Legion is fighting for this legislation.

Those 1923 membership cards are on hand. Don't let 'em gather dust. Dust, Old Timer, never did anybody any good except the eye doctor and the car washer. There are now 30,000 Minnesota Legionaires, "Buddies of the Gopher Gang," so if each buddy signs up another Legionaire, we will have 60,000 by the end of 1923.

Twelve months is a long time and one member, is not many. Easy, you will agree. Rightol. But the point is that it's so easy you're apt to let all those months slip by without button-holing that one man. It's too easy, in fact. Very well, make it hard. Set yourself the task of getting a couple of new Legionnaires, or half a dozen, or as many as you think you can swing. Then go out and GET 'EM THIS WEEK.—Minn. Legion News Service.

Farmers Urged to Procure University's Account Book

The keeping of accurate accounts is one of the essentials of a farm management system which will help materially in carrying agriculturists through times like these. A. J. Schmidt of Chaska has found the account book that the farmer should use in 1923. He writes: "The university's extension division farm account book is the best I have ever used." Those books cost only 25 cents each and can be obtained by remitting that sum to the Students' Book Store, University Farm, St. Paul.

Right Kind of Pasture Aids Pork Production

The necessity of good pasture is generally emphasized whenever a few growers of swine are gathered together. Costs of production in recent years have served to increase the use of pastures for hogs.

H. G. Zavoral, of the agricultural extension division, University of Minnesota, believes a good pasture will produce as many dollars in pork as any cash crop will give. "Alfalfa, clovers and rape seem to be our best crops for hog pasture," he says. "Sweet clover, rye, bluegrass, peas and rape, oats and peas, and soybeans are all good crops for this purpose."

Mr. Zavoral advises the farmer to sow the kind which seems the surest in his community. It is good practice, he says, to divide the hog pastures into two or more enclosures. When one pasture gets short the hogs may be turned into another where the forage is abundant and fresh.

Speeding Across Bridges Prohibited

At Crookston the Chief of Police issued a warning to the effect that drivers of delivery trucks and sleighs who cross bridges of the city faster than a walk will be taken into custody and prosecuted. Speeding across bridges or driving at a gallop had become a practice among the delivery boys the chief stated.

WAGES IN LOGGING CAMPS FAVORABLE

Strong Demand for Workers, Says Company Representative; Wage Scale Fair

Employment conditions in this northern section appear to be quite favorable, judging by the demand for loggers and the wage scale established by certain lumber companies who maintain camps in the logging districts, particularly in the vicinity of Bemidji and International Falls. Logging and allied work is being carried on in full capacity, the demand for employes being considerably greater this year than last season and in some places there is even a shortage. Several hundred men are being employed in the woods of Northern Minnesota but W. M. Hooker, representative of the International Lumber company with headquarters at Bemidji, who was in the city Saturday, stated that there is still a clamor for more men, indicating that the industry is rather enlarging its capacity.

The following table shows the wage scale set by a certain lumber concern for woodsmen in this section effective January 1 until further notice:

	Per month of 26 days
General work	$40.00

Many Indictments in for Liquor Violations in Polk Co.

Slightly over a score of indictments of Polk county residents for violations of criminal laws were returned by the grand jury at Crookston which closed its session Friday. The indictments made public were as follows:

Frank Doyen, of Bemidji, charged with having failed to return to the scene of accident and failing to give number and his name.

W. E. Burke and W. A. Reinhart, both of Grand Forks, grand larceny in the second degree.

Timothy Sullivan, of Huntsville Township, assault in the first degree.

Mike Gondik, of East Grand Forks, assault in the second degree.

William Movold, of Fosston, transporting liquor in violation of the law.

Albert Tobias, Angus, assault in second degree.

In order that the plans of the county officials might not be frustrated, several indictments were kept secret. Most of these are said to be concerned with violations of the liquor laws.

The following were among the recommendations in the report made by the grand jury at its closing:

That all places where soft drinks are sold in towns and villages of the county, be licensed in order that a close supervision may be had over these places.

Co-operation of township, village and city officers with the county attorney and sheriff, in order that prohibition and other laws may be effectively enforced.

Home Fire a Calamity

A home fire is a calamity. It means personal danger and the loss of priceless articles while in progress and homelessness afterwards. Fourteen per cent of dwelling fires are from defective or unclean flues. Rubber or flexible metallic tubing as gas connections is hazardous. Repeated warnings have been given against the use of gasoline in the home. All cleaning with gasoline should be done by establishments in business for that purpose. Electric irons cause many electrical fires; 15 per cent of electrical fires are caused by flexible cords used as extensions; unauthorized changes of wiring by amateurs and the bridging of fuses are prolific causes of fires.

NEW SOOTHING, HEALING OINTMENT RELIEVES COLDS, COUGHS, LAGRIPPE

MUCO-SOLVENT LABORATORY WILL NOT "PATENT" THIS DISCOVERY

FORMULA NOT SECRET

Muco-Solvent Company has never patented any of its products and Muco-Solvent Salve will be no exception. Physicians are welcome to the use of the prescription and can make the salve if they have the necessary ingredients and equipment at hand.

The principal components are from nature's great workshop, the piney woods and green forests, and form an ointment which is greaseless and stainless.

While the formula is not held secret, it is probable that Muco-solvent Salve will be produced only by the Muco-Solvent laboratory because if made in small quantities would be costly, whereas it is now possible to buy at any drug store for a quarter, enough to treat a dozen colds.

LOCAL DRUGGISTS AID MOVEMENT

'Eliminate the Common Cold' Now the Slogan

Practically every drug store in this state, and among them Lambert's Drug Store, J. P. Curtis and F. J. Stebbins in this city, will co-operate with Muco-Solvent laboratory in the movement to eliminate humanity's most insidious enemy, the common cold.

With this end in view, these druggists will sell Muco Salve at 25 cents per jar, though measured by its beneficial effects it could reasonably be sold for several times the price.

Every reader of this newspaper is urged to get a jar at once to use as a preventive or to check the first incipent cold that appears in the family. Then, too, Muco-Salve has twenty other uses, being very effective for the alleviation of asthma, whooping cough, spasmodic croup, neuralgia, etc.

Do not confuse Muco salve with preparations apparently similar. There is a difference in strength and purity. The genuine is plainly marked with both name and price and if your druggist hasn't got he can get it for you from his jobber.

IDEAL HOME TREATMENT — SIMPLY BREATHE THE VAPORS AND CLEAR HEAD INSTANTLY

SAFE—PLEASANT—INEXPENSIVE

From our local druggists come the good news that the people of this city, and in fact, of the whole state, can now get the wonderful new ointment or salve discovered recently by Muco-Solvent laboratory.

It is news of special welcome, at a time when colds are prevalent. We can now join the movement to eliminate colds and thereby avoid the epidemics of la grippe and influenza—which usually follow.

The new remedy is simplicity itself.

It is known as 'Muco-Solvent Salve' and is composed of essential oils combined in petrolatum. Besides being very pleasant to the sense of smell it is greaseless, highly penetrative and will not stain the clothing.

Snuff it up the nostrills, rub on throat and chest, break up a cold without the least inconvenience or loss of time from work.

Beware "Slight Cold"

It is a well known fact that the common cold is the forerunner of trouble. A slight cold becomes worse and a bad cold becomes a well-developed case of grippe next morning.

Health authorities have deplored the lack of interest shown by the very people whose lives are endangered.

Great things will be accomplished with this new treatment because it is so effective, so simple and finally, so inexpensive.

Leads to Pneumonia

The thousands of deaths in the influenza epidemics were from pneumonia. A bad cold prepares the victim for la grippe and la grippe prepares the way for pneumonia.

Get from the drug store twenty-five cents worth of Muce-Solvent Salve—a home size jar, enough for the whole family. Use this according to directions without fear, being an external treatment overdose is impossible.

Where colds have become deep seated or are of long standing, besides putting the salve in the nostrills, apply hot towels to chest to open the pores, then rub Muco salve on thickly and cover with warm flannels. Take a good laxative and go to bed. Keep window open for plenty of fresh air. By morning cold is usually broken and patient on highway to recovery. There is a little booklet with each jar of Muco salve that gives full information.

Your Doctor Will Say!

Medical science is now unanimously agreed that colds are contagious. You can catch cold with merely being in the same room with adult or child having one.

Use Muco-Solvent Salve as a preventive. Just a little in each nostrill will keep the cold germ out.

Your doctor will have no objection to your using Muco Salve because it does not interfere with any medicine he may be giving you for any ailment, whatsoever.

MUCCO-SOLVENT SALVE SHOULD BE IN EVERY HOUSEHOLD

Invaluable For Colds and Grippe—Also Fine For Burns and Bruises—Heals Chapped Hands

As first aid for scalds, burns and bruises there is nothing better than Muco Salve. For chapped hands, cracked lips and fever blisters, it works wonders, and, as a lotion after shaving, the men of the house will use it in preference to more expensive preparations. Keep a 25c jar in the house always, then as soon as a little sniffling cold in head is seen use Muco Salve and stop it instantly. Sold by Lambert's Drug Store, J. P. Curtis and F. J. Stebbins.

Suggestions for Coal Storage

Where the coal supply is stored in basements the Fuel Administration suggests the following precautions:

1. Coal the size of a walnut or larger is well adapted for storing. Mine run, slack or screenings, on account of fine coal and dust, are not suited for storage in a basement.
2. Never place coal near a hot pipe, against a hot furnace or any other hot surface.
3. Do not mix ashes with the coal, as there may be live coals in the ashes.
4. If coal must be wet down, wet only the portion that is to be used immediately.
5. It is very important that pieces of waste, oily rags, sticks, paper and other rubbish should not be mixed, or allowed to come in contact with the coal.
6. Special attention should be paid to the proper cleaning of flues and chimneys regularly.

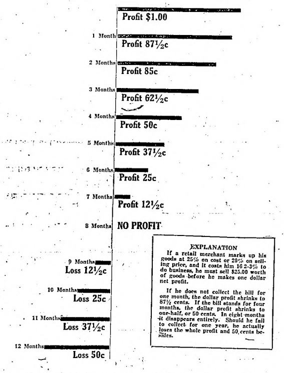
What Happens to the Retail Merchants' Profit on Slow Pay Accounts



EXPLANATION

If a retail merchant marks up his goods at 25% on cost or 20% on selling price, and it costs him 16 2-3% to do business, he must sell $25.00 worth of goods before he makes one dollar net profit.

If he does not collect the bill for one month, the dollar profit shrinks to 87½ cents. If the bill stands for four months, the dollar profit shrinks to one-half, or 50 cents. In eight months it disappears entirely. Should he fail to collect for one year, he actually loses the whole profit and 50 cents besides.

CHRISTIANSON ON RURAL CREDITS

Representative Theodore Christianson of Dawson, who has been quoted as opposing the proposed rural credits law, denies he ever made the statements attributed to him, in which he was represented as saying the crisis in the farming situation has practically passed and that no such legislation is necessary. Mr. Christianson has written a personal letter to a Thief River Falls man in which he states that instead of considering the legislation unnecessary he is convinced that it should be passed without delay and that in his oponion the farmers of the district may reasonably look for something in the way of relief by the first of March. The Dawson legislator points out that the passage of the constitutional amendment empowering the legislature to enact such a law has already had the effect of lowering interest rates in the state, but is of the opinion that if the legislators fail to proceed according to the mandate of the voters the rates will again reach the maximum permited by the present statute.

It would indeed be surprising if a man as well acquainted with farming conditions in Minnesota as is Mr. Christianson would make any such statements as those attributed to him by the city press. Any person who thinks that the farmers' situation, particularly in the north section of the state, has been changed for the better to such an extent that he no longer needs a rural credits law, either disregards the facts or knows nothing of them, and Mr. Christianson is not in this class. In his letter to Mr. E. O. Green of this city, he explains just what he did say and just how he feels about the matter. Following is a part of the letter:

"Your letter of the 15th inst., indicates that some enterprising newspaper reporter in Minneapolis or St. Paul has misquoted me on the proposed rural credits legislation.

"In fact, the opinions which I have expressed are the opposite of those which have been attributed to me. In view of the fact that the farmers of the spring wheat states of Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana owe their local banks $1,200,000,000 and owe the loan companies $565,000,000, an aggregate of $1,765,000,000, much of it at exorbitant rates of interest, it is apparent that the need for a state rural credits system is as great as ever.

"What I have said is that since the rural credit amendment to the constitution was adopted the loan companies have reduced the rates of interest on improved farms in southern Minnesota to, in some cases, five per cent, and that it is unlikely the state will be able to furnish money to the farmers at less than five per cent, at least for the present. But we need the rural credit system in order to hold the interest rates down, because I have no doubt that if the present legislature did not enact a rural credits law, these same loan companies would take advantage of the situation and again boost the rates.

"The rural credits bill will undoubtedly be reported out of the committee on markets and marketing in a few days and I hope that the law will be functioning by March 1st. At any rate you ought to be able to secure a state loan before the legislature adjourns.

"I realize that the loan companies have discriminated against your part of the state and that you have had to pay interest rates much higher than those that prevail at the present time in southern Minnesota, and I am doing everything in my power to speed the day of relief.

"I am glad you wrote me because it gave me the opportunity to repudiate the interview which has been attributed to me."

There never was a time when relief for the farmers of Minnesota was more urgently needed, and what is true of Minnesota applies alike to all the states in the Ninth Federal Reserve district. Instead of gradually getting out of debt, the farmers find themselves getting in deeper and deeper all the time. A large proportion of them have already borrowed to the limit of their collateral and will have to give up the fight. Lower interest rates with the amortization principle applied is the only plan presented for helping those engaged in this essential industry. Some relief must be extended or farms within this region will have to be abandoned by the hundreds, and this will mean stagnation along all lines. The country can only prosper as the farmer prospers and he cannot function efficiently unless given a chance to escape from the load of debt that is now crushing him.

GREATER SUGAR BEET ACREAGE

The sugar beet acreage in Pennington county will next spring be increased [illegible] over any previous year—that is, if the growers will get their applications for acreage in the hands of the company in time to make [illegible] arrangements for taking care of this amount. [illegible] as soon as possible. The [illegible] has been allotted [illegible] into sugar.

This [illegible] the sugar people is in recognition of the excellent quality of the beets grown in this neighborhood. The factory at Chaska is taxed to its capacity without the addition of this extra acreage, but arrangements have been made whereby the crop grown here can be sent to Mason City, Iowa, where another plant is located. It is guaranteed that the freight rate to the Iowa city will not exceed the Chaska rate by more than 50 cents per ton, which will still leave a fine profit for the grower.

The beet price for next year has already been established and is practically the same as last year. The sliding scale will be used, the return to the grower depending on the price of refined sugar. The average will probably be in the neighborhood of $7 per ton, which is the best price paid for beets grown anywhere in Minnesota. The company will again furnish the seed, undertake the cultivation and loan the necessary drill for seeding. This work will be paid for by the refinery people and deducted from the growers' total when the beets are marketed, leaving the latter with a highly valuable crop in which he has no cash investment and which requires nothing in the way of financing on his part. It is the most liberal as well as the fairest arrangement that could possibly be applied.

While it is certain that those who have grown sugar beets in Pennington and Marshall counties in the past will do so again, a large number of new growers will have to be enrolled if the allotment of 1,500 acres is to be filled. The Thief River Falls Commercial club has assurances that the quota will be oversubscribed and has therefore sent application blanks to prospective growers urging them to get in their quota requests in as soon as possible. When the 1,500 acres have been apportioned it will be impossible to extend the amount and anyone who has not at that time made the proper arrangements will not be able to secure contracts this year.

Growers are asked not to apply for a greater acreage then they can properly care for. Doing so will only lower the average yield for the district and may result in preventing others from securing any part of the 1,500 acres. Bearing this fact in mind will insure a more satisfactory distribution of the acreage as well as a larger yield and a higher sugar content.

This increase in the sugar beet acreage of the district proves that Pennington and Marshall counties are now definitely established as sugar beet producing centers and is a high compliment to the quality of the product. The willingness on the part of the refiners to contract for a larger amount than can be taken care of at the Chaska factory proves that the high quality of the northwest Minnesota product is recognized and that they are willing to make rather costly concessions in order to secure the crop.

The most important thing now is for the grower to get his application for acreage into the hands in the local committee. This is the first step to be taken and the sooner it is attended to the better.

LET'S NOT GET SCRAPPING

It begins to look as if the continued demand for a new Great Northern depot in Thief River Falls will soon be heeded. In fact developments during the past week justify our citizens in the belief that before another winter season arrives the railroad company will present us with a fine new station.

This is god news, even though delayed so long that everyone had given up hope of its ever coming to pass. Not that there has been any question as to whether or not a depot were needed, but it has taken a long time to make the railroad officials realize what everyone regarded as only too obvious. However, there is no use recounting past disappointments at this time and Thief River Falls will be only too glad to get the improvement now.

There is one way in which the work can be delayed. The company naturally wishes to place the new structure at the point most convenient and in order to gauge sentiment on this subject has already made inquires concerning the wishes of our people, and particularly the business men. Opinion on the subject is not unanimous by any means, and it may easily come to pass that difference of opinion may delay the construction work or cause it to be abandoned altogether. It would not be the first time Thief River Falls failed to score, when some valuable enterprise was under consideration, for the reason that its citizens could not get together and agree on some plan of procedure.

It seems that the number of those who want the new depot built on the site of the old one and those who favor the west end of Third street as the location, is about equally divided. Both sides present arguments to prove that it would be for the best interests of all concerned to place the depot at the location they favor. The railway company has indicated its willingness to be guilded to a large extent by our people's wishes in this matter, but cannot very well be expected to comply with the desires of two opposing factions.

The exact site of the new depot is a matter of serious concern to but few. As a matter of convenience some would like to have it at one place and some at another, but the community as a whole does not particularly care just so the depot is built and is a structure befitting the importance of the city and furnishes adequate facilities to the traveling public. Our citizens have gotten along for a quarter of a century with the old building and in their thankfulness for a new one would perhaps not be too captious concerning its exact location, providing, of course, that it is not proposed to move it out of the city limits. Both sites have [illegible] and the choice can safely be left to the [illegible] officials [illegible]. [illegible] it will be better [illegible].

[illegible] Great Northern officials [illegible] the [illegible] of the new [illegible] never entire agreement on [illegible] of this kind and the probabilities are [illegible] the longer they are discussed the farther we will be from a unanimous opinion.

Red Lake Falls is this week host to the Northern Minnesota Editorial association and the old town has made great preparations for entertaining the pencil pushers. Matters of great importance to the craft will come up for discussion and the place for holding the annual outing next summer will be selected. If it were certain that the road to the Red Lakes would completed in time the breathern in the western part of the state would invite the boys and girls to come this way, but the status of that highway is rather too problemmatical at this time to make an invitation safe. Some time in the near future the newspaper boys and girls will make the trip, however, and thus become acquainted with one of the show spots of their own state.

Begin now to make arrangements for attending the Red River Valley winter exhibit at Crookston during the week of February 5th. It will be the greatest show of its kind in the entire northwest.

Public Forum

Editor, Times:

As I have noticed you have allowed others to use up a lot of valuable space in your paper, perhaps you will give me a little corner. I note that in an Editorial in the Times a short time ago the Editor said that as the farmers begin to understand the project they were less opposed to it. That idea must have originated in the fertile brain of the Times man. As the farmers begin to understand the enormous iniquitous things that are being done to them in this Red River matter, they go from being warm under the collar to boiling heat, and in the words of Paul Jones of Old, I would say we have not commenced to fight yet.

If somewhere near a majority of the people were in favor of this project I wolud not say a word. The founders of this country fought becausé of taxation without representation, and it was only a few cents too. Do you, Mr. Editor of the Times, blame us for fighting when it means for some of us at least the losing of our homes? The farmers, and in a lesser sense the country, are hard up, but we have thousands for defense but not one d——— cent for a gift to the power companies.

Most of the people sending articles to the papers in favor of the ditch are not assessed to help pay for it. It is easy to be for it if you don't have to help pay. The letter of Elev. Aukre in the paper last week sounds like one of that kind, and it sounds like it was written in Crookston.

As for Mr. Aubol, we got rid of him a long time ago. Enough said. In time of distress like this we are not ashamed to call on the Deity for help.

Not So Bad

The world is far from going to the "bow-wows," all the disseminators of gloom to the contrary nothwithstanding. There is more humanity in men and women than there ever was before; with all the human frailties that hold them down, there is also more tolerance and sympathy. Fred Hadley, who breathes optimism fifty-two times a year in his Winnebago Enterprise, shows how ideals have been changed during the last few decades, in an editorial paragraph. He says:

"The viewpoint of the people is changing on many subjects, and none more than in the matter of citizenship. Along about the time when Garfield was President of these United States, if a man who loaned money at 15 per cent plus a bonus would encase himself in a right black suit on a Sunday, and grudingly drop a dime in the contribution box for the heathen of the Fiji Islands, he was proclaimed more or less publicly to be a good citizen. And if he wore whiskers that parted in the middle, sported a collar right from the rubber works, arose at 4 a. m., split his own wood, went to the office at six and spent the rest of the day figuring out how he could beat Widow Jones out of that south forty, he was more than a good citizen—he was a Model Man, and all the little boys were told to pattern after his industry. But, thank goodness, times have changed. Even if a man poses as a pillar of the church, sleeps through the sermon and gets a cramp when the collection is taken, he is no longer considered highly desirable unless he makes some contribution to society and the town in which he lives, moves and has his being. The world is getting harder and harder on those who think that self-righteousness is the cardinal virtue."—Dawson Sentinel.

Legislative Letter

By M. W. Odland

(By Martin W. Odland)

St. Paul, Minn.—Every day at the state capitol adds to the certainty that a real fight is on over the rural credits bills. The committee on markets and marketing, which is considering these bills, is devoting several hours of earnest discussion to the work every day, but the end is not in sight. Rep. N. T. Moen, of Fergus Falls, is leading the fight against the Wilkinson bill, prepared by the pre-session committee of 11, of which he himself was chairman. Mr. Moen will not stand for a new state commission of three members, each paid $4,500 per year, for he feels that the people have issued a clear mandate against such additions to their governmental expenses. He has prepared a new bill placing the rural credits department under one official, who shall be appointed and supervised by the state auditor, the state treasurer and the attorney general. The farmers would apply for loans through their county auditor and a committee of county officials would first pass on the value of their farms and the amount of the loan to be granted.

Rep. O. K. Dahle of Spring Grove has also submitted a rural credits bill which, however, is similar to the Wilkinson measure, except in one section. Mr. Dahle provides for a rural credits director drawing $6,000 per year and a deputy drawing $4,500 per year and an advisory board of three—the state auditor and the treasurer.

Former State Auditor Iverson helped to frame the Moen bill and urged its adoption at a public hearing Thursday evening.

A real fight is in progress over a bill providing for a compulsory high school course for children of 16 to 18 years, who are obliged to devote a part of the day to work. Half day sessions are proposed for their benefit. Labor leaders, especially of the radical type, are fighting the bill and it is rather doubtful whether the farmer members will warm up to the proposition any more than the labor members from the three big cities.

Three bills providing for a state guarantee of bank deposits are now under consideration by the Minnesota legislature. One is by Rep. Wilkinson and ten others who served with him on a special committee appointed by Speaker Nolan last November; another is by Rep. A. C. Welch of Glencoe, the Nonpartisan League fighter, and a third is by Sen. Chas. A. Lund, the new senator from Otter Tail and two other senators elected under Nonpartisan League auspices. All of these bills have much in common, being based on the South Dakota law enacted six years ago. The Wilkinson bill provides that the state superintendent of banks shall administer the proposed law; the Welch bill creates a commission of three, each of whom shall receive $5 per day and expenses while on actual duty, the Lund bill places the execution of the proposed law in the hands of the state superintendent of banks, the attorney general and the state treasurer. The Wilkinson and the Lund bills provide that a tax of one-eighth of one per cent shall be levied on the daily bank deposits until there shall have been created a fund of one per cent of the total deposits in the state banks of Minnesota from which losses resulting from bank failures shall be made good to the depositors. The Welch bill has a similar provision, with this difference that one-fourth of one per cent of the daily deposits shall be appropriated. There are other differences in the three bills, but those mentioned are the principal ones.

It is interesting to note that two of the bills are introduced by members of the Nonpartisan League, and it is not improbable that a little feeling will be created by the rival authors.

A bill of great political importance was presented to the house Tuesday by Reps. T. H. Girling and J. A. Johnson. It changes the date of the primary election from the third Monday in June to the Tuesday seven weeks preceeding the general election—about the middle of September. Most candidates prefer a shorter campaign so there is sure to be strong support for this bill. Mrs. Hannah J. Kempfer of Otter Tail county and others have introduced a bill for a constitutional amendment authorizing the enactment of an initiative and referendum law. The bill provides that if 10 per cent of the electors sign a petition, any bill which fails of passage in the legislature may be submitted to the voters at a special election, and if a majority votes for the bill, it becomes a law. If the legislature enacts an unpopular law, 10 per cent of the electors may petition for a referendum, and if a majority vote against the law, it is thereby repealed.

There is nothing some women of the twin cities like better than public hearings, and they have been out in large numbers recently to deliberate over the proposed school act, just mentioned, and a bill by Rep. Frank Nimocks exempting certain women from jury duty. Some of the good women are strong for this change in the jury law; others denounce it, holding that it creates a distinction between men and women, as citizens, that ought not to exist.

The house committee on dairy products and live stock have recommenced to pass a bill by Rep. A. C. Welch which renders it unlawful for oleomargarine companies to use butter in making their products. The bill was opposed in a hearing granted by the committee by a representative of Swift & Co., and upheld by J. J. Farrell, former state dairy and food commissioner. It will be acted upon by the house as a whole later in the week.

The first bill passed by the house is the Barnes bill, which permits a married woman who aspires to public office to make use of the title of "Mrs." The plight of Mrs. Peter Olesen in being denied the right to use her husband's name preceded by the title of "Mrs," is well remembered.

The bill repealing the wide sled law of 1919 was recommended to pass by the house committee on agriculture and will doubtless become a law, as it has been exceedingly popular all over Minnesota.

How Sugar is Made From the Sugar Beet

Practically everyone living in this section of the country knows what a sugar beet looks like, how it is planted, cultivated and harvested, but after the beet has been loaded on cars and consigned to the factory what becomes of it is very hazy in almost every mind.

A sugar beet factory is a place of unusual interest and during the time when sugar is being made it is also a place of unusual activity. To see ordinary looking sugar beets coming in all begrimmed and dirty-looking and going out in the form of sparkling white sugar that makes your mouth water to look at seems like one of the wonders of modern science, but in reality the making of sugar is practically a very simple process.

To begin with, the beets are unloaded from the railroad cars at the factory in dumps, which are usually about 16 to 20 feet wide and 8 or 10 feet high, and as long as needed. The side walls of these dumps are made of heavy posts strung with wire so as to retain the beets inside the dump and at the same time allow free circulation of air. The dumps are open to the weather as freezing does not harm the beet, although a long spell of continued freezing and thawing produces a sugar that lacks the sparkle of fresh beets. At the center and bottom of each dump there is a trough about two feet wide and two feet deep through which a stream of water flows when the beets are ready to be conveyed to the factory from that particular dump. These troughs are covered with boards and all that is necessary is to remove the boards to allow the beets to fall into the trough and be carried along by the water. The water washes off a large amount of the dirt and rubbish.

At the end of the trough the beets are elevated to a washer where the beets are thoroughly washed and cleansed of all foreign matter. Then they are fed into the slicer, which is a huge machine with knives arranged so that the beets are finely sliced. When the sliced beets come from this machine they look very much like cabbage that has been cut for saur kraut. The sliced Beets are then conveyed to huge tanks where hot water is added in sufficient quantities to cover the sliced beets. These tanks are then heated by steam until all of the juice of the beets is taken out by the water. This liquid then contains all the sugar of the beet. The mixture of juice and pulp is then put through presses and all of the juice squeezed out of the pulp. The pulp is then thoroughly dried and becomes the most valuable by-product of the plant.

To the juice that has been squeezed from the pulp, milk of lime is added to take up the impurities. This mixture is then pumped, under pressure, through large screens made of canvas and burlap which act as filters to take out the lime and impurities. The purified juice is then pumped into evaporators where the water is boiled out of the liquid, leaving a heavy syrup of sugar and molasses.

This syrup is then passed into huge centrifugal machines that operate on the same principal as the cream separator, revolving at a speed of 2400 revolutions per minute. This machine throws the molasses through wire screens which catch and retain the sugar. This molasses becomes another by-product of the factory and is grabbed up by the large manufacturers of yeast.

The sugar that is collected on the screens of the centrifugal machine is gathered and carried to the granulating machines from which it emerges in the form of pure white sparkling granulated sugar ready for the millions of uses that we are ready to put this necessary element of human life to. This in brief is the process of producing sugar from beets.

BABCOCK EXPLAINS HIGHWAY BOND PLAN

Will Speed up Road Program Without Any Increase in Tax Payments

The Times, always giving its readers information on subjects of special importance, publishes here a statement by Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, on highway bond recommendations to be made to the present legislature and giving the reasons for them.

Mr. Babcock discusses the main features and, confident of the active support of every good citizen who fully understands the plan, adds that questions on any details will be answered promptly if sent to the state highway department at 1246 University Avenue, St. Paul.

Incidentally, the highway proposals are rapidly gaining in popularity.

No Tax Increase to Result

The Commissioner has gained the endorsement of citizens and civic and commercial organizations investigating the positive assertions:

That no road or auto tax will result.

That proposed bond issues, principal and interest, will be financed entirely with motor vehicle receipts under a sinking fund requirement of the state constitution.

The projected highway improvements are public necessities which must be provided for within a few years either by the bond plan presented now or through increased tax levies.

That highway construction costs are at the lowest levels of record back to pre-war scales of 1917 and probably lower than will prevail again according to economic experts.

That bond funds will be used only for improvements actually needed now and that the largest mileages of betterments will be of grading and graveling as in the past, paving to be built only where economy demands.

That the proposal is simply to apply ordinary business practice to the highway program and affords the only method of relieving the overburdened taxpayers of today of paying for past and future, as well as present road improvements.

A similar proposition confronting a well-managed private concern, Mr. Babcock declares, would be adopted without hesitation.

Babcock Gives Reasons

The commissioner's statement follows:

First issues of highway bonds under Good Roads Amendment No. 1 are to be recommended to the Legislature to lighten the burden of public expense in these times of high taxation. They will extend to each year its fair share of the cost of permanent improvements and give the present taxpayers a just measure of benefits for the funds they are furnishing.

Highway improvements projected now are public necessities which must be built within a few years. They can be constructed economically now with the bond money or they will come a little later perhaps with higher taxes and construction costs. But they must be built and soon.

Favorable legislative action on pending proposals alone will enable the highway department to deal effectively and economically with its problems. Failure of the recommendations would mean a serious situation on Minnesota roads.

Auto Taxes Pay Well

The proposed bonds together with the interest on them are to be financed wholly with trunk highway funds—motor vehicle taxes, and without adding a dollar to taxation. The plan simply anticipates the collection of the revenues and applies them on the roads with greater fairness to the taxpayer of today.

The highway department is not advocating any increase in the agreed $18 average tax on automobiles nor any gasoline tax. The automobile tax revenue at the $18 average rate will produce amounts ample to cover both the principal and interest of bonds and leave annual balances adequate for established maintenance requirements and continuation of needed betterments from year to year.

The sinking fund required by the constitution has been carefully worked out but the detailed figures would take too much space here.

Paving Held Economical

Only with highway bond funds will it be possible to meet reasonable demands, stop waste of money for excessively expensive maintenance and give the highway user of today the service and savings to which he is entitled. Nearly half of current trunk funds are going for right-of-way, bridges, grading and other permanent construction which will be used for 25, 50 and even 100 years and it is unjust to charge it all to any single year. The bond plan will spread the cost more equitably.

An extreme example is furnished by one section of a heavy-traffic trunk route, which took an average of $2,145 a mile for upkeep in 1922 and with unsatisfactory results. The section is used by more than 1,500 vehicles daily, according to the traffic census average. Operation of the average motor vehicle costs at least 10 cents a mile on this section and a pavement would reduce that cost to 7 cents easily. Figuring conservatively, and applying the average for only 200 days in the year, there was a possible cash saving to users of $9,000 a mile. The cost of paving would not exceed $30,000 a mile. No private business would reject a proposed investment of $30,000 which would yield more than $9,000 in yearly returns.

More Grading and Graveling

While immediate paving of some sections is imperative, it must not be inferred that all the bond money will be used for pavement extensions. On the contrary, under the bond plan the large mileages of highway improvements will be of grading and graveling as in the past.

Where it will meet traffic requirements, the gravel road is the best road.

This covers the highway bond proposals except for the reimbursement authority. The latter is simply to give all counties equal privileges, to satisfy those which did not avail themselves of it two years ago and as a result do not enjoy the good roads common in counties which did take advantage of the plan.

Any further information desired on any phase of the subject will be given by the highway department. It wants the plan so thoroughly and universally understood that every good citizen will make it a point to advise his members in the legislature that he demands favorable action on the highway bond proposals.

Need Seen for Farmers' Clubs in Rural Life

That the farmers' club should have a permanent place in the rural life of the state was the consensus of delegates attending the annual meeting of the Minnesota Federation of Farmers Clubs at University Farm Jan. 5. It was argued that the farmers clubs were in position to put more emphasis on social and educational work and to promote a friendlier neighborhood spirit than could a geographical unit like a township. Officers elected by the federation for 1923: A. D. Wilson, Guthrie, president; Mrs. H. W. Bodt, Fairmont, vice president; Samuel Hammarbeck, Little Falls, secretary; K. V. Ripley, Park Rapids, treasurer. The governor was requested to give full consideration to agriculture in making appointments to the university board of regents. A second resolution adopted favored the passage of stricter laws for the protection of game and fish.

The annual meeting of the Plummer Co-operative Creamery association was held recently and the following officers elected for the coming year: David Haugen, president; John Greenwald, vice president; H. H. Frederickson, secretary and treasurer; Anton Lee, Carl Sorenson and John

RURAL CREDITS BILL IS READY TO BE REPORTED

Only Few Changes Made in Draft Prepared by Pre-session Committee

One Part Remaining Unsettled is Section Providing Method of Administration

Rate of Interest, Including 1 Per Cent on Principle, is Left at 7 Per Cent

Except for the section dealing with the plan of administration, the rural credits bill, one of the most important bits of legislation at this session of the Legislature, is ready to report back for passage to the House of Representatives by the committee on markets and marketing.

The committee decided upon all other details in the bill at yesterday's meeting. Only a few minor changes were made in the draft prepared by the House pre-session committee on agricultural legislation.

Divergent Opinions Expected

The afternoon discussion on the method of administration undoubtedly will arouse some divergent opinions among the committee members. The plan of the pre-session committee is to have a commission of three members appointed by the governor, to serve for one, two and three years, respectively, and to receive $4,500 a year.

Two other methods have been suggested. Representative Theodore Christianson, who fathered the rural credits amendment two years ago, wants the one-man plan, similar to management of the state highway department. Mr. Christianson, a member of the markets committee, already has put his opinions before the committee. He would have appointed a high-grade man at a salary adequate to attract candidates of the required ability.

Commission of Officials Asked

The other general plan is to form a commission of state officials, probably the governor, attorney general and treasurer. A variation of this plan is to include the state agricultural commissioner. Critics of this plan say that the state officials have not the time necessary to devote to the important work of lending money to farmers.

Several members of the committee yesterday were of the opinion that the three-men commission now incorporated in the bill will be adopted. The ten members of the pre-session committee that framed the bill are members of the markets committee and are solidly in favor of that system.

No Limit Placed on Bonds

In the form that the bill is expected to be finally approved, no limit will be placed on the amount of bonds which can be issued. There has been some discussion about limiting the first year's loans to $10,000,000, but it was decided yesterday that inasmuch as the proposed law is an emergency measure, there is no telling to what extent the farmers will call upon the state for aid.

Governor Preus had suggested that the limit be fixed for the first year, but assigned no particular reason for such limitation. Representative F. A. Green, to bring the suggestion formally before the committee, moved adoption of the limitation, but the vote was almost unanimous against it.

Rate Left at 7 Per Cent

The rate of interest to borrowers was left at 7 per cent. This rate will cover the interest the state pays on the bonds, the money for operating expenses, and 1 per cent to amortize the loans in about 35 years.

Regarding insurance that borrowers must carry upon the improvements mortgaged to the state, the committee voted to specify that insurance must cover "fire and the elements." The original bill did not state what kinds of insurance should be carried for protection. Another change permits insurance with any companies which are recognized by the state insurance department. Col. R. A. Wilkinson, chairman of the commitee, pointed out that this would include farmers' mutual insurance policies, a form of insurance not sanctioned by private loan agencies.

Higher Percentage Urged

Some discussion arose over the limit of loans to be made on lands. The bill provides that loans on land could be made up to 60 per cent of the assessed value. Representative Marius Waldal of Plummer suggested that loans be made up to 70 per cent.

"Several people in Northern Minnesota have asked me to urge a higher percentage on land valuation," Mr. Waldal said. "Land values are much lower in the north than in the south, and a wider margin would help the northern farmers."

Otto C. Neuman of Wheaton believed 60 per cent was high enough, since appraisals are usually made generously. Mr. Neuman believed the state should not be too careless in the matter of adequate security.

Motion For Change Lost

The motion to change the percentage was lost. The bill's provisions to permit loans up to 40 per cent of the insurable value on improvements went unchanged.

Other features retained are stringent provisions that persons applying for loans must occupy the property upon which the loans are to be made. This clause is meant to be a safeguard against land speculators. Also, the reasons why the loans are wanted must be stated in applications, and if any borrower uses money for purposes other than he stated, his loan will be called in.

The maximum loan on any farm will be $15,000 and the minimum $500. An appropriation of $200,000 from the state will be needed to carry on the work for the next two years, this money to be repaid out of interest returns. Bonds will be sold from time to time, and will draw not more than 5 per cent interest.

Prospects Good for Sugar Beet Factories in Red River Valley

Increased interest appears to be taken in sugar beet production in this section at the present, and indications are that a larger acreage than ever before will be planted throout Red River valley this coming season. An article bearing on this subject appeared in the columns of the Crookston Times last week and may be of interest to many:

"The Red River valley grows the best quality sugar beets which have ever been sliced at our Chaska factory," states L. E. Flink, general manager of the Chaska Sugar Beet factory at Chaska, Minn.

Mr. Flink declared that this section of the state should have a factory as there are already almost enough beets raised here to supply one and the indications are that the sugar beet industry will be greatly increased in the next few years.

"We have more than enough sugar beets to handle in our territory in Southern Minnesota," Mr. Flink said, "and if it was not for the fact that this section raises such excellent beets we would not solicit business here. It would be a great thing for this valley to have a factory located at one of the sugar beet centers."

Mr. Flink stated that he believed there would be enough sugar beets raised in the valley within a few years to keep three factories in operation.

The Chaska sugar beet men will visit all of the sugar beet raisers in this part of the state and make contracts for their next summer's production."

Disabled Veterans Have Unusual Farm Settlement

A few miles south of Minenapolis, near Orchard Lake, a unique farm settlement is being developed under the auspices of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau, C. D. Hibbard, District Manager, Minneapolis, Minnesota. This settlement consists entirely of several disabled veterans of the world war. Each man there is paying for a small farm on a long-time agreement so that he may support himself without having his injuries subject him to the vicissitudes he would encounter in the employment of others. As a rule, these men and their wives are without farm experience. This, together with their severe disabilities, decided them in favor of small farms for intensive cultivation after the model of those they had seen in France. They will specialize in poultry and berry raising for the city market. Celery, onions, and pickling cucumbers will be grown as a minor crop.

Over thirty men have bought baby farms of about four acres each. During the first summer cozy four room bungalows with full basements and also poultry houses have been built. The land has been broken, small flocks of choice trap-nested poultry purchased, and forty thousand raspberry plants have been set out.

All these disabled veterans are students at the Minnesota School of Agriculture so that ultimately every man on the project will be an agriculture graduate and will be prepared to make his small farm produce the maximum crops.

The cottage and poultry houses were built on plans worked out by the experts at the Minnesota School of Agriculture and are considered models for low cost, neat appearance, and utility.

The "Argonne Farms Berry and Egg Association" has been organized to standardize breeds of poultry, to assemble, grade and market the entire output of these farms on a co-operative basis. For mutual advantage, social and economic, other berry and egg producers in the vicinity have been admitted to membership in the association. This association will also buy feed, groceries and other staple supplies in wholesale quantities for distribution among its members.

Inasmuch as these men are living in their own homes and have their poultry and crops to look after, they will not be required to attend the Minnesota School of Agriculture during the winter months, but the Veterans' Bureau has arranged that instructors shall be sent to the project. Therefore these men will combine the study of agriculture with the practice of agriculture right at their own homes.

These farms are to be landscaped by a professional landscape architect. Fruit trees and berry bushes will be used for this purpose, combining utility with beauty, so that every foot of the land will be productive.

Plans are under way to bring electric lights from the village of Lakefield and to build a community hall for social gatherings, lectures, movies, etc. A consolidated school has already been provided, likewise a post of the Disabled Veteran of the World War with its Women's Auxiliary to contribute to the social life.

When we consider that the percentage of tenant farmers in this District has decreased from 90.5 in 1910 to 25.1 in 1920, this movement toward farm ownership is noteworthy.

Have a Heart

This is the way one contemporary puts it:

If the local editor were to publish all that is told him, sent to him and heard by him, he would be in the hospital some of the time, in the jail a large part of the time and in the poor house the rest of the time. So don't blame the editor if he misses the mark occasionally in the exercises of discretion in matters of duty and public policy. The editor who can avoid sins of omission and commission is a prodigy, but the one who really tries to do his best and keep the profession on a high plane is at least as much to be commended as the minister, the lawyer or doctor who is serving humanity according to its best interests."

U. Glee Club Here This Winter

Sixteen members of the Men's Glee Club at the University of North Dakota will make the annual concert trip between semesters, and among the places where they will appear is Thief River Falls, according to announcement made last week. The first concert of the tour will be given at Grafton, N. D., Feb. 5, but the exact date for their coming to this city has not been anounced as yet. They will also sing at Red Lake Falls and Argyle.

Kvale Resigns Pastorate

Rev. O. J. Kvale, who was elected in the November election to succeed Congressman A. J. Volstead, has resigned as pastor of Our Saviors' church at Benson, effective July 1, 1923. Mr. Kvale proposed several optional dates which would be convenient for him and his congregation voted to accept the latest available date. Should a special session of congress be called after March 4 Mr. Kvale will provide a substitute pastor for his church during his absence in Washington.

Rev. Kvale is well known to people of Thief River Falls, having been pastor of the local Trinity Lutheran church previous to Rev. Sweger, the present minister, and his career in congress as the succesor to Mr. Volstead will be followed with a great deal of interest.

Violators of Liquor Laws Pay $5,000,000 in Fines

Washington, Jan. 13—Sentences imposed in federal court since July, 1921, upon persons convicted of charges involving violations of the prohibition laws have netted the government more than $5,000,000 in fines, according to an official compilation by the department of justice. In the 18 months, the records show there were 68,862 cases reported, resulting in 27,301 convictions.

Wisconsin was one of the three leading states mentioned for its effective co-operation with federal authorities in the administration of the Volstead act. Kansas and California were others.

In Wisconsin, the co-operation of the state officials has resulted in less congested federal dockets than in any other state, save Kansas, the report said.

Four Murder Indictments at International Falls

The grand jury at International Falls last week returned 20 indictments, including four charging murder.

Two charges of murder in the first degree were brought against John Nigro, who is alleged to have been the companion of Joe Boshon, on Sept. 18, when Boshon shot and killed Sheriff Hugh Vanetten and Wilbur McMicken. Boshon later was shot and killed by a posse.

John Moe was charged with the slaying of Coral Brown at Loman, July 8. James Conroy was indicted for the murder of Pat Finnegan at Ranier on Dec. 8.

1922 Institute Annuals Ready for Distribution

The Minnesota Farmers' Institute Annual for 1922 is No. 35 in the series and is devoted to the growing of more and better leguminous crops. The number was edited by Director F. W. Peck and J. M. Drew of the agricultural extension service of the university. Introductory articles were contributed by Dean W. C. Coffey of the University Department of Agriculture and Director Peck. There are 160 pages, all splendidly illustrated; statements in display type drive home important points made by the contributors. Several Minnesota farmers have sketched their experience in growing alfalfa, soybeans, sweet clover, and other legumes. The new annual will be mailed to any person when request is accompanied by 5 cents to pay postage. Write to the Agricultural Extension Division, University Farm, St. Paul for a copy.

Government Insurance Benefits

Some of the benefits of government insurance are:

1. War time insurance may be converted into permanent standard forms of government insurance.

2. No change is made in the premium for total disability benefit in the policy.

3. No limit is made as to age in case of a disability.

4. No restrictions as to residence, travel, occupation, military and naval service.

5. Dividends are accumulated thru excess interest earnings over three and one half (3½%) per cent plus any mortality savings, and paid to all those whose insurance has been in force more than one year.

6. In case of illness, premiums may be waived by insured until recovered, if proper application for same is made.

7. No matter what a man's disability may be, or its degree, provided it is due to his military service and he has not been declared a permanent total, he will be accepted, on payment of all back payments due from date of lapse, plus five per cent interest, compounded annually on each premium date.

8. After four years of premium payments on a twenty year endowment, the extended insurance value would take care of all payments of premiums for the remaining sixteen years, BUT, by so doing, the insured would draw only the face value of his policy.

Senior Issue

This week's issue of the Progress is edited by the Senior class, exclusive of the Journalism class. The high school staff has turned the publishing of the Progress over to the Seniors Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen respectively for the four weeks beginning the new semester. Owing to the fact that there was only a short time which was broken up by examinations the Seniors were given the first issue instead of the Freshmen as was formerly the custom.

They Also Serve

"He played four years on the scrubs—and never quit."

This inscription commemorating the life of David Hanson, an alumnus of Northwestern University, who died in France, and was decorated by the French for his bravery in rescuing a comrade, is a greater honor than any so-called "successful" men ever win, said Dr. W. A. Evans, in the Minneapolis Journal.

At Northwestern he never lead the Junior Prom, nor ranked an "A" student, nor scintillated in any way—he never quit.

The possession of two degrees marked him as capable, but more than that, the fact that he played four years on the scrubs, without recognition, without personal gain—and never quit, marks him for a man of unusual character. And yet he was rated as an "ordinary, every day, wholesome sort of a fellow." Somebody had to play on the scrubs, so he did.

He rated average—but he never quit.—West High Weekly.

Most people have ears, but few have judgment, and if you will tickle those ears, you will catch their judgment, such as it is.

Student Co-operation

The high school girls and the Central boys and girls enjoy music with their physical training, but to have music in the gymnasium it is necessary to move the piano from the first floor to the basement two times each week.

During the first semester the Junior and Senior boys were kind enough to do the moving whenever requested to do so by the principal. However, Mr. Rapacz felt that it might be an imposition upon the good nature of the boys to continue making this request. Consequently, he called a meeting of the boys and explained the situation to them, telling them frankly that it was a favor appreciated by Miss Baumann and her classes, but that at the same time if they felt that it was asking too much of them, they should state so frankly without discredit to themselves. The boys unanimously volunteered to do the moving as often as necessary and by agreement all that Miss Baumann has to do when se wishes the piano moved is to tap one of the big boys on the shoulder, wherever he may be, smile, and ask him to see that the piano is moved. This boy immediately acts as a captain and secures four or five other boys to assist him and the piano is placed where it is wanted.

This is just a sample of the spirit of the Lincoln high school.

High School Boys 100% For Local Y. M. C. A.

The boys of the high school showed themselves to be 100 per cent for a Y. M. C. A. in this city at a short meeting of the boys Monday, at which the committee of Mr. C. D. Gustafson, Mr. H. E. Nelson, and Supt. Simley, explained the present plans for a local organization and emphasized the importance of the part to be played by the boys of the high school. A hearty response was met with from the boys, practically the entire number voting to pay the membership fee of not over two dollars per year.

The library board has offered the use of the basement of the public library for use as a club room until more substantial quarters can be supported. These rooms will be outfitted and kept open to quiet pastimes from 7 to 9 in the evening, and for more noisy entertainments for an hour or so after library hours. Although an age limit will be set for boys out of school, all high school boys will be eligible for membership regardless of age.

President Of Carleton Expresses Radical Views On Vocational Training

"Vocationl training subjects are all right in their place but I don't believe they should be allowed in the public high schools and colleges of the country," declared Dr. D. J. Cowling, president of Carleton college in a recent address. According to Dr. Cowling, the purpose of education is to teach young people to think, to judge, to adjust themselves to their social order, and to interest them in their personal relation to the universe. To accomplish this purpose the schools should endeavor, first, to encourage original ideas in students; second, to discipline them; and lastly, to enrich and broaden their minds. In the attainment of these ends vocational training plays no part, and therefore shold be abandoned by high schools and colleges to give place for such mind-developing subjects as Latin and mathematics, which last, has no equal in the intellectual ability it imparts to the young mind. Few peoplpe are good thinkers—for them thinking seems to be merely a process of recollection into which no originality or deepness of thought enter. Vocational training in excellent in its place, asserted Dr. Cowling, but it should not be sustituted for the real mind trainers. America received just criticism when thus rebuked a prominent Englishman, "America trains, but does not educate."

To Standarize Teaching Of English In High School

An effort is being made by all English instructors to standardize the courses in English. The tests of all grammar work are to be given every six week period. Every student must pass these tests before he receives his credits. The students in the Freshmen class will be required to pass twenty-four of these tests during their four years of English work. As this is just being started here, the Seniors will have to pass only six. Every individual's paper will be kept on file throughout the entire four years' work.

Sore Heads And Sore Hearts

The day of reckoning for all students in high school came Friday. As a result Monday morning brought forth a surplus number of sore-heads and sore-hearts.

Classes were carried on in the usual manner for all those not taking examinations.

Everyone agreed that the American History was just outrageous. The English exams. were awful and so leads the discussion about the different subjects.

From subjects the conversation change to "I think Miss MacNair "Mr. Powley will—" and all such chatter. Some are compliments given in a sweet tone and others are sighs of relief but the worst to hear are the deep sigh of regret of the students who wish they had studied.

But, now is the time for all good men to—reform. Now is the time to start studying for the next Exams. Reform now and the next reckoning will be easy.

DEFEAT STEPHEN ON HOME FLOOR 19-8

Wearers of Red and Blue Battle To Ascendancy In Rough Game

The game opened with a snap. Stephen opened up with the first score of the game. Stephen thinking that they were off, brought the ball down the floor for almost another score. Thief River then getting possession of the ball, worked it down before Stephen had returned to defense. S. Sorenson then dropped a pretty basket from the corner of the floor. From then on Stephen seemed to lose hope. They were unable to stop the offense of T. R. Falls. At the end of the first half T. R. F. had piled up a large enough lead to convince Stephen that they were beaten and began to play-not basketball. Chuck Herron was walked over by a little forward. After that Herron took things easy for a while. In the last half Herron came back stronger then ever, making Stephen players look as if they were standing still or could not move. Cliff Sorenson and Chuck Herron were the stars for T. R. Falls.

The team struck their stride at Stephen, winning from Stephen on their own floor is no easy task. It is up to the student body to help keep the stride by supporting them to a man.

Junior Sleigh Ride

The Junior class went for a sleigh ride to Walhal hall Wednesday evening. About 60 Juniors and teachers went out in three sleighs. The party frolicked at the hall until shortly after midnight, when the sleighs were again turned homeward. All report a very enjoyable excursion, and although the evening was cold, no frozen ears have been reported. The chaperons were Miss Thompson, Junior advisor, Miss Baumann, Mr. Bye, and Mr. MacFurlane.

New Courses

Monday, January 22, is the first day of the second semester. Several new subjects are offered for the accommodation of the people who have taken half year subjects the first semester and also for the people who are entering high school at this time. The majority of the teachers will be obliged to take more classes so the cooperation of the student body will be more necessary than ever before.

Sociology succeeds Political Economy; Civics, American History; Solid Geometry, Higher Algebra; and Commercial Law is offered as an extra subject to Juniors and Seniors. The Freshmen who took Commercial Arithmetic the first semester are being offered Penmanship and Spelling. The people who are beginning high school at this time are given beginning courses in English I, Algebra, and Commercial Geography.

That Empty Feelin'

Some buddy told me
That
The exams
Were coming next week.
So I crammed and I jammed
My head
Full of A's and B's and XYZ's.
And a lot
Of Socialism bunk
And dates
I had broken
But when
The fatal hour was nigh
Not a trace
Of my accumulated
Knowledge remained
Only space.
Those A's and B's and XYZ's,
Just took legs.
And just crawled off my dome—

A Correction

Dut to a slight error on the part of one of our editors of the Progress Staff, no mention was made of Myrtle's main street, when due credit was made of Lucille's. We wish to apologize for the mistake and to our reading public we wish to inform them that Lucille wears a main street, but her back alley was only an experiment and a source of amusement while Myrtle's main street and back alley is permanent—being the lastest style. Accept our heartful sorrow for such a mistake.

Only A Pin

Only a pin-it calmly lay
Beneath the chair on the floor
Only a boy—temptations great
The pin lay there no more.

Only a chair d'sturbing none
Behind the teacher's desk
Pin and chair combined with glee
Point turned heavenward-little past!

Worthy instructor-he chanced to drop
Upon that chair-Oh! Man!
Blessed is he who sits on a pin
For he shall rise again.

Then man and boy and pin and chair
In close communion mingled there
Only the pin out of all four Alone no traces of damage bore.

(Ded. to the organization of sleepers.)

Where do our minds go?
When they fall to linger in class?
While sums are explained
And men of note named,
They go and we shall not pass
Do they wander in pastures green
Where common mortals fear to tread
In oblivion of the past
Through strange lands vast?
Ah no! Ah no! At home in bed.

ROSEAU DEFEATED IN DEBATE FRIDAY

Large Crowd Hears Chairman Vorlicky Announce Unanimous Decision

Friday afternoon, shortly after the Great Northern train arrived, the debating team from Roseau made their appearance around the Lincoln building, and judging from all appearances, Thief River's team banked on a hard battle that evening.

The debators all went home "shivering in their boots" and were told to eat a light supper, needlessly to say they ate hardly any.

At last the fatal hour arrived; eight o'clock, with Roseau and Thief River at their best, all ready for action.

The question was, Resolved: That the Kansas Type of Industrial Court of Adjudication should be established in Minnesota. The speakers on the affirmative were: Arthur Wold, Ina Blom and Walter Torfitt of Roseau. The speakers of the negative were Herbert Johnson, Rose Costello, and Albert Stengelsen.

The debate was interesting from the beginning, each speaker showing much enthusiasm and confidence in what he or she were about to say in arguments. The rebuttals contained much thought and were well given, showing much improvement over the last.

When the debate closed the votes were cast by the judges, and Henry Vorlicky acting as chairman, read the decision. However, from the expression on Henry's face we all knew what it was, but when the decision was given, it proved to be a unanimous vote for the negative.

This is the second debate the Thief River team won. Ther work has shown considerable improvement over the first debate under the leadership of Coach Miss MacNair.

Students And Teachers Enjoy All-School Party

The first strictly high school party arranged especially for those students who enjoy the Terpsichorian art was held at the Sons of Norway hall last Saturday evening. The hours were from eight to eleven thirty.

An unusually large crowd turned out for the occasion, and it is evident there are more students than might be expected when enjoyed stepping the light fantastic. The hall was crowded to capacity and everyone enjoyed himself immensely.

The purpose of the party was to provide for those who indulge in dancing an opportunity to gratify their desire and inclination under the most favorable conditions. With the exception of the patronesses and the pianist, every person there was either a high school student or a teacher.

Candy and lemonade were sold between dances by the Senior class. The proceeds will be turned over to the Prowler fund.

The patronesses at the dance were Mrs. T. L. Melgaard and Mrs. J. S. Arneson, and the chaperons were Miss Maude Johnson, Miss Katherine MacNair, and Superintendent Simley.

These kind of programs are always enjoyed by everyone. It is hoped that if Miss Simley comes to Thief River Falls some other time she will entertain us again.

Rush Work On Prowler

"Prowleritis" is becoming more acute, with the advent of the time when our annual must go to press. Little, unlooked for details are from time to time coming up to provide the staff with material for many sleepless nights and much worry. Care must be taken that each and every student and department of the school system gets the credit or blame due him or it; and more care must be taken that some dd not get more than their just share of honorable mention.

It is a foregone conclusion that all things happening in our school year cannot be represented in our Prowler, because it goes to press before some of the important events of the year take place; but to this we must resign ourselves, and remember that it is a greater good to have the annual out on time than it is a good to have the events recorded and get our book out after the weary students have finished the prescribed nine months of attendance. Doing so would entail a lot of work after school is out, and a lot of blame from the subscribers who wish to get their copies on time.

The 1923 staff believe that the value of the Prowler can be made materially greater by having the book ready for distribution some time before school is out, than by having it some out during the last week of school, and are trying both to compensate for mistakes of preceding classes in this respect, and to set a good example for those following.

Mr. Rapacz—"I think that very likely Hawaii will soon be made a state of the U. S."

Rose—"Oh! But where will they put it?"

ARGYLE HERE FOR DECISIVE CONTEST FRIDAY EVENING

Game May Decide T. R. F.'s Chance For District Championship

The local fans will get another thriller when Argyle meets Thief River Falls on the auditorium floor Friday evening.

The visitors are coming with the strongest team they have ever had in all their school history of basketball teams. Two of the last year's men are back with other good, fast, men and intend to defeat the local squad.

Coach MacFarlane has stated that much improvement has been shown by the boys here. The defense is the same old style with Stanley Sorenson and "Chuck" Herron as guards. But the offense play has improved since the last home game which showed up in the Stephen game at that place last Friday.

If you're a booster, and honest-to-goodness basketball enthusiast and want to see the team representing Thief River Falls WIN! come out tonight and support your team.

In Verse

60 seconds make a minute
Something sure you can learn in it
60 minutes make an hour
Work with all your might and power
24 hours make a day
Time enough for work and play
7 days make a week
You will learn if pains you take
52 weeks make a year
Soon another will be here.

With fingers weary and worn,
With eyelids heavy and red,
A student sat in the assembly
But he wish't he was in bed
Scratch, scratch, scratch, gosh darn!
He must write it all over again.

Work, work, work
Till his eyes are heavy and dim
Work, work, work
Till his brains begin to swim
Caesar and Shakespeare and Greene
Till in the midst of a battle he falls asleep
And murders them all in a dream.

Knox Notes

The fourth grade of Mrs. Lacy's room submitted their first twenty-five drills in penmanship to A. M. Palmer, Chicago, Ill., and the following have received buttons showing their work had been accepted. Eleanor Carlson, Alyce Lonson, Vera Randall, Dorothy Tyrer, Alice Larson, Alfred Arnold, Helen Langer, Evelyn Whiting.

Attendance in the Knox is normal again, only students who are not returned, after our dyphtheria scare, are the little tots living too far to venture out in this cold weather.

Last week, as a minor news item, an incident concerning a girl in Mount Vernon was given. Due to a similarity in names to one of the Central school girls, and due also to the fact of trouble makers running short of material, a false report has been rumored concerning this girl. This report has no foundation other than imagination, heresay, and gossip.

Howard Zellmer was transferred to the seventh grade because of midyear promotions.

Twenty-three pupils in Miss Gunderson's room have been neither tardy nor absent the past week.

Merton Roemhildt has been present every day the first semester.

Arnold Mickelson holds the highest honors in the Fifth grade in the Studebaker tests, being the first one to complete his exercises.

On Tuesday the 4th B division enjoyed a very interesting talk on the Wonders of the Sea, by Junior Prichard. He illustrated his talk with specimens from the sea which made it very instructive for the pupils.

All pupils of the 4th B and 5th B are back in school and we are having a good attendance.

Miss Thompson—"What did the Ku Klux Klan do for the country?"

Harriet—"It increased the demand for sheets."

Walter Mellum had his wrist broken Friday night after school.

WOULD RESTORE ANCIENT TONGUE

Scientist, Assisted by Self-Taught Indian, Seeks Key to Language of Quiches.

NEW METHOD BEING EMPLOYED

Hopes to Unravel Secrets of Maya Hieroglyphic Writings and Inscriptions Which Have Baffled Science for Centuries.

Charlottesville, Va.—Restoration of an almost forgotten language with the aid of an uneducated, nearly illiterate, self-taught, full-blooded Indian from the highlands of Guatemala, is being undertaken by Dr. William Gates of Charlottesville. The Indian is Quiche, and his language, which heretofore never had been thoroughly studied, bears the same name. The race and tongue are offshoots of the ancient Mayas, whose high civilization, the most advanced of any early American people, flourished before the Spanish arrived in South and Central America.

The Mayas built marvelous cities, palaces and temples, the ruins of which dot Yucatan and Guatemala. Their descendants are the Indians and peon class which inhabit that region today. Only the mountain tribes have escaped the advance of civilization.

Will Use New Methods.

Through the application of a new scientific method which reaches to the root of language, Doctor Gates expects to restore the decadent tongue, decipher the hitherto unraveled secrets of the ancient Maya hieroglyphic writings and inscriptions which have baffled archeologists for centuries, compile books for the instruction of the Indians and eventually restore the literature.

In his experiments the scientist has been recording on a smoked paper cylinder the vibrations of a stylus actuated by the Indian's words spoken into a mouthpiece. These records are preserved for study of the intricate variations of pronunciation, and already, working with manuscripts written in the Indian tongues by the earliest Spanish missionaries, Gates has found a remarkable preservation of the ancient speech.

The instrument he used is known as the "kymagraph," or wave-writer, and was invented by an eminent French ethnologist for language study. Doctor Gates was aided by John P. Harrington, ethnologist of the Smithsonian Institution, who has studied practically all North American Indian languages.

Indian Teaches Himself.

Probably the most interesting feature of Doctor Gates' work is the Indian, Cipriano Alvarado, who assisted him. He never had written or read a word until he taught himself at the age of twenty-five. He lives in the almost inaccessible mountains of Central America, and is of the purest blood descended from the Maya empire builders.

Doctor Gates, who is director general of the national museum of Guatemala, has been studying the Maya inscriptions and ruins for more than twenty years. As a result of his present studies he expects shortly to be able to translate the entire writing system, and reveal the knowledge and attainments of the Maya civilization. Already several of the cabalistic symbols have been read, and it is expected that an announcement concerning the deciphering, of great importance to ethnologists and archeologists, will be made shortly.

The final success of his extended investigation, Doctor Gates said, was due not only to the use of the kymagraph in his research, but to study of the grammar of the present tongues and application of the rules thus worked out to the writing found in the inscriptions.

HEART BEAT IDENTIFIES THUG

Doctor, His Victim, Uses Novel Method on Holdup Man Patient in New York.

New York.—Harry Sinclair, arrested as a burglar suspect, has been identified by his heart throbs.

Thinking the prisoner's description tallied with that given by Dr. Henry Moeller of the man who one Sunday night entered his office as a patient, and attacked and robbed him, police sent for Doctor Moeller. Assisted by his son, also a physician, Doctor Moeller examined Sinclair with a stethoscope and declared the prisoner's heart beat was the same as that of the man he examined in his office.

Sinclair, who said he was an actor, was identified also by Doctor Moeller's two daughters, Anita and Marie Moeller, as the man they saw in their father's office.

Thinks It Ambergris.

Durham, N. H.—The chemistry department of the State college is engaged in the examination of a lump of an unknown substance found on the sands at Hampton beach and thought to be ambergris. The finder of the substance is Miss Josephine Paige of Goffstown, N. H., a teacher at the Lincoln Street school in Manchester. The ambergris, if it turns out to be ambergris, is so very valuable that the small piece of it she has, it is estimated, would bring at present quotations about $5,000. So far the ambergris has fulfilled the tests required of it.

ANTELOPE DYING OUT

Animal in Danger of Becoming Extinct, Say Federal Officials.

Only 3,000 Left in United States, Is Estimate, With 350 Left in Yellowstone Park—Protection Urged.

Yellowstone Park, Wyo.—The American antelope is threatened with extinction, according to officials here of the Department of the Interior. Unless extensive protective measures are taken, officials declared, an animal widely admired for its coloring, delicate proportions and zephyr-like movements, soon will be seen only in museums.

There are probably not more than 3,000 antelope remaining in the United States, according to a statement, and the total number in the park is about 350. In 1908 the number was estimated as 2,000.

The cause of the antelope has been taken up by the American Bison society of New York. A number of societies interested in game preservation will meet jointly in the East soon to consider a program to protect antelope. Proposed measures include provision for an adequate winter range for Yellowstone herds, and for herds remaining in Oregon, Nevada, Idaho, Wyoming, Utah and California.

Last winter nearly a third of the Yellowstone park herds were lost as a result of heavy snows and the depredations of coyotes, wolves and mountain lions. A part of this loss was made up by birth of the young this spring.

The most serious menace to their preservation here is the absence of suitable winter range, according to these officials. Besides running the risk of starvation, owing to scant forage if the snows are deep, they are easy prey for predatory animals.

Mrs. Mercer was a widow without relatives. In the will she makes a specific bequest of $200 to Mr. Witcher and then makes him one of the five residuary legatees.

The estate will amount to about $7,000.

PRINCE JOINS FRENCH ARMY

TO EXHIBIT FINE STOCK AT WINTER FARM CROPS SHOW

Local Farmers Will Have Good Specimens of Cattle and Poultry at Crookston Feb. 5-9

Red River Valley Winter Shows

Pennington county farmers will be on hand to share in the nearly $8000 which will be awarded as premiums by the farm crops, live stock and poultry associations that are co-operating together as the Red River Valley Winter shows which will be held at Crookston next month, February 5-9. Pennington county farmers have always taken a great interest in this event which has grown to be the largest agricultural show in the state next to the state fair.

Exhibits of grains must be shipped to reach Crookston not later than February 1. Live stock and poultry show entry blanks should be filled out and sent in at once.

Many Contests During Winter Shows

The rural school children of the entire Red River Valley are preparing for the annual rural school spelling contest to be decided on February 5 when the two best spellers from each county meet to decide the champion. Mildred Morton of Becker county won first last year in individual contest and Marshall county team in county division.

Another Valley wide contest sponsored by the Winter shows is the essay contest. The subject is "The Winter Shows as a factor in Promoting diversified farming in the Red River Valley." Thousands of 6, 7 and 8 grade students are looking up diversified farming and what it would mean for our section of the state.

At least 20 farm club and high school teams will enter the annual live stock judging and farm crops judging contests. The Winter Shows and meetings are an educational event of great importance and value. The Northwest School of Agriculture is actively promoting activities in co-operation with different associations and committees.

Many to Speak

Prominent agricultural and farm marketing experts will speak at the Red River Valley Winter Shows meetings to be held at Crookston February 5-9. Better balanced production which will give the farmer more money will be the chief topic at all the meetings. Prominent among the speakers are Dean W. C. Coffey, J. F. Reed, A. J. Glover, H. H. Kildee, T. H. Hagen, A. M. Dunton, H. J. Hughes and a score of others.

Farm crop production and marketing problems will be discussed on Tuesday, February 6; live stock, February 7; farm marketing of grains, live stock, dairy products and potatoes on Thursday, February 8. On Friday February 9, sugar beets raising will be fully discussed. On that day, farm plans for maximum profit for 1923 will be discussed, including balancing production.

The evening programs are especially attractive with Dean Coffey, Preston Bradley, Roy L. Smith, James Burns and the Red River Valley Song Festival coming in order given beginning Monday evening.

Grand Forks American Property To Be Sold

The defunct Grand Forks American property, including one lot and a part of another, together with the building formerly occupied by the newspaper on Fourth street will be sold at sheriff's sale on February 20 to satisfy a judgment of $25,589.92.

The interests of a number of creditors have been placed in the hands of Ole Knutson and T. O. Haroldson, trustees, while defendants are: The Grand Forks American, a corporation, Allan McManus, receiver of the American; A. G. Sorlie of the Peoples' State Bank of Grand Forks; O. D. Engen, receiver of the Scandinavian-American bank of Fargo; First National bank of Thompson, Farmers' State bank of Buxton, Peoples' State bank of Calvin, Peoples' State bank of Hillsboro, Citizens' State bank of Bathgate, John Valley, receiver of the Peoples' State bank of Grand Forks.

The Grand Forks American was started as an independent newspaper, owned by several hundred stockholders, about five years ago and had a considerable subscription list in this community, but after publication for about two years the financial status of the institution became such that the owners of the plant and property were forced to sell same in order to meet their obligations. The plant and equipment was sold recently, leaving the lots and buildings for this sale.

Smothered In Snow

An unusual accident occurred at Barnesville recently when Ross Hawley, aged 26, died as the result of being pinned beneath a heavy rack which fell upon him when he slipped as he was lifting it from one sleigh to another. The rack fell, when he lost control of it as he slipped, and crushed his back and pressing him into the snow to such a depth that he was smothered. The young farmer was not found until several hours after the tragedy and his body was partly frozen.

NOTICE

The Creamery association having decided to dispose of a couple buildings, a big one and a small one on the creamery grounds, will receive sealed bids on same on Tuesday, January 30th, next. Creamery board reserves the right to reject any and all bids. For particulars apply creamery office.

Locomotive On Soo Line Local Breaks Drive Wheel

The Minneapolis local Soo train, due in Thief River Falls at 8:30 in the evening, last Thursday did not arrive until about 3 o'clock the next morning. The cause of this unusual delay was the breaking of the drive wheel on the locomotive, the incident occurring near Glenwood while the train was going at a high rate of speed as it was making up for lost time.

The locomotive was kept under control however, and no accident resulted, only the passengers had to wait for some time while the train crew obtained another engine. The waiting was rather uncomfortable due to the fact that the heating apparatus had been put out of commission in the jolt and the cars became almost of the cold storage variety, according to passengers who arrived that morning.

The fireman narrowly escaped being seriously injured and possibly killed, when a piece broken from the wheel was thrown back through the cab.

Red Lake Falls Pioneer Dead

Euseb Z. Normandeau, aged 69, a resident of Red Lake Falls since 1888, died at his home at 12:30 o'clock Monday afternoon after a long illness. His health improved after the operation and he was apparently in good health up to last fall.

Deceased had for some years conducted a blacksmith shop at Red Lake Falls and was well known to a large number of people in the surrounding community.

The ten children that are living are Euseb H. Joseph, Adelard, Cora, Arthur, Peter, Anna and Carrie, all of Red Lake Falls, Albert of Edmonton, Alberta; Blanche of Duluth, and Patrick of Minneapolis.

In an interview, Mr. Warren Wright, President of the Calumet Baking Powder Company—the largest Baking Powder Company in the world, advertising, and points to Calumet's success as proof of his statement.

Sales 2½ Times As Much

"Calumet sales are 2½ times as much as any other brand" stated Mr. Wright, "and we attribute this to our lavish use of newspaper in the most direct medium we can use in getting our message across to the housewife and we know from our experience covering thirty years, that the housewife will respond to newspaper advertising quicker than she will to any other form of advertising."

Newspapers Protect Readers

"The housewives have confidence in newspaper advertisements because they know that the newspapers set up high standards for their advertisers. It is for that reason that the housewife looks to the newspaper for information on products in which she is interested."

Leslin, prominent merchant, sold his grocery store to Sever Anderson, who formerly operated a shoe and harness shop. Mr. Leslin had been in business at Goodridge for only a brief period.

Benjamin Fluegel, 26 years old, was killed Thursday, last week, by a dynamite explosion while working on a state road job nine miles east of Bemidji.

The body was sent to the home of his parents at Imogene, Minn. Besides his parents he is survived by a sister, Ann Gates, of Hazelton, N. D. He was employed by the Barrett Construction company. He had worked on that job about three weeks.

Calf With Two Heads at Gonvick

A matter of interest to Gonvick residents last week was the carcass of a freak calf brought in by Ole Lund, a farmer of Eden township. The unusual feature about the calf was two heads growing out from the body in a forked manner. Both heads appeared to be fully developed and of like size. Other than that the calf was perfectly normal. It lived but a few minutes after birth. Mr. Lund stated that it was the first freak calf to appear among his herd and has seen but one other like it in his neighborhood during his lengthy residence there. He is anxious that the carcass be placed in the hands of some one who would be interested to the extent to have it mounted and placed on exhibition with other curiosities.

Too Many Automobiles

A significant statement made by a speaker at the Wednesday lunch meeting of the Crookston Association was that the sales of gasoline and oil for automobiles in Polk county totaled just about the same number of dollars as the total receipts of the dairy and poultry products of the county, each year. If we add to this the amount invested in automobiles and the expenditures for upkeep of same we will find one big reason why we are not enjoying the unbounded prosperity we would all like to see.—Crookston Times.

Not Quite So

Arthur Brisbane in the Chicago Herald, says: "How is your business doing? The oil business is doing pretty well, thanks. The Buckeye Pipe line pays an extra dividend of $25 a share; Indiana Pipe Line pays $20 extra. Both pay "regular" $16 dividends. Do you suggest government regulation of oil and gasoline prices? Why, that would be socialism. True, the government did regulate the price of wheat, preventing profiteering by farmers. But farmers and oil companies are different."—Levang's Weekly.

SUGAR BEET MASS MEETING ASSURES FULL ALLOTMENT

Delegates From All Over This Section Attend Meeting To Discuss Possibilities

Appears That More Than Alloted 1500 Acres Can Be Secured For This Season

Splendid Spirit Of Co-operation Expressed By Representatives Of Many Communities

A mass meeting of farmers and business men from all parts of this section of the state was held at the auditorium Tuesday evening for the purpose of discussing the matter of sugar beet raising and to perfect an organization to insure the planting of 1500 acres in the territory tributary to Thief River Falls.

Many Delegates Here

Practically every locality in this section was represented at the meeting and the spirit of co-operation was manifest throughout. All expressed themselves as vitally interested in the matter of securing a large acreage of sugar beets here this year and pledged themselves to do everything in their power to interest the farmers in their locality.

Mayor Bratrud Presides

Mayor John Bratrud presided at the meeting and stated to those present that it was possible by the co-operation of all the towns in this vicinity to secure a sugar beet factory for Thief River Falls if the farmers could be sufficiently interested to put in a good acreage this year. He called on H. W. Protzeller to address the meeting and explain what had been done thus far and what it would be necessary to do to get an industry of this kind located here.

Mr. Protzeller told of the work that had already been done by the committee and what had been accomplished. He stated that the Soo line had agreed to establish a freight rate of $2.25 on sugar beets to Mason City, Iowa, this rate to apply to Thief River Falls and all points tributary on their line north to the Canadian boundary. This is a reduction from the regular rate of $7.50. He also told of the action of the sugar company with a factory at Mason City in giving Thief River Falls an allotment of 1500 acres for this year and explained that the committee desired to extend this acreage over as large a territory as possible. In this connection he invited the co-operation of all towns in this section of the state.

Barzen Tells of Experience

Math Barzen was then called on and told of his experience in the raising of sugar beets. Mr. Barzen has raised ten or fifteen acres of beets each year for the past three years and has been very successful. He gave those present valuable information on the proper preparation of the soil and cultivation of the crop. In concluding his remarks he expressed the belief that there was room in Northwestern Minnesota for a half dozen beet sugar factories.

County Agent J. J. McCann told of the experience of farmers here in the raising of beets. He stated that the experiments conducted showed that sugar beets cannot be raised successfully on peat soil for the reason that they were lacking in sugar content, having only about one half the amount of those raised on other soil here. During his talk he disclosed the fact that sugar beets raised here have a higher percentage of sugar content than those raised any other place in the United States.

All Pledge Support

Other speakers were called upon and all pledged their united support. An organization to carry on the work of alloting the acreage over as large a territory as possible was perfected. H. W. Protzeller was elected president, Math Barzen vice president and J. J. McCann secretary. One man was also named from each of the localities represented to act as committeemen.

Among the delegates registered with the secretary were the following:

MEN ARRESTED LAST WEEK RELEASED ON FURNISHING BONDS

Taken Before Commissioner Murphy At Crookston By U. S. Marshall Converse

After spending about a week in the county jail pending hearing, the six men, A. H. Erickson, Conrad Vinje, Chas. B. Bradley, Ole Ytesund, Sidney Voldness and Alfred Okstad, arrested last week following a raid by federal prohibition agents, were taken to Crookston Monday and given a hearing before Commissioner Murphy. The alleged violators of the liquor laws were bound over to the next session of federal court which will probably be held some time in May before Judge Page Morris, at Fergus Falls. The bonds were fixed at $1000 cash bond for each of the proprietors, Bradley, Vinje and Erickson, while Voldness, Okstad and Ytesund, employed at the places raided, were each placed under $500 bonds. All the bonds were furnished, the men returning the following day. They were taken to Crookston by deputy United States Marshal Converse.

Abatement proceedings will very likely be started against the owners of the places where the arrests were made in case of conviction of the accused parties, and may be instituted immediately following the first conviction. If such action is taken the places affected would be closed for a period of one year.

Lloyd Alnes Injured When He Loses Control of Team

Last Friday afternoon Lloyd Alnes narrowly escaped fatal injuries when a team which he was driving got beyond his control and ran wildly down Main avenue and quickly turning between the two Kiewel buildings threw Alnes out of the rig with the result that two ribs were broken and other minor injuries sustained.

It was about two o'clock in the afternoon when Alnes was driving a team belonging to Mrs. A. B. Remmem and in going down Main avenue he lost control of the horses, apparently full of vigor and of a runaway nature. According to his statement, the team with Alnes in the rig, made a sudden turn in a mad run between the two Kiewel buildings and in the swerve he was thrown on the sidewalk with such force that he was rendered unconscious and received several injuries, including two broken ribs. The victim of the accident does not recall being thrown against any particular object in the fall.

Aid was given him immediately by passersby who took him to the Swedenburg Bowers hospital clinic where he was given medical aid. His condition was at first thought to be critical but he was taken to his home Monday and is now able to be around with ease. It is expected that he will recover completely from the injuries within a short time.

Norquist the new cashier, will form the board of directors. Mr. Norquist was formerly cashier of the First National bank of Gonvick. Elmer Erickson will be retained as assistant cashier, the only one of the old force to remain.

BROKEN RAIL IS CAUSE OF G. N. WRECK TUESDAY

Seven Freight Cars Smashed About Two Miles This Side Of St. Hilaire

Several Hours Required To Clear Tracks For Resuming Train Service

Northbound Passenger Due At 11:15 Unable To Get Through Until 7:30 P. M.

A bad wreck occurred on the Great Northern late last Monday afternoon when seven cars of a northbound freight train left the tracks and were considerably smashed up, two cars being practically crushed to splinters. The wreck took place about two miles this side of St. Hilaire on a level strech of track, the cause of the derailment was a broken rail, which had way under the weight of the heavy train. Fortunately no one was injured in the spill which occurred while the train was going at a moderate rate of speed.

The engine and several cars passed the point where the rail broke when suddenly the train gave way in the center and seven cars left the track, piling upon one another and being badly broken up in the crash. A car of wheat, it was reported, had been broken into pieces and the contents spilled out in the snow and among the wreckage. After the seven cars had left the rail the remainder of the train continued on the track, crossing the broken rail safely. This strange occurrance was due to the breaking of a coupling, thus releasing it from the derailed cars.

Shortly after the unfortnate spill a wrecking crew came to the rescue but it was not until late the following day that the tracks were cleared for traffic. The northbound passenger which is due in Thief River Falls at 11:15 a. m. did not arrive until 7:30 in the evening, Tuesday, due to the obstructed tracks.

Ludvickson, of Jackson, assistant quartermaster general and Capt. Beck of Detroit, all of whom gave addresses following the ceremony of initiation.

The following officers of the Canton were elected:

Captain—A. B. Stenberg.
Lieutenant—Ray L. Erickson.
Ensign—Arthur Berg.

Music Teacher Returns

Mrs. C. O. Erickson returned Sunday morning from the twin cities where she had spent about three weeks. While in St. Paul Mrs. Erickson had the pleasure of hearing the world famous pianist, Ignatz Paderewski and also Alfred Cortot, the eminent French artist.

Mrs. Erickson announces that her second semester music classes will begin on Monday, Feb. 5, but owing to the large number already enrolled, only former students will be registered for the coming period.

Edward Nelson Passes Away At Physicians Hospital Here

Edward Nelson of Middle River, well known throughout this section, died at the Physicians hospital Tuesday afternoon after a lingering illness. Deceased had been at the hospital for the past six weeks suffering from a severe attack of pleurisy and a weakened condition of the heart is also believed to have caused his death. Last week his condition seemed improved but a relapse set in and he became gradually worse.

Deceased was 47 years of age at the time of his demise and was born in Waseca county. At the age of ten he came to New Solum, Marshall county, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rasmus Nelson, being among the early pioneers of that section. Since 1903 he was engaged in various kinds of work in Thief River Falls and vicinity, making his home in this city a great share of the time. Before the county division Mr. Nelson was deputy sheriff of Red Lake county under Louis Nelson, and later served with Sheriff Hanson of Marshall county for a brief period.

During the past six years he was engaged in repair work at Middle River in connection with his brother Knut, who operates a garage there. He had a large circle of friends who will be saddened by hearing of his death. Deceased was unmarried and leaves to mourn his death the following: his mother, Mrs. Rasmus Nelson of Crosby; four sisters, Nellie and Martha, who live with their mother at Crosby; Mrs. Regina Mattson of Wadena; Mrs. (Marie) Bernt Gresley of Middle River; and a brother Knute of Middle River.

His remains will be shipped to Middle River for internment Friday, the funeral to take place at the end of the week.

NEW CREAMERY OFFICERS WILL DIRECT AFFAIRS

S. E. Hunt Elected President of Association At Annual Meeting Saturday

Thos. H. Bjerke Succeeds Peter Engelstad As Secretary. Salary Cut

Plans For New Building Will Be Carried Out As Arranged By Retiring Board

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Thief River Falls Co-operative Creamery association held at the auditorium Saturday afternoon a complete new set of officers was elected to handle the business of the association for this year.

S. E. Hunt President

S. E. Hunt was elected president to succeed Hans Anton who has served in that capacity for several years. Mr. Anton refused to be a candidate for another term, stating that his own affairs needed his entire time and he felt that someone else should now take over the duties at the creamery. Carsten Christensen was elected vice president and J. H. Hardisty Jr., treasurer. T. K. Rynestad was elected director.

Bjerke New Secretary

Thos. H. Bjerke was elected secretary to succeed Peter Engelstad. Before the election of officers took place the stockholders voted to reduce the salary of secretary from $150 to $100 per month. Mr. Bjerke announced himself as a candidate for the office and offered his services at the salary voted by the stockholders. Mr. Engelstad stated that he could not afford to devote his time to the work at that salary and declined to be a candidate. The meeting then unanimously elected Mr. Bjerke.

Treasurer's Salary Cut

Economy and retrenchment in the matter of expenses seemed to be the sentiment of a large majority of the stockholders and the pruning knife was also used on the treasurer's salary. Heretofore the treasurer has been paid a stated amount for each check signed and this has amounted to between five and six hundred dollars per year. The meeting this year voted the treasurer a straight salary of $300. S. O. Lee, who has been treasurer for a number of years, declined to be a candidate at this salary and J. H. Hardisty, Jr. and H. C. Woolson were nominated. The vote resulted in the election of Mr. Hardisty. The officers elected assume their duties today.

Will Proceed With Plans

The plans as outlined by the retiring board of directors in regard to the new creamery building will be carried out by the new board. Another meeting of the stockholders will be held in the near future for the purpose of completing arrangements for the erection of the building and immediately thereafter bids for the work will be received.

He announces that he will open his new quarters Feb. 7 and will continue in the regular line of groceries as formerly.

Income Tax Experts Will Visit Thief River Falls

Revenue officers are visiting every county in the United States to aid taxpayers in the preparation of their income tax returns for the year 1922. Information concerning the date of their arrival and the location of their offices may be obtained by writing the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer lives.

Forms for filing returns of individual net income for the year 1922 are being sent to taxpayers who filed returns for the year 1921. Failure to receive a form, however, does not relieve the taxpayer of his obligation to file a return and pay the tax on time, on or before March 15, 1923. The forms, 1040A for filing returns of net income $5,000 and less and 1040 for filing returns of net income in excess of $5,000, may be obtained from collectors of internal revenue and deputy collectors.

Returns are required of every single person whose net income for 1922 was $1,000 or more or whose gross income was $5,000 or more and of every married person whose net income was $2,000 or more or whose gross income was $5,000 or more. Careful study of the instructions on the forms will greatly aid in making a correct return.

The sectional contests were held in the respective sections Friday of last week, and tomorrow the two winners from these eleven sections will compete in the county contests in Thief River Falls. The contest will take place at the court house at 1 o'clock p. m. the event being a charge of Superintendent Ole R. Sande. According to reports received by the superintendent, indication are that practically all the contestants chosen will be here for the tryout Friday, when the two winners will be selected to represent Pennington county at the Farm Crops Winter Show at Crookston next week. Those scoring highest in the county contest will be given a free trip to Crookston while the winner at the final Red River Valley contests will receive worth while money prizes.

MRS. HERRON IS AWARDED $7,500 BY COMMISSION

State Industrial Board Holds Contractors Responsible For Death Of Wm. Herron

Coolsaet Brothers Covered With Insurance By The Maryland Casualty Company

Appeal From Decision Of Commission May Be Taken By Defendants In Action

A notice was received yesterday by Attorney H. O. Chommie from the State Industrial commission that Mrs. Augusta Herron, widow of William Herron who was accidentally killed in a fall from a load of tile on June 19 last summer, has been awarded $7,500 under the workmen's compensation act.

At the time of the accident Mr. Herron was employed to haul tile for Alphonse Fontaine who in turn was employed by Coolsaet Brothers, contractors, who laid the tile in the city last summer. Following the death of her husband, Mrs. Herron sued Coolsaet brothers for the full amount under the compensation act. The claim was resisted by the contractors and the Maryland Casualty company, defendants, on the grounds that Herron was not directly employed by the Coolsaet concern. Complete testimony was taken at a hearing conducted in this city Dec. 1 by Chas. Allbright, referee for the industrial commission, who in his findings holds that the widow, Mrs. Herron, is entitled to the claim under the compensation act, there being an indirect employment between Mr. Coolsaet and the contractors.

An appeal may be made by the defendants but it is likely that the verdict will not be changed, the facts in the case having been established. The award allows the sum of $7,000 to be paid to Mrs. Herron in weekly installments, and in addition she will also receive $150 for funeral expenses.

Attorney Chommie of this city represented Mrs. Herron while A. Robt. French of Minneapolis was the attorney for the defendants.

The still and other articles were found in a log shack in the woods, a distance away from the farm home.

Walker was taken before Justice Knutson and pleaded guilty to maintaining a nuisance. The court imposed a sentence of $100.00 and costs or a sixty term in the Polk county jail at Crookston.

Mentor Garage Burned Down Man Held For Arson In Case

Fire, starting at about 11:30 o'clock last Friday night completely destroyed the Benoy garage and contents at Mentor, the one story frame building burning to the ground and the seven trucks and three touring cars in the building being damaged beyond repair. The cause of the blaze is unknown.

The conflagration was discovered at 11:30 o'clock but too late to prevent it from spreading and destroying the garage and contents. The fire burned far into the night and was not quenched early in the morning after everything had been destroyed. Neither the building or contents was insured.

The total fire loss could not be estimated at the time of their report but it is said that Mr. Benoy's loss alone is over $8,000.

According to the Crookston Times Monday Austin Cravath late that afternoon was ordered held for $750 bond following a continuation of his hearing in municipal court, charged with arson in connection with the garage fire. The case was continued until Feb. 8.

STANDARD OIL OFFICER GIVES OUT STATEMENT

Interesting Testimony Given Before Senate Committee On Price Of Gasoline

States That Stock Of Company Is Owned By Over $28,000 Stockholders

Federal and Local Taxes Amount To More Than Total Dividends Paid

Col. Robert W. Stewart, of Chicago, Chairman of the Board of Directors and executive head of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), the largest single marketer of gasoline in the world, recently testified before the Senate Committee on Manufactures which is investigating the alleged high price of gasoline. Col. Stewart made the following statement to the Committee:

"It is wrong to charge that the Standard Oil Company of Indiana has a monopoly of the oil business in the Middle West, or that it can arbitrarily dictate the price of gasoline, either up or down. While the Standard Oil Company of Indiana is the largest single marketer of gasoline in the world, if the so-called independents, members of the National Marketers' Petroleum association, whose President has testified in this hearing, were to cut the price of gasoline five cents a gallon or any sum tomorrow, the Standard Oil Company of Indiana would have to do likewise, and do it quick, or lose its business.

"Here are the reasons:

"As regards crude oil, our competitors own practically all of the production in the Mid-Continent field, from which source we derive our principal supply.

"As regards refining facilities, our competitors have approximately five times more refining capacity than has the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

"As regards sales of gasoline, lubricating oils and other petroleum products in the territory where we have distributing facilities, our competitors have twice as many service stations as we maintain, while the number of bulk sales stations operated by them about equals our own.

"With the great bulk of production in the hands of competitors and with refining capacity far in excess of our own, it is manifest that the Standard Oil Company of Indiana can not so dominate the market as arbitrarily to put the price of petroleum products up or down. We must of necessity ride along with our competitors so long as they maintain a price which follows approximately the directors of the law of supply and demand, and is not exorbitant, but is normally based upon a reasonable profit.

"From a review of the testimony given before this committee by the so-called independents to date, it would seem that while this is an investigation into the alleged high price of gasoline, not the low price, their principal complaint is against the insistence of the larger companies in trying to hold down the price to a reasonable figure.

"The Standard Oil Company of Indiana, is an independent corporation, not a member of any trust or combination. It is owned by 28,267 stockholders, of whom more than 8,000 are employees, ranging from common laborers to executives. While originally a large amount of the stock was held by comparatively few people, today there is no stock holder who owns more than 5¼ percent of the whole.

"Contrary to the general impression, Mr. John D. Rockefeller owns not a single share of stock in this company. Among our largest stockholders are General Education Board, the Rockefeller Foundation, the University of Chicago, and other educational and charitable organizations.

"The Standard Oil Company of Indiana is engaged in the manufacture and sale of petroleum products. The management in vested in a Board of Directors of nine members, all actively engaged in this business and no other. Of these nine, two rose from office boys, one began with the company as a common laborer, one as a timekeeper, one as a stenographer, one as a mechanics' helper, one as a draftsman, one as a chemist, and one as a member of the legal department. All earned their right to places on this board through their own efforts.

"The Standard Oil Company of Indiana markets its products principally in eleven states—Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, Kansas, South Dakota, Missouri, and Oklahoma, where it serves a population of more than 30,000,000 people.

"Originally this company had no crude oil production, but the war demonstrated the necessity of a permanent source of supply for our refineries. As a result, during 1920 and 1921, substantial interest was acquired in the Midwest Refining Company, and a half interest in the Sinclair Pipe Line, as well as half interest in the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Company, which has for its purpose the purchasing of crude to provide business for the Pipe Line Company. The Sinclair Pipe Line already was constructed and we had the choice of acquiring an interest in it or build a new line of our own. To have gone to the expense of building a new line, when one already laid was not being used to capacity, would have been an economic crime. Thus we now have some crude production of our own, though we are still dependent upon others for the major source of our supply.

"As regards capitalization, our authorized capital stock has recently been increased from $140,000,000 to $250,000,000. Prior to this, the company was heavily under-capitalized, and while its earnings have apparently been large when figured on a basis of capitalization, when figured on the actual money invested, they have not been excessive.

"It is interesting to note that while during the ten years ending January 1st, 1922, this company has paid to its stockholders in cash dividends the sum of $74,561,005.60, during the same period it has paid in federal and local taxes the sum of $79,545,160.35.

"In its treatment of employees, the company challenges comparsion. We have an industrial relations plan whereby employees themselves pass on wages, hours, and all other matters relating to their general welfare. We have an annuity plan whereby veteran employees are retired on pensions and their dependents taken care of. Under this plan more than $500,000 has already been distributed. We have a plan whereby employees can purchase stock in the company on the installment plan, the company giving them $50.00 worth of stock for every $100 worth they buy. These are merely the high spots.

"At enormous expense, this company carried on experiments which resulted in the Burton process for the manufacture of gasoline, doubling and trebling the yield of gasoline from crude, thus maintaining the price of gasoline at a much lower figure than it otherwise would be. The company has not kept this process to itself, but licenses its use by any refiner who wishes to use it.

"The management of this company appreciates that a monopoly is abhorrent to the minds of the American people and will not be tolerated by them. It does not desire, nor does it endeavor to put any competitor out of business. We believe, in fact, that our competitors are as essential to our business as our customers. All we are trying to do is to obtain a fair return to our stockholders on the money they have invested, and at the same time to perform our entire duty to our employees and to the public."

Facts About Sugar Beets

The United States is the greatest per capita consumer of sugar in the world. We consume an average of 100 pounds for each man, woman and child every year. This means a total annual consumption of 10,000,000,000 pounds of sugar or in terms more suitable for comprehension, five million tons. Where does this immense amount of sugar come from?

Last year the United States produced only 20% of its requirements and imported the balance. This means that 1,000,000 tons were produced here and 4,000,000 tons imported from Cuba, Porto Rico, Central and South America and Mexico. The average wholesale price of sugar during the past year was $120.00 per ton which means that we paid out $480,000,000.00 for sugar alone, which is considerably more than half the amount paid to farmers of the entire United States for all the wheat that they raised. In other words the sugar requirements of the United States is practically equal in value to its entire wheat requirements. The State of Minnesota, pays out each year if that immense sum of money were paid to the farmers of Minnesota each year?

A few years ago many people thought that sugar made from beets was much inferior to that made from sugar cane. Today, most of the sugar consumed in this country is manufactured from beets and the beet sugar manufacturer defies even the most skillful chemists from detecting any difference between their product and the finest cane sugar. The sugar beet has come to stay. It is far past the experimental stage and has been so developed that eventually it will be the sole source of sugar supply.

This fact is of tremendous importance to all agricultural sections of the United States and particularly to that part known as the Great Northwest. Sugar can only be raised successfully in the few Southern States while sugar beets can be raised in greater quantities and of finer qualities in the Northwest than any where else in the country. Reliable statistics furnished by the sugar beet manufacturers show that sugar beets raised in Indiania, Illinois and Iowa contain an average of 13% of sugar. Those produced around the only district manufacturing sugar in Minnesota today, namely, Chaska, contain an average of 15% of sugar while the beets raised around Thief River Falls contain an average of 17.5%, some even reaching the hitherto unheard of sugar content of 22%. There is no longer any question about Northwestern Minnesota being better adapted for sugar beet raising than any other territory in the United States.

The sugar beet crop is one of the finest that can be raised and particularly so in a dairy or diversified farming country. It leaves the soil in the pink of condition for other crops and the dried pulp produced in the manufacture of beets into sugar is the greatest milk producing food so far discovered for dairy cows. And above all it is a great revenue producing crop of itself. The average yield of sugar beets is 10 to 12 tons per acre, while near Thief River Falls a yield of 22 tons per acre was produced. The farmer knows in advance what the minimum price for his crop will be, and in addition if the sugar market at the time the sugar is sold is above the average he will receive an additional amount. The sugar beet crop requires practically no outlay of capital, for seed etc., this being furnished by the factory. The net returns from an acre of sugar beets raised under average conditions runs from $40 to $70 per acre. What better could be asked?

Do You Know These Facts?

Dr. Hamilton, mental specialist for the U. S. Veterans Bureau in Minnesota, has compiled figures showing that in November, 1921, this district had 2,000 mentally disabled buddies, that six months later there were 3,600 such cases, that in November 1922 there were 5,000 suffering from this disease, that every month shows a continued increase of 300 cases, that by 1925 there will be approximately 10,000 mental cases in the Tenth District, of which more than 6,000 will be from Minnesota. Yet, only one 500-bed hospital for mental cases—at St. Cloud—has been promised, and according to building experts that can not be completed in less than two years even if promptly started. In view of these facts, The American Legion of Minnesota urges every public spirited individual and society, civic, commerce, fraternal or otherwise, to ask the President of The United States that justice be done to these, our comrades, who are unable to help themselves.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE YOU'LL PAY NO MORE

Best and Fairest Use of Regular Auto Tax Money Held Aim of Road Bond Proposals

Commissioner Further Outlines Plans for More Improvements at Same Taxes

Do Pennington county people want local sections of the state trunk highway system improved without unnecessary delay, and, if so, are they willing that the automobile and truck owners of the state should pay for the use of the improvements at a yearly rate of slightly more than 4 per cent of the cost?

That is the close-up of the whole question under the state highway bond proposals, according to Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, who will present them soon to the legislature. Unless bonds are authorized as provided by good roads amendment No. 1, he makes plain, needed improvements on almost every part of the 7,000 mile trunk system must be put off, many for ten years and even longer. He submits that adoption of the plan will hasten every permanent improvement and much other needed work and that the interest item will be offset many times by the savings and gains from the use of the improved roads.

Better Roads; Same Taxes

"Highway bonds simply will mean more good roads for the present, less waste of maintenance money and lower costs of highway travel and transportation, all in full fairness and without an additional dollar of taxes," said the highway executive.

Making plain that the bond plan is only to get the best use and results from a given sum of money, Mr. Babcock pointed out that motor vehicle taxation must continue as provided by the state constitution, which even the legislature cannot modify or change. The highway department is not asking and has not planned, he said, for increasing the agreed tax of $18 a year on the average automobile, although it has proven less than under the old personal property tax law.

Instead, it is showing members of the legislature and others interested in details that the automobile tax money at the rate it is now coming in will cover the principal and interest on all bonds and leave balances each year sufficient to meet other demands.

Pay as You Use is Plan

Extensive permanent improvements on the trunk highways, official records disclose, are taking nearly half of the current funds. Each year gains greater use and enjoyment of them the preceding year under the present system, although each may pay the same rate of taxes. Mr. Babcock's plan is to level the benefits to each year, fairly spreading the whole cost with interest charges, that taxpayers of the present and near future may receive more nearly the returns to which they are entitled. He contends that the bonds will afford the only means of doing this and submits that the use of the improved roads will be worth many times the interest item. He emphasized that no increase of taxes will follow—that taxes will be collected as now regardless of whether the bonds are issued.

Highway Bonds Different

Senators and representatives, after investigation and study, are putting the highway bond proposals in a different class from other bond plans. Money coming from a fixed source of revenue and to be used to pay both principal and interest, they agree, the highway plan is not to be mixed with those calling for more taxes every year to meet interest.

One report from the state capitol is that the legislators who turn deaf ears to propositions which will increase will be more popular with their constituents than any others except those who go further and get bigger immediate returns for the same taxes as offered in the highway bond plan. Among the latter are classed, members who see their duty in giving their people back home and others all over the state what they want although some may know it yet and still oppose bonds for better roads in spite of the assurance that no tax increase will result.

STATE TRUNK ROADS BRINGING IN MONEY

Automobile Tourists Leaving More Than $250,000 a Day in Minnesota During Summer

Minnesota trunk highways were used each day during the last touring season by 15,568 automobiles carrying about 50,000 visitors who spent more than a quarter million dollars. Thus, the so-called Babcock roads in a 120-day season brought more than $30,000,000 of new money into the state. The sum is nearly five times the taxes paid in the state for all trunk highway purposes and some $4,000,000 more than was raised for all road improvement and upkeep.

The figures are from a highway bulletin showing one of many ways in which "a good road pays for itself many times over." It is pointed out that the comparatively new "tourist industry" will grow rapidly, bringing new residents, more money and greater prosperity to Minnesota as the better highways are extended.

"State highway traffic census takers counted a daily average of 15,568 passenger automobiles with licenses of other states, and it is estimated that they carried 50,000 visitors," says the bulletin. "Assuming that 30,000 were entertained at homes or camped out, it would mean $60,000, at $2 a day, and the remaining 20,000 stayed at hotels at $5 for lodging and meals bringing $100,000, would make a total of $160,000 a day for subsistence. Their miscellaneous expenditures at $1 a day would mean $50,000 more. The average tourist travels 150 miles a day consuming 10 gallons of 25-cent gasoline and a quart of 30-cent oil and the tourist cars took $42,033 a day of fuel and lubricant.

"So if the averages given are applied for only three months—a 120 day season—there was $30,240,000 of money left in Minnesota last summer by the highway tourists."

We Will Discontinue

the delivery of lumber on and after February first. This service has required a heavy investment in trucks and teams, which are maintained at great expense. We hope to pass this saving along to our customers.

Wednesday is live stock day. The judging Monday will hold the keen attention of those interested in that part of the show. On Wednesday, serious consideration will be given to a few of the immediate problems connected with live stock production. Send for a complete program. Thursday and Friday afternoon will be given over to live stock sales. Holstein sale on Thursday, Feb. 8, and the Shorthorn sale Friday, Feb. 9. Elsewhere in this issue is an advertisement of these sales.

It has been some time since as good a selection of Holsteins has been offered at the winter sale. In this sale will be a fine individual cow with a 34.49 lb. record. This cow was born March 21, 1918, and bred Sept. 22 to a 1100 lb. bull. Another cow calved December 11, 1917, has a junior three year old record of 23.54 lb. butter from 546.8 lbs. milk. This cow is bred to freshen the last of March. Calved Jan. 24, 1922, a beautiful show heifer, light in color, and splendidly grown; her dam has a 25.04 lb. record. A daughter of Dutchland, Aaggie Tid's Prince 2nd 148528, the Grand Champion sire at the 1922 National Dairy show. This cow was bred May 13. Many other splendid A. R. O. cows and heifers will be sold in this great sale; such as a yearling heifer from a 23.6 lb. dam and a 22.5 lb. cow calved Jan. 6, 1918, due to freshen Feb. 20, to the service of a son of 41st.

For Holstein herd sires, no better can be found than is offered at the February 8th sale. Here are two of the offerings: A young bull from a dam producing 32.03 lbs. of butter from 637.03 lbs. of milk, and a grandson of Sir Pietertje Ormsby Mercedes, from a dam with a junior two year old record of 17.96 lbs. butter from 347.8 lbs. milk.

Look at the sale advertisements and note the list of Shorthorn consignors and one will be convinced that the February 9th sale is offering a real opportunity for foundation females or a herd sire of this excellent breed.

The bred sow and gilt sale of the Winter Shows has already been a place to get the best lines offered in the breed preferred. A glance at the list of consignors given in the advertisement for the swine sale is enough to insure a high quality sale of Polands, Chesters and Durocs.

Your name sent to O. M. Kiser, Crookston, sales manager, will bring you the desired catalog. A visit to the livestock show will convince you that the 1923 show is equal to those of the past and that the stock offered in the sale is equal to any in the show.

Phosphate As Fertilizer Increases Peat Land Yield

Owners of peat land should at this time be planning how they can best put their soil in a productive condition so as to derive the utmost returns. During the the next months is the opportune period to study the various methods successfully practiced by other farmers and make arrangements and plan for carrying out the most feasible of these when the time comes that the ground is to be prepared for seeding.

The use of phospates as a fertilizer on peat land is becoming a general practice in this section more and more every year, and judging by various experiments it proves very successful.

An itneresting letter by R. Storm, a Pennington county farmer, appeared in the Northwest Farmstead recently, and contains a great deal of worth while information on this subject. The communication follows in full:

Fertilizing Northern Peat

To Northwest Farmstad: I have used treble superphospate, mostly on peat land.

In the spring of 1920 I broke five acres, four being peat and one mostly clay, and put on about 60 or 70 pounds of phospate to the acre, right on the breaking. Then I disked and dragged. Got a good stand, especially on the peat, about 30 bushels per acre. On a strip where I didn't put on any fertilizer, there was practically nothing, so short I couldnt get it with the binder and, of course, poor heads.

Oats on ordinary mineral soil without fertilizer yielded about 10 or 15 bushels per acre, that year.

On the clay soil the fertilizer did not show up so much, although it undoubtedly did some good.

In 1921 I put in two acres of oats and five acres of barley with about the same amount of fertilizer, handled the same way, with about the same result, 30 bushels of oats and 25 of barley, no peat soil.

The latter part of July the same year, I broke five acres of peat and put about 100 pounds of phospate, disked it down, then disked and dragged again about the 20th of August and sowed winter rye. That I threshed and got about 30 bushels per acre.

Last spring I put on 125 pounds per acre on seven acres of peat and got about 45 bushels of oats per acre.

At first I tried to put the fertilizer on with the drill, but it packed in the cups and twisted the square rod that runs through them. Now I just throw it out by hand. Put the stuff in a tub on a stoneboat, in order to get down low, and have a man to drive the team. It is necessary to use goggles, as the acid is hard on the eyes. Also there should be no wind.

I am satisfied it is a good investment, absolutely, to use phosphate on peat land. In fact, the peat we have around here is of practically no value; that has been proven. But since I used phosphate, I've never had a failure.—R. Storm, Pennington Co., Minn.

Lumber Deliveries Discontinued

For the good of the service we have decided to discontinue the delivery of lumber on and after the first of February. This has been a very expensive service and the cost has had to be passed on to the customer. By coming prepared to take away your own orders costs will be considerably lowered as it will no longer be necessary for us to maintain teams and trucks. This policy is in line with that announced by lumber dealers in many sections of the country in the interests of economy. It will eliminate a heavy expense and enable us to pass the saving on to our customers.

Predicts Passage Of Truth-In-Fabric Bill

Passage of the Farm Bureaus' Truth-In-Fabrics bill, recently reported by the Senate committee is forecast by Senator Arthur Capper, chairman of the Agricultural Bloc. The bill, if enacted into law, will require manufacturers to plainly label their goods as to the amount of wool their fabrics contain and to tell the public whether the sleek-looking, poor-wearing suit is a worked-over horse blanket or virgin wool.

One Hundred Breeders To Exhibit Stock At Crookston

Nearly 100 breeders are making plans to exhibit their pure bred stock at the Red River Valley Livestock show to be held at Crookston February 5-9. Premium lists have been sent out by O. M. Kiser, secretary, to members of the Red River Valley Livestock association. Assurances have been received that the live stock show will be larger than ever.

The total list of exhibitors received to date includes most of exhibitors at former shows and many new exhibitors. The list is an imposing one especially when one considers that at the first winter live stock show held in 1917, there were only 61 animals entered. Last year there were 600 head.

J. J. McCann reports that the Pennington County Holstein breeders will exhibit a county show herd, the Pennington County Swine breeders will exhibit a carload of hogs and the usual fine exhibit of Pennington County Guernseys will be entered. The plan adopted by Pennington county of the breeders of a county uniting and sending a show herd together, representing the best individuals of the breed represented, is a good one and is being considered by other counties.

W. V. Longley has sent word that the A. E. F. Company of Kittson county will have a fine showing of Shropshires at the Winter Shows. Last summer this company exhibited their sheep at fairs and won a full share of the premiums offered as well as many favorable comments for the flock shown.

In addition W. D. Clow, St. Vincent, will exhibit Yorkshire hogs, John Alexander, Hallock, Shorthorns; W. W. Sugden and Roy Sundberg, Hallock, Holsteins. Other Kittson county exhibitors are expected.

T. L. Todd, Hendrum, will exhibit Shropshires the fight for honors in the Shropshire class has included A. Marsden & Son, Hendrum; F. B. Conklin of Thief River Falls and the Northwest school. This year the competition will include six or seven strong flocks.

Other Valley exhibitors who have been heard from relative to showing their stock are: Miner and Magnus Helgeson, Crookston; M. C. Kroneman, Fergus Falls; R. A. Marshall, Argyle; Carl Flikke, Lockhart, and James Dreelan, Wylie, who will show Poland China hogs. Nels Nelson and O. A. Morvig, Fertile, will be exhibitors also.

A. Marsden & Son, Hendrum; F. A. Green & Son, Stephen; C. O. Quist, Crookston; Clearwater County Duroc Club and J. W. Champion, Angus, will exhibit Duroc Jersey hogs. Holsteins have been entered by C. L. Spaulding of Warren; M. L. Enright, East Grand Forks; C. L. McNelly, McIntosh; W. W. Hall, Mentor; O. J. Grover, Glyndon, and Max C. Kroneman, Fergus Falls.

A strong Shorthorn show is assured by C. O. Carlson, Erskine; Nels Evenoden, Fertile; O. F. Anderson, Fosston; M. E. Dahl, Twin Valley; E. D. Grant, Glyndon; and the Northwest school. Others will decide this week.

Albert Paradis, Brooks, and E. Franklin, Emerado, North Dakota, will have Angus cattle in the show; H. O. Bolstad, Fosston, Herefords. The Junior department will have a large class of dairy calves and sheep according to A. J. Kittleson, district boys and girls club leader.

Livestock entries are to be in the hands of the secretary by January 20. At this time there will be added a large number of exhibitors to the above list. The available space will be taxed to full capacity.

The Holstein sale on Thursday, February 8, and the combination Shorthorn and hog sale Friday, Feb. 9, will give an exceptional opportunity to purchase some of the best Red River Valley breeding stock. J. E. Mack of Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin, will handle the Holstein sale Thursday and H. O. Tellier of Farmington, Minnesota, will be the auctioneer for the Shorthorn and hog sale.

The program of meetings for the full five days of the week, February 5-9, is an interesting one. The farm crops and poultry exhibits that will be held, in addition to the industrial exhibits, make the Red River Valley Winter shows the second largest agricultural event in the state; the state fair only exceeding it in scope and importance.

NO TAX INCREASE IS BUREAU ROAD STAND

President Reed Issues Statement to Clear Up Mis-Understanding of Convention's Action

If highway bonds can be issued, sold, marketed, the interest charge met, and the principal paid, without increasing taxes, the Farm Bureau is not opposed, according to a statement by J. F. Reed, president of the Minnesota Federation.

The statement was issued to clarify the somewhat muddled situation that has resulted from conflicting reports as to highway bonding action taken by delegates attending the recent annual Farm Bureau convention.

"The text of the resolution," says Mr. Reed, "states the Farm Bureau's position very clearly. It reads:

"We do not oppose the bonding of the Highway department or any extension of issuance of bonds for highway or similar improvements which do not increase in any way the taxes for highway construction or maintenance.

"Farmers of Minnesota will be glad to get better roads under this limitation; in fact, they hope that all public improvements can be carried forward without higher taxes.

A. C. To Determine Value Of Sweet Clover in Beef Production Experiment

To obtain more specfic data relative to the place of sweet clover for beef production four lots of six yearling steers each are being fed this winter at the Northwest Experiment Station in co-operation with the Division of Animal Husbandry at the Minnesota Experiment Station, St. Paul. This experiment started Nov. 14 with grade shorthorns, averaging in weight from 650 to 680 pounds for each lot. These steers were selected by Professor W. H. Peters at the South St. Paul market.

The rations fed are as follows:

Lot 1: Alfalfa hay, corn silage, oats straw.

Lot 2: Sweet clover hay, corn silage, oats straw.

Lot 3 Sweet clover hay, oats straw.

Lot 4: Sweet clover straw, corn silage, oats straw.

The cattle receive all the oats hay and straw they care to eat. The hay is fed night and morning in racks in the feeding shed. Straw is fed in racks in outside lots. The lots give ample room for exercise. The silage fed lots receive 15 pounds of silage per head daily.

The feeding shed is arranged so that each lot has a section large enough to accommodate six to eight head. Watering is done inside. The lots are on the south of the shed. Each section is provided with a large sliding door which is kept open except during storm and extremely cold weather.

Commenting on this feeding trial, J. L. Torney writes as follows in a recent issue of The Breeders' Gazette.

The results of these trials will have a significant bearing on economic feeding possibilities in the northwest. The trial will be in a measure to determine to what extent sweet clover hay can be utilized in rations for wintering stock cattle. This legume—only a few years ago considered a noxious weed and regarded as a pest in many states—is meeting with great favor in the Red River Valley. Cattle and sheep both have been summered on sweet clover pasture alone. Sweet clover is not only a valuable feed, but a soil-enricher of the first order. The sow thistle, a vile weed in the Red River Valley has been given a good start by the growing of wheat. Diversified farming is holding it in check, and sweet clover is a vigorous plant that helps to check the thistle.

PASS THE RURAL CREDITS BILL

The legislature is coming in for a lot of censure, particularly in the farming sections, for its lack of speed in passing the rural credits bill. It was one of the very first measures introduced at the opening of the session and it seems as if it has still a long way to go before becoming a law. The dilatory tactics pursued have had the effect of discouraging farmers who hoped for some relief thru the measure and the good intention of legislative members is being questioned.

While this is a matter of very great importance and cannot be rushed through, yet it would seem as if greater expedition might be had in handling it. The mandate from the people at the last election was very clear and the legislature needs no further authority for going ahead. Up to date, however, the progress has been discouragingly slow.

If this measure is going to help the farmers at all it will have to be in working order before planting time this coming spring. In a very short time the farmers will have to make arrangements for the financing of their seeding operations and they have been depending on this rural credits law to help them out. If the bill does not pass or is delayed much longer in passing, its expected benefits will, to a large extent, be lost—for this coming season at least. And it is at present that the farmer needs to be assisted. His situation is serious and some plan by which he can be helped onto his feet is absolutely necessary. The machinery for making such plan effective has been authorized by the people and the rest is clearly up to the legislature.

If this measure is not soon passed it will justify the farmer in the belief that so far as the Minnesota legislature is concerned, it has been decided that he may work his way out of his difficulties the best he can and without anything in the way of assistance on the part of the state. And in spite of the fact that an overwhelming majority of the voters practically ordered the lawmakers to provide such relief at once.

It is not going to be very pleasent sailing in the future for the senate or house members who are going contrary to the wishes of the people in this matter, or who, through lack of courage or understanding fail to do everything in their power to speed the passage of the bill. The people know who they are and there is going to be an accounting later on that may prove decidedly embarrassing. Proclaiming that they favor the measure and then failing to do everything possible to bring about its early passage is going to count the same as being actively opposed to the bill and no amount of explanation will clear away the impression. The passage of the bill at once is an economic necessity. It is also sound legislation and good politics.

POSTERITY SHOULD HELP PAY

Deferred payments for permanent improvements is a sound policy and Highway Commissioner Babcock is right in wanting a bond issue of $10,000,000 for state highways, repayment to be stretched over a long term of years.

There is no sound reason for expecting the present generation to pay for roads that will be of benefit to the people for generations to come. The taxpayer of today is carrying a heavy enough burden without being asked to stand the full cost of improvements that will benefit those coming later on more than they do him. There is nothing just or fair about a system that requires this of him.

The remedy is a bond issue extending over a long time so that users of the improvements at a later day will have to pay at least a part of their cost. It may be submitted that our decendants will no doubt have enough to pay for anyway, but they would have a great deal more were it not for the beginning made by the people now residing among us. They will roar about their taxes in any event but will perhaps be fair enough to admit that they are paying no more than their share. Besides, it is not likely they will blame their forebears for leaving them with a part of this public debt to pay off.

There is not a single sound argument in favor of saddling the entire cost of good roads against the present taxpayers of the state, as would be the case were these costs to be met by increased taxation. It is more just, easier and vastly more sensible to issue bonds payable in the future. This plan would give us the roads at once and permit us to pay while using them.

SUGAR BEET OUTLOOK

It is now certain that the 1,500 acres allotted by the Minnesota Sugar company as Pennington county's share of next season's supply for the concern will be oversubscribed long before the time for planting arrives. It is many years since the farmers of this neighborhood evinced so much interest in a crop of any kind. Applications for acres are already being received, many coming from parties who have never before experimented in the growing of beets. From present indications it would seem as if even this liberal acreage allowance will not be sufficient to meet the demand of those who wish to go into the beet growing business.

The mass meeting in this city on Tuesday was one of the best gatherings of its kind ever held here. Farmers were present from many places in this section and all were very much interested in the proceedigs. Practically every person present signified his intention of planting beets in the spring and secured the necessary acreage application for submission to the proper committee later on. Everyone declared their intention of devoting the time and care necessary to the production of the best crop of beets possible, realizing that on the outcome of this year's supply to a large extent rests the status of the district as a beet producing region.

This attitude on the part of growers is most gratifying as more importance attaches to the quality of the beet produced than upon the quantity, and the highest quality can only be attained by proper care in soil preparation, cultivation and harvesting. For this reason it is important that the farmers do not undertake to plant more than can be properly taken care of. Sending poor beets to the factory will prove more disastrous than failure to reach the acreage allotment. More acres can always be added but if the growers are inclined to pay but slight attention to quality and condition, there is little that can be done about it.

There is anoher reason why the grower should be particularly careful to produce only the best just now. A beet sugar factory is to be located somewhere in northwestern Minnesota and Thief River Falls is one of the places under consideration as a site. If our beet supply is sufficient and the quality as high as in the past there is every reason for believing that this city will be favored. If, on the other hand, growers go at beet raising as if it were a matter of but slight importance, the factory may go to some community showing a higher appreciation of what an institution of that kind means. Beet raising is an important business and one in which the profits are sufficient to warrant the grower in giving the subject his best attention. A poor crop is more to be dreaded than a short crop, although the latter is bad enough. If growers will remember this, a factory may be located here during the coming year. This will mean lowered freight charges for those producing beets in the neighborhood and consequently a better profit.

Representatives from the towns in the vicinity stated that they favored Thief River Falls as the location of the new factory, and their support is important. Now if they will practically cinch the factory by planting at least 1,500 acres of their land to beets they will in all likelihood be providing themselves with a permanent market for the future right at their door.

Speaker Nolan named an excellent to take charge of the work, with Rep. Theodore Christianson of Dawson at the head. He has been chairman of the appropriations committee of the house for several terms and is one of the best posted men in the state on matters relating to the state's finance and administration.

Editor of The Times:

I must beg you for enough space to reply to Ole Christofferson's insinuations. It is obvious that Mr. Christofferson is one of the misinformed ones. He carefully states that it "sounds" so and so.

Mr. Christofferson, my article was not written in Crookston, nor did it originate in any other man's fertile brain." My assessment in the Red Lake project is only $640 (assessed benefits.) My "ditch tax" is over $600.00. But I have lost, through floods, several times the sum of the two. I do not know what your river assessment or ditch tax is. No doubt it is much greater than mine.

As for Mr. Aubol, I am quite certain he is capable to speak for himself.

Yours very truly,

Clean Movies for Clean People

The day has come when nearly every small town in America boasts of its little Theatre.

Every country in the world today has its motion picture houses. Even schools and churches have adopted this novel way of conveying their messages.

The larger cities support palaces that cost thousands of dollars, which are devoted entirely to the showing of motion pictures.

The venture, which is still in its infancy, has forged ahead by leaps and bounds until today it is the fifth largest industry in America.

This fact alone proves beyond a doubt that movies must have a merit.

Tis true that daily papers from time to time bear stories of the escapades of people connected with large picture corporations but why condemn the institution as a whole because of the actions of some of its members?

When one stops to think that there are thousands upon thousands of people in this business it is unfair to make unfavorable comment about them all.

Every large organization in the country has its members whose reputations are far from spotless.

Do we condemn our churches or our schools for the actions of a man or woman who happens to be connected with them? No, then why condemn the movie?

If the faithful service of your theatre is devoted to the cause of better pictures it is entitled to your most hearty co-operation. A good movie is something no town can afford to be without.

The best way to maintain a good movie is to keep it filled with good clean people who demand good clean pictures.

Support your movie, and you are sure to receive your reward in hours of pleasure furnished by the greatest artists of the day. You owe it to yourself and to the community to patronize your movie if it shows good pictures.—Exchange.

Legislative Letter

(By Martin W. Odland)

St. Paul, Minn.—And still the committee on [illegible] and marketing of the Minnesota house of representatives [illegible] over the rural credits [illegible]. Feeling among some of the members is getting rather intense [illegible] in the near future.

Reps. N. T. Moen and O. K. Dahle, [illegible] of rural credits bills [illegible] bill.

Rep. W. I. Norton of Minneapolis, chief [illegible] for the Wilkinson bill and [illegible] of the 11 [illegible] of that measure, asked that [illegible] be referred to a subcommittee of five for comparison with the Wilkinson bill. This was a move for delay and is not in harmony with the demands voiced recently by proponents of the Wilkinson bill in favor of promptness in enacting a rural credits law. There was objection to this delay, but in the end the Norton suggestion prevailed. The committee will, as a whole, take no further action till next summer.

The main line of cleavage between the Wilkinson and the Moen-Dahle factions is in the administration of the proposed act.

The Wilkinson bill calls for a new board of three officials, each drawing a salary of $4,500 per year and authorized to appoint a financial secretary and various other helpers; the new, Dahle-Moen bill provides for a Rural Credits Board, composed of a new official called the rural credits director, the commissioner of agriculture and the attorney general. The first named shall be the active head and manager of the new department. Applications for loans shall be made through the county auditor and [illegible] farms offered as security shall be appraised by local officials, who know the value of lands in their respective counties, although these appraisals must be finally approved by the Rural Credits Board. The rural credits director shall be paid [illegible] per year [illegible]

[illegible] in line with the [illegible] provisions for a state guarantee [illegible] deposits. The opposition to this proposed act has become very [illegible]. Almost every day members of both the house and the senate receive letters of protest from their banker friends, and the other day the State Bankers' Association went on record in opposition to the guarantee plan. What effect this opposition is having remains to be seen.

Within a couple of weeks it will be unlawful for Minnesota manufacturers of oleomargarine to put any butter in their product, as the Welch bill prohibiting the manufacture of such oleomargarine has already passed the house and will be put through the senate within a few days.

Mrs. Paige and other members of the legislature from Minneapolis are hoping for the passage of the so-called Part Time School bill, which provides extended educational opportunities for boys and girls under eighteen years of age who have left before completing high school and [illegible] employment [illegible]. The bill is mandatory only in cities of the first class, and then only [illegible]. Rural children who have left the towns and villages [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Bounty On Wolves

[illegible] the way to deal with the problem is to raise the bounty. As most of the counties add a bounty to that provided by the state, it will become a mighty profitable business for sharpshooters to hunt wolves in the Northern woods hereafter. The bill passed the house by a big majority and will probably fare equally well in the senate.

Would Abolish All Boards

Senator Boyle in the senate and Representatives Nimocks and Moen in the house have introduced resolutions calling for investigations to ascertain whether it would not be feasible to abolish most of the state boards, bureaus and commissions, and substitute for each, one official. This would reduce the expense to the state by from fifty to seventy-five per cent, and some legislators believe that greater efficiency would also result. The Nimocks-Moen resolution has al-

School Activities

Some people are strenuously opposed to school athletics of all kinds, baseball, football, and basketball. It is true that among these are found some very educated and prominent men and women. Even John Burroughs, the eminent naturalist, was opposed to football, on the ground that it was "brutal and killing." And it must be admitted that some boys have met an untimely death, through some accident on the football field. But is that sufficient reason why football should be entirely abolished? Accidents will happen. Would anyone suggest that the railroad business be done away with because a train man is killed? While athletics are not so useful as the railroads, no one will deny that the training afforded high school boys and girls is very valuable—physically and mentally.

Others will follow the same line of reasoning as Burroughs and say that football and the other games are relics of the barbaric ages such as gladiator fights. It is surely true that it is human nature to struggle for mastery over others, and the American football game is indeed a very tame affair when compared to the gladiator fights of Rome.

It is impossible, however, to present any arguments either for or against school athletics in a short editorial. I can only make a few disjointed statements in its favor.

It is very seldom that a game amounts to anything but friendly rivalry. It has brought distinction to many boys who would not otherwise show what they can do. It arouses the school spirit. In a high school there may be many opposing factions, but when a school team is pitted against another each student will join in to oust the common foe. The boys in the team do not play merely to amuse themselves, but they play in order to maintain the dignity of the school in the field of athletics. In a game where there are few spectators, it is seldom very hotly contested. It is therefore up to the school as a whole to assist the teams in bringing honor to their school.

HENRY WALLE.

It is Ever Thus

Is the powder on straight?
Without looking—first rate
He's a peach—Do tell!
Oh heavens! There's the bell.

False alarm; first gong
To the mirror they throng
Who's got a comb?
Say! Move your dome.

A comb! Oh my hair
The dance, were you there?
How's this? Oh fine
Lot beter'n mine

Her hands on the bell!
And I said to him, well—
Got a letter last night
Say! Ain't I a sight?

Girls; please wait
Gee galore, we're late!!
Up the stairs they fly
If I'm late again I'll die!

The tramping of feet
A flap in each seat
Along the line; smiles sublime
There in the nick of time.

There's no place like school
For every and any fool
To absorb knowledge quick
And have it rubbed in thick.

Thirty New Students Join High School Ranks

The second semester opened with thirty additional students a majority of whom are mid-year graduates from the Central school. Besides the graduates a few new students were received from other schools together with a few former Lincoln High school pupils.

The following new students have enrolled to date:

Erling Dahlen, Katherine Falness, Beatrice Forder, Agnes Hastad, Jean Leach, Maverette Hilson, Frances Homme, Joseph Jaransen, Evelyn Johnson, Lillian Johnston, Marie Larson, Norman Mellum, David Morgan, Constance Nelson, Bernard Parenteau, Philip Sundahl, Ruth Quammen, Forrest Ralston, Eleanor Quist, Helen Satre, Myrtle Senate, Reuben Stenvik, Dorothy Swedenburg, Hazel Swenson, Edwin Tessum, Eleanor Toms, Donald Thorson, Gladys Vigness, John Wollen.

Advice To New Freshmen

At the beginning of this semester about twenty-five new students entered high school. As they were inexperienced in our school life they appeared very fresh and small to the upper classmen.

We would like to tell the new freshmen that the pencil sharpener by the clock is a good way to make an acquaintance with that John or Harry. Take a half dozen pencils with you and he'll probably grin or assist you. I heard a freshmen boy tell a Junior, "Oh, there's a pretty girl in our class, she wears a bright pink ribbon." There's another idea for the girls.

As for your teachers, especially when your Latin took all your time and you couldn't get your English, and you had to see that good movie last night, why call on her before class. A sack of candy helps; treat her and then offer your excuse. If you are a good inventor as "Thomas Edison" she may excuse you. If not, treat her again; this piece will probably satisfy her appetite and you will be excused.

If some time during a class, you happen to hear four bells, which happens to mean chapel you have permission to leave your class and go to the assembly. That doesn't mean though, that you are to race up there, taking three or four steps at a time, but to walk up there on your tiptoes or rubber heels and quietly take your seat.

If at same time you think you need some good advice you may ask any of the Juniors, and we're sure you will be satisfied with their answer.

We hope that you will soon come to like our Lincoln High as well as we do and help us boost her on to success.

Mr. Harner, referring to example on blackboard: "I dont think we need to put any more on now."

Camille, sitting with open vanity case in hand and thinking he was speaking to her: "I wasn't putting any more on. I was just smelling of it."

Teacher: "The miners didn't use to have safety lamps and sometimes when they went down into the mines an explosion occurred."

Clifton C.: "————and then they came up."

Teacher: "Ruth, name the different kinds of bones."

Ruth K.: "Human, animal, and trombones."

Mr. Harner: "You tell me what paper is made from."

Bright Student: "Wood 'n rags."

Mr. Harner: "Never heard of that kind."

Teacher: "Agnes, what is another name for dextrose?"

Agnes: "Grapejuice.'

Mr. Harner: "Sidney, do those questions bother you?"

Sidney: "No, the questions are perfectly clear, but it's the answers I can't get straight."

U. OF N. DAK. MEN IN CONCERT TUESDAY

Men's Glee Club From Flickertail U. to Entertain at High School Assembly

Next Tuesday evening, February 6th, the high school students as well as the public will be given a real musical treat when the Men's Glee Club of the University of North Dakota gives a concert at the High school auditorium. The concert will be given under the auspicies of the High school, and at such reasonable prices that every student will be able to attend.

The program will consist of choral and instrumental selections, solos, quartets, and readings and will last about two hours. The University of North Dakota is proud of its fine Glee Club and everyone who attends is promised an evening of the finest kind of entertainment.

Unbeaten Warroad Quint To Play Here Thursday

The Warroad High school basket ball team will be here Thursday evening, February 8th. It will be Warroad's first game in this part of the district and a hard game is anticipated. Thus far Warroad has come thru the season with a clean slate so we assume that they have been playing a good brand of basketball. Of course, Thief River Falls is out to win and if the boys play as well as they did against Argyle when they piled up a 37 to 2 victory a week ago, it will mean certain defeat for the visitors and a worth while game for the spectators. This will be one of the last two games of the season on the home floor, and consequently a record breaking crowd should be out to witness the game.

The Assembly Clock

Many a year the clock has stood
With its back against the wall
Telling the time every hour of the day
To the students all.

When to nine the clock hands point
The day for us begins
We spend our time in classes long
Until the last bell rings.

Then at four o'clock dismissal comes
And the students hie away
Still many with books under their arms
Prepare for the coming day.

Knox Notes

Due to eleven new beginners and all rooms filled except fourth and fifth, a mid year promotion had to take place last Monday. This makes all rooms except Miss Smith's and Miss Foxen's rooms have a new division of pupils.

The following pupils in Mrs. Lacy's room have been neither tardy nor absent during the first semester work. Earl Hoppa, Laura Nelson, John Malone, and Evelyn Whiting.

Every parent should encourage perfect attendance and punctuality. It is a great factor in its influence on school work.

472 pint bottles of milk were used in the Knox school during the past week.

Children in Miss Tandberg's room were neither absent nor tardy during the last six weeks are Burns, Mathewson, Laverne, Morrissette, Mildren Mickleson, Glen Christie, Edward Beyer.

Mrs. Morrissette visited the second grade room last week.

Eugene Erickson and Lillian Rupprecht have a perfect attendance for the first semester in Miss Vouznau's room.

There is an enrollment of 37 in the 4A and 5A divisions.

Morris Owen was the first in the sixth grade to have sompleted the Studebaker tests.

The losing side, the Blues, entertained the Reds Friday afternoon as a result of a spelling contest.

Melvin Johnson has returned to the third grade.

Mrs. Lois Wold Melby, and Lucille Burns visited the first grade on Monday.

Eleven new pupils entered the first grade on Monday.

All Schol Masquerade Promises Merry Time

On Friday evening, February second, strange sights will be seen in our city auditorium, why? Why, it's the night of the big masquerade! The Social Activity committee is planning this party and by all indications, it promises to be one of the big events of the season. This party is to be an all high school affair, therefore we want to see the students making merry in all their regalia and paraphenalia. The more the merrier—come! "What am I going to wear?" is now the main topic among the masquerade enthusiasts. The students and the faculty as well are looking forward to Friday evening—the night of the big ball!

JUNIORS FROLIC IN SPITE OF COLD

Sleigh-ride Party Enjoyed by Large Number of Juniors and Teachers

Last Wednesday evening, in spite of the cold, snappy weather, about forty Juniors and Miss Thompson, Miss Baumann, Mr. Bye and Mr. MacFarland, assembled at the high school for a sleigh-ride party. Scarfs, boots, fur coats and woolen gloves of all colors and description could be seen on every peppy Junior and teacher.

A'mid shouts of laughter and the sound of sleigh bells, we were finally bundled into two sleighs and started on our way to Walhal hall. After an hour's ride of fun and freezing we reached the hall to be greeted by a rather "cold" stove and a few kerosene lamps.

It didn't take long, however, for the coats and overshoes to find their way to the various hooks on the wall. A Victrola was soon brought in and dancing formed the main entertainment for the rest of the evening.

Shortly after midnight, owing to efficient work of the chairman of the refreshment committee, a delicious lunch was served, that was greatly enjoyed. Then again the sleighs came to the door and the tired but happy Juniors and chaperons left for home.

A good time was reported by all and the sleigh-ride party will be remembered as one of the best times in the history of our class.

Sunset

Beckoning and calling me westward
Bidding me there to stay
Clad in its beautiful raiment
Calling me at the close of each day.

But I must watch o'er my flock
I can't ever leave them alone
But still it seems that it calls me
To rest in that land, all alone.

There are flowing veils of crimson
And rhyming waves of gold,
Blending to make up the lovelight
To render a happiness untold.

Up in the hills on mid-summer evenings
When sweet-scented breezes blow,
My heart fills with rapture and longing
As the glorious sunset fades low.

Ah tonight! Yes, tonight! I am leaving
For the west, my Paradise land
I seek not riches, nor hoards of fortune
But calm musical rest in urging demand.

Juniors Win Certificates In Typewriting Tests

Two of the Junior girls, Harriet Morgan and Hilda Peterson were awarded certificates by the Remington Company for writing thirty words with less than five mistakes. The test was to write twenty-five words with not more than five mistakes. Joseph Gavin received a certificate from the Underwood Company for writing thirty words net per minute. We were all well aware of the fact that Harriet and Hilda were pretty "fast workers" but when our shy, modest Joe steps out into the limelight it takes us by surprise. We didn't know he was quite as speedy as that but with his beaming "headlight" we knew he would struggle on to victory.

The Eight Hour

(Dedicated to G. M. Harner)

Between noon and dismissal,
When the sun is beginning to lower
Comes a pause in the day's occupation
That we know as the "Sleepy Hour."

I hear in the aisles about me,
The treading of weary feet,
The sound of harsh remonstrations
As I cozily snooze in my seat.

Through one half-opened eye, in the sunlight,
I see sleeping Vanity Fair,
The studious, dull and the brilliant
With light, dark, or even red hair.

A whisper and then a silence
I can tell by their heavy sighs
They have gazed on the moon in the nighttime
And worn out their overworked eyes.

A sudden rush from the doorway
A sudden raid down the aisle,
And Harner has one by the collar
While the rest of us wake up to smile.

He walks up and down the aisles
His eyes seem to be over there
But if you try to escape them
They seem to be everywhere.

One minute they're large and dreamy
But make a mismove, and a flash
Like the flash in the sky in a shower
Darts out in the company of a crash.

Do you think, O you brown eyed fellow,
Because you're so big and tall
Such a little whiff as I am,
Is of no import at all?

With apologies to Hank Longfellow.

Debate Team Journeys To Crookston Saturday

Thief River Falls debaters are working hard in preparation for the semi-final district debate which will be held at Crookston, February 3. Marion Hilden, who was chosen as alternate, will debate in place of Albert Stengelsen.

Crookston has the reputation of producing a winning team. They are just as determined to be in the district finals as Thief River. This promises to be a battle royal. Let us boost for our team and show them that there are four hundred students at home anxiously waiting for the outcome of the debate.

Miss Simley's Reading

Miss Simley favored us with a reading at last Tuesday's chapel period. She willingly responded to two encores.

She read, "Mary, who had received a Hiaculture in a northern cemetery," also "Love is like an onion." She told us about, "My son, Edy, he isn't like odder boys, you see."

Everyone enjoyed her readings very much and regret that she cannot entertain us more often.

My Sun Eddy

I'm goin' to tell you about mi sun Eddie. Eddie isn't like odder boys, you know. Eddie isn't that kind of a boy, you know. Eddie isn't stuck up like odder boys who get a high edication. He isn't stuck up at all and he isn't ashamed of his old mamma like odder boys, you know. And he's goin' on the Juniversity, you know, and I'm goin' to see mi sun Eddie. He want to see his old mamma, you see. He likes his old mamma, even as fat and homely as I am. And he has gone dere before too. Dis iss his third year now and hhe is studfring to be a dentist, you see. First he was a lawyer, but Eddie is so smart, you know. He passed all his examens and they was so eassy, you know, that he thought he'd take someting harder, so now he's sturdering to be a dentist. And, oh! but Eddie iss a good dentist, you know. will fix you teeth like nothing.

And I have anudder sun, too, and he too vent to the Juniversity, and he's a dentist in Nort Dakota now, you know. But he isn't quite like Eddie, you know.

And I have a daughter too. Her name is Brefa. She's staying at home now and takking care of mi old man so he von't get so lonesome, you see. She could marry too, you see, but mi daughter isn't like that. She doesn't vant too because she gets so much pay. She gets 17 dollar a veek, you see, and that is much.

But now I'm goin' to the Junervirsity of Minnesota, you know, to se mi bey Eddie, but I've got such poor clothes, you see, that I'm nearly afraid Eddie will be ashamed of his old mamma, but Eddie issn't like that, you know! When I comes to St. Cloud I get so exercisa, you see, because there were so many people around ther, you know, that I didn't know what to do. And at last I come to Minneapolis, you see, but I didn't know what to do with myselves because dere were so many people there. Dey were ticker than hair on a dawg on the depot, you know. And I was afraids maybe dat Eddie wouldn't come. But noo!! Eddie isn't dat kind of a boy. Dere I see him coming right through the crowd, with all his educate friends around him—I tink half the Jniversity must have come, but that didn't make any difference to Eddie, you see. He came right up to me, putt hiss arms around my kneck and kissed me right on da depot,—right in front of all the peoples. But den, you know, Eddie issn't like odder boys, you know.—(With apologies to Miss Anne Simley of Crookston.)

ARGYLE SWAMPED IN ONE-SIDED GAME

Visitors Fail to Count Single Field Goal Against Strong Thief River Falls Lineup

The basket ball team added another victory to its credit Friday by defeating the Argyle team on the home floor 37-2. The first quarter of the game proved the most exciting as Argyle made the first point. In less than five or ten minutes the local boys had the ball and the result was an overwhelming victory for them. Clifford Sorenson starred making nine goals and one free throw. There was a decided improvement in the team as a whole. Every man on the team made at least one basket. Sidney Schutt played the game of his life; and LaBree, "Stan" and "Chuck" played the good all game that they always do.

Argyle made its two points on free thows, the defense of the locals being so effective that the visitors did not make a single field goal. Argyle showed fast team work during the first few minutes, but this was soon broken by the aggressive defense of the local Thief River Falls quint. Time and again Stanley and "Chuck" would break up plays that seemed like sure counters. Spurts of accurate shooting by Sydney and "Kip" piled up such a high score that towards the end of the game the invaders lost hope of bringing home the bacon and they played only a ragged defense. All the substitutes were sent in and aquitted themselves in a promising manner.

The lineup:

T. R. F.		Argyle
C. Sorenson	F	Parent
S. Schutt	F	Bedard
LaBree	C	Green
S. Sorenson	G	Pfiffner
Herron	G	Rivard

Substitutes: T. R. F., Sether for Schutt, Keene for C. Sorenson, Halverson for LaBree. Argyle; Ethier and Headquist, Nelson for Green.

Junior Sleigh-ride Party

On our Junior sleigh ride party
There were many merry faces
There were two rigs crammed with scholars
Of many different races.

There were chaperons, yes, four of them
Which we must not forget
To count in with the rest of us
To make a larger set.

We went out to Valhal hall
To have a high old time
We danced and had a splendid lunch
The whole passed in good rhyme.

You should have seen fair Harriet
And "Kip" waltz 'round the hall,
And Robert fox-trot with Margaret
Right up against the wall.

And Hatti call off "Square Dances"
And "Circle Two-steps," Ruth
You wouldn't needed laughing gas
To get the "Giggling-sputh."

We danced until the hour grew late
And then we started home
We sleepy were in school next day
When teachers called the roll.

It was reported seven slept
Of Juniors as a whole.

T. S.

The Juniors kept the cleanest assembly last week.

The basketball team will play Warren at Warren Friday afternoon Feb. 2.

Forest Ralston will play his first game of the season with Warren Friday.

The basket ball tournament has been postponed from March 2, 3, to March 16 and 17. The place to be determined by the eight teams having the best standing in the district.

Elvina Loftness returned to school after an absence of about a month.

Howard Davidson had the misfortune to break his leg while tobogganing Sunday afternoon.

An extra game has been added to the basket ball schedule. The Thief River Falls quint will meet the Mahnomen quint at Mahnomen.

ORDINANCE NO. 168.

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE SALE OF NON-INTOXICATING LIQUORS AND BEVERAGES IN THE CITY OF THIEF RIVER FALLS.

The City Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, do ordain as follows:

Sec. 1. DEFINITION. A refreshment business, for the purpose of this ordinance, is defined as a business conducted or proposed to be conducted for the sale or offering for sale at retail for consumption on the premises where sold, either as a separate business, or in connection with any other business, of any malted or vinous beverage, any soft drink (except tea, coffee, milk, chocolate and cocoa), any carbonated beverage or liquor produced by the process by which beer, ale, porter or wine is produced. The word "person" and "applicant" as used in this ordinance shall include any individual, society, club, firm, partnership, corporation and association of persons.

Sec. 2. LICENSE. A refreshment business, as hereinafter defined, shall not be established, maintained or conducted within the City of Thief River Falls without first having procured from the City Council a license for that purpose. Every person, before establishing, maintaining, or conducting any refreshment business, as herein defined, shall, before being so licensed, pay to the City Treasurer the sum of $10.00 for each year or fraction of year thereof for each stand, place, room or enclosure, or for each suite of rooms or enclosure which are in direct connection with or contiguous to each other. All such licenses shall expire on the first day of February next following their issue.

Sec. 3. APPLICATION FOR LICENSE. Any person desiring to establish, maintain or conduct a refreshment business, as defined herein, shall make application for a license in writing to the City Council upon blanks prepared and furnished by the City. Such application shall contain the names and residences of the applicants, if an individual, firm or partnership, or the names of the principal officers and their residence, if the applicant is a society, club, corporation or association of persons. It shall also give the name of names of one or more persons whom such society, club, firm, partnership, corporation or association of persons shall designate as manager or persons in charge, with the addresses of the same. Such applicant shall further state the following:

(a) The length of time such applicant, or applicants, if an individual, firm or partnership, or the manager, if the applicant is a society, club, corporation or association of persons, has resided in the City of Thief River Falls, his or their places of previous employment, whether married or single, whether he or they or any of them have been convicted of a felony or misdemeanor, and, if so, what offense, when and in what court.

(b) The premises where such refreshment business is to be conducted or maintained, giving street and number.

(c) Whether such business is to be carried on in connection with some other kind of business.

(d) Whether the applicant or manager had, either alone or with someone else, previously engaged as owner or employe in conducting a saloon, cafe, club or other business of similar nature, where intoxicating liquors were sold; when and where and how long.

(e) The floor on which such refreshment business is to be located, and whether any partition or obstructions separate and divide the rooms therein or in any way prevent a clear view thereof from the street, if on the ground floor and from the entrance, if on any floor other than the ground floor.

(f) Such other information as the Council may from time to time require.

(g) The application shall be signed and acknowledged before a Notary Public or other officer authorized to administer oaths in the City of Thief River Falls.

Section 4. INVESTIGATION OF APPLICATION. Upon receipt of any such application the Council shall cause an investigation to be made concerning the statements contained in such application, the character and reputation of the applicant or applicants, and the cleanliness and sanitary condition of the premises, equipment and methods to be used, with a view to the preservation of the public health, peace and safety. For the purpose of such investigation the Council shall have the assistance and co-operation of the building inspector, health commissioner, the chief of police, and every other department, bureau or officer of the City of Thief River Falls.

Section 5. WHEN LICENSE MAY BE REFUSED. A license may be refused by the Council to any applicant or applicants if any of the persons in the application or connected or associated therewith are not of good moral character or have, within five years of the date of the application, been convicted of a felony or within one year of a misdemeanor; if any of such persons have previously been connected with a refreshment business, the license for which has been revoked, or in which business any of the provisions with reference to the refreshment business have been violated, or if the refreshment business sought to be licensed does not comply in any way with the regulations, ordinances and laws applicable thereto. No license shall be refused except for a specific reason, and for the protection of the public health, safety, good order or morals. No applicant to whom a license has been refused, shall make further application until a period of at least six months shall have elapsed since the last previous rejection, unless he or it can show that the reason for such rejection no longer exists.

Section 6. TRANSFER OF LICENSE. No transfer of license as to location or ownership shall be granted except after application therefor upon forms provided by the Council, who may grant or reject such application after investigation. If the application for transfer is approved, this action shall be endorsed upon the license by the clerk.

Section 7. POSTING LICENSE. Every person licensed in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance, shall immediately post such license and keep the same posted while in force in a conspicuous place in the premises where such business is authorized to be carried on. The license shall be enclosed in a suitable wood and metal frame, having a clear glass front and a suitable wood and metal back, so that the whole of said license may be seen therein. It shall be unlawful for any person to post such license or to be permitted to post it upon premises other than those named in the application for such license or knowingly to deface or destroy any such license. Whenever a license shall be lost or destroyed, without fault on the part of the holder or his agents or employees, a duplicate license in lieu thereof under the original application may be issued by the council in its discretion.

Section 8. CLOSING HOURS. It shall be unlawful to keep open to the public or to conduct a refreshment business, as herein defined, on any day between the hours of 11 o'clock P. M. and 6 o'clock A. M. This section, however, shall not be construed to prevent regular employes from performing necessary work during these hours to maintain the premises in a sanitary condition.

Section 9. VIEW NOT TO BE OBSTRUCTED. Any room in which a refreshment business is conducted shall be so constructed and maintained that a clear view of the interior of such place may be had from the street in which such business is located, and shall be free from any screens, partitions, or obstructions which prevent a clear view from the street; provided, however, that such place of business is not located on the ground floor or which room does not directly front or abut on any street, shall be so constructed and maintained that such view of the interior, as above described, may be had from any entrance to such room. If a bar is maintained in such a place, it shall be unlawful to obstruct entrance behind such bar by gates, fences, doors or any other form of barrier, or to permit empty bottles or any other thing to obstruct the entrance to the rear of such bar. This section shall not apply to a drug store or pharmacy where a pharmacist, duly registered under the laws of the State of Minnesota, is in actual and personal charge and the business therein conducted is carried on in good faith as a drug store or pharmacy.

Section 10. NOT TO HARBOR INTOXICATED PERSONS. It shall be unlawful for any person owning, conducting or in charge of any refreshment business, as defined in this ordinance, to harbor intoxicated persons on the premises or to permit the drinking of intoxicating beverages therein, or to allow intoxicated persons to resort thereto, or to permit any disorderly, indecent, immoral or unlawful conduct on or in such premises.

Section 11. LIQUOR ON PREMISES PROHIBITED. No person to whom a license is granted under the provisions of this ordinance shall receive, possess, give away or sell, have or permit on the premises, any liquor or beverage which contain any alcohol in excess of the amount permitted by law. This section shall not apply to a drug store or pharmacy where a pharmacist, duly registered under the laws of the State of Minnesota, is in actual and personal charge.

EDITORS STAND FOR STATE DEVELOPEMENT

Northern Minnesota Association Passes Strong Resolutions.

The Northern Minnesota Editorial Association in annual session at Red Lake Falls, January 25 and 26, passed strong resolutions favoring the retention of the State Immigration Commission to aid in Northern Minnesota Development. The editors also went on record as favoring the Babcock road plan of bonding for additional highway work. The resolutions adopted were as follows:

WHEREAS, the development, prosperity and progress of Northern Minnesota are of paramount importance to the members of the Northern Minnesota Editorial Association in convention assembled, we hereby pledge ourselves to greater efforts during the coming year towards the advancement of this rapidly growing section of the great state of Minnesota.

WHEREAS, there appears to be a concerted effort to either abolish entirely the Department of Immigration or by consolidation render it ineffective and valueless and, WHEREAS, in the opinion of this association this department has done a most valuable work for the State in conducting an honest advertising campaign setting forth the resources of the state and in bringing to the state a surprisingly large number of settlers and, WHEREAS, only harm to the undeveloped portions of this state can result from the abolishment or curtailment of this department.

BE IT RESOLVED, that we urge the legislature now in session to assist rather than hamper the work of the Department of Immigration and that this department be allowed to retain its past standing with such financial assistance as is bi-annually required through appropriations.

WHEREAS, this association has since the inception of the Babcock Road plan been one of its consistent supporters and, WHEREAS, we can see only good results from the proposed plan of issuing bonds so as to complete as rapidly as possible the necessary road work in this state.

BE IT RESOLVED, that we commend the idea of a ten million dollar bond issue as suggested for the purpose of pushing the development of roads to a successful completion.

WHEREAS, Northern Minnesota is rapidly becoming a mecca for tourists and, WHEREAS, there are many beautiful spots that should be the property of the public and thus be preserved for posterity.

BE IT RESOLVED, that we endorse the proposed state park system as recently outlined by State Auditor Chase in his report to the legislature. And in this connection this association again affirms its belief in the work that is being done by the Ten Thousand Lakes Association and urges a continuation by the legislature of the appropriation that makes its functioning possible.

WHEREAS, Dairying is of vital importance to Northern Minnesota and, WHEREAS, the National Dairy Show which for two years has been staged in this state is to meet this year in an eastern city.

BE IT RESOLVED, that we commend the plan of the Board of Governors of the State Fair to hold a Northwest Dairy Exposition in connection with the 1923 Fair.

WHEREAS, the people of the state have by their vote approved a Rural Credits Plan.

BE IT RESOLVED, that we urge the legislature to enact at its present session a law covering the operation of the plan that will be sufficiently flexible so as to be of real value to the farmers of this section of the state who are anxious to proceed with the development of their holdings.

WHEREAS, this convention sincerely believes that the publication of the personal property tax list under law now in force has been of material assistance in exposing the tax dodger and has resulted in increasing the returns to the several municipalities.

BE IT RESOLVED, that we strenuously oppose the effort that is being made to repeal the law and that the legislature be asked to leave it in its present form. This association further endorses the recently organized Association of Country Newspapers, Incorporated, formed for the purpose of co-operatively securing foreign advertising.

To Red Lake Falls, her hospitable citizens, her commercial club and the management of the Lincoln Hotel this Association expresses keen appreciation of the courtesies that have made this convention one of the most pleasant in the history of the organization. We especially present our thanks to those progressive and enterprising publishers of the Gazette, Messrs. Christie & Cutten for their untiring efforts in preparing for the convention just held.

New York—Men's woolen garments will cost more next fall. The new price list of the American Woolen company, shows an advance of about 4½ per cent over spring levels, but which represents an increase of 12½ per cent over last fall. Staple overcoatings are increased 16 per cent over last fall.

San Francisco—For the first time in the history of California, perhaps the United States, an injunction was issued here restraining a prison warden from hanging a man convicted of murder when Superior Court Judge James M Treatt forbade the hanging of Ulla Mahammeu, a native of Afghanistan, at San Quentin prison.

New York—Prohibition enforcement agents raided the Cosmopolitan Drug company and seized liquors valued by them at $300,000.

PROPER FEED FOR DAIRY COW

Animal Should Have All Roughage She Will Clean Up—Proportion of Grain Mixture.

Under most circumstances, the cow should be fed all the roughage that she will eat up clean, adjusting the grain ration to the milk production. Only when the cow tends to become overfat should the quantity of roughage be restricted.

A grain mixture should be fed in the proportion of one pound to each three pints or pounds of milk produced daily by the cow, except in the case of a cow producing a flow of 40 pounds or more, when the ration can be one pound to each three and one-half or four pounds of milk. An even better rule is one pound of grain each day for every pound of butterfat produced during the week by the cow.

Feed all the cow will respond to in milk production. When she begins to put on flesh cut down the grain.

Sire Is Half of Herd.

The sire counts for half of the dairy herd. Remember this when you are buying a new head for your herd and don't be content with a scrub.

Water Needed by Cow.

A good milk-producing cow ought to have in the summer time at least 150 pounds of water a day, and in the winter time about 100 pounds.

Bring Small Returns.

Poor rations fed to poor cows are certain to keep the pocketbook thin.

One Month's Short Course Announced By Farm School

The Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston announces a one month's course beginning February 12 and continuing until March 10. The Course is open to anyone and it is expected that a largre number of farmers will make use of this oppertunity to attend.

The work will be almost entirely a laboratory and lecture course and will deal with such subjects as will be of immediate value at the beginning of spring work. Must attention will be devoted to dairying, stock judging and feeding. There will be instruction in potato culture, sugar beet growing, treatment of seed grain and seed grading. Those interested in the growing of forage crops such as clovers and alfalfa will find the work especially useful. It is expected that some will be devoted to repair work of farm machinery and other problems of a mechanical nature.

This course is part of the program of the Northwest school and is intended to be of as much immediate service as possible. It is hoped that a large number from this locality will attend for the month's course. For further information write, to the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, Minnesota.

Abatement Proceedings Will Face Places Selling Liquor

Minneapolis, Jan. 29—Under orders from Washington federal prohibition agents today took steps to start abatement proceedings against soft drink parlors in five northwest states where liquor convictions have been secured. Hundreds of soft drink saloons in Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, North and South Dakota are affected by the order from prohibition headquarters, it was said at the office of H. L. Duncan, Northwest prohibition director.

It is the most drastic step to enforce prohibition yet taken by the prohibition department in this section it was said.

Bemidji "Joints" Raided By Federal Men Last Week

The federal prohibition officers who visited Thief River Falls last week also made a call in Bemidji, according to last week's issue of the Pioneer. Several violators were caught in the raid the day preceding the one staged here, the full account of which appeared in the Pioneer as follows:

"The nauseating stench that has been rising to high heaven through the open doors of some of the so-called soft drinking "parlors" of this city was "uncorked" Tuesday night about 7:30, when a raid on three "joints" was made by officers of the Federal Prohibition Department.

The raid was made under the personal supervision of Charles Benson, former Indian Agent, but now with the Federal Department of Prohibition. There were six in the raiding party.

Wm. McElroy and B. Olson, caught at Stapleton's and Mike Bertram, caught at Spide's are in the county jail awaiting a hearing which will probably be held before Judge Simons Thursday. Garry Brennan and Pat Stapleton, who it is understood are included in the charges preferred by the agents are at liberty.

White "moon" and home brew by the gallon, quart, pint and four ounce bottles are among the evidence gathered in by the raiding party."

House Passes Bill To Aid Creameries

The Minnesota House has passed a bill forbidding the use of butterfat in the manufacture of oleomargarine or other so-called butter substitutes. It now goes to the senate. Its final passage is sought by farmers in the legislature, especially those interested in the dairy industry.

Tax-Exempt Security Bill Passed By House

A resolution submitting to the states an amendment to the federal constitution prohibiting the issuance of tax-exempt securities has been passed by the House and is now before the Senate Judiciary committee. Opposition to tax-exempt securities has been a part of the Farm Bureau's program for three years.

A Cause of Distress

Trying to be in style with a 1920 model car is impossible and those wishing to display wealth must have a new car. This is one of the reasons for so much talk of hard times. The near rich attempting to keep pace with the rich and the poor trying to keep up appearances with the near rich, are the contributing factors in present day financial distress.—Staples World.

Babcock's Bond Plan

We cannot see why there should be any opposition whatever to Mr. Babcock's bond plan. It isn't going to cost the taxpayer one additional penny for trunk highway work either way. The motor vehicle owners will pay it all, and they are not objecting to the plan. They know it will save them hundreds of dollars in operating costs.—Bemidji Daily Pioneer.

In Jail 30 Days For Assault

Mike Gondik, farmer of Esther township in northwestern Polk county, was given a sentence of 30 days in the county jail by District Judge Wm. Watts after he had entered a plea of guilty to the charge of assault in the third degree. The case was disposed of when Gondik decided to plead guilty to the charge in the third degree, although he was arrested on the charge of assult in the second degree.

Gondik was arrested shortly after November 26 when, it was alleged, he threatened another farmer, Lars Dallum, with a revolver. Gondik was held in the county jail awaiting his trial in district court not having secured bonds for his release until this time. Judge Watts sentenced him to but 30 days in jail in view of the fact that he has already been in jail for over 50 days.

Mrs. Mary Carpenter

Following a few days' siege of pneumonia Mrs. Mary Carpenter, aged 70, passed away Wednesday, last week, at her residence at 301 State avenue north. The aged woman had been quite well until taken down with a severe attack of pneumonia from which she died eight days later.

Deceased was born in the southern part of the state and came to Thief River Falls together with her husband and family about 18 years ago, and since then has resided in the city. Her husband, however, died about 16 years ago and only her son, Frank, who is in charge of the Remmem livery barn, has been living at home during the past year.

Mrs. Carpenter is survived by the following children: Mrs. Virginia Doyea, Crookston; Mrs. Selina Borrows, Wales, Minn.; Mrs. Elizabeth Gorgan; Mrs. Angline Richards, Sask., Canada; Mrs. Lida Johnson; Mrs. Malvina Johnson; Joe Carpenter, John and Charles Carpenter, Nymore; and Frank Carpenter, Thief River Falls.

Three-Year Old Dies

Monday morning occurred the death of Ardith, the three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Johnson, 215½ Main avenue north, the former whom is a baker at Jung's bakery. The cause of her death was whooping cough from which she suffered for some time, and terminated with other ailments. The funeral services were held yesterday from the Zion Lutheran church, Rev. Geo. Larson officiating, and internment made at the Greenwood cemetery. A large number of friends of the bereaved family were in attendance and many pretty floral offerings were made.

A burglar entered the residence of a country editor in Iowa. The burglar managed to save his under clothes to escape in.

The "Kicker"

The chronic kicker is a nuisance to any community. He kicks whether there is anything to kick about or not.

The occasional kicker is a benefit to a community, because he kicks only when there is something that needs a kick.

Nobody pays any attention to the chronic kicker, because nothing else is expected of him.

Everybody listens to the occasional kicker, because they know that when he voices a protest there is a legitimate reason for his noise.

Kicking pays when people take your kicks seriously. It is then that investigations are made and the truth comes out.

Don't kick for the sake of kicking but kick hard when the good of the community requires it.

Heavy Loss In Gonvick Fire

Gonvick had another destructive fire Wednesday last week when flames totally destroyed the feedstore, implement house and home of Mayor P. O. Pederson, causing a property loss of about $10,000, partly covered by insurance.

Awakened by smoke at 2:30 Mr. and Mrs. Pederson sprang from their bed to find a blaze burning freely in the attic and in the wall separating two of the rooms. They were driven out on the street scarcely clad and after running in the alarm, Mr. Pederson made several attempts to rescue some of the valuable but was driven back by the flames and smoke. The fire department and other citizens assisted in fighting the blaze but with no success, the whole building being consumed within a very short time. Only a few articles and a small adjoining building were saved.

Mr. Pederson has not made definite plans for future reestablishing of the business as yet.

THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE HOME

It isn't by money you measure a town
Or the miles that its border extends,
For the best things you gather—whatever the town
Are contentment, enjoyment and friends.

If you live and you work and develop your town,
In spite of the fact it is small,
You will find that your town—your own little town—
Is the very best town after all.

THERE ARE STILL THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS WORTH OF HIGH GRADE MERCHANDISE TO BE SACRIFICED WITHOUT REGARD TO ORIGINAL OR PRESENT VALUE. THE STOCK MUST BE SOLD

The only change to be noticed in the business is the greater reductions and the fact that everything is now in charge of Mr. Mogensen.

We have decided to clean up the entire stock and will lose sight of former prices in order to do so. The buying public has saved thousands of dollars by taking advantage of the bargain offerings at this store during the past two months, and these will NOW BE GREATER THAN EVER.

Everything remaining in Men's and Boys' Suits and Overcoats, Shoes, Hats, Caps, Underwear, Neckwear, Furnishings of all kinds, as well as a wide variety of Army Goods will be closed out at unheard-of prices while they last. DO THIS FOR YOUR COLD

For your own sake as well as for the safety of those about you, get rid of your cold. Colds are contagious and colds are the forerunner of grippe and pneumonia.

Get from the drug store an ordinary twenty-five cent jar of what is known as Muco-Solvent Salve. Melt some of this in a spoon, inhale the fumes deeply. The head will open instantly. Next with little finger apply the salve in each nostrill. Now breathe deeply again; this gets the healing vapors into the upper respiratory tract. Repeat every half hour or so until relieved.

If at bed-time tonight your cold is not entirely gone, take a dose of oil or salts; follow same directions as above and also rub salve thickly on chest, covering same with soft cloth, preferably flannel. Tomorrow you will feel like a new person.

THOUSANDS DIE BEFORE TIME

The Common Cold Cause of Dangerous Diseases

Neglect Means Trouble

It is only of late that the danger of a cold has been realized by the public at large. Then two epidemics of influenza to awaken public authorities. Now, in most localities children are not allowed to attend school when showing indications of a cold.

Colds Easy to Treat

Colds are readily gotten rid of First of all, keep the bowels open, castor oil of epsom salts will be best. Keep on hand at home and at your place of business a jar of what is known in the drug trade as Muco-Solvent Salve. It is only twenty-five cents and there is enough for a dozen ordinary colds. Insert a little in each nostril and breathe deeply. Repeat several times an hour. Nature will do the rest.

When Cold Is Deep in Chest Look Out!

Once the cold gets down in the chest or is a head cold of long standing, the treatment is enlarged upon but is just as simple and positive. Keep the bowels open. Melt Muco Muco salve in a spoon, inhale the fumes (very pleasant) deeply. This clears the head. Now apply in nostrils and breathe deeply. Do this several times an hour.

At bedtime repeat as above. Apply hot towels to chest to open pores, then rub salve on thickly as a poultice and cover with warm soft cloths, flannel if possible. Put more salve in nose, go to sleep and wake up without a cold tomorrow.

Dr. L. W. Giffen, of Neenah, Wisconsin, began forty years ago to use in his practice a prescription which has since become famous. It was known in the '80s and '90s as Dr. Giffen's Diphtheria Preventive and Cure, and now as Muco-Solvent Liquid. Deep down colds respond at once to its use as it is a germicide which disintegrates and dissolves the phlegm or mucous causing it to be expelled by coughing. If your cold is stubborn tell your physician of this medicine. It is sold by all druggists in 75c and $1.00 bottles and is recommended for any affections such as chest colds, hoarseness, la grippe, bronchitis, croup, tonsilitis, quinzy, etc.

DRUGGISTS' HELP ENLISTED

In the campaign launched this season by Muco-Solvent laboratory, the promoters asked for the whole-hearted co-operation of wholesale and retail druggists. As expected their assistance in the distribution of Muco-Solvent Salve and Muco-Solvent Liquid was given without stint. Therefore you can now secure, and at reasonable cost, either preparation at almost any drug store.

We are now certain you can get it at F. J. Stebbins, Lambert's Drug Store, or J. P. Curtis.

PROMINENT MEN TALK ON SUGAR BEET PROSPECT

Officials Of Sugar Company And Soo Line Address Noonday Commercial Club Meeting

Two Hundred Business Men and Farmers Gather To Get General Information On Industry

Good Production This Year Important Factor For Bringing Future Development

The regular weekly meeting of the Commercial club today was attended by a large number of business men and farmers and was of unusual interest. The topic up for discussion was the matter of sugar beet raising and much valuable information along this line was obtained by those who attended.

Prominent Men Here

The following prominent men were here for the meeting: H. A. Douglas, of Minneapolis, president of the Northern Sugar Corporation; Earl C. Moore, of Mason City, Iowa, agricultural manager of the Mason City factory; W. H. Baird, general manager of the Mason City factory; Thomas E. Sands, of Minneapolis, freight traffic manager of the Soo Line; G. W. Hawes of Minneapolis, general agent for the Soo Line. They arrived in Thief River Falls in a special car on the Soo Line this morning and are spending the day here going over the various details in connection with the raising of sugar beets in this vicinity this year.

Two Hundred Attend

About two hundred business men and farmers attended the meeting. Dinner was served at noon in the club room and the meeting then adjourned to the main room of the auditorium upstairs. Dr. H. W. Froehlich, president of the Commercial club, presided and briefly stated the purpose of the meeting. He first introduced H. A. Douglas, who gave a very interesting talk on sugar beet raising, the present and future possibilities of the industry and essential attributes necessary for success. He stated that he could see no reason why this particular section was not admirably adapted by soil and climatic conditions to the raising of beets and said that the successful production of the 1500 acre allotment for the Thief River Falls territory this year would undoubtedly mean the building of a sugar factory here within the next few years. He made no promises as to how or by whom this factory would be built but said that it would come in the natural order of things.

Shallow Peat Soil Satisfactory

Mr. Douglas was followed by H. H. Baird, who gave a highly instructive talk on the beet question in general. He has been engaged in the business for thirty-three years and is exceptionally well informed on all phases of the industry. He stated that the most important fact in connection with the sugar beet was its importance to the farmer as a money producing crop and a unit in the general run of crop rotation. He said that the fact that clover and alfalfa are so easily grown here was convincing proof that beets would thrive on the soil as the beet produced the greatest tonnage and highest per cent of sugar content when grown on land following these crops. Earl C. Moore was the next speaker and he confined his remarks to the proper preparation of the soil and the advantage to be gained by the intelligent use of fertilizer. During the course of his remarks he stated that peat soil that did not exceed ten inches in depth and had a clay subsoil was suitable for raising beets profitably. In this connection he said that deep plowing was an important item.

Soo Line Assisting

Thomas E. Sands, spoke briefly on the importance of the introduction of this industry into northwestern Minnesota and assured the meeting that the Soo Line would continue to do everything possible to help it along.

Those present listened intently to the remarks of the speakers and when questions about the proper proceedure given the opportunity asked questions on various kind of soil and under different conditions. In this manner much valuable information was secured.

Bound Over To Dist. Court Charged With Forging Check

Jesse Sorum was arrested Wednesday last week at Badger by Sheriff O. L. Ihle and arraigned in municipal court before Judge N. W. Tarrant Thursday on a charge of forgery. Complaint was made by A. A. Thorson of this city, who alleges that he received a check from Sorum to the amount of $10 drawn on Albert Evenson on the Peoples State bank of Newfolden. At the hearing Thursday Evenson stated that the check had not been made out to Sorum but that his signature had been forged.

Sorum was bound over to district court convening next week, under a bond of $500, which was furnished. Attorney O. A. Naplin appeared for the defendant and County Attorney Theo. Quale for the state.

The February term of the Pennington county district court which should have convened on the 6th and postponed because of the indisposition of Judge Andrew Grindeland, will open on Feb. 13. There has been no grand jury called for this session but there are two criminal cases left over from last term, one against Peter Kolstrand of Highlanding, charged with selling intoxicating liquors, and the other against Ole Matson of Hazel, indicted last term for passing bad checks. There are also a number bound over from the municipal court, violation of the liquor laws being charged in nearly every instance.

According to the calendar there are 20 criminal cases, not including 14 tax cases, making a fairly long calendar. Five of these cases were continued from last term.

BUILDING LANDS IN STREAM WHEN ICE FAILS TO CARRY

Old Knox School Breaks Thru While Being Transferred To New Location

A part of the old Knox school building purchased last fall from district No. 18 by the St. Bernard's Catholic church, went thru the ice Saturday night as the contractors were moving it across Red Lake River below the Soo depot, where the structure now stands partly submerged in the river.

It was the purpose of the purchasers to rebuild the former school building into a Catholic school which made it necessary to move the structure from Bridge street across the river to the church site. The building was divided into two parts last fall and moved a short distance towards the river. This week the contractors resumed activities and commenced taking one part across and up until the time of the unlooked for occurrence Saturday night, the work had progressed nicely, the building being towed half ways across the river. When the workmen quit working Saturday evening everything appeared to be going favorably, there seeming to be no danger of the ice, about three feet in thickness, giving way under the weight of the structure.

About midnight, however, the ice broke and the building, standing in the middle of the river, dived forward, making it present the appearance of a huge leaning tower. It now stands at an angle of about 30 degrees forward and is frozen fast in the ice. It will be impossible to remove the structure without taking it apart and tearing it to pieces according to present indications.

People who have viewed the peculiar sight, generally accept the theory for the break in the ice as due to the fact that water, flowing thru the dam below in large volumes caused a hollow to be formed under the ice, which for this reason was unable to hold the heavy burden bearing down upon it. The break-down did not take place until several hours after the workmen had quit, indicating that this was the case.

Definite plans as to what will be done with the sunken building have not been decided upon as yet, but it is expected that it will be entirely salvaged, altho most likely moved in smaller parts.

To Attend Auto Convention

F. J. Stebbins, president of the Pennington County Auto club, left Monday evening for Minneapolis as a delegate from the local club to the state automobile convention held Tuesday. He also attended the auto show and exhibitions, the paramount matter of interest to twin city people the past week. Mr. Stebbins is expected to return tomorrow.

RED LAKE FALLS BANK CLOSED BY STATE EXAMINER

J. A. Duffy, President, It Is Alleged, Became Heavily Involved in Land Deals

Bank Said to Have Guaranteed Payment of Loans Made on Unimproved Lands

Banking Department to Attempt Recovery of Amount Paid the Loans Companies

The people of this section of the state were handed one of the greatest surprises of their lives last Saturday when it was announced that the Merchants State bank of Red Lake Falls had been closed by the state bank examiner. This institution was one of the oldest and regarded as one of the strongest in this region. believe the reports.

J. A. Duffy, president of the bank, has always been regarded as one of the soundest and most conservative bankers in the state. He is well known in Thief River Falls and so well is his reputation for sound business judgment established here that it was only after indisputable proof had been adduced that people here would believ the reports.

It develops, however, that the bank has been acting as agent for several loan companies and during the past few years has made over $250,000 in loans on Volstead lands in Beltrami and Koochiching counties. Contrary to the usual custom, the bank gave its personal guarantee that the interest and principal on these loans would be paid.

The interest on these loans has become due and in few, if any, cases has it been paid. Accordingly, the loan companies notified the bank that the loans must be liquidated, the amount being, as before stated, over $250,000. The bank of course could not meet the demands of the loan companies and became insolvent, with the result that it was ordered closed.

The state bank examiner, it is understood, will contest the claims of the loan companies so far as the bank is concerned on the ground that Mr. Duffy had no authority to pledge the bank's credit in guaranteeing these loans.

Deputy Exalted Ruler Will Visit Elks Friday

It had been decided by the committee in charge that the Elks lodge would give a dancing party at the Elks club room next Monday evening and some of the notices had been sent out when it was discovered that the ladies of the city were giving a social at the auditorium for the benefit of the proposed Y. M. C. A. organization on that evening, it was too late to recall the Elks' notice entirely but they will be noticed through the newspapers of the change of plan, which is a total abandonment of the dance idea for this particular night.

On Friday evening, Feb. 9, there will be a special meeting for the purpose of meeting Deputy District Grand Exalted Ruler I. K. Lewis of Duluth, who will at that time make his annual visit to the lodges in this section of the state. The initiatory work will be exemplified for the benefit of the visitor and he will go over the records of the lodge for the year. It is not a regular meeting night for Thief River Falls lodge but the members will make arrangements for putting a candidate through. It is very much desired that there be a good turnout on this particular night as there will be an address by the visiting representative of the grand lodge and a lunch served after the meeting. The regular session will be held on the 16th, this meeting being the last before the annual election on March 2.

Deputy Collector Coming

Everyone will no doubt be greatly pleased in being reminded of the fact that the time for making out income tax returns will again soon be here. This tax, or at least the first installment of it, must be paid on or before March 15, and in order that there may be no mistake about the matter a deputy collector will be in Thief River Falls on Feb. 20, 21 and 22 for the purpose of aiding those who may require assistance in making out their report. Just where this deputy will be located has not yet been given out but it will probably be at the commercial club rooms.

The services of this deputy are free and all are invited to avail themselves of the opportunity to consult him. By so doing the taxpayer may be saved a lot of trouble later on.

U. C. T. Members Entertained At Evelyn Saturday Night

Last Saturday evening Julien Provencher, proprietor of the Hotel Evelyn, was host to the members of Minnesota Council, U. C. T. and such other knights of the grip as were in the city, at an informal stag party and lunch. There were about 50 guests assembled to do full justice to the excellent lunch of creamed chicken and trimmings served at midnight and to enjoy the entertainment furnished by the Ward-Dorn troup of colored minstrels, which happened to be in the city at the time. Cards were played before the lunch hour and the time spent in a most pleasant manner.

These parties in honor of the traveling men are annual events with Mr. Provencher and are always looked formard to with a great deal of pleasant anticipation. He was formerly a traveling man himself and is still an active member of the U. C. T.

$185 FROM SIX COWS IS RECORD MADE IN JANUARY BY ONE MAN

Pennington County Farmer Proves That Cows Repay Proper Treatment—Similar Excellent Showing Made by Marshall County Man.

Knut Ystesund, for the past six years a resident of Rocksbury township, and for 14 years previous to that time a farmer in Highlanding township, is not complaining very much about the hard times. During the month of December Mr. Ystesund milked six cows, brought the milk to the Thief River Co-operative creamery and on the 20th of January received a check for $185 in payment therefor. There are five Holsteins and one Guernsey in the herd—all first class grades.

Telling just how this unusual result was achieved, Mr. Ystesund said that he simply gives his cows a chance. They are housed in a warm barn and fed twice each day with good feed raised right on the farm with the exception of a little oil meal. His total cost for the grains fed, including the oil meal, was $30, the balance being made up of ground oats, fodder corn and other feeds raised on the farm. The cows were never left standing outside on the cold and were given slightly warmed water to drink twice each day. While very good cows, there is nothing at all remarkable about them and Mr. Ystesund says that proper care, correct feeding and warm quarters are undoubtedly responsible for the excellent showing made. He is of the opinion that the dairymen of the county could greatly increase their output if they would take more care in housing and feeding. Milk cows, according to this succesful farmer, cannot stand much neglect or bad treatment without its showing in their production, while anything done for their comfort and welfare is repaid many times over.

Report of another unusual dairy cow record is reported from Marshall county by the Warren Sheaf. M. L. Warner of McCrea township, milked 11 Holsteins during January and received for their product a check for $249.59. Two of these cows freshened during January, seven in December and two in November. The calves sold for an average of $10 each, bringing this enterprising dairymen an additional $110. The skim milk returned to be fed to young stock was valued at about $42.00, making the total income from these 11 cows $401.59.

THRIVING VILLAGE IS DESTROYED BY HURRICANE BLAST

With The Exception of "The Old Homestead" Ganzey, N. H., Is Completely Leveled

Ganzey, N. H.—A terrific windstorm which swept through the valley almost demolished the town yesterday and practically the only building not destroyed was the Old Homestead, on the farm belonging to Joshua Whitcomb. Seemingly, it was proof against the fury of the elements, and while its neighbors suffered great damage, it remained almost unharmed.

This was particularly noticeable and was commented upon by all because it was simultaneous with the return of Reuben Whitcomb who had been arrested for the theft of $2,500 from the safe of Ephraim Holbrook's store, a year or more ago, and having escaped jail in company of a tramp named Happy Jack, had been lost to his family and the authorities ever since. With him came Rose Blaine, formerly of this place, whom he discovered in destitute circumstances in the city.

It has just developed that Reuben was guiltless of the crime for which he was arrested and the money which his father had been able to return to Holbrook, the latter will restore. It is rumored that Reuben Whitcomb will shortly marry Ann, an adopted daughter of Joshua's and who was saved from death at Lover's Leap in the height of the great storm by her suitor.

Happiness has come to the old homestead and even Ganzey will soon be restored. But the more seriously inclined attach a spiritual significance to the fact that the home of the Whitcombs refused to surrender to the elements—seemingly standing as a symbol of the greatest institution of civilization—the Home.

"The Old Homestead," which contains the foregoing happenings in detail will be shown at the Lyceum theatre Sunday and Monday. It is a Paramount picture directed by James Cruze. Theodore Roberts, George Fawcettt, T. Roy Barnes, Harrison Ford and Fritzi Ridgway head an excellent cast.

Women of the City Will Be In Charge of Regular Community Party at Auditorium

Officers Are Chosen and New Branch Ready for Early Installation of Equipment

Committees Appointed and Everything Prepared For Monday Night's Revel

The movement for the establishment of a Y. M. C. A. branch in Thief River Falls is meeting with marked encouragement on every hand. At a meeting for the purpose of organization held last Friday evening, the committees appointed to solicit funds reported that they had met with much success among the business men, about $300 having been already collected with about $600 additional pledged. The nominating committee, consisting of Rev. E. H. Kreidt and Supt. I. T. Simley, made the following recommendations concerning officers for the ensuing year, these being unanimously adopted by the assembly: President, C. D. Gustafson; vice president, Rev. Chas. Gerlinger; secretary, H. E. Nelson; treasurer, E. P. Brevig. The board of directors is made up of the following: Dr. O. F. Mellby, F. F. Hayes, W. W. Prichard, Jr., and H. O. Chommie. All ministers, Supt. I. T. Simley and Supt. O. R. Sande are ex-officio members of the board.

Use Library Basement

It is the intention to at once equip the basement of the Carnegie library with the paraphernalia needed for making a start. A radio outfit will be among the first things to be installed together with such gymnasium equipment as the organization is at this time able to secure. A box bowling alley will be installed at once.

All boys of high school age—14 years—will be eligible to membership and indications are that there will be a goodly roster to start out with as well as assurance that this will grow rapidly when the institution once gets under way.

Women Will Help

The women of the city have taken a keen interest in the establishment of a Y. M. C. A. and will give a basket social at the auditorium on Monday evening for the purpose of raising funds to assist in carrying out the project. W. J. LaBree will officiate as auctioneer, which is a guarantee that this important part of the function will be properly looked after. This will be a community affair and all ladies in the city are requested to bring baskets. These will be sold to the highest bidder and the purchaser is expected to eat the contents with the donor. As no purchaser will know whose basket he is bidding on there will be a lot of surprises and a bushel of fun in store for everyone. There will also be a brief program consisting of musical numbers and short talks by local people.

Committees Appointed

The following committees have been appointed to have charge of the different divisions of Monday night's party:

Organization—H. E. Nelson, Mrs. T. L. Melgaard, Mrs. H. W. Froehlich. Decorating—Mrs. T. L. Melgaard, Mrs. E. E. Zeh, Mrs. D. P. Gamble. Music—Mrs. Gay Halvorson, Miss Doris Halvorson. Speaking—H. E. Her demise was due to kidney trouble from which she had been ailing for some time, finally terminating into uremic nephritis. Deceased, whose farm home was near Erie, had been staying in Thief River Falls for the past month.

Attorneys for Wm. Gummer File Appeal From Sentence

Attorneys for William Gummer, serving a life sentence in the state penitentiary at Bismark for the murder of Marie Wick of Grygla, Minn., in the Prescott hotel, Fargo, have filed in Barnes county, N. D. notice of appeal to the supreme court, against the conviction and sentence of Gummer. The attorneys for Gummer are Barnes and Richardson of Fargo, N. D. and H. W. Swenson of Devils Lake, his brother-in-law.

In the notice of appeal filed today the appellants claim that the evidence offered by the state in the Gummer trial is not wholly consistant with guilt and inconsistent with innocence; that the evidence does not exclude every reasonable hypothesis of innocence; that, therefore, the evidence is as a matter of law, insufficient to sustain the conviction of the defendant.

They further allege" that the defense was unduly limited in the examination of Sheriff Kraemer of Fargo in the trial, with reference to the circumstances and character of the pre-trial examinations of the defendant and also that it was prejudically improper to permit the state to involve the witness, Andy Brown, as co-defendant, and to permit evidence as against Brown to be offered, regardless of the presence or approval thereof by the defendant."

The appellants insist that it was a prejudical error to permit the state to read to the jury the details of the other sexual offenses admitted by the defendant and that it was an error to allow the state to read to the jury the obscene, lewd and suggestive questions asked of the defendant by officers examining him. "We therefore earnestly request," the petition says," that the conviction of the defendant be reversed."

Elks' Dance Postponed

Before learning of the intention of the women of the city to give a social on Monday night for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. Thief River Falls lodge of Elks has sent out notices notifying the members of a dance to be held at the lodge rooms on the same evening. This event has been called off for that date as the Elks do not wish to do anything that may detract attention from the big doings of the evening. All Elks are urged to attend the party at the auditorium and thus help a good cause along.

COUNTY LOSES ON APPEAL IN DRAINAGE CASE

Conservancy Board Has Authority to Make Additional Assessments for Preliminaries

Pennington's Share Is $2,671, Payment of Which Was Refused by Commissioners

Justice Quinn, in Opinion, Goes Into History of Drainage Proceedings to Date

To Minnesota supreme court, Justice Quinn writing the decision, on Friday handed down a decision in the matter of Pennington County, relator, vs. Red Lake Drainage and Conservancy District, respondent, growing out of the refusal of the county commisoners to comply with an order of the district court requiring the payment by the county of the latter's share of an increase allowed in the preliminary fund required by the conservancy district. Pennington county's share of this increase amounted to $2,671. The other counties have accepted their allotments, Pennington holding off and deciding through its commissioners to test the validity of the order

Judge Grindeland in district court decided against the county, holding that the drainage commissioners had the authority under the law to order the increase in the preliminary fund and make a proportionate assessment against all counties in the district. An appeal was taken to the supreme court and the district court's order has now been affirmed.

Opinion of the Court

In affirming the decision of the district court, Justice Quinn submitted the following opinion:

"Certiorari to review the proceedure had in the district court of Pennington County to determine the validity of an order of that court creating a second preliminary fund for the use of the board of directors of the Red Lake Drainage and Conservancy district organized in 1920, under Chapter 13, Laws of Minnesota, enacted at the extra session of the Legislature in 1919.

"This district comprises all of Red Lake County and parts of Pennington, Marshall, Polk, Clearwater and Beltrami counties and embraces the entire drainage area of Red Lake, Red Lake river and its tributaries, including Clearwater river; the purpose being to facilitate drainage and control flood waters.

"In July, 1920, the court upon a proper petition made and filed an order establishing a preliminary fund of $5,000 for the district. The money therefor was advanced by the several counties in accordance with the statute and order of the court. No assessment was made upon the lands in the district to repay the counties for the moneys so advanced. The entire fund was expended for preliminary work on proposed improvements. The amount of the fund was the maximum allowed by the statute. Had the statute remained unchanged no further petition for an additional fund could have been granted by the court.

"Section 28 of Chapter 13 referred to was amended by Chapter 325, Laws of 1921, so as to increase the maximum amount of such funds to $20,000, and, instead of such funds being for the entire district, the amendment contemplates a fund for each proposed improvement and provides that such funds may be asked for in the petition for the improvement, if deemed necessary, or in a separate petition subsequently filed, such funds not to exceed in the aggregate the sum of $20,000. The statute further provides that the moneys shall be advanced by the several counties as directed by the order of the court, and that the same shall be charged to the district and shall be repaid to the counties as soon as the district has funds sufficient for that purpose It also provides that an assessment may be made upon the lands affected for the purpose of repaying such advancement. It further provides that an account of all expenses paid from such fund shall be kept and the amount thereof included as costs of the construction of the particular improvement, and that the same shall be repaid to the general preliminary fund and used for further similar proposed improvements.

Pennington's Share $2,671

"In August, 1922, the board of directors presented to the court the petition now under consideration, which was in due form and properly signed, asking for an additional preliminary fund of $10,000 to be used for preliminary work as follows: $5,000 upon a proposed Clearwater river project and a like amount upon a proposed Red Lake river project, each of which were duly petitioned for. Upon hearing, the court made and filed its order allowing the petition and granting the funds asked for and fixing Pennington county's proportion to be advanced at $2,671. On December 7, 1922, Pennington County procured a writ of certiorari for the purpose of having the record inspected and the validity or invalidity of the order establishing such funds determined.

"It is well settled by the decisions that legislative authority to provide for the drainage and reclamation of swamp lands and the prevention of floods may be exercised by the creation of local drainage districts and the delegation to such districts of power to inaugurate and control systems of drainage and reclamation within their boundaries and to assess the costs against the lands benefited thereby.

"The power to organize drainage districts is referable to the same source as the drainage power generally and the manner in which the officers of a drainage district are chosen rests entirely with the legislature. The power of the legislature to provide for the organization of such districts is so well recognized by the authorities cited as to require no further discussion here.

May Grant Additional Funds

"The relator urges that Chapter 13, of the Laws of 1919, permits but one preliminary fund, the maximum of which is $3,000, and that Chapter 325, Laws of 1921, is not retroactive and does not apply to the case under consideration. We think a careful reading of Chapter 13, as amended by Chapter 325, leads to the inevitable conclusion that the power of the court to grant additional funds for preliminary work was extended and applies to districts organized prior to the adoption of the amendment, as well as to those subsequently incorporated. The act as amended contemplates a preliminary fund for each proposed improvement in such sum as appears to the court necessary; the purpose being that the amount paid from the fund for preliminary work shall be treated as a part of the cost and assessed against the property benefited thereby, and when collected covered back into the general preliminary fund and used for similar work upon other proposed improvements. The drainage district embraces a vast extent of territory and there undoubtedly will be many proposed improvements in the way of separate projects, and we see no particular objection, legal or otherwise, to the general plan provided by the statute; nor does the creation of a preliminary fund in the manner provided appear to be objectionable. Each preliminary fund is created, in the first instance, by an advancement from the several counties, and the counties may be reimbursed for the moneys advanced to such fund by an assessment upon the property of the district when so petitioned for by the board of directors and directed by the court and the amount paid from such fund to each particular improvement is repaid from the assessment for benefits on account of such improvement.

that the order of the district court

"We are of the opinion and hold creating the preliminary funds complained of, was authorized by the statute and is valid.

"Affirmed."

Facts About Sugar Beets

At this time of agricultural stringency it is a remarkable fact that the sections of the country that raise beets and manufacture them into sugar are the most prosperous in the United States. In Colorado there are 17 sugar plants, in lower Michigan there are 16 plants and hard times are unknown there. "There's a reason."

A modern sugar beet factory of even small capacity handles at least 100,000 tons of sugar beets in a season, while many handle several times this amount. Most of these beets are raised in a territory within 20 miles of the plant. The average price paid for beets is $7.50 a ton at the plant. This means that sugar beet factory pays out to the farmers in the surrounding territory at least $750,000.00 annually. No small sum. In addition the average paid out for labor in cultivating the beets is $18.00 per acre and as beets produce an average yield of 10 tons per acre, requiring 10,000 acres for even a small plant, there is an additional amount paid of $180,000.00 for labor, which can as well go to the farmer as to outside labor.

Then above all is the results obtained in purifying the soil which means crops of double and triple the amount usually obtained, for the crops that are planted on sugar beet land.

To a city, situated as Thief River Falls is, the value of a sugar beet factory can hardly be estimated in dollars and cents. Everyone agrees that it would be the making of our country and city.

A modern sugar beet factory is a real manufacturing industry. The cost of the plant alone amounts to $1,300,000.00, of which a very large portion is labor cost in constructing. The construction of such a plant would bring many families to our city. It would bring in a large amount of outside capital that would mean a healthy reaction in our midst.

The operation of such a plant requires a large amount of labor, much of it of the skilled, high-salaried class. The sugar beet plant at Chaska employs a house staff of 25 skilled mechanics all the year around. It employs an additional 25 men nine or ten months in the year for repair and maintenance work. When the sugar is being manufactured it employs an additional 200 men for three months. This is the labor item. Then its office force of eight or ten is augmented by the field force of 8 that work all year and an additional 20 that work better than six months. All told, the pay-roll of a sugar beet factory amounts to approximately $300,000.00 per year.

Then we must not forget the immense amount of sugar that moves into and out of plant of this kind, which means more and steadier work for the railroad men in our midst. This item alone would be a big thing for our city.

In summing it up it is safe to say that a sugar beet factory would mean the distribution of at least $1,500,000 in cash to our city and [illegible] each year and that it would mean at the very [illegible] families living here, [illegible] the time and effort of Thief River Falls to try and secure? If you think that it is, let us all get our shoulder to the wheel and [illegible] our efforts for a bigger and better Thief River Falls.

Report of S. A. Drive

The home service drive for funds for the work of 1923 is concluded. Several late reports are not yet in and these may net over fifty dollars, the financial balance now showing the amount of $739.02 deposited in a local bank. In other words, seven hundred dollars has been collected in Pennington county for the army work.

Approximately 20 per cent of this total was solicited in the rural townships, 6 percent in villages of Goodridge and St. Hilaire, and the remaining 74 per cent in Thief River Falls. Of the latter amount 18 per cent was from the residence and 56 per cent from the business district.

Five townships made splendid efforts in the drive. River Falls raised $46.15, Norden $38.00, Numedal coming third with 30.00, Rocksburg $16.50, Black River $9, and Polk Centre $8.

Owing to the severe weather and the condition of the roads, the remaining townships did not launch their drives. There is a possibility of clearing up these campaigns when better conditions prevail.

Due credit should be given to Gust Ericsson of River Falls, who traveled over his township on foot collecting $46.15; John Funnesdahl and John Sjolsvold for the hard work which gives them the second place in the rural districts, Charlie Johnson and John Ronning of Numedal, John Boe of Rocksburg (who by the way, still has prospects of climbing over Norden's target), Ed. Morin and Fred Lorentson of Black River and P. Hallstrom and C. R. Melin of Polk Centre are also to be greatly commended for their efforts in this regard. These rural solicitors had the difficult end of the campaign, being out undaunted by the worst of roads, weather and financial distress of the citizens thruout the country. They traveled at their own expense in face of all of these discouraging forces for days, collecting funds that the Salvation Army work might go on—and that in a stronger way than ever before—in this county.

Mrs. Norma Patterson and Mrs. G. I. Fellman of St. Hilaire sent in the second largest report outside of Thief River Falls, forty dollars being raised by this enterprising team.

Nick Bundhund and P. O. Tvedt put over the drive in Goodridge, raising twelve dollars more for army work.

These communities outside of Thief River Falls are already getting their dividend returns for supporting the army work. A box of twenty garments and a pair of shoes and overshoes has been sent a very needy family in Norden township. A family of eight, living near St. Hilaire, are being attended to by a representative in that town. These are only a very small sample of what will be done by the local corps during the rest of the winter.

One thousand dollars worth of actual relief, in food, new clothes, transportation, etc. are provided in the budget for the county, but as only 25 per cent of the quota has been raised the relief budget will automatically be cut very low. All cases reported will be handled as well as possible on the low supply of funds.

Thirteen teams of men and ten ladies scoured the city for its part of the home service, the business districts were covered to the last prospect avainable. Residence streets did very well and brought in a nice sum for the work.

As a result of the drive many new donators to the army work were secured.

The tag day staged on the last Saturday of the drive brought in additional funds. The school children, who helped in this city are to be commended for their work. Miss Laura Brown and the city school authorities have the appreciation of the army corps for their aid in securing workers for this part of the effort.

The Salvation Army advisory board, the Salvation Army local corps unite in thanking every one who helped by either giving or collecting, for the fine spirit in which it was done.

The various clubs and lodges in the city helped in an admirable way to make the drive a success.

Heartful thanks are extended to the American Legion and Auxiliary, to the Elks lodge, to the Woman's club, to the Rebeccas, to the Eastern Star, the Odd Fellows, the Masons, the Sons of Norway, Daughters of Norway, and Commercial club. Practically all of these organization furnished workers, and many of them made a fine gift to the cause.

The success of the campaign depended considerably upon the efforts put forth by the members of the executive committee and advisory board.

Those who took part in soliciting funds in this city were Supt. I. T. Simley, C. H. Jung, Nels Christensen, John Morgan, Carl Froseth, T. M. Thronson, C. S. Sapero, H. M. Evenstad, Alfred Bredeson, Carl Christofferson, W. W. Prichard Jr. H. W. Protzeller, C. M. Green, Daniel Shaw, Mrs. Ferdie Brown, Mrs. H. Froseth, Mrs. Art Johnson, Mrs. A. P. Robinson, Miss B. Axelson, Mrs. C. Biddick, Mrs. W. S. Ferris, Mrs. E. L. Rolland, Mrs. George M. Wilson, Mrs. Art Johnson, Mrs. A. P. Robinson, Miss B. Axelson, Mrs. G. L. Rolland, Mrs. George M. Wilson. The theatre benefit netted a neat sum and also tag day put on by the school children. Particularly large gifts were received from C. R. Falk and C. L. Hansen.

Auto Tax Law Finally Secures Full Endorsement

The emergency auto tax amendment bill passed by the legislature Jan. 31, was signed by Governor Preus as the first official act upon his return from Washington, D. C.

The amended bill extends the time for payment of 1923 automobile license fees, due under one old law Feb. 1 to Feb. 28 for automobiles in active use. Machines in storage will not require a license until March 31, under the new law.

The bill was passed at the request of Mike Holm, secretary of state, who declared it impossible to take care of applications for license in the limited time allowed under the old law.

Intended to, and generally credited with soothing Minnesota's main highways, new 1923 motor vehicle tax plate sales have begun at the usual places throughout the state.

Lucky numbers are going out first, registration officials said, and some fifty thousand sets were issued last month. More than 300,000 will be issued this month if conditions are favorable. The price will go up at the rate of 25 cents a day after March 1, for all who use their cars during the windy month or before.

Auto tax rates generally for 1923 will be the same as last year, except on machines going into the 3-year-old class getting 25 per cent cut and the 5-year-old list which carries half the regular tax.

If you have any news call 16.

Anyone caught taking wood off my farm between the two Kirby farms will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

ALL DADDIES LOOK ALIKE TO THIS KIDDIE

Bright Youngster Causes Trouble During Filming of "The Bachelor Daddy"

Alfred Green, who directed Thomas Meighan in the Paramount picture, "The Bachelor Daddy," had his troubles, due to the presence of five children in the cast, Mr. Meighan being supposedly the proxy daddy of five children in this new story, which will be screened at the Lyceum theatre next Friday and Saturday.

One of the children had to be a mere baby and for the scenes it was necessary for the child to recognize Mr. Meighan as his daddy. Mr. Green tried little Bobby Jackson, brother of Charlotte Jackson, the principal child actress in the cast, but Bobby was teething and wouldn't recognize anybody but his mother.

So Bruce Guerin, a bright youngster, was found that Mr. Meighan was his daddy. This suited him fine, but Bruce was no respector of persons. No sooner had he left the scene than he began to pick up daddies all over the studio. He met Waldemar Young, scenarist and shouted:

"There's my daddy."

Next he chose Walter Hiers, the heavyweight comedian. T. Roy Barnes was then picked out by the youngster. After looking over several others, he pointed to Oscar, the colored bootblack at the studio and in all seriousness said:

"No, that's my daddy."

"We'd better get the boy back near Meighan before he gets too many daddies around here," said Green, and forthwith an order was issued for little Bruce to be kept near the star.

"Three Musketeers" Soon To Be Here

Douglas Fairbanks' photoplay version of Alexander Dumas' blood stirring tale, "The Three Musketeers," is scheduled as the feature attraction for Wednesday and Thursday, February 14-15 at the Lyceum theatre.

In this spectacular photo-feature, Fairbanks will be viewed in a new type of characterization. In the picturesque trappings of the Seventeenth Century chevalier, he is expected to give a sensationally dramatic interpretation to the role of D'Artagnan, dashing swordsman and adventurer. In fact, in "The Three Musketeers," the virile Doug is said to outdo his splendid acting of the dual role he played in "The Mark of Zorro."

This photoplay represents one of the most pains-taking and elaborate efforts at picture making of the year, according to Mr. Brumund, manager of the Lyceum. No expense whatever was spared by Fairbanks, and the production is said to have cost a million dollars.

The story is based on historical fact and is acted by the best players in filmdom. Fred Niblo is credited with the direction and Edward Knoblock prepared the lens version, while Arthur Edeson did the camera work.

In the cast are such sterling players as Marguerite DeLaMotte Mary MacLaren, Barbara LaMarr, Nigel de Brulier, George Siegmann, Leon Bary, Eugene Pallette, Boyd Irwin and many others.

Avenues of Service

REGINALD McKENNA, head of the largest bank in the world, says that "Splendid isolation is a dream;" a truth which every industrial leader accepts as axiomatic. Had he substituted monopoly for isolation he would have expressed another self-evident truth which would have been acclaimed by every man who has given serious thought to the development of business on a large scale.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a big business striving to do a big job in a big way, yet no thought is given to achieving a monopoly: for those who direct the Company's activities know that in any basic industry such an ambition is impossible of fulfillment. Competition is welcome, for no single organization can hope to serve the people of the Middle West with petroleum products as they should be served. The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) enjoys a large volume of business and is satisfied to let this volume take care of its profits.

There is a reciprocal bond between every great industrial organization and the social environment in which it operates. An organization is truly great only when the service it renders is great.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is in daily contact with a community of about 30 million people.

It serves them through a host of useful products refined from petroleum. Through these products it touches the home and industrial life of the people. It enters the sick chamber with mineral oil and petroleum jelly. It enters the factory, the roundhouse, and the farmyard with lubricating oils for machines, engines, and tractors. It seeks the farm home with gasoline, kerosene, candles and parowax. It touches the railroad right of way with Fortnite Long Time Burner Oil for signal lamps; it supplies thousands of public and private garages with gasoline and lubricants. It feeds the furnaces of homes and factories with Stanolind Furnace Oil. It goes to the hospital with Stanolind Surgical Wax. It paves the streets with Stanolind Paving Asphalt.

These are but a few of the avenues of service which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) maintains. To keep these avenues open the Company operates 1700 service stations, 3900 bulk stations, 7000 tank wagons serving thousands of garages, and 6 great refineries to supply their needs.

Thus does the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) acknowledge its reciprocal bond, and by creating a host of useful, essential products from a single basic raw material—crude petroleum—justify its claim to master craftsmanship in industrial husbandry.

LOWERING THE INTEREST RATE

At first glance it would seem as if reducing the legal interest rate in Minnesota from ten to eight per cent would be a good thing for the borrower, and it is with the intention of carrying favor with those who must borrow that a bill having this purpose in view has been introduced in the legislature.

That the law, if passed, will work to the disadvantage of the newer sections of the state is certain. In the first place it would naturally lower the rate the banks are able to pay for money in savings banks or deposited on time certificates. The fact that the rates paid on such deposits are higher here than in almost any other part of the country has resulted in large sums being sent here for deposit. This money has in turn gone into the channels of trade at a rate of interest based on its cost to the banks. If this rate of interest is now reduced one-fifth the interests on savings and money deposited on certificates must in return be reduced. This will mean the withdrawal of large sums at once, as the only incentive in sending them away from the older and more convenient sections of the country has been the higher interest rate.

Northern Minnesota needs all of this kind of money it can get, the supply being too small to meet the demands even when the present rate of interest is paid. If outside deposits are withdrawn it will mean the slowing up of development work generally as the banks will find it impossible to secure funds at the rate of interest they will be able to pay to meet the demand. Small investors who now find banking interest a great stimulant to saving and consequently place their spare cash in the banks will buy government securities or use the postal savings because of their tax-free provisions or their supposed greater security. The convenience of having their money near at hand where it can be reached in a hurry in case of need would, of course, somewhat offset this tendency with the latter class of depositors, but taken as a whole the proposed plan would mean the taking from local banks vast sums of money now profitably at work. As concerns the outside depositors-residents of southern Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and Illinois—who have large sums on deposit because of the better interest rate prevailing, these would naturally see no advantage of sending their money away from home if it were not for the fact that they can secure better returns by so doing.

Then there are the small country banks to be considered. These institutions are a great convenience to the people residing near the smaller towns and their passing would mean a distinct loss to the thousands who have been in the habit of securing from them small loans whenever there has been occasion for such service. These banks have been borrowing money at a rate slightly higher than that paid to depositors by the larger banks and as their cost of operation is low they have been able to get along with the present interest charge. If there is a forced reduction in the latter they will no longer be able to borrow from the larger banks and will have to go out of business. Their assets would be absorbed by banks in the larger cities and the business of the neighborhood handled by men not acquainted with local conditions, having but little knowledge of the neighborhood and knowing nothing of the problems and projects of the people residing there. The passage of this law would mean a much greater centralization of the state's banking powers through the elimination of hundreds of the smaller banks, and whether or not this would prove a good thing is a rather serious question. The chances are that most borrowers would rather pay the present rate to their home bank, where they are sure of being accomodated, than take chances of having their needs supplied by some institution at the county seat or some other larger and more populous center where their circumstances and prospects are unknown.

Should the proposed rural credits bill become a law, banking rates will automatically adjust themselves and the need for such [illegible]

Improvement association, this is probably the first bread exhibit which has ever been held in connection with a wheat display of this kind.

Bread baked from the Marquis wheat was a fine loaf, showing that Marquis wheat makes a very desirable flour and works well. Wheat of this variety, acording to Mr. Ball, demands the highest premium. Kota wheat, a new variety, works well in the dough, but fails to spring or expand in the oven. The flour has a yellow color, the loaf has a coarse texture and, according to Mr. Ball, is about equal to the most inferior Minnesota or South Dakota wheat sold on contract grade. Kubanka Durum is a high quality durum wheat, desirable for making macaroni but not adapted to bread making. It makes a poor dough, small sized loaf of very yellow color with characteristic cracks showing wheat gluten. A mixed durum wheat tested in the oven proved to be neither adaptable to bread making nor macaroni.

Another variety of wheat which the wheat association is discouraging for the northwest section of Minnesota is Minturki, a Minnesota winter wheat. This makes flour of poor strength and color and is decidedly inferior to spring wheat. Mindum or Minnesota Durum wheat is fairly good for macaroni but is not a bread wheat. Canadian Marquis, like Minnesota and Dakota Marquis, makes a flour of excellent strength, and is strongly recommended by the spring wheat association.

The ill effects of weed seed in milling wheat was shown by one loaf of bread baked from wheat containing corn cockle. This made a heavy, dark loaf of doubtful digestibility. Mr. Ball says that the weed seed shipped into Minneapolis in wheat cars last year would fill 14,000 freight cars, all of which were badly needed to move the wheat crop to market.

IT'S BEEN TRIED BEFORE

Over at Bemidji they have formed a Taxpayers' League for the purpose of equalizing and lowering the taxes and stopping all wasteful practices, if any are found. Bemidji's tax rate is very high and the citizens seem to be of the opinion that something can be done about it.

The trouble with our sister city is the same as with all other young cities. The revenue is simply not sufficient to meet running expenses, pay the interest on outstanding obligations and at the same time provide such improvements as a growing community seems to need. The revenue collectable in the shape of taxes has in the past not been sufficiently to meet the needs of the city. Every year the burden has become just a little heavier until the people have concluded that something should be done about it.

All of which sounds rather natural to taxpayers residing in certain communities, some oft hem not over a thousand miles from Bemidji. Now the demand is for retrenchment and committes are appointed to see that this demand is carried out. These committees will meet a few times, declare that greater economy must be practiced and then sink back into the old rut, thoroughly convinced that they have accomplished something.

The trouble is that in looking over the things for which the city has run into debt, there is not a single one these same citizens would do without. Investigation will no doubt disclose the fact that the city has been honestly and efficiently administered and that there has been but little if any waste. It will be found that there was a strong demand for every improvement made and that the taxpayers have in every instance where any considerable expenditure was contemplated ordered the same made by voting in favor of it and endorsing it by large majorities. Now they are going to look around to find out what the trouble is.

Bemidji has no doubt needed every improvement made. So has Thief River Falls and so have the majority of other Minnesota municipalities. Not to have made them at the time would have left the authorities open to a charge of being derelict in the performance of their duty, devoid of civic pride and failing to realize the importance of their own city. It is the same everywhere.

Improvements must be made and they must be paid for. In the case of cities like Bemidji and Thief River Falls the trouble is that the income cannot possibly keep pace with the outgo if even a small part of what seems absolutely necessary is undertaken. It is claimed by some that many things are done which are not necessary. The same was true when these cities were in the cow path class [illegible] the first place [illegible] a better environment. We could possibly exist without [illegible]

Legislative Letter

(By Martin W. Odland)

St. Paul, Minn.—The fight in the markets and marketing committee of the house over the rural credits bill has finally come to an end, and victory belongs to the proponents of the Wilkinson bill. The end of the fight came Thursday noon after another protracted debate, marked by considerable bitterness. First, by a vote of 17 to 10, the committee refused to substitute the Dahle-Moen bill for the Wilkinson bill; next, the committee voted to recommend the Wilkinson bill for passage, and, third, voted to report it back to the house as a committee bill.

But the end is not yet. Representatives N. T. Moen and O. K. Dahle are determined to carry the fight to the floor of the house. How this will be [illegible] place it before the house with the same advantage as that of the Wilkinson bill, or move to substitute the Dahle-Moen bill for the Wilkinson bill when the latter comes up for consideration on the floor of the house.

Whatever course is followed, there is sure to be a big fight over the bill or bills on the floor of the house, and the result is in doubt. The supporters of the Wilkinson bill made a tactical blunder in the committee room when they cut short the debate and refused to allow Representative Dahle to answer the arguments of the Wilkinson faction at Thursday's meeting. That made an unfavorable impression upon legislators who are not members of the committee [illegible] the Wilkinson bill on the floor of the house.

The Wilkinson bill was slightly amended before it was reported back to the house, but its essential features are the same as in the beginning. It provides for a commission of three salaried officials, who may appoint an executive secretary and such other assistants as may be needed. The governor appoints the commissioners for six year terms.

The Dahle-Moen bill provides for one salaried official, to be known as the director of rural credits, and provides that the commissioner of agriculture and the attorney general shall serve with him on the rural credits board. It is further provided that all applications for loans be made through the county auditors and the farm offered as security for loans shall be first appraised by local men.

A very pretty fight, well worth the price of admission, took place in the house Thursday afternoon. It was over the Nellermoe bill, prohibiting the dismissal of a member of the University faculty without a hearing at the hands of his associates from the drop of the hat, denounced the board of regents for their arbitrary and undemocratic methods and policies; and Rep. S. A. Stockwell, another radical member from Minneapolis, enlarged upon the importance of maintaining academic freedom in an institution of higher learning like the University. The only speaker in opposition to the bill was Rep. W. I. Norton of the university, who denounced the measure as an unwarranted interference with legitimate authority, impractical and unwise.

The bill was defeated 62 to 61.

Those who supposed that there would be little opposition to the bills to repeal the pre-primary convention law of 1921 have another guess coming. The house committee on elections gave some consideration to these bills Wednesday and several legislators, including Senator Vibert, went on record in favor of continuing the law, unless some other convention plan, more satisfactory, can be evolved to take its place. A public hearing on the repeal bills will be held before the committee Wednesday.

As the result of a bill passed under suspension of the rules in both houses the city of Minneapolis will soon hold a special election to vote on the question of voting bonds in the sum of $4,000,000 with which to build an auditorium. Such a building is greatly needed in Minneapolis, which is unable to invite large organizations or political parties to hold their national conventions for want of an adequate meeting place.

The house has passed the Wilkinson bill prohibiting the manufacture and sale of so-called "filled milk" in this state. This means that no fats other than those contained in milk can be used in the manufacture of the condensed product in this state. No doubt the senate will pass the bill along to the governor.

Photoplay May Revive Old Fad

It is more than likely a new style will be created or an old one revived, by the nation-wide showing of "The Old Homestead," the Paramount Picture which will be shown at the Lyceum theatre Sunday and Monday. This is the opinion of James Cruze, the artist directing the production of the classic story.

Mr. Cruze refers especially to the costume worn by Kathleen O'Connor who plays the part of Rose O'Connor Rose is the village beauty—frowned upon by conservatives, but adored by "gay dogs." Rose goes astray, but she is saved in the end—just as we would wish things to turn out in this delightful old comedy drama.

The clothes Rose wears are delicious. The vintage of '85—bustle, tight waist; wide skirt, poke bonnet, frizzly curls, bonnet strings of velvet tied in a big bow beneath the chin—gay parasol, wonderful adjunct to the art of flirtation— and withal presenting as charming a picture as could be imagined.

"It doesn't look half as grotesque as one might think," declared Miss O'Connor, with a smile. "I know I must resemble a picture in Godey's Lady's book, but except for a slight discomfort from the tight basque, and the unusualness of the attire in general, it isn't half bad."

The company as a whole was delighted with the chance to reproduce in this picture the athmosphere of the days when Ward McAllister was the fashion plate of New York and the "cancan" was looked upon as the most dreadful dance that had ever been devised.

Theodore Roberts plays Uncle Josh; T. Roy Barnes is Happy Jack; Fritzi Ridway plays Ann and George Fawcett appears as the heavy—Holbrook. Others of the well known characters are interpreted by capable players.

Don't Wait and Tempt Fate

C. D. Hibbard, District Manager of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau, Minneapolis, has issued a pertinent statement to all former service men directing their attention to the desirability of having the insurance they carried in the service reinstated. He said:

"Ask the first six persons you meet who own automobiles whether they have their cars insured against fire, theft, and accident. Ask six of your friends who own farms whether they have their farm buildings, farm implements and live stock insured; ask six of your acquaintances who own homes whether they have their homes and furniture insured."

"You will find in each instance, that [illegible]

[illegible] teries of radio only a month ago, built another set which cost 20 cents, and with this he could receive messages as far as from Mayville and also Winnipeg. With additional equipment, placing the cost at a few dollars the radio shark can hear messages from all parts of the United States.

EXTENSION SERVICE WANTED BY FARMERS

Farm Bureau's State Referendum Shows 12 to 1 Ratio for County Agent Bill

Farmers of Minnesota have voted overwhelmingly for the county agent and agricultural extension work. In a state-wide referendum, taken in December and January by the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, the ratio for a change in the present law which will require county commissioners to appropriate funds for the work was 12 to 1. With such a law in force all counties in the state would be in position to obtain funds made available by the federal Smith-Lever act. First results of the state referendum were announced this week.

Backs County Agent Bill

"To carry out this mandate from the membership, officers of the Farm federation are strongly supporting a bill that has been introduced in both the state house and senate. Under its provisions, a county extension budget committee is created. This will be made up of seven members: four from the County Farm Bureau, two from the county commissioners and the county auditor. After this committee has agreed on a plan to carry on county extension work, the commissioners are to make the appropriation, the same as is done for other items of routine expense.

In the referendum, farmers were asked for their positions on fifteen state legislative issues and thirteen national questions.

Want Road Tonnage Limited

In the state division, a demand for limiting tonnage hauled on highways obtained the heaviest vote, the ratio being 26 to 1. A law that would permit farmers to organize their own credit associations was almost as popular, the ratio being 23 to 1.

On the question of exempting cooperative corporations from the double liability of stockholders, the negative has a margin of 500, the ratio being 4 to 5.

Cost of production studies, the farmers voted 12 to 1, should be continued. By the same ratio, they asked for restoration of the Minnesota grades on wheat. Branch banking is condemned, 3 to 1. Increased aid for county agent and demonstration work is favored, 11 to 1. State aid for educational purposes equal to three mill tax is favored, 4 to 1. Laws to protect natural resources are endorsed 13 to 1. A state bank guarantee law is favored, 10 to 1, and a state hail insurance law, 7 to 4. By a 5 to 6 ratio, the farmers are opposed to extension of free employment service.

Condemn Tax Free Bonds

Further issuance of tax-free securities is indorsed 9 to 1. On the question of increasing the maximum federal farm loan from $10,000 to $25,000 the ratio in favor of 2 to 1. Farmers voted 30 to 1 to restore rate regulating powers to state railroad and warehouse commissions. Continuance of federal aid for highway construction is asked 17 to 1. A sales tax is opposed 6 to 1.

By a ratio of 47 to 1, farmers have demanded a law providing for 12-24 and 36-month rediscount loans for agricultural production purposes. The Principle of guaranteed income on fixed valuations as provided by the Esch-Cummins act is opposed 9 to 1.

The St. Lawrence waterway project is indorsed 24 to 1.

Against Pittsburgh Plus

The heaviest vote in the referendum was cast on the question of obtaining a truth-in-fabric legislation, the ratio for the proposal being 110 to 1. A law against filled milk products is asked 41 to 1.

The "Pittsburgh Plus" principle in making steel prices is opposed 11 to 1. Acceptance of Ford's offer to manufacture fertilizer at Muscle Shoals is favored 17 to 1.

Damper Control Will Save Expensive Fuel

Proper use of damper in stoves or furnaces will conserve fuel and lighten the pressure on the pocketbook. There are usually four dampers for air control in a furnace or boiler—the chimney pipe damper, the check draft, the ash pit door damper, and the feed door damper.

"Some furnaces and boilers will not hold fire well over night when the chimney damper is left wide open or when none has been provided," says E. A. Stewart of the agricultural engineering division, University of Minnesota. "In many installations, the chimney damper is placed between the check draft and the chimney. This is the wrong position because when partially closed it often causes smoke to issue from the check draft. This damper should be between the furnace or boiler and the check draft.

"The check draft should not be open too frequently, especially when using wood or soft coal, and it should not be left wide open because it causes soot or creosote to collect in the chimney. The draft had better be controlled partially closing the chimney pipe damper and also the ash pit door damper.

"Much fuel is wasted, especially soft coal and wood, through unburned gasses passing out the chimney. If the fire door damper is left open from one-sixteenth to one-fourth of an inch, the air that is supplied through it will give a more complete combustion of the gases above the fire bed. A little experimenting will teach the operator how far he may open this damper without seriously affecting the draft through the fuel bed and without cooling the flue gases excessively so that his fire burns lower rather than higher. Under all conditions only a small amount of air is necessary through this damper."

Recent investigations by Mr. Stewart have shown that an opening two inches in diameter through the feed door saved approximately 22 per cent of the fuel in a large boiler using around 1000 pounds of coal a day.

CHILDREN'S COLDS ARE DANGEROUS; PNEUMONIA CAN DEVELOP IN HOUR

THOUSANDS OF LITTLE FOLKS LOSE LIVES FROM PARENTS' NEGLECT OF COLDS

NEW HOME REMEDY DISCOVERED

Muco-Solvent Salve (Applied Externally) Now Used With Amazing Results

Heeding the warning published in this paper a short time ago, many have come to realize the grave danger of the common cold and have followed the suggestions made at that time to use the treatment advised by Muco-Solvent laboratory, with the most satisfactory results. Children's colds seem especially susceptible to the treatment although adults are equally strong in their praise of Muco-Solvent Salve.

The treatment, like the remedy, is simplicity itself. So remarkably simple as to be almost unbelievable. This is due to the fact that the new ointment or salve contains valuable properties, which, when combined in the manner discovered by the laboratory, produce remarkable results.

Relief Over Night

To break a bad cold in one night do this: First, take a laxative, then melt some Muco-Solvent Salve in a spoon or tin cup and inhale the fumes which arise. Breathe Deeply. The head opens immediately. Now insert a small amount in each nostril. This allows the vapors to enter the upper respiratory tract, soothing and healing the inflamed membranes. Apply hot towels to chest and throat to open the pores, then rub on Muco Salve thickly and lay on immediately two thicknesses of soft cloth, flannel preferred. The penetrating effect of the salve will aid in scattering the congestion. In the morning your cold will probably be gone.

Physician's Discovery

The late Dr. L. W. Giffin, Neenah, Wis., made a study of the conditions which are common to colds, la grippe, bronchitis, membraneous croup, etc. He discovered that the combination of certain antiseptics of harmless content, when taken internally would destroy the bacilli and dissolve the phlegm or mucous which gathers. He became widely known and his prescription was compounded by many druggists for the relief of those suffering with colds in head and chest. Owing to the fact that the medicine dissolved the phlegm it became generally known as "Muco-Solvent" and is sold to this day by druggists. The laboratory making Muco Solvent is the one which discovered Muco-Solvent Salve.

If Muco Salve does not help you, try Muco-Solvent (Liquid). It is obtainable at drug stores in 75c and $1.00 bottles and full directions for use are with each bottle. It has been used for forty years in the treatment of la grippe, croup, asthma, bronchitis, etc.

Druggists Helping

The Muco-Solvent Co. is now waging a nation-wide campaign for the elimination of colds. Druggists have been enlisted to help. It is believed that the household uses of Muco-Solvent Salve and Muco-Solvent Liquid will benefit the public greatly.

Consult your druggist. He has very likely handled Muco-Solvent Liquid for thirty or forty years and probably has Muco Salve now, at least we know it can be found at F. J. Stebbins, J. P. Curtis or Roy Lambert's Drug Stores.

NEW COLD REMEDY COULD BE MADE AT HOME

Since you were a child you have been familiar with various and sundry household remedies for colds. Among these are oil eucalyptus, oil turpentine, oil thyme, menthol crystals, etc.

These ingredients in proper proportions combined in petrolatum as a carrying agent form a soothing and healing ointment, which, while very mild and pleasant, has powerful remedial qualities and is known as Muco-Solvent Salve.

Take This Clipping to Your Druggist

Ask Your druggist about this, he knows the ingredients well and knows their values. In early times dried leaves of the eucalyptus tree were boiled and the fumes inhaled. Oil of thyme is a germicidal. Oil of turpentine has excellent healing qualities.

Menthol crystals are made from oil of peppermint; in this form used to reduce inflammation in the upper respiratory tract.

Made in small quantities Muco Salve would cost a dollar, but your druggist can sell you a family size jar as prepared by Muco-Solvent laboratory for twenty-five cents.

DON'T GIVE BABY "DOPE"

Apply Muco-Solvent Salve Externally—Relieves Colds

Simply send to the drug store for an ordinary 25c jar of Muco-Solvent Salve, insert a very little in the child's nostrils and rub freely onchest (will not stain clothing). The action is two fold, by inhalation and by absorption, the result being the clearing of the nasal passages, the soothing and healing of the upper respiratory tract, and finally the scattering of the congestion.

THOSE WHO SUFFER CATARRH, ASTHMA

Find Welcome Relief In Muco-Solvent Salve

Catarrh is curable. Asthma is not. It is not claimed that Muco-Salve will cure catarrah, although it is known to have rendered effective relief when directions are followed as for a common cold.

For asthma apply Muco Salve over spinal column from neck to hips. This aids in relieving the nervous tension, one of the causes of the disease. Apply salve freely to chest and throat and cover with hot flannels. Melt Muco Salve in spoon or tin cup and inhale vapors.

What Shall We Do About It?

"What's the matter with our school?"

"Nothing!" Most of us would answer.

But ask yourself if that is the truth; you will find that a really live school ought to possess. And that is real "pep."

Why hasn't your school the right spirit and who is to blame? You, spirit and who is to blame? You, part. We should support the team. after victory. You think that it is their duty and that they ought to practice night after night and get no thanks from you in return for it. It is not their duty unless we do our part. We should support the team. We should go to games, root until the auditorium shakes, tell our friends about the game, and get them to come. Yell in the assembly when we have a pep-meeting. Don't be afraid that you'll ruin your voice; it's vocal exercise.

Do you know how much our support will do for the team? Ask any of the boys and they will tell you.

The cheer leaders do all they can, but they can't do all the yelling alone. You have to put forth some effort yourself.

There are quite a few in the school who do not go to the games, do not exert themselves even so much as to yell at a pep-meeting. They are downright slackers, and there is no getting out of it.

If this applies to you, absorb it.

This is your school and you are a part of it. Show your loyality to Lincoln High School by going to the games and rooting for all you are worth.

Practice some of these yells out in the woodshed.

Hie! Haec! Hoc!
Who'll we soak?
Warroad! Warroad!
Holy Smoke!

Are we ready?
We are!
Ricket Rack
Ricket Rack
Clear the track
Here we come
Boom! Boom! Ah!

Riffety! Riffety! Riff! Raff!
Chiffety! Chiffety! Chiff! Chaff!
Riff-Raff! Riff Raff!
Let's give 'em the horse laugh, Hee, Haw!

We should consult three things in all our actions: justice, honesty and utility.

Our Lincoln

Oh, students, do you know
Where to school you should go
Come to old Thief River Falls
Where the Lincoln High School calls.
For many long years
It's received its gay cheers
And yet it doth stand.
Come join its great band.
Oh, Public, do you hear
Lincoln High school give its cheer?
To football, oration,
Basketball and declamation.
For while its colors are flying
There is no use denying
That all of the students do fight
To bring its great honors to sight.
Oh, Faculty, do you see
Lincoln High School as it be?
Teachers pleasing and kind
To inspire our mind
Are doing their best
But to us leave the rest
And with everything up to date
It will soon be the best in the state.

More Excitement

The faculty is going to put on a play. Isn't it going to be fun to see what they can do? Won't it be great to see Mr. Harner impersonating Rudolph Valentino. (Yes, I understand that he has the leading part). And who do you suppose is going to be our Gloria Swanson? Sh——I cant' tell. It's a secret, come and see.

What did you say the faculty are doing this for? They have a good reason. Listen, it's this: You know that our football and basketball boys have worked hard this year to make winning teams. The faculty would like to show their appreciation of this work by earning money with which to buy sweaters for the "Letter" men. Don't you think that a fine idea? Don't you think the faculty can do it? Just watch and see! But do more than just watch—boost, advertise, and help in every way.

Did you ask when the great event is to occur? We don't know exactly, but it's sometime soon. Did you say that you were going to be there? Good! Bring all the family with you. Watch for the date. Don't miss it.

School Life

What are your ideas of school? Have you ever stopped to think about it at all? If you have not, it would probably be advisable to decide just what you think and determine to which one of the groups you belong, as all students are divided into three classes.

The first division includes a large number of students that go to school to exchange jokes and have a good time in general. They never see any use of studying at home, can't possibly get to school on time, and are hard to please. In fact, they even wonder why such "old cranks" exist.

Another group, composed of a smaller number of students, goes to the opposite extreme. This group studies and studies and studies. They never find time to do anything but study. It is not that they are so dull that they need to study all the time, but they do not know that fewer hours and more concentration is better than hours and hours of study and no concentration.

The third division, which includes very few students, is the one that is wide awake. These study as much as they need to, making the time short as possible by concentration. As they always do most of their studying in school, they find plenty of time for outside pleasures. They do not let their duties and good times conflict, but have their fun after their school work is done.

Are you able to determine the class to which you belong? Are you a credit to your school? If you are not, just try to be now and ever afterwards.

Soliloquy of the Clock

"Oh dear, this is certainly a dreary day. Nothing unusual has happened at all. The students surely look bored. I think I will skip ahead a little and end this period sooner.

"There they go; jumping around, dropping books, turning the pencil sharpener, and stamping their feet. Here come some more students. My, that boy must be angry by the way he slammed his book on the desk. I wish he would make less noise, I should like to take a nap.

"Here comes Mr. Harner. Well, this period will be quiet then. What is that he is saying? "You'll go to heaven quicker if you get busy? Well, I guess that is true. How he is giving the usually daily scolding at the desk. They seem to persist in signing up so often that he always scolds them about it.

I do wish they would start learning things, so se wouldn't have to scold them so much. There he is talking to a girl. That is the second time she has been spoken to this period. What did he say? Oh, he said he didn't want to account for it in the next world! I don't think it will be necessary, if he keeps correcting her in that manner.

"Oh, those boys over in that corner! "There goes the bell! After the stampede which follows the second bell, I am going to take a nap."

STUDENTS-TEACHERS JOIN IN REVELRY

Annual All-School Masquerade Held at City Auditorium Friday Evening

Due to the inclement weather on last Friday evening many were disappointed in not being able to attend the annual High School masquerade, which was given at the auditorium. However, those who did brave the forty-degree below zero weather claimed the party a success.

Early in the evening the auditorium was crowded with a motely assembly, of Chinamen, Japs, Swedes, Turks, Negroes, Puritans, Gypsies, Egyptian Princesses, and Fairies—even the Gold-dust Twins were there in their best regalia.

The festivities began with a grand march, thus giving everyone a chance to "show off" before the judges. Myrtle Oen received the prize for the best dressed girl. Robert Erickson was the best dressed boy at the party. Victor Erickson and Melvin Engelstad, representing the Gold-dust Twins, were a very attractive couple. Allan Sorenson and Nomie Peterson were the most comical people present.

After the lunch of ice cream and cake negroes danced with Japs, while Puritans danced with Chinamen, thus showing the effect of Uncle Sam's mighty melting pot. Confettii and serpentine added to the festive appearance of the room while the tag dance gave variety to the scene.

The high school students feel grateful to Miss Maude Johnson who for three years has taken the responsibility, and done most of the work for these annual masquerades.

By uniting we stand, by dividing we fall.

Between The Lines

Scene—Presumably a Caesar study period.

"When he had noticed these things"—say, Ruth, why weren't you over to Johnson's last night? We had a great time and the candy turned out fine. Was the show very good?—"Having called together the council"—Did you hear that we were going to have High School dances about once a month later on? Esther told me about it.—"With the centurions of this council"—Hasn't been bad so far, has it? I wonder if Cicero is hard. I don't think I'll take it. Where is our place?—First, because they should think that must be known by them"—this sounds horrible—"either in what part they are being led"—Did you like Margaret's dress—the one she had on at the High School dance? It's awfully cute—bright red; she looks very sweet in it.—"And by what plan"—Don't you just love the long skirts, Ruth? Of course, I don't fancy 'em for school dresses, but—"He said Ariovistus had caught the"—I s'pose you had a perfectly wonderful time at the masquerade. I'm sure I did. Your costume was adorable. Why, there's the bell and we're not half thru'. I can't understand how Ethel gets her's done in one period.—"Ariovistus had sought the friendship of the Roman people." Oh, I wish I hadn't taken Caesar!

LUCILLE ROARK

If you would teach truth you must be true yourself.

Rose: "When I'm stuck you must tell me."
Esther: "Yes."
Rose: (trying to recite) "Tell me."
Esther: "You'r stuck."

Mrs. Brevig: "A fool can ask more questions than a wise man can answer."
Emmet: "No wonder so many of us flunk."

Maxine: "What's all the hurry Allan?"
Allan: "Mr. Rapacz is overcome by gas!"
Maxine: "Going for the doctor?"
Allan "Nope, more gas."

Senior: "Why did the salt shaker?"
Sophomore: "Because he saw the spoon holder."

That which we acquire with most difficulty we retain the longest.

Social For Y. M. C. A.

(To be held on Lincoln's Birthday)

Lincoln's birthday is the day set for the great event. What great event? Why, the indoor picinic. Where? The auditorium. When? Monday evening. Time? Eight o'clock. How much? A basket of goodies brought by each and every girl which will be auctioned off to the highest bidder. Why? For the benefit of every citizen of Thief River Falls, who will then be the proud possessors of a well equipped Y. M. C. A. hall.

As the library board has kindly consented to permit our using the library basement for a hall, we must make use of this grand opportunity by turning out to help raise the proceeds which will be used for equipment for the Y. M. C. A.

Everybody is welcome to participate in the old fashioned games and stunts which will be the features of the evening. This basket social is especially put on for the High school boys who will receive the benefits of this organization. Therefore, you, and you, and you, yes everyone of you boys should come to this social and have a good time.

As you all know, this is the first attempt made in this city to organize a Y. M. C. A. We want it to be a great success, and everyone of you for absolutely everybody is invited, can help make it one too, if you'll only come, come, come, and share in the "fun-to-be" next Monday evening at the auditorium.

"Fortune Hunter," To Be Given by Prof. Cochrane At Auditorium Feb. 16

Friday evening, February 16, Prof. I. C. Cochran, the noted reader of Carleton College will be in the city to read the delightful comedy, "The Fortune Hunter." Professor Cochran is one of the foremost dramatic readers of the country. He has read "The Fortune Hunter" to many American audiences as well as to the men in the battlefields of Europe. 'The Fortune Hunter' is a fascinating story of a wayward youth who found himself." It is full of witty sayings and amusing situations which cause any audience to go from one extreme of emotion to another. Beneath the wit and humor there is a wholesome moral lesson.

Professor Cochran is being brought to Thief River Falls in order that the four hundred students of our high school may have the pleasure of hearing at least one good reading during the year.

The main object in securing Prof. Cochran is to entertain. The price of admission will be within the reach of every student. The public is also cordially invited to take this opportunity of the season to enjoy one of the most popular readings on the American stage. Save the date—February 16.

I have never looked up my family tree, but I know that I'm the sap.

(Opening for the Jokesep't.)
If you don't like these jokes
And their dryness make you groan;
Just call around occasionally,
With some good ones of your own.
—Exchange.

Wise boy: Why didn't they play cards on the Ark?
Bright friend: Because Noah stood on the deck.

Miss Miller: "Are you dining anywhere Sunday?"
Mr. Powley: (scenting an invite) "Why no."
Miss Miller: "My, won't you be hungry Monday?"

Pinkie: "I want a girl that is easily pleased."
Allan: "Don't worry, that's the kind you'll get."

Miss Johnson: "How do you like my shoes?"
Mr. Harner: "Immense!"

Coach MacFarlane: "Did you take a shower bath?"
Freshie: "Why, n-n-n-no sir, is there one missing?"

A man who can not find satisfaction in himself will not find it elsewhere.

BASKETEERS MEET DEFEAT AT WARREN

Inability to Connect Results in Short End of 23-11 Score for Thief River Falls

The basket ball game played on the Warren floor Friday, Feb. 2 proved disastrous to our boys. The team was handicapped by playing in a strange gymnassium and it seemed that they could not make baskets. The Warren players have greatly improved since their last encounter with the Thief River Falls team. Boordson starred for the opposing team, making five field goals, most of them long and difficult.

The score at the end of the first half was 13 to 5 in favor of Warren. Each team nearly doubled their score during the last half. The game ended with a score of 23 to 11, Warren still in the lead.

The line-up was as follows:

Thief River Falls		Warren
C. Sorenson	L F	Anderson
Schutt	R F	Fuller
LaBree	C	Quistgard
S. Sorenson	L G	Hjelle
Herron	R G	Boordson

Summary: Field goals, Thief River Falls; C Sorenson 2, Schutt 1, Herron 1. Warren; Fuller 4, Boordson 5, Anderson 1, Quistgard 1. Foul goals; Thief River Falls; C. Sorenson 3. Warren; Fuller 1.

Grade Essays Entered In Crookston Contests

A great deal of interest has been shown in an essay contest which is to be held in connection with the Winter shows at the N. W. School of Agriculture and in which pupils of the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades of our schools have participated. A great many excellent essays have been written, but only the best two from each grade from each school can be entered for competition.

The following are the local winners and their compositions have been sent in for district competition: Eighth grade, Lester Rolland and Dorothy Shirley; Seventh grade, Harold Will and Gladys Weeks; Sixth grade, Washington, Thea Saugen and Lucy Warner; Sixth grade, Northrop, Edythe Morre nd Carl Hagen.

A Wise Parody

Three score and ten years ago our school board brought forth in this city, new teachers conceived in knowledge and assigned to give the same to the students of Thief River Falls. Now we are engaged in a period of study, judging whether our schools or any schools so conceived and so dedicated can long endure. We are met to receive knowledge in this school. We have come to be educated in Lincoln High as a final preparation for us who wish to secure this thing that the schools might live. we do this. But in a larger sense we It is altogether fitting and proper that cannot appreciate, we cannot estimate, we know not the value of the teachings. The learned teachers, willing and kind, who struggle here, give learning far above our poor power to grasp it. The world will always note and long consider what we learn here. It is for us, the students rather to be devoted to our ever-unfinished work which they, who have gone before us, have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from those honored teachers, we take increased devotion to that work for which they gave their last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these teachers have not worked in vain; that these schools shall have a new birth of education, and that education of the people, for the people, and by the people shall not perish from Thief River Falls.

Rev. Gerlinger Addresses Parent-Teachers' Meeting

On Monday evening the Parent-Teachers association held a very interesting meeting in the high school auditorium. Both the president and first vice president being absent, Mrs. Arnold, the second vice president, conducted the meeting.

The High School Boy's Glee club sang several numbers, after which the meeting was formally opened. At the conclusion of the business session, Miss Holmes favored the members with a vocal solo.

The address of the evening on the subject of "The Moral Safe Guards of Education" was given by Rev. Gerlinger. He cited the need of more spiritual education in the lives of our young people. Several plans for meeting this deficiency were suggested and discussed. It was decided not to take definite action until the next meeting.

At the conclusion of the program coffee and doughnuts were served by some of the ladies of the association.

H. S. Orchestra Pleases In First Appearance

On Wednesday, January 31, the High School Orchestra appeared for the first time this year. The personnel of this year's orchestra is somewhat changed, as six of last year's members graduated; consequently most of the members are new. However, even with that handicapp they were able to give us a very splendid concert.

The program was opened with a March. After that they played a Gavotte, "Old Colonial Days," and "Old South Melodies." They also played a march at dismissal. The high school hope to have the pleasure of having the orchestra entertain again in the near future.

DEBATERS LOSE IN CROOKSON CONTEST

Last Rebuttal Speech Wins Decision for Rivals in Spirited Verbal Battle

Lincoln high school was eliminated in the semi-finals of the district, in the race for the state high school debating championship, by losing to Crookston in a close contest there Saturday

The Lincolnites, supporting the negative of the state question, "Resolved that the Kansas Type of Industrial Court of Adjudication should be established in the state of Minnesota" brought forth their arguments in a clearer and more concise manner than did the victors; but the advantage of the affirmative, in having the last word in rebuttal, overcame the superiority of the Lincoln debaters in constructive speeches, and resulted in the unanimous verdict.

In the opinion of the judges, the debate was an excellent one. Crookston's victory was not by any means a walkaway, but the result of the little extra effort needed to gain the decision.

In the entire district, from Warroad to Fergus Falls, and east to Bemidji, there are now but two teams left in the race; these are Crookston and Detroit.

In former years the Crookstonites have gone far in the race, several times winning, or nearly winning, the state championship. Two years ago when Thief River Falls also lost unanimously to them, Crookston went on to the championship. It is to be hoped that they do as well this year. Lincoln High harbors no ill will, having been fairly beaten in a fair contest. It would be a source of gratification to the entire northwest to have Crookston "bring home the bacon" to this district.

He who holds the ladder is as bad as the thief.

The Village Student

Under the spreading chestnut tree
The truant student lies;
The boy, a lazy lad is he
With drooping, dreamy eyes;
Here, resting in the pleasant shade,
He gazes at the skies.

His skinny face abundantly
Adorned with freckles brown;
A grin o'erspreads his countenance,
He knows not how to frown;
His curly lock of crimson serve
His empty dome for crown.

Week in, week out, from nine till four
He hears the teacher blow,
He gets the blame and punishment
For what he does not know,
And, often, after school remains
Until the sun is low.

The children, leaving after school
Look back thru the open door,
They see the tears come to his eyes
(He's been kept in before.)
He sees the teacher grasp the rule
And knows what is in store.

He goes to school at nine o'clock
And sits among the boys;
He hears the teacher rasp and rave
Gee! How he hates that voice!
But when the bell rings out for noon
It makes his heart rejoice.

The springtime sends a hazy dream
To spread o'er books and charts,
He hears the call of truancy,
In deep surprise he starts
And then he gathers all his nerve
And to the woods departs.

Then, under the spreading chestnut tree,
In perfect peace he lies
He's care-free now, no trouble knows;
No tears come to his eyes.
No schoolroom close, no teacher there,
It must be Paradise!

May God forgive him for his sin
And fill his heart with joy,
And God forgive the teacher who
His pleasure does destroy—
And God forgive the grown-up man
Who forgets he's been a boy

[illegible] School Notes

[illegible] elected new officers, the present ones being Amelia Muldoon, president; Norman Lund, vice president; Alf Jorstad, secretary and Margaret Muldoon, treasurer. We also have three committees, one on each of the following: programs, physical training, and health and sanitation. Each morning every child is examined by the health board and if he is not perfect he is sent to the wash room where he is taken care of.

We had our first newspaper the last day before Christmas vacation; Mildred Jorstad was editor. It was very interesting. Since then we elect a new editor every Friday.

On November twenty-fourth we gave a program in which the whole school took part. After the program, lunches were served for 25c a plate to raise funds with which to purchase our oil stove. We received it by New Years. It is used for hot lunches for the children. Fve families took part and each serve their turn. Some of the dishes that have been served are: different kinds of soups, cocoa, beans and tomatoes.

We have debating every Friday, which we enjoy very much, the subjects we have debated are, "Why we should have hot lunhces in rural schools," and "Why we can have more fun in summer than in winter." Our present topic is, "Why rural school children should have more education." The two teams are: the affirmative, Norman Lund, Alf Jorstad, Margaret Muldoon, Josephine Nabben, and the negative are Angeline Muldoon, Agnes and Mildred Jorstad and Mrs. Mollner. This topic was worked out by the eighth grade composition class.

MRS. F. J. MOLLNER, Teacher.

St. Hilaire Pioneer Dies

The St. Hilaire Spectator last week chronicled the death of Gustaf Johnson, one of the pioneers of that vicinity and well known in this community:

"Gustaf Johnson, one of the pioneers of St. Hilaire, passed away last Saturday morning, Jan. 27, at the home of his son Oscar Johnson.

Deceased, who was over 80 years of age, was injured last fall, and that, together with his advanced age, hastened his death. He was confined to his bed for several months so death came as a relief to the sufferer.

"To mourn his death are nine children, Oscar, with whom he made his home; Mrs. A. P. Sandberg of St. Hilaire; Mr. Erickson of Plummer; Mrs. F. McCosh of Duluth; Anna and Amanda of Duluth; John and Albert of St. Paul; and Severt of Montana. His wife preceeded him in death about ten years ago.

"Funeral services were held from the home and the Swedish Lutheran church Wednesday. A large circle of friends of the bereaved family extend their sympathy."

Sheep-Raising Spurred by Advancing Prices

"The farmer who has the equipment and feeds at hand should be encouraged in raising lambs," says Phil A. Anderson of the animal husbandry division, University of Minnesota. "But farmers entering this field should go slowly at first and study the requirements very thoroughly," he adds.

Mr. Anderson makes the foregoing statement in view of the greatly increased interest exhibited in sheep production the last few months, which has been brought about by advancing prices for wool, a steady lamb market, and good profits made in feeding lambs during 1921-1922.

The protection offered by the new tariff has, of course, greatly stimulated the price. Stocks of wool, which accumulated during the war and immediately after, have now been converted into merchandise. Manufacturers short of mill supplies and eager to keep the mills going have become anxious to buy, causing the price to go up.

"Prices of lambs have been at $12 to $15 per 100 pounds for a long time with a variation of $2 to $2.50 for shorn lambs," says Professor Anderson. "Such prices should be an inducement for many farmers to have flocks of 25 to 35 ewes or more which will consume green food perhaps otherwise wasted and convert it into a marketable product. With wool and market stock high in price, because of a decrease in the number of sheep in the United States and the action of the new protective tariff, our sheep breeders can surely compete with the breeders of other countries."

This should prove of encouraging interest to Pennington county farmers who contemplate raising sheep as this is a period when the farmer must look for something that will warrant the most certain returns. The foregoing statements give a view to the situation in general and the possibilities of the industry at the present time.

Orchard and Garden Notes
(February 8 to 15)

Do not let moist snow remain on evergreen trees longer than can be helped, for the branches are likely to be broken down by it.

Poison spray materials are apt to be scarce and high priced this year, according to reports. Better have them purchased early.

The Zumbra cherry may be kept dwarf in bush form and make a good plant for the border. Its flowers and fruit are both ornamental.

Pansies and other early flowering annuals may be sown now. Some [illegible] sown now will make blooming plants this year.

Cuttings of coleus and other bedding plants may be sown now. Chrysanthemum cuttings taken now will give large plants for fall blooming.

BOY FREEZES FEET IN STORM FRIDAY

Leonard Larson, 14, Of Hickory, Suffers Frozen Feet While Skiing In Severe Storm

Leonard Larson, the fourteen year old son of John Larson of Hickory township, was brought to Thief River Falls last Saturday evening for medical attention, having both feet frozen quite badly.

The young lad together with his younger brother went on skiis to Wanke about six miles away, last Friday during the storm, and on their return they were forced to stop at a farm-house about two miles from their home owing to the severe cold. Upon arriving at the house the older boy felt something wrong with his feet and rubbed them with snow but of little avail, as they were so severely frozen that they were turning black in color. The younger brother did not suffer except for freezing his face somewhat.

The two boys stayed at the place of refuge that night and the next day their father came to get them, but it was found that Leonard had to be given medical care immediately. He was taken to this city Saturday evening and entered the Swedenburg-Bowers hospital, where he is now confined. The attending physician does not think that it will be necessary to amputate any of his feet but the injury may necessitate the removal of some of his toes. The boy is resting easily and does not appear to suffer much pain as a result of the misfortune.

Fire Department Petition

A petition was circulated this week by Fire Chief Paul Midderigh and signed by the members of the fire department and citizens of Thief River Falls, requesting that Senator C. L. Hansen, and Representatives Marius Waldal and Walter E. Day support certain measures pertaining to fire departments.

The legislative committee by instructions of the past two conventions of firemen had the following bills introduced in the present session of the Minnesota State Legislature. A bill relating to an increase in the number of Trustees of Relief associations in cities, towns, and villages with a population under 50,000. This bill has already received favorable consideration by the committee and is now on general orders ready for passage.

The second measures duly considered and endorsed by the convention at International Falls in 1921 relates to state aid for disabled volunteer firemen, their widows and orphans.

The local department particularly stressed on the passage of the latter measure. The petition was forwarded to Senator Hansen and Representatives Waldal and Day.

S., of Chicago, member board of lectures of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, will give a free lecture at the society's church in Thief River Falls, on Monday evening, Feb. 12, to which the public is cordially invited. He is a forceful speaker on a subject with which comparatively few are acquainted and an evening spent in his company is said to be both entertaining and instructive.

Returns From Norway

Annar Myhre, well known as formerly a member of the Skratthult company of entertainers, arrived in this city Saturday from Trondhjem, Norway, where he spent the past few months visiting at his parental home. Mr. Myhre will remain in Thief River Falls for a while and during his stay is making his home with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Prytz. Mr. Myhre states that conditions in Norway are much better at present than for some time hence, and that the present outlook is quite favorable. He was accompanied by Reidulf Soelsen from Trondhjem, who after spending a few days as guest at the Prytz home, left for Tacoma, Wash. to live with an uncle who resides there.

Dahlen underwent a serious operation at the Physicians hospital last Monday morning when his right leg was operated on for an abscess which had formed between the muscle and the bone. The infection was in the upper portion of the limb, in the thick part of the muscle, and was very painful. He is now reported to be much improved and will be able to leave the hospital within a few days.

Delbert Kron And Gordon Hunt Take Spelling Honors

Delbert Kron and Gordon Hunt were declared winners at the Pennington county spelling contest which took place at the court house last Friday afternoon. Kron was awarded first place, receiving a total of 96 per cent in the complete contest and Hunt second, the latter having a total of 93 1-3 per cent, and were given the opportunity to represent Pennington county at the Red River Valley contest held at Crookston Monday during the winter shows. Both the winners of the local contest reside near Thief River Falls.

All of the eleven sections of the county were represented Friday, altho in some instances both contestants from each section did not take part. There were 17 contestants present, only students from the rural schools being eligible.

The event was conducted by Ole R. Baude, county superintendent of schools, the judges being Rev. Chas. Gerlinger, J. J. McCann and Fred D. Lorentson. The contest showed that splendid effort had been put forth by the various schools, each one trying to have a winning representative, and the majority of those taking part received high grades.

The names of those who partook in the contest Friday, according to the report submitted by the judges are as follows:

Alpha Gaulen, 75 35-39; Lora Larson, 87 1-3; Elenor Swanson, 78 1-3; Harold Anderson, 90 1-6; Arnold Aakre, 90; Anna Rindahl, 84 9-10; Halvor Sannes, 81; Geo. Gunderson, 85½; Oscar Odegaard, 69 28-33; Selma Bjornaran, 76; Emma Letness, 82 4-7; Delbert Kron, 96; Gertrude Swanson, 74 8-21; Chester Wilson, 90 1-6; Manvil Gunderson, 91 6-12; Gordon Hunt, 93 1-3 and Lillian Loyland 67½.

The winner of the tenth annual meet at Crookston Monday was Margaret Reese, district 2, Polk county, who passed the various parts of the contest with a total of 100 per cent. Close seconds came Mabel Bernstrom, district 16, also of Polk county, and Eleanor Johanneck of Red Lake county, who tied for that place, both having a final standing of 99 per cent. The banner was awarded the Kittson county team which had an average of 97 7-8 per cent, the highest average in the district. The spelling ability of the contestants was said to have been exceptionally good this year.

Rev. Kreidt Announces Services at Auditorium

Following the custom inaugurated last year, Rev. Emil H. Kreidt of St. John's Lutheran church has arranged for a series of six sermons on Christian Truth. The services last year were held in the Trinity Lutheran church. The active interest of the people at large and the favorable comments by not a few encouraged Pastor Kreidt to continue the plan and to expand it. He has secured the city auditorium as the place of meeting, and the services of very capable men.

The sermons this year will present the general theme, "The Practical Value of Christianity for Man." Among the speakers engaged, is Rev. H. F. Buegel of Grand Forks, N. D. The Rev. Buegel is an elderly man, tried and not found wanting, by the many years of his active ministry. He now holds the responsible office of mission director in the North Dakota and Montana district. Rev. Buegel will preach the first sermon Feb. 21.

Rev. H. A. Nuoffer of Cass Lake has consented to preach the third sermon. On repeated occasions the Rev. Nuoffer has shown himself a capable preacher, well able to present his theme and to hold the interest of his audience. Two years ago he was honored with the office of superintendent for the North Park Region Lutheran congregations.

Pastor Kreidt feels especially fortunate in securing the serices of Rev. Erdman Frenk of Bemidji, one of the most brilliant of the young pastors in this part of the state. While a student at Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo., Rev. Frenk was engaged to lecture at Washington University on "Psychology of the New Testament." Thus he should give an instructive and interesting portrait of "Jesus Christ the Savior."

With the other speakers, who have already preached to large and attentive audiences in Thief River Falls, Pastor Kreidt feels that his Lenten Services have made a large step forward. All the services, naturally, will be held in the English language. The public is cordially invited to attend these services. Detailed announcements will be made at the proper time through the local papers.

The Lenten Season commemorating the Great Passion of Jesus Christ, has for ages been looked upon as a call to mankind to "get closer to God." These sermons with their inspiring truths, presented by men at home in their topic and in the language as well will help you.

Valley Mission Covenant Ends Quarterly Session

The ministers of the Red River Valley Mission Covenant closed their quarterly meetings on Feb. 3 after having been in session since Jan. 30. There was a very good attendance, every member of the organization being present. The meetings were held at the Swedish Mission church with three sessions a day. Monday was devoted to the business affairs of the covenant and taken up with discussions pertaining to the welfare of the organization.

The conference sermon was delivered by Rev. C. V. Olson of Teen, Minn., who took for his text Acts 8:26-40 dealing with the obedience of Philip to the voice of God; the route he was to pursue and the grand results of his obedience. The evening meetings were exclusively evangelistic and expository. The field missionaries and ministers officiated at these meetings. President O. J. Lundell of the Ministers' association, presided.

The Young Peoples' Covenant of the Red River Valley held their midwinter rally on Sunday. The meeting was well attended, there being representatives present from practically the entire field.

Fire Dept. Called Twice Last Week

The fire department was called out twice the latter part of the week, both calls being made by neighbors discovering flames issuing from the chimneys of the houses where the firemen were summoned. Thursday evening the citizens were aroused a while after supper when the firemen came to aid at J. J. Farr's building, but the blaze being only a minor chimney fire, was soon extinguished. The second fire was at the home of John Gullingsrud Friday evening, which was also put out without any difficulty. There were no damages.

New Law Makes Giving Of False News Misdemeanor

Better be careful, practical jokers and malicious persons who amuse themselves by sending false notices of weddings, engagements or other "events" to newspapers will run foul of a new law signed by Governor Preus. It is a brief and simple measure. Under it, any one "wilfully, knowingly and maliciously" giving to a newspaper a false statement about any person or corporation is guilty of a misdemeanor. The law takes effect immediately.

It is almost identical with a New York law. The bill passed the senate unanimously, and after some debate in the house passed there by 91 votes to 6. Instances where innocent people have been caused serious annoyance and humiliation by apparently harmless notices sent to newspapers were cited in support of the bill. It does not apply to cases where information is given in good faith but turns out to be erroneous. The act must be "wilfull and malicious."

SEMI FINAL DEBATE WON BY CROOKSTON

Local High School Team Defeated In Contest Saturday By 3-0 Decision

The representatives of the local high school debating team met defeat at Crookston last Saturday when they met the trio from the queen city in a hot verbal combat, thus losing the chance for district honors. The Crookston Times gave the following account of the contest in last Monday's issue:

"Central high school went another notch towards the district championship in debate Saturday evening when they won a closely contested argument from the Thief River High team at the high school assembly. All three judges decided in favor of the local school debaters. Glen Sanberg, Norman Hagen and Kenneth Robbins, upholding the affirmative side of the state debating league question, "Resolved, That the Kansas type of industrial court of adjudication be adopted in Minnesota," proved to be better debaters than Herbert Johnson, Marion Hilden and Rose Costello of Thief River Falls. Each team had won two debates previous to Saturday.

The judges of the debate, J. A. Taylor, U. of North Dakota, Prin. Lehman, Grand Forks, and Supt. Proxel, Forston, stated that it was of very high caliber for high schools and that it was very closely contested. The local team won on the strength of its rebuttal speeches, Kenneth Robbins being exceptionally forceful and convincing in his second talk. Glen Sanberg delivered an excellent, constructive speech, while Norman Hagen delivered a good rebuttal talk.

The Thief River Falls debaters were the best debaters the local team has met thus far this season. Every one of the three debaters presented excellent constructive speeches and good rebuttals, Herbert Johnson being especially adept at giving a debate argument. The fine spirit and sportsmanship of the visiting team was commented on by the local school authorities.

The next debate, which will decide the district championship, will be held sometime next week, probably on Friday. Detroit and Crookston remain in the running for the title and arrangements will be made today between the authorities of these schools for the debate."

Haugan Will Not Be Here Sunday

B. B. Haugan, well known Norwegian speaker, who was scheduled to appear at the Sons of Norway hall next Sunday, will not be able to be in Thief River Falls until a later date, according to a message received by the local committee this week.

Faces Charges Of Default At District Court Term

E. J. Gilmet, a farmer east of Thief River Falls, was brought before Judge N. W. Tarrant in municipal court last week on charges of misrepresentation in a deal made with J. W. McGinty, who made the complaint. McGinty alleges that last October Gilmet bought six heads of horses and other property to the amount of $320 which was to be paid with 72 cords of wood which the latter was supposed to have at Salol. Plaintiff, however, charges that he has not received the wood or payment for the horses, and demands adjustment. Following a hearing Jan. 29, Judge Tarrant bound Gilmet over to the next term of district court which convens next week. He was placed under a $500 bond which was furnished. The arrest was made by Sheriff Ihle.

Famous Dramatic Reader At Lincoln Auditorium

Prof. I. M. Cochran of Carlson college, Northfield, will read Winchell Smith's "Fortune Hunter" at the high school auditorium on Friday evening, Feb. 16, under the auspices of the school. There will be an advance sale of tickets at the usual place.

Prof. Cochran is one of the most delightful readers in the West and "The Fortune Hunter" is one of his best selections. It is the fascinating story of a wayward youth who found himself. The story abounds in witty sayings and amusing situations and carries the audience from one extreme of laughter to the other. Beneath all the wit and humor, lies a sound moral and a wholesome lesson. It has been called the best American comedy ever written. Prof. Cochran has appeared in many of the larger mid-western cities and everywhere the press has given him unstinted praise. He appeared as an entertainer before the soldiers of the Eighth infantry in France and has the highest recommendations from army officers as well as the men in the ranks. He is a wonderful interpreter of character and an artist to his finger tips.

No Lack of Evidence in Booze Raid in Bemidji

One of the largest hauls of moonshine liquor and the equipment for making same ever reported in Northern Minnesota was made by Beltrami county authorities when the house occupied by Mike McCrehin at Bemidji was raided last week. The inventory included one 20 gallon still complete 265 gallons of mash, six jugs of moonshine booze, a copper kettle containing an additional four gallons, one glass bowl containing two gallons and two 15 gallon kegs full of the stuff. Besides there was a large quantity of mash.

Mr. Crehin is reported to have occupied the place only two months.

Aged Bachelor Found Dead

According to a report to County Coroner H. N. McKee of Bemidji last week, a man by the name of George Givans, about 65 years of age, was found dead in his house about two miles northeast of Pinewood Thursday, Feb. 1. The deceased is reported to have been living alone, and the body was found by neighbors investigating his non-appearance.

Bagley Civil War Veteran Dies at Age of 105 Years

John Anderson, a civil war veteran, 105 years and 10 months of age, passed away Monday, Feb. 5 at the home of his son, George W. Anderson, in the town of Holst near Bagley. Mr. Anderson was born in Norway and came to this country when but a small boy. He served four years in the Civil War.

He retained full mentality up to within a few minutes of his death, which is attributed to old age and a severe cold which he contracted about a week ago.

He leaves five children ranging in age from 60 to 75 years, 54 grandchildren and 25 great-grand children. His oldest daughter, if still living would be 82 years old, according to the family Bible record.

Income Tax Facts

The revenue act of 1921 provides that an income tax return shall be filed by every person, married or single, whose gross income for the year 1922 was $5,000 or more. Broadly speaking, gross income includes all income received by the taxpayer during the year from salary or wages, or from "business, trade, profession or vocation," dealing in property, or the transaction of any business carried on for profit. Net income, upon which the tax is assessed, is gross income less certain specified deductions for business expenses, losses, bad debts, taxes, contributions, etc.

Among the most important items in the returns of many taxpayers are the deductions for business expenses. In the case of a storekeeper, they include a reasonable allowance for salaries paid employees, amounts spent for advertising, premiums for insurance against fire or other business losses, the cost of water, light, heat, and fuel used in his place of business, drayage and freight bills.

A professional man, doctor or lawyer, may claim as deductions the cost of supplies used in the practice of his profession, expenses paid in the operation and repair of an automobile used in making professional calls, dues to professional societies, subscriptions to professional journals, office rent, and the cost of fuel, light heat and water used in his office, and the hire of assistants.

The farmer may deduct all amounts paid in the production, harvesting and marketing of crops, including labor, cost of seed and fertilizer purchased, cost of minor repairs to farm buildings (other than the dwelling, which is personal expense) and cost of small tools used up in the course of a year or two. Rent paid for a farm also is an allowance deduction.

Deduction of personal or living expenses such as rent paid for a dwelling, hire of domestic servants, education of children, etc., is expressly disallowed by the revenue act.

BABCOCK WILL TALK TO RADIO AUDIENCE

Highway Executive to Tell Story of Good Roads Plan Friday Night Thru WLAG

Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, will talk on the Minnesota highway program at 6:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 9, at WLAG radio station in the Oak Grove hotel, Minneapolis.

The highway commissioner will explain the proposed bond plan which he contends will give the public the use of more good roads each year during the next twenty years without any increase in automobile or road taxes. He will review the state good roads plan and results secured during the 20 months it has been in full operation.

Special interest centers in the good roads program at this time, its friends say, because the bond proposals are among the most important matters awaiting attention in the state legislature.

Deputy Collector Will Help Income Tax Payers

The numerous inquires at the Revenue Office relative to the liability of taxpayers for filing income tax returns have indicated that there is still considerable doubt in the mind of the average individual as to his status, according to L. M. Willcuts, Collector of Internal Revenue, in a statement today.

Mr. Willcuts believes that the majority of taxpayers can satisfy themselves as to their liability by first determining their status as a single or married person.

A single person is an unmarried person, a widow, or widower, or married person living apart from husband or wife on the last day of the taxable year. By living apart is meant living apart by mutual consent, not because one of the parties is temporarily absent or forced through sickness to reside at a hospital or asylum. Divorcees are classified as single persons.

A married person is one living with husband or wife on the last day of the taxable year. In respect to the taxable year for the twelve months of 1922 a person married on December 30th, 1922, would be married person while a person separated by death or divorce from his or her legal mate on December 30th would be a single person.

The liability for filing returns is based on the amount of net income for the year without taking into consideration the amount of personal exemption and credits for dependents.

A single person should file when the net income is $1,000.00 or more and a married person when the combined net income of husband and wife is $2,000 or more.

Any individual with a gross income of $5,000.00 or more must file a return, or when the combined gross income of husband and wife is $5,000 or more a return must be filed.

Personal expenses such as doctor bills, streetcar fare to work, clothing and the like, are not deductible from gross income in arriving at the net income subject to tax.

Taxpayers who are in doubt are urged to call at a Revenue Office or write to the Collector of Internal Revenue, St. Paul, Minn.

Many are now taking advantage of the assistance offered and are discharging their liability before the March rush.

Attending Woman's Clubs Conference

Mrs. E. W. Froehlich is this week in the cities for the purpose of attending the mid-winter conference of the Minnesota Federation of Woman's clubs, which is being held this week. Mrs. Froehlich is chairman of the endowment committee, which had as its aim this year the raising of a $10,000 endowment fund for the maintenance of the federation. The quota was passed by a considerable margin, greatly due to the efforts of Mrs. Froehlich as chairman of the committee. She is expected to return the latter part of this week.

And the car owner as he pays his license tax, can sing: "Year by year it doth appear that the roads are getting better and better."—Little Falls Daily Transcript.

Nearly 50,000 Minnesota automobiles have been improved recently with new license plates. January motor vehicle tax collections totalled $1,047,675 and the good roads boosters point out that the money is coming back with more in the form of gasoline, tire and upkeep savings. Now is the time to subscribe.—Ex.

Caught in Gasoline Engine

Napoleon Payment, aged 16, was brought to a Thief River Falls hospital from Brooks last Tuesday, having had the misfortune of getting his coat caught in the gasoline engine which he was operating, with the result that his arm was twisted in such a way as to fracture his elbow. An X-ray taken of the fractured limb showed that a piece of the elbow was broken off, and the young man will have to remain at the hospital for some time. It is expected that he will recover completely, altho there is a danger of the arm becoming partly stiff.

Buried Under Tank of Grain

To be buried beneath an overturned load of grain, was the unpleasant experience of Arthur Carlson, 16-year old son of C. J. Carlson, a farmer living near Stephen.

The young man was struck on the head by the grain tank as he was walking alongside of it when it overturned at a rough place in the road. He was buried under the load of grain and was unconscious when found a few minutes later by his father, who was also hauling grain and was following close behind.

The injured lad was taken to a nearby farm house and given aid. He has now completely recovered from his unusual experience.

PETITION FOR RED LAKE RIVER IMPROVEMENT DENIED

THE SAPERO CO. STORE SOLD TO A. S. LIEBERMAN

Prominent Business Man of This City Takes Over Well-Known Establishment

Leaves at Once For the East to Select New Stock and See to Its Shipment

New Goods Will Be On Display In Time To Meet the Early Spring Demand

A business deal of more than ordinary importance, particularly to the women of this section was consummated this week when Albert S. Lieberman purchased the business of The Sapero Company in the Citizens bank building. This is one of the leading stores in this part of Minnesota handling women's goods exclusively and the news that it has fallen under the capable management of Mr. Lieberman will be a source of satisfaction to the ladies who have until very recently made the store their supply headquarters when the best and latest in wearing apparel was under consideration.

Mr. Lieberman has also taken over the lease of the present Sapero quarters and will continue the business at that location. A number of changes are contemplated, the addition of a complete ladies' shoe department being one of them. Alterations in the interior of the store will include the erection of a balcony at the rear which will be equiped as a reading and rest room such as will appeal to the women as a convenient place for making their headquarters when in the city. There is ample space for this addition and it will no doubt prove popular from the outset.

On Monday evening Mr. Lieberman left for Chicago and the Eastern markets for the purpose of personally selecting the stock for the spring and summer trade. This will begin to arrive in a few days and will be ready for display in time to meet the spring demand. Making the selections at this time will insure the ladies of Thief River Falls being shown the very latest things for spring wear, a fact that will no doubt be greatly appreciated. The stock at present in the store will be rearranged for sale and priced for early disposal in order that room may be made for the new goods.

Mrs. Lieberman, who before her marriage was connected with some of the largest and best stores in the state will be in actual charge of the buying and is at present accompanying Mr. Lieberman on his trip.

No time will be lost in getting the newgoods before the public even though it shall prove necessary to postpone the store changes until later on.

The changing of this establishment into a general dry goods as well as ready-to-wear establishment is under consideration, but whether or not this will at once be undertaken will not be known until the return of Mr. and Mrs. Lieberman from the East.

C. S. Sapero, manager of the corporation's store at Thief River Falls, will leave shortly for the iron range where he will become associated with either the Hibbing or Chisholm store.

County Receives $21,000 Under Babcock Road Law

Pennington county has been reimbursed to the extent of $21,101.19 by the state highway department for work done on state projects during the years 1921-22, according to Highway Engineer B. F. Umland. Of this sum $18,848.42 went for construction and upkeep of roads and $2,252.77 for culverts on the Jefferson Highway.

Minnesota counties claiming refundments and reimbursements under the Babcock good roads plan have been paid $887,866.22 to date from receipts from 1921 and 1922 automobile taxes, it was officially announced this week.

The statement discredits reports that the trunk highway financing plan is proving inadequate. Highway officials said that all other payments will be made when due, if temporary loans of highway funds for other state purposes, authorized by the legislature, are promptly paid.

Refundments are enabling some counties to make more extensive improvements on local roads, it is reported, while others are using the refunds to reduce local taxes for road and bridge purposes.

The Lenten Season Is On; Easter Falls On April 1

Yesterday was Ash Wednesday, the beginning of the lenten season, and for 40 days, or until Easter, which this year falls on April 1; all festivities and gaities will be strictly taboo, particularly among people belonging to the Catholic and Episcopal churches.

Abstinence is defined in the Catholic church regulations as forbidding on certain days the use of meat, and soups and gravies made of meat, and applies to all who have passed their seventh year. A special indult for the United States forbids meat on all Wednesdays and Fridays, Ember Saturday, Feb 24, and Holy Saturday, until noon, March 31, during the season of lent. It also obligates all those dispensed from fasting, unless also dispensed from abstinence; permits the use of butter, cheese, milk, and eggs; allows dripping, lard, or any condiment or seasoning made from the fat of animals and allows through papal induit to the United States, the use of meat for those serving in the army and navy on all days except Ash Wednesday, Good Friday and the forenoon of Holy Saturday.

BEET RAISERS CAN STILL SECURE THE REQUIRED ACREAGE

Farmers Planting 20 to 25 Acres Will Be Able to Secure Expert Mexican Help

The committee in charge of allotting acreage for sugar beets announces that there is still some available acreage for Thief River Falls and vicinity. Farmers desiring to plant this most valuable crop should secure the application forms immediately and fill them out, sending them to J. J. McCann, secretary, Thief River Falls.

The committee members feel that many farmers have held back due to the fear that they would not be able to secure enough acreage to make it worth their while and that they would be unable to handle the labor in connection with cultivating the beets. Since the visit of the sugar beet officials last week assurances have been given that areas of 20 to 25 acres were to be accepted and that if the farmer will comply with the conditions required he will be able to secure Mexican help to handle the cultivation and weeding. Under these conditions it is strongly urged that every farmer living within four miles of a railroad loading station endeaver to secure some of this sugar beet acreage. If he gives the beets the proper care he will be more than pleased with his profit and also with the condition of his land for future crops. All are advised to get in touch with the committee or Mr. McCann at once and fill out an application blank.

Two Important Meetings For Farmers Announced

Wm. Cavert of the university extension division, will talk at a farmers' meeting in the Commercial club rooms, Thursday, February 15, at 1:30 p.m. Farm record books and institute annals will be given out. Mr. Cavert will also explain the income tax report at that time. Any persons having questions on how to fill these blanks should be present at the meeting.

On February 22, at 1 p.m., R. C. Rose will talk on potato raising and potato diseases in the club rooms.

On Saturday, Feb. 24, N. E. Chapman, poultry specialist, will give a poultry demonstration in the club rooms at 1 p.m.

The annual meeting of the poultry association will also be held at that time.

Odd Fellows Will Erect New Building Next Spring

Young Pine lodge of Odd Fellows is contemplating the erection of a new building this coming summer. A special meeting was held on Tuesday evening to discuss the matter and it was agreed by those attending that the present quarters were no longer adequate to meet the needs of the organization. A committee was appointed to look up available sites and report at a later meeting.

The Odd Fellows lodge is one of the oldest in the city and has lately enjoyed a wonderful growth. Last year the final payment on the brick building at the corner of Second and LaBree was made and the organization is in excellent shape to undertake the proposed construction. A possibility is the addition to the present building, running it back to the alley, but by many this is not favored as it only provides a 25-foot front. It is a good property, however, and will no doubt be retained by the lodge even though it is decided to erect an entirely new building in another location.

Will Build Bridge at Crookston

A contract for the construction of a $47,000 bridge at Crookston was awarded the Minneapolis Bridge company last week, according to reports from the local office. Work on the new structure will be started in April and is to be completed by December.

THIS REGION IN GRASP OF COLD AND BLIZZARD

Worst Storm In 26 Years Breaks Over a Large Section of the United States

Transportation Totally Disrupted, No Trains Entering or Leaving in Two Days

District Court Adjourned Because of Inability of Judge Watts to Reach Here

The rotary snow plow left Minneapolis to open the Soo Line tracks to Winnipeg at 9 o'clock last night. This noon the crew had reached Henning and it is expected they will get to Thief River Falls this evening. The "wheatline" train left here this morning, going as far as Adams, North Dakota. The Duluth train and the twin city local are both expected to arrive tonight and the "flyer" both to and from the twin cities will run on schedule time. No service of any kind has been resumed on the Crookston-Warroad branch of the Great Northern and at this time no information is available as to when the first train will get through.

Northwestern Minnesota has during the past week been in the grasp of the severest snow storm recorded since the winter of 1896. Railroad traffic is totally disrupted but to date no shortage of food supplies or fuel is reported from any of the towns in the neighborhood of Thief River Falls.

Tuesday morning started out with every promise of being a bright winter day. The thermometer stood at several degrees above zero and there was a slight snowfall. About the middle of the forenoon, however, things changed. The wind during the day at times reached blizzard velocity and the temperature fell until 20 below was reached at noon. Reports from the outside were to the effect that the storm was general throughout the Northwest, extending from Chicago to Vancouver and from Winnipeg to the latitude of Mason City, Iowa.

Train Schedule Upset

Not a wheel turned on any railroad in the section covered by the storm with the exception of the Minnesota Northwestern, running from this city to Goodridge. The Great Northern train from Crookston to Warroad, due here at 11:20, managed to get a short distance beyond Red Lake Falls when it was forced to turn back to the later city, where it has since been hung up. Aboard this train was the usual passenger list which included Judge William Watts of Crookston, who was enroute to this city to open a term of court, taking the place of Judge Grindeland, who has been under the doctor's care for some time. Judge Watts was marooned at Red Lake Falls for the day and attempted to get here with team yesterday morning but could find no one who was willing to make the trip. The jurymen were here and ready for business but had to be sent back when Judge Watts announced that an adjournment would be taken to next Monday.

The Great Northern train from Warroad has not left that terminal since the storm broke and no attempt has been made to run the Winnipeg-Minneapolis limited on the Soo. The Duluth line over the latter road as well as the Wheat Line to the West are tied up. No. 109 and 110, the Winnipeg-Minneapolis limited on the Soo have not attempted regular trips for two days. It is reported that the road between this city and Glenwood is in the worse shape it has been at any time since the line was built. Cuts are filled to the top with packed snow and nothing but the rotary plow will be able made a dent in it. An attempt will be made to get out some trains today if weather conditions make it possible.

Radio and telegraph messages are to the effect that other places are situated no better than are Thief River Falls and Northwestern Minnesota. Quite a number of traveling men are snowbound here but look at the matter philosophically, realizing they would be no better off no matter where they happened to be caught. Everywhere the story is the same—the most severe snow storm in many years.

Weather predictions are for clear and colder.

New Directors Chosen by Valley Livestock Ass'n

The annual election of directors of the Red River Valley Livestock association convening at Crookston last week in connection with the Red River Valley Mid-Winter shows, the following results: C. O. Carlson, Erskine was re-elected; Paul Engelstad, replaced Fred Beerbower, and C. L. Spalding replaced L. Lamberson.

The following were chosen members of the advisory board: Marshal county, J. J. St. Clair of Stephen; F. DeRosier, Red Lake Falls; Polk county, M. L. Enright, East Grand Forks; Roseau county, Benjamin Franklin, Roseau; Clay county, E. D. Graft, Glyndon.

A resolution was adopted by the association Pennington county, Harry Woolson of Thief River Falls; Red Lake county, sociation endorsing the recent recommendation of the state livestock sanitary board that the legislature now in session make a liberal appropriation for the promotion of the fight against animal tuberculosis.

BETTER PRICES FOR FARMERS IS AIM OF MEETING FEB. 27-28

Northwest Agricultural Price Stabilization Conference to Be Held In St. Paul

The Northwest Agricultural Price Stabilization conference, the single aim of which is to make the farmers' dollar worth 100 cents when used to buy necessities instead of 67 cents, as at present, will be held in St. Paul, February 27 and 28.

Machinery to make the conference parallel, in point of scope and importance, the Conservation congress of several years ago, was set in motion last week. The movement is fostered by the Farmer-Labor council, organized late in January and composed of two persons from each congressional district in the state, one an outstanding farmer, appointed by J. F. Reed, president of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation and one banker, named by the Minnesota Bankers' association.

Plans to hold a regional conference have the full approval and active support of Governor J. A. O. Preus, in whose office the organization meeting was held. Governor Preus, as chairman, has invited the governors of North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska, Kansas, Wisconsin and Michigan.

In direct charge of arrangements is C. H. March of Litchfield, chairman of the Farmer-Banker council. Associated with him are N. J. Holmberg, who will act as executive secretary, V. E. Anderson, treasurer of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, S. E. Elliott, Farm Bureau News Service director, John Meritt of Aitkin, Geo. H. Richards of Minneapolis, secretary of the Minnesota Bankers' Association and Senator Charles Nelson of Lake Park. Around this executive committee will be built an advisory board which will include Farm Bureau and other farm leaders, bankers, state officials who are concerned with agriculaural progress and business men generally.

In giving the movement his unqualified support, Governor Preus said: "During the last few years, the business of farming has amounted to little more than a license to work, and for mighty small compensation. In thousands of instances farmers have had to pay for that privilege. There is but one real cause for so deplorable a condition; the farmers' dollar is worth only about 67 cents when he goes out to buy all the things he must have, from shoes and pitchforks to wagons and binders. The Northwest, a section that produces a vast store of essential food stuffs, has been facing this desperate condition for three years. Something must and will be done. A conference such as is proposed, after careful deliberation, will clarify the atmosphere, make those who can remedy the situation understand the necessity for immediate action and pave the way for such steps as are needed to give us relief."

Plans for the conference have not developed far enough to announce a definite program, but those behind the movement are determined that leaders of national repute will be present. Some will be there to advise as to a remedy and others will be there to get first hand information as to actual conditions in the section. All agricultural and dependent business interests are to be urged to take part in the conference.

Soda Fountain At Lamberts

Roy Lambert has purchased a soda fountain which will be installed in his drug store in the near future. Mr. Lambert will be the first druggist in Thief River Falls to engage in the soda fountain business.

TIME FOR PAYMENT OF PERSONAL PROPERTY TAX MAY BE EXTENDED

The time for payment of personal property taxes this year is likely to be extended to April 1st, if a bill which passed the house Thursday, by a vote of 50 to 8 proves as popular in the senate. The extension of time is effective for this year only, and the reason given for making it is that the time for payment of auto licenses was extended to March 1st and it would be a hardship to have both payments come on the same date.

TIMES IS NAMED OFFICIAL PAPER OF CITY FOR 1923

Publication In Which Will Appear All Notices and Proceedings During Year

Deposits of Municipality To Be Divided Equally Between City's Four Banks

Engineer Engaged To Make Survey of Dam Property—Appointments Approved

The Thief River Falls Times was on Tuesday evening selected by the city council as the paper in which will appear all proceedings required by law to be published during the year 1923. This includes the annual financial statement, the proceedings of all meetings, the resolutions passed and all other notices.

All four banks in the city will share equally in the city deposits during the coming year, this being the first time such distribution has been made.

A number of appointments made by Mayor Bratrud were approved. Mrs. Charles Gerlinger was appointed a member of the library board to succeed Mrs. Etta Stanton, who has moved from the city. W. W. Prichard, Jr., and Alfred Olson were reappointed members of the cemetery commission.

Ralph E. Thompson of St. Paul, was appointed as engineer to make a survey of the dam property with instructions to report to the council as soon as possible. The council holds an option on the purchase of the dam property for $50,000, said option expiring on April 9. A complete inventory of the property will be made together with such recommendations for putting the power plant in first-class shape as appears necessary to the engineer.

It was the time set for receiving applications for soft drink permits under the ordinance recently passed, the following being granted licenses to operate places of this kind: C. H. Porter, Jas. Cosgrove, W. A. Bishop, William Sheedy, L. P. Christenson, Dahl & Dahl, Elks club, J. F. Farr, Christ Amundson, O. W. Carlson. The applications of Conrad Vinje and A. H. Erickson were refused.

The superintendent in charge of placing the machinery for the filtration plant stated that there would be filtered water in the mains on Easter Sunday morning, April 1. He said it might be possible to finish the work by the 15th of March, but he preferred to name the later date in order to give himself sufficient leeway.

Fire Chief Paul Midderigh was instructed to order 250 feet of additional fire hose. Routine business engaged the attention of the council during the remainder of the session.

Six-Year Old Loses Finger

Yesterday the six-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Homme residing six miles east of Thief River Falls, was brought to Thief River Clinic where one finger was amputated. The amputation was found necessary as the result of a door being closed over the youngster's hand, and the finger getting badly mangled. The accident occurred Tuesday evening and the lad was taken here the following day.

Shipping Association Meeting

The Thief River Livestock Shippers association will hold its annual meeting in the commercial club rooms, Saturday afternoon, February 24, at 3 o'clock. Officers will be elected and directors appointed for the ensuing year. The Shipping association has published a complete report showing a very successful year, financially and otherwise. The statement of the years activities will be read at the meeting.

Will Elect Delegates To Stabilization Congress

Thief River Falls should be represented at the stabilization congress to be held at St. Paul on Feb. 27, in the opinion of many of the city's business men. This congress has been called for the purpose of discussing ways and means for stabilizing the price of farm products with a view to benefitting the farmer and there will be representatives present from all sections of the Northwest. A meeting will be held at the commercial club rooms on the evening of Saturday, Feb. 17, to discuss the matter and probably to elect delegates to represent Pennington county at the meeting.

Boy Scouts Movement Is Assisted By Elks Lodge

Thief River Falls lodge of Elks were favored with a visit from I. K. Lewis of Duluth, deputy grand exalted ruler for the district of Northern Minnesota, last Friday evening. Mr. Lewis spoke on the progress and aims of the order, giving one of the finest talks ever heard in a lodge room in this city. He commended the boys here very highly for the excellent record made during the year in the line of charitable enterprises and urged them to keep up the good work. The lodge has already gone on record as intending to make the boy scouts movement one of the objects of its special concern and have voted to supply the money to pay all arrearages of the local troup. A committee has been appointed to work with the officers of the troup in making out a program for the coming season. Each lodge member individually has agreed to take special interest in the welfare of the boys of the community and this will prove support well worth having. The Elks have in contemplation a number of features sure to greatly aid the movement and an active and energetic boys scout troop is certain to result.

$150 REALIZED BY SALE OF BASKETS FOR Y. M. C. A. GYM

No Fancy Prices Secured But Lots of Fun at Women's Benefit Party

A good sized crowd was present at the basket social given by the women of the city for the benefit of the newly organized Y. M. C. A. branch at the auditorium on Monday evening. Not much time was taken up in the preliminaries, President C. D. Gustafson presenting Supt. I. T. Simley with a few appropriate remarks. Mr. Simley explained briefly the need of an institution like the Y. M. C. A. in Thief River Falls and complimented those who have been instrumental in getting the work started. Miss. Clara Baumann, physical culture instructor at Lincoln high school, presented a Russian folk dance in costume, which was much appreciated by the audience. There was a delightful violin solo by Henry Arneson, accompanied on the piano by his sister, Miss Eileen.

After these preliminaries the proceedings were turned over to W. J. LaBree, who officiated as basket auctioneer with characteristic energy. The lunches were put up in the most tasteful manner but for some reason or other even the most enticing did not bring fancy prices. There was but little spirited bidding but the ladies cleared some $150 to be turned over to the new organization as an aid to securing the necessary equipment for a gymnasium.

The Y. M. C. A. movement is receiving much encouragement and there is no longer a doubt of its being successful. President Gustafson reported that donations in money had been quite generous and that there was no longer a doubt of the committee's ability to make a beginning. The rooms will be opened to the public on Monday evening next and a general invitation is extended to all to come and look the institution over.

LOCAL EXHIBITORS TAKE MANY PRIZES AT WINTER SHOWS

Woolson and Letnes Win on Cattle; Neset and Gustafson on Poultry Shown

Pennington county was well represented among the prize winners at the Northwest Winter Shows at Crookston. As noted last week the Guernsey herd of H. C. Woolson carried off everything in the way of awards in that division for the third time. Jens Letnes of Silverton township, exhibiting Shorthorns, was awarded first and grand champion in the sweepstakes and also second prize in the milking Shorthorn class.

Olaf Neset's Rhode Island Reds again carried off everything in the way of prizes including the silver trophy for highest scoring cockrel. This exhibitor also received first, second, third and fourth on pullet, first on hen and first on cockrel. This is the second time Mr. Neset's exhibits have carried off practically all the prizes in this particular division.

C. D. Gustafson was awarded first and third on Barred Rock pullets, second on cockrel and first on breeding pen. Mr. Gustafson was also a winner at last year's show.

L. A. Westphal of St. Hilaire, was awarded first prize on Bliss Triumph potatoes and first on one variety of corn.

A. A. Shoopman of Rocksbury township received first on clover seed.

Clarice and Natalie Woolson won first and second honors in the Guernsey calf exhibit in the boys' and girls' club division, Bernice also winning the junior championship in the open class.

At the annual meeting of the Red River Valley Guernsey Breeders' association, F. B. Conklin, Thief River Falls; A. L. Jensen, Clearwater, and George Bernard, Warren, were elected as new directors. The association voted to hold a sale at Thief River Falls in June, and urged its members to further interest in Guernsey cattle by entering such stock at their local fairs.

PLANS APPLIED TO CLEARWATER RIVER ALLOWED

Judges Grindeland and Stanton Sit On Red Lake Project and Judge Watts on Clearwater

Red Lake Enterprise Cannot be Carried Out Under Plan Proposed by Commission

Court of Opinion That Land Owners Will Be Compelled To Pay More Than Share

Judges Andrew Grindeland and C. W. Stanton on Saturday denied the petition of C. O. Ely and other farmers in the eastern end of Pennington county for the improvement of the Red Lake river, court sitting at Crookston. At the same time the petition for the straightening and deepening of the Clearwater river was granted by Judge William Watts.

Regret is expressed by Judges Grindeland and Stanton over being compelled to order the dismissal of proceedings in the Red Lake river application, admitting that the improvement sought is vastly important and that a large sum of money has already been spent on the preliminary work. The court is of the opinion, however, that the improvement cannot be made under the plan now contemplated as it throws the burden of cost upon the farmers to a greater extent than is justified while the water powers are not directly assessed for any benefits. Municipalities also escape their just share under the board's plan, in the opinion of the court. Also that further legislation is necessary in order to protect all the interests involved. Grounds for further objection is found in the fact that under existing laws any moneys received from the water powers in the future cannot be applied on the assessment against the lands or in payment of the bonds. The court states that no

LENTEN SERVICES START WEDNESDAY AT AUDITORIUM

First of Series of Meetings Will Be Conducted by Rev. H. F. Buegel of Grand Forks

Wednesday evening at eight o'clock in the auditorium, Rev. H. F. Buegel of Grand Forks, N. D., will begin this year's series of Lenten Sermons offered to the people of Thief River Falls by St. John's Lutheran church. In this sermon the Rev. Buegel will lead his hearers into the garden of Eden, portraying man in his first estate of idleness, perfection, and bliss in the presence of God; man's fall into sin and from God; his loss of perfection and of Paradise, with its consequent dire results for the individual and the world at large; the utterly lost and hopeless condition of man under sin. Then he will lead his audience into another garden: Gethsemane and the suffering Son of God, showing that God's plan for the salvation of man, as portrayed in the prophesies of old, has been fulfilled in Jesus of Nazareth; that whosoever believes in Him shall be saved.

Daniel Webster, our greatest statesman, has said: "The Bible is the book of all others for lawyers as well as for devines, and I pity the man who cannot find in it a rich supply of thought and rule of conduct. If we abide by the principles taught in the Bible, our country will go on prospering and continue to prosper; but if we neglect its instructions and authority, no man can tell how sudden a catastrophy may overwhelm us and bury all our glory in profound obscurity."

We share the conviction of Webster, and therefore it is the sole aim to present to the audiences the great truth of God's book. He who hears the Rev. Buegel Wednesday evening will hear a firm believer in the authority and the imperishable value of the Bible for man. His sermon will be a Bible sermon.

The Rev. Buegel is a preacher you will want to hear. His thirty two years as a missionary in Canada and North Dakota, and as pastor in Grand Forks have brought him into close touch with the needs of humanity; he has shared the joys and sorrows of high and low, of rich and poor; he knows their problems and their difficulties. Now, after thirty-two years, he knows more firmly than ever, that the greatest message he can bring to man is the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Make an effort to hear him.

The Rev. Buegel has risen high in the councils of his church; for fifteen years he was superintendent of congregations in his territory, and for eight years the vice president of the North Dakota and Montana district; at present he is director of missions in North Dakota and Montana.

The people of Thief River Falls are cordially invited to attend the Lenten services at the auditorium. No admisson charge will be made, but an opportunity will be given for a free-will offering to defray the expenses. The entire service will be conducted in the English language.

Axel Swanson was here from St. Hilaire Saturday on business.

FILM STORY SHOWS ARAB IN NEW LIGHT

"Burning Sands," Strong Drama Taken From George Weigall's Novel of Same Name

A desert story which treats the native Arabs as human beings, and which is tremendously appealing and dramatic, is "Burning Sands," a George H. Melford production of Arthur Weigall's, successful novel adapted by Olga Printzlau and Waldemar Young. This Paramount picture has as its central character Daniel Lane, a student, and philosopher who lives among the Arabs and who, by his insight and sympathy, learns to know them as the ordinary man never does, and so finds in them much to admire. Lane is a splendid character, sympathetically portrayed by Milton Sills. The other featured part, that of Muriel, was alloted to Miss Hawley. Muriel is the present-day type of pleasure-loving, materialistic young woman; who refers to herself as "emancipated," but who is really a slave to her whims and desires. She is an English girl, the daughter of Lord Blair, His Majestys "Chief Commissioner to Egypt and the Soudan." Muriel, petted and spoiled, accustomed to admiration and flattery from every man, meets Lane, and out of the encounter of these contrasting characters grows the drama.

This great picture will be shown at the Lyceum on Sunday and Monday with Sunday matinee.

"One Glorious Day"

Nine days working on a dark stage against black velvet hangings and concentrated rays of spot lights, rendered members of the Paramount unit making "One Glorious Day," a Paramount comedy with Will Rogers and Lila Lee as the featured players, so sensitive to light that when they came out into the sun's glare, they were like blind folk.

Will Rogers blinked fiercely as he left the studio one day. "I never knew the California sun was so bright," he observed.

"Its the contrast," suggested Lila Lee, dainty leading woman, as she groped for her amber goggles.

"Contrast," he returned, "that's a great thing, ain't it? Just look what a contrast there is between you and me! They hired me to play the professor in this picture because there wasn't anyone else in California homely enough to do it justice. And I suppose they cast you for Molly McIntyre because there wasn't anyone else pretty enough—well, it's a fine thing to be able to hold a record either way."

James Cruze directed "One Glorious Day," which comes to the Lyceum theatre Friday and Saturday. "The reason for the work on the dark stage was to secure the double exposure shots which are plentiful in this unusual comedy.

"Our Leading Citizen"

The hardest task he ever faced, according to Thomas Meighan, Paramount star, confronted him during the filming of "Our Leading Citizen," his latest Paramount picture. In fact, it made him so nervous that he did not regain his composure for a week.

And what do you suppose it was? Not jumping off a hundred foot cliff, carrying a leopard on his shoulder, or struggling with a mob of infuriated ruffians. No!

It was to make a speech before a woman's club! It wasn't a real club, either, but just a screen gathering in one of the scenes from "Our Leading Citizen" which will be shown at the Lyceum Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday.

"I was nervous," the star admitted, " and when Alfred Green, the director, told me to talk to these women, I felt tongue-tied. Finally I launched forth into a diatribe concerning a subject that is pretty close to my heart. The speech was supposed to be an argument in favor of a public playground in the town. That made it relatively easy. But I'm still shaky."

In common with many other players, Mr. Meighan hates to make speeches before his friends or coworkers nor can he explain this curious antipathy. His wide stage experience precludes the possibility of ordinary stage fright.

Legislative Letter

(By Martin W. Odland)

St. Paul, Minn.—The fight over some of Gov. Preus' recent appointments is on. His excellency sent the names of about 150 fortunate persons who have been named for office since the last legislature adjourned. When the names were submitted to the senate for approval on Wednesday. Senator F. H. Putnam of Blue Earth, a veteran leader, moved their immediate confirmation. But, oh, no, it wasn't quite so easy. Senator James A. Carley, the foremost Democrat in the legislature and anti-administration leader, gave notice of debate, which put the action over till the next day. When the next day came, Senator Carley, announced that there was no opposition to any of the appointees, except the regents of the University and the public examiner, Garfield W. Brown. Accordingly it was agreed that all should be confirmed except the regents and Mr. Brown, who are still on the waiting list. Over these a good hot fight is pending.

Senate Is Working

The senate is getting more and more industrious. In the beginning it convened at 11 o'clock in the morning; then it changed to 10:30 o'clock, and the other day it advanced the hour to 10:00 o'clock. The house has been meeting regularly at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and holding its committee meetings in the forenoon and most of its public hearings in the evening. The senate committee meetings are mostly in the afternoon.

Union Label Turned Down

The senate has finally taken action on the union label question. Early in the session it referred Senator Devold's resolution, requiring that the union label be placed on all senate printed matter, to the rules committee, of which Senator G. H. Sullivan of Stillwater is chairman. It was not reported back until Wednesday, when it precipitated a debate that lasted two hours. The resolution was defeated, 39 to 22, and organized labor has put it down in its memorandum book.

House Abolishes Pre-Primary

The house elections committee has recommended to pass the bill to abolish the pre-primary convention law of 1921. Action on this bill will be taken in about a week and it is probable that the bill to change the primary date from June to September will be considered at the same time, as a special order.

Shipstead Makes Short Talk

An interesting feature of Thursday session of the house was a ten minute address by Senator-elect Henrik Shipstead. His little talk was decidely original and interesting, making an excellent impression.

Will Rebuild Normal Schools

The first big appropriation bill of the present session made its appearance on Thursday. It appropriates $930,000 for the rebuilding of the main buildings of the Mankato and Winona Normal schools both of which were recently destroyed by fire. The Winona Normal school also gets a new heating plant.

A Close Fight

The rural credits question has been put over till Wednesday afternoon of next week. This gives both sides ample time for planning, scheming and proselyting, and as all questions before the legislature are determined to a certain extent by such tactics, the outcome will depend to a considerable extent on the relative skill in this respect of the two factions. The faction supporting the Wilkinson bill doubtless have the advantage on this test of strength. But to an observer it would seem that the other faction have the best of it on other tests. To begin with, they have the solid support of the Farmer-Labor members, who number at least 40. Next, they will reap the benefit of the strong sentiment in the rural districts against the creation of more salaried boards, bureaus and commissions.

The result is bound to be close, which the leaders on both sides fully realize. They will do some hustling for votes this week.

Capital Punishment Doomed

The capital punishment question may be disposed of this week. It is generally predicted that all of the bills proposing to restore the death penalty will be voted down rather decisively, nothwithstanding the action of the sheriffs and the county attorneys in adopting resolutions in favor of restoring the hangman's noose as the best method of combating the brutal holdup men who have murdered so many of their victims in cold blood the past few months.

Babcock Growing Unpopular

There is evidence of a rising tide of feeling against Highway Commissioner Babcock. A bill making his office an elective one is already before the house and another will soon be introduced providing for three highway commissioners to take the place of Mr. Babcock, appointed by the governor. One hears anti-Babcock talk among the members of both houses. It is felt that he has been riding a 'high horse' and needs to be taken down a notch.

Girling Has Ice Bill

Representative Thos. H. Girling has introduced a bill compelling ice dealers to take out licenses from the state Health Department before cutting any ice. The fee is fixed at $25.00 on any meandered lake. Also he has a provision that on any such lake which lies within or adjoining any village or city, there shall be a public hearing before such license shall be granted. The water and ice must be certified to as to purity by the State Health Department.

The Human Factor in Industrial Efficiency

DURING the past two years the number of accidents in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) organization has been reduced 80%. This splendid result has been brought about through intelligent co-operation of employes. The saving in life, efficiency, and money cannot be computed.

The fact that the Company has been able to secure whole-hearted co-operation is the reason for the complete success of the safety plan, and is a very significant fact in connection with all this Company's enterprises.

During the first year after the plan was adopted, over 97% of the safety suggestions made by employees were adopted. Mechanical safeguards were greatly extended, and a system of education was carried on whereby in numerous instances the habits of the employees were changed. Thoughtfulness was substituted for thoughtlessness.

This campaign with its remarkable achievement of 80% decrease in accidents is of definite interest to 30 million people in 10 Middle Western States.

Safety in occupation promotes efficiency of the worker at his task, and makes him a better citizen. The employee who realizes the fact that his safety is being looked after at every turn is free to give his entire attention to his duties.

In any industry the human factor is the key to efficiency. The man who is content, well assured of his future, and safe from injury, may be depended upon to give his best effort to his work. He is more productive; he is more content; he is prouder of his work.

Thus by safeguarding the welfare of the worker, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) takes the initial step towards harmony within the organization, which enables the Company to produce annually a tremendous volume of petroleum products of uniform quality, which are such essential factors in promoting commercial progress and domestic happiness.

Punctuality

One of the greatest faults of the people of today is that they have not learned to be punctual. Unless the habit was acquired when they were young children they find it difficult to get the habit after they are grown up. Children should arrive at school on time, get their lessons on time, and many other little tasks that must be done should be done on time. There are no tasks so unimportant that they do not deserve to be done on time. Later, when these children leave school and enter into the business world they will be thankful that they have acquired this habit. Many men and women have lost good positions because they have not learned to be punctual.

ELSIE VORSETH.

Politeness

Any person, not polite in all ways, is not very respectable. In school it is much easier to be polite than impolite. What does a student think when he or she sees another student running down the hall like a race horse and bumping everybody? In going up and down the stairs, walk on the stairs, and not on a person's toes, and if you should happen to run against anyone, would you hurry on, regardless of what had happened? Or would you stop and apologize? Do not think only of being polite in school, for there is a whole world full of people to be polite to. If ever you go to apply for a job you can rely upon the fact that you will never get it if you are not polite. If you are polite, you will not only get your job, but hold it as well.

Must We Select High School Students? Judson

President Harry Judson of the University of Chicago is quoted as follows in the press in regard to the present situation in colleges and universites. Indeed the conditions are becoming so congested in high schools also that the people who pay the taxes may soon call a halt on our attempt to "educate" the crowds who attend high school and college without the purpose, the craving, or the ability demanded. We shall soon be driven—and properly—to a more thoro and rigid selection and rejection at entrance to college, if not to high school. President Judson says:

"The new century needs new organization of college work. The only object of entrance conditions should be to test whether students can do the college work. Very much of the red tape should be eliminated. Graduation is too long deferred. The only land in the world where so much time is spent on preliminaries is the United States. Further, tests of excellence are too low. None should be admitted to college work but those who really want intellectual training and are capable of taking it. None should be permitted to continue in it but those who take it well. Learning in homeopathic doses is not of great value. An institution of learning is primarily for those who want learning, without regard to sex, or race, or social status.

"Are we to conduct an institution of learning or an amusement park?"

Our basket ball team will play Argyle Friday evening.

A haunted trunk being a novelty at "Harmony Junction," many laughable incidents occurred, particularly when the ghost came to life and stepped out of the trunk.

Mr. George Fraser, the reader, was encored several times and favored us with two extra selections, "When I asked Mary to Wed" and "Flirting with a Jersey Cow" both of which brought forth great applause.

Hokis, Pokis, Punkerakis!
Miss Leavitt: "I shall disappear for a few minutes."

Filosofy Quiz
Are you as green as you look or do you look as green as you are?

Mr. Mattson: (To Bud Keene who had dropped numerous articles on the floor during class period which had a sound curiously like that of a dinner bell.) Stop ringing that bell, Edmund. Your time hasn't come yet."

Miss Thompson: "Grace, what was the dining room called where the monks ate their meals?"
Grace M.: "A dormitory."

Miss Leavitt: "We must avoid repitition. It makes things monotonous. Can any of you tell something I have said many times today?"
Grace M.: "Lincoln, keep still."

"It's too deep for me," grumbled the absent-minded professor as he fell into an open hole.

Many Thanks

The High School wishes to thank the following [illegible] for [illegible] the U. of N. Dak. Glee Club during their stay in our city, Mrs. Daniel Shaw, Mrs. [illegible], Mrs. M. P. Rapacz, Mrs. W. J. [illegible], Mrs. T. [illegible], Mrs. Sever Barzen, Mrs. O. C. Hanson, Mrs. M. T. McFarland, Mrs. L. G. Larson, Mrs. E. O. Mogenson and Mrs. Nick Barzen.

It was only because the above mentioned folks opened their homes for the entertainment of these boys that the management was able to put on the concert at a price that enabled every high school student to attend. Also their hospitality made the sojourn of these young men in our city much more pleasant than it could have been otherwise.

To The Faculty

We'd like to be the sort of friends that you have been to us;
We'd like to be the help that you've been glad to be;
We'd like to mean as much, each minute of the day,
As you have meant dear Faculty, to us along the way.

We'd like to do the big things and the splendid things for you,
To brush the gray from out your skies and leave them only blue;
We'd like to say the kindly things, which we so often have heard,
And feel that we could rouse your souls. The way that ours you've stirred.

We'd like to give you back the joy that you have given us,
Yet, that were wishing you a need, we hope will never be;
We'd like to make you feel as rich as we, who travel on
Undaunted in the darkest hours, with you, to lean upon.

We are wishing you this day dear Faculty we could repay,
A portion of the gladness you have strewn along our way;
And could we have one wish this day, this, only would it be;
We'd like to be the sort of friends that you have been to us.

Miss Birong: "The one with butter milk."
Margaret R.: "Is buttermilk made by mixing butter and milk?"

Miss Leavitt: "Arnold, spell carriage."
Arnold P. "C-a-r-r-i-a-g-e."
Miss Leavitt: "Now spell 'marriage.'"
Arnold P.: "It's the same thing, only an "m" in front of it."

TWO VICTORIES OVER WARROAD IN 3 DAYS

Every Number of Varied Program Followed by Encore; Large Audience Gathers

The Warroad aggregation arrived from Warroad with the idea of taking the local quint into camp. In this they were mistaken. Our boys showed real grit and fight and did not allow the visitors more than 9 points. Warroad's nine points were made by one free throw and four long shots. This shows that the local defense was good. On the offense the locals showed marked improvement. Time and time again the locals slipped through the visitors defense and scored baskets. Schutt and C. Sorenson starred for locals while S. Sorenson and Herron played a consistent game and LaBree, the center, did well, continually getting the tip from the opposing center. In the last quarter three subs were put in and they did their duty by not only holding Warroad to the few points they had but also piling up a few more points for the locals. Warroad had hard luck in shooting, but taking every thing into consideration, Warroad has a very good team. The attendance has been improving with each game and when Stephen comes here for the last game of the season, Feb. 23, we expect to have a record-breaking crowd. The lineup was as follows:

Thief River Falls		Warroad
C. Sorenson	F	D. Schvog
Schutt	F	M. Jones
LaBree	C	W. Hall
S. Sorenson	G	C. Fox
Herron	G	E. Price

Substitutions: Keene for Schutt; Sether for LaBree; Barzen for Herron; T. Dowall for M. Jones.

Summary: Field Goals—C. Sorenson, 6; Schutt, 4; LaBree, 2; S. Sorenson, 2; Herron, 1; Sether, 2; Keene, 1. W. Hall, 1; C. Fox, 2; E. Price, 1.

Free Throws: C. Sorenson, 1; D. Schvog, 1; M. Jones, 1.

Referee: G. M. Connel.

Win At Warroad

Monday the basket ball team went to Warroad to play a return game there that evening. The boys repeated the victory, winning by almost as large a margin as in the home game with a score of 31 to 10. Reports indicate that the team has now found its stride and is playing just as strongly on tour as on the home floor. As the team was unable to return the next day because of the terrific storm, a challenge was accepted from the city team of Warroad to play a game there Tuesday evening losing 18 to 15.

Last Thursday evening the Warroad and Thief River Falls basket ball teams were entertained after the game in the domestic science rooms. Our boys have always received the best kind of treatment when playing at Warroad so the social activities committee voted to provide a good feed for the visitors. Basket ball boys like to eat heartily after games and from reports gathered the following day we know that they enjoyed a real feed. The lunch was served by Adlyn LaBree, Myrtle Helgeland, Lily Gran, Rose Flynn, Harriet Morgan, and Katherine Barzen, supervised by Miss Skinner and Miss Horvik.

Poetry

Drifting thru the school year
Down a red-inked stream
While upon the honor roll in glory gleam.
And the favored few, keep looking down at you
Seeming at a paradise at study time,
Dreaming of a teacher's eyes that looked at mine.
Beautiful old school house, in dreams
again I see,
Visions of what used to be—with apologies to "Ohio."

State Exam. Returns Show Raised Standard

A comparison of examination results for the last two and one half years clearly shows that the standard of scholarship is going up each year. A tabulation of State Board Certificates for the year 1920-21 shows a total of three hundred and thirty-one certificates in all subjects. A corresponding tabulation for the year 1921-1922 shows a total of five hundred, and sixty-one in practically the same subjects with very nearly the same number of students. This makes an increase of sixty-nine percent. The results of the last semester likewise show a considerable improvement over both the previous years. The percentage of failures during the past six weeks period was also the lowest for any six weeks period within the three semesters all failures amounting to only 5.4 %. We hope that the students and parents will read this not only as news but that it will be a further incentive to continue to improve our standard of scholarship. The failing boys and girls should realize from the figures above that they are in a very small minority and that the remedy for better grades rests in them.

Valentine Party

The Bread Club entertained at a Valentine party, Monday afternoon in the Domestic Science rooms. The afternoon was spent in putting on stunts, playing games and initiating new members. Lunch was served at the close of the afternoon, and every one went home feeling that the club has fine prospects ahead of it.

Dedicated to Algebra

I hate my Algebra lesson,
It's nothing but equations and x's and a's
To bother me so, every morning
It's really the greatest of shames.

The a's, they come before x's.
The x's before the equation.
I hope, for my part, they enjoy it,
But what does it matter to me?

Of late, even more I've disliked it.
And more disagreeable it seems.
Ever since that sad evening last winter,
When I had the most frightful of dreams.

I thought that a most horrible monster,
Stood suddenly there, in my room
A frightful Algebra Demon,
Enveloped in darkness and gloom.

He laid on my poor trembling
shoulder,
His fingers, cold, clammy and long.
And fixing his red eyes upon me,
He roared forth his terrible song.

Come, Come, rise and come,
Away to the land of Algebra,
Where the A's come before X's
And the x's before the equations.

These terrible words are still sounding
Like the trumpets and drums thru my head.
When the monster clutched tight my shoulder,
And dragged me half way out of my bed.

In terror I clung to my bed-post,
But the faithless bed-post-it broke!
I screamed aloud in my anguish,
And suddenly—well, I awoke.

He was gone, but I cannot forget him.
That fearful Algebra Sprite.
He has my first thought in the morning
He has my last shudder at night.

Winter Cover

On nights when it is bitter cold
The Freshmen pile the blankets warm
As many as the Bed will hold:
And then we just let it storm;
The Sophomores pat outside to bed
And tuck themselves to sleep
With downy-white [illegible] chilly spread
Of snow flake drifting deep.

"THE FORTUNE HUNTER," AT HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM FRI., FEB. 16

Basket Social Monday Boosts Y. M. C. A. Here

The basket social held at the city auditorium Monday evening, February 12, was a great success. Over seventy-five baskets were sold and over a hundred dollars was realized. The proceeds go to the Y. M. C. A. W. J. LaBree was auctioneer and did his bit valiantly.

The following program was rendered before the sale of baskets:

Song ....Girls' Glee Club
Talk ....Dr. O. F. Melby
Piano Duet ....Miss Doris Halvorson and Mrs. Nate Harris.
Talk ....Supt. Simley
Russian Folk Dance.....Miss Clara Baumann.
Violin Solo ....Henry Arneson

The auditorium was beautifully decorated with American flags and red, white and blue bunting. A candy booth in one corner proved a great attraction while sandwiches and coffee were served from a booth in another corner.

Personals

The students who were so unfortunate as to receive conditions the first semester had an opportunity to pass them off last Friday at 4 o'clock.

Mr. Rapacz would not do us the favor of saying that the Freshmen had the cleanest assembly even for our own issue of the Progress. The honor went to the Juniors.

The Twin City newspapers now print the results of all basket ball games played in the state by members of the State High School Athletic Association. Look for these results and become a basket ball fan.

The Civics Class enjoyed a full period recitation on the Ruhr invasion. Many of the members participated in the discussions with much zeal.

The basket ball team journeyd to Warroad last Monday evening for a return game with the Warroad quint.

We all enjoyed Lincoln's birthday which was granted as a holiday.

The cast has been selected for the faculty play and rehearsals are under way. The following teachers compose the cast: Supt. Simley, Prin. M. P. Rapacz, Mr. McFarlane, Mr. Bye, Mr. Pope, Mr. Powley, Miss MacNair, Miss Thompson, Miss Birong, Miss Bauman, Miss Kirk, and Mrs. Brevig.

George Votava who was a Senior at Lincoln High school until Christmas and who accepted a Government position at Washington informs us that he is continuing his work at night school and that he will graduate June 15th. George was always ambitious and as a result had extra credits which enable him to complete his course in this manner at an early date while working at the same time. Who will say that it does not pay to look ahead and work hard.

We just discovered why our boys lost the game at Warren. Warren got our ball so how could you expect our boys to score? However Warren was kind enough to return the ball the following Monday.

It is rumored that the girls are all ready to pull Elizabeth's hair just because she made an excellent recitation in civics. When Mr. Rapacz asked for arguments why women should not be in Congress she said that they were jealous, quarrelsome, unruly, inferior to men etc. The boys agreed and Mr. Rapacz chalked down an "A" for Elizabeth. That's men for you!

A local declamatory contest was held Wednesday to select the representatives of Lincoln High school for the District Declamatory Contest to be held here Friday evening March 2.

The Seniors are making rapid progress toward the completion of the "Prowler" which will be ready for the press March 15th.

A report from the University of California shows that Helen Langseth of the class of 1922 is getting along nicely in her work.

Prominent Reader Will Dramatize Entire Play

"The Fortune Hunter," the popular play to be dramatized by Prof. Cochran of Carleton College, one of the foremost readers of the northwest, at the high school auditorium Friday evening, will perhaps be the last entertainment by outside talent sponsored by the high school this year. The public is therefore strongly urged to take advantage of a general invitation, not only because of the enjoyment of the rare privilege of hearing this nationally known reader, but also to encourage bringing to the city wholesome, worth-while entertainments.

And the chauffeur of H. D. Keene's car.

If she saved her gum-money she'd soon have a flivver!
G is for Grace our class president,
Who wouldn't act foolish for even a cent.

Who sits in a high-chair sucking his thumb.
I is for Ikey our little friend,

J is for John, he shines where there's fun,

Her favorite saying is "just like those boys!"

I hope when you read this you won't lose your mind.

She'll outstep all the Freshmen if she keeps on at this rate.

Mrs. E. O. Mogenson and Miss Christine Clausen visited Thursday morning in Miss Torgen's room.

A new pupil has been added to the second grade. Donald Carlson was transferred from the Knox.

[illegible] APPEALED [illegible]

State of Minnesota, County of Pennington, In District Court, Fourteenth Judicial District.

In the Petition of C. O. Eke, et al, for the Improvement of the Channel of the Red Lake river in the State of Minnesota by deepening, straightening and widening the same, regulating the flow thereof and for the improvement of the Red Lake in said state by the construction of a dam at the outlet thereof into the Red Lake river and the construction of such improvements as may be necessary to secure the control of the waters of said Red Lake River and Red Lake and the tributaries [illegible]

1. That the actual benefits resulting from the proposed improvement will not be greater than the cost of the construction thereof and damages.

2. That the actual benefits as shown by the report of the viewers are unfair, unjust and arbitrary and would impose a burdensome and unwarranted assessment upon many of the tracts of land involved.

From the facts as hereinbefore recited and for the reasons stated in the memorandum appended hereto, which is herewith made part hereof, the court finds as conclusions of law, that the petition herein should be denied and this proceeding be dismissed. It is so ordered. Stay of 30 days ordered. Dated February 10, 1923.

By the court.

ANDREW GRINDELAND
C. W. STANTON
District Judges.

[illegible] the cost upon the lands included by the viewers' report, while the conceded facts are that a considerable part of the entire assessment is for benefits which are not special to the lands assessed but general to the large area tributary to Red Lake and Red Lake river, and that water power interests and certain municipalities are to be specially benefitted; and, further, that certain lands in the Clearwater river watershed, now subject to overflow from the Red Lake river and not included in the report, will be specially benefitted.

"In this connection it is pertinent and interesting to refer to House Document No. 61, (66th congress, first session) which forms a part of the petition for this project. This project includes the report of the United States board of engineers for rivers and harbors, approved by the war department, from which it appears that the estimated cost of this project was [illegible] and that a recommendation is made that [illegible] as follows:

"Improvement [illegible]

"An equitable apportionment [illegible] interests. In paragraph [illegible] it is shown that in the four [illegible] water power could utilize [illegible] of the increased low-water flow would benefit by about [illegible] month during months of natural low water. It would appear from inspection of the discharge record that such a saving would result in at least an average of three months per year. This would be equivalent to a return of 15 per cent annually on an investment of $240,000, a return sufficient to pay off the bonds, interest on bonds, dividends and an annual proportionate allotment toward maintenance and operation of the work of improvement.

"Municipal water supply would receive benefits at Crookston and Grand Forks. As a tentative measure of benefits, take the 26,000 inhabitants as forming 6,500 families, and assess their benefits at 10 cents per family per month for three ordinary low-water months per year, giving a chance of [illegible] per year, which for [illegible]

[illegible] the board to exercise wise judgment, knowing that, with its present membership, such power would be properly exercised. But conceding that after the improvement is made the water powers could and would be assessed under the law as it now stands, the money would go to the general treasury of the district. There is nothing in the law by which the person who paid the original amount could be reimbursed. True, remedial legislation could be enacted to that effect, but the court must deal with the situation as it now exists and not with what may happen in the future. If such proper remedial legislation is enacted, there is nothing to prevent the board from again bringing this matter before the court.

"It is significant, too, that the fixing of the water levels of Red Lake is made with apparent disregard of the lands bordering the lake and its [illegible]

[illegible] the actual benefits to their lands to [illegible] upon them. It is idle to say that only the interest will be exacted for the first five years. The fact remains that the total assessment will be a lien on the land until both the principal and accrued interest are paid.

"This project, if ever constructed, must be fairly and equitably financed, requiring every interest concerned and benefitted to come forth with its proportionate share. To require one of these interests to provide the cash for the enterprise and then await the volition of the others or the uncertainty of future legislative enactment for reimbursement, would be as absurd and ridiculous as it is illegal and unjust.

"To summarize briefly, it must be conceded:

"1. That a large part of the assessment is for benefits which are not special to the lands assessed, but general to the community. [illegible]

[illegible]

"4. That to [illegible]

"5. That in the present period of agricultural [illegible] it would be [illegible] against [illegible] to the [illegible] of the land owners unless the reasons for so doing are strong and convincing, besides clearly equitable and legal.

"6. That the law under which this [illegible] should be amended so as to provide: (1) For the application of the revenue from the use of water to the payment of bonds issued for the improvement made and refundment to the persons who have paid assessments; (2) for the limitation of the authority to levy a sum greater than 10 per cent in excess of the engineers' estimate of the cost of any project; and (3) for the issuance of bonds to run 30 years or more, all substantially as recommended by resolutions adopted by the board of directors of the Red Lake Drainage and Conservancy district on Dec. 20, 1922.

"For these reasons and others disclosed by the record we feel impelled to deny the petition."

Rhodegaard Becomes Sole Owner Of Grocery Store

A deal of interest to the people of this city and community was consummated yesterday when Halvor Rhodegaard bought out the interest of his partner Carl Christofferson in the grocery store conducted by them on Third street for the past two years. Mr. Christofferson has been a resident of Thief River Falls for the past twenty years and during the last seven years he has been in partnership with Mr. Christofferson. He will continue business in the usual line of groceries.

Plummer Man Overcome by Gas From Automobile

Paul Schoenauer of Plummer went through an experience last Thursday which might easily have proven fatal. However he was lucky enough to escape unharmed. He was in his garage doing some repair work on an automobile and had the motor running. The gas exhausted from the engine proved too much for him and he fell to the floor before he could get to the door. When he came to he tried to get his coat and get into the open air but was again overcome. This time he was awakened by a girl who came to call him for a long distance telephone. The girl immediately called for help and got Mr. Schoenauer to his home and the next day he was around again, feeling none the worse for the experience.

Relief Office Established By Salvation Army Corps

The local Salvation Army corps has secured the use of room 205 in the First National bank building, formerly occupied by Dr. C. M. Adkins, in which to conduct an office for the poor relief work in Pennington county. Cases of unemployment, need of clothes, shoes, food or aid of any kind, will be dealt with.

A Salvation Army Home League is being organized by Mrs. Captain Watson to handle the cleaning, pressing and remodelling of the old clothes donated for this cause. One full dray load of clothes, three hundred garments, and a barrel of second hand shoes await the onslaught of the league workers who will commence Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The rooms are being fitted with donated or loaned sewing machines, ironing sets, sewing chairs, coat racks and other necessities for carrying on work of this nature.

More of the above mentioned articles are still needed. Call 246 if you can spare an ironing set or machine, or even an old chair or table.

Families out of town needing aid are also calling on the Salvation Army for help. A very needy family at Roseau is to be attended to this week.

The office hours at room 205 at the bank building are from 10 to 11 in the forenoon. Corps phone 246.

Soo Employee Has Thumb Amputated by Air Drill

Sigvart J. Anderson, employed on the Soo line, had the painful experience of having the thumb on his right hand pulled off while operating an air drill last Friday. The unfortunate victim was immediately brought to the Physicians hospital for medical attention and is reported to be getting along well, considering the nature of the accident. The thumb was entirely removed from the hand. Mr. Anderson will be obliged to be under a physician's care for some time.

Is Back On The Job?

County Auditor T. P. Anderson, who has been in the hands of specialists at a sanatorium near Milwaukee for the past two months, returned Monday morning greatly improved in health, and has resumed his duties at the court house. During his absence the work of the office has been very ably looked after by Axel Risberg, his assistant, although a number of matters needing his personal attention have been held up pending his return. Mr. Anderson says he feels very much better than when he went away and his appearance bears out his statement.

Rural Credits Bills Up On Special Order

The legislative fight to determine whether Minnesota's Rural Credits system is to be administered by a board of three or a single director is nearing a decision. By a unanimous vote, the House last week decided to bring up both House File 2 and the Dahle-Hoen bill for special consideration yesterday, Feb. 14, at 2:30 p. m.

McGinn Is Star Performer

Dennis McGinn, student at St. Thomas college and prominent member of the basket ball team of that institution, was the object of considerable comment in the sport columns of the city newspapers the past week. Dennis is being hailed as the star player on the Cadet quint, having to his credit the largest number of baskets in several games. In the contest with St. Johns college McGinn made four baskets and in the Macalaster game he caged six, which was about half the total score. McGinn, during his playing with the local high school quint and last year in college, was holding the position of guard but is now playing forward, this giving him a greater opportunity to score. He is credited by sport writers as having splendid shooting ability.

Creameries' Supply Department Growing

The supply department of the Minnesota Co-operative Creameries Association, opened on January 1, in 30 days handled $26,000 worth of business, according to A. J. McGuire, general manager. "On this amount," he said, "the saving has been around 20 percent."

Creameries in the western section of Wisconsin, while unable to join the state association, are patronizing the supply department liberally, Mr. McGuire says.

Bemidji and Crookston Postmasters Appointed

Schoolmen have been favorably considered in the appointment of postmaster in Bemidji and Crookston, according to reports regarding recent action taken in the matter.

The Crookston Times says, "Unofficial word has been received from Washington that the name of the N. A. Thorson has been certified to the postmaster general by the civil service commission for appointment as postmaster at Crookston.

Mr. Thorson was for several years county superintendent of schools for Polk county and has resided in Crookston for a number of years.

W. B. Stewart has been recommended for the appointment of postmaster of Bemidji by Congressman Harolld Knutson, according to a telegram received last week by E. B. Berman, chairman of the Beltrami county Republican Committee.

Mr. Stewart came to Bemidji in 1900 and has been engaged in educational work in that city and county during these years.

As soon as his appointment is approved by the United States Senate and his commission issued it is understood he will take official charge of Bemidji's post office.

He is to succeed A. P. Ritchie whose resignation was entered more than a year ago.

Ada Store Destroyed Friday Causing a Loss of $24,000

Fire Friday night destroyed the hardware store of Borns & Grilmo on Main street at Ada. The photo studio of H. W. Thune, adjoining the hardware store, was damaged, but not destroyed. The loss of the hardware store was put at $22,000, and to the studio at about $2,000. Both were frame, one-story buildings. The fire which began in the hardware store is thought to have been caused by defective wiring over an over-heated furnace.

Many Wolves in Roseau

Sixty-seven wolf bounties were collected in Roseau county during the month of January, says the Roseau Times-Region. That is nearly one-half of the total collected during all of 1922 and three more than Pennington county collected for the whole past year. Forty-five wolves were killed last January. The chief cause for the big number killed is found in the deep snow, the wolves being run down by hunters riding on horseback.

In Pennington county only 15 wolf bounties were issued during the month of January this year, so it appears that the coyote which at one time roamed around in this section in large numbers, are being rapidly exterminated.

ASKS RATE EQUALITY FOR POTATO GROWER

Minnesota House Asks Reduced Freight Charges — Discrimination Feared

Steps to obtain for Minnesota potato growers either a lower freight rate or relief from threatened transportation discriminations were taken last week in St. Paul. The state House last week unanimously passed a resolution asking the Interstate Commerce Commission to order a temporary reduction in the rate on Northwest potatoes. The resolution was inspired by reports of a one-fifth reduction on potatoes moving from inter-mountain states to terminal markets. N. J. Holmberg, Commissioner of Agriculture, and other farm leaders are demanding that there be no such reduction, unless similar slashes are made for potatoes moving out of the Northwest.

Grain Growers' Sales Co. On a Paying Basis

The volume of business handled by the U. S. Grain Growers Sales Company of Minneapolis has been steadily increasing, until at present, the farmers' agency on that market has reached a self-sustaining basis, according to T. H. Hagen, general manager. "In three months, we are further along than we expected to be in a year," he said. The company has put on its second field man, A. E. Carlson of Warren, Minn., will work in the Red River valley territory.

Polk Co. Man Given Prison Term

Timothy Sullivan of Polk county was last week taken to Stillwater where he will serve a state prison term of from five to ten years on a charge of assault in first degree. Sullivan was convicted by a Polk county petit jury at Crookston for the assault on Odin Forureth with a gun in the township of Huntsville, near East Grand Forks last October.

ROSEWOOD

Busy Bee School Notes

With our unusually mild January, we have had a very good attendance; Seventeen pupils can boast perfect attendance. Berton Johnson and Margaret Hanson were absent a week owing to illness. The artist studied for January was J. F. Millet. We were able to procure six of his best pictures, and the pupils greatly enjoyed their glimpse into the pleasant life of the French. We have now studied Landseer, Bonheur, Barber and Millet. Our plan is to study famous artists every month. For opening exercises, on Tuesdays we have our picture study or a picture game or contest. In our last contest Grace Doran scored one hundred, being able to give the title and artist of all the pictures we have studied so far. One morning a week is devoted to a library period. The teacher then finds a library book, which has not been drawn out this year and reads a part of it to interest the pupils. These books, so treated, have been in constant demand, some being asked for weeks in advance. One pupil has heard a remark that one should never judge a book by the cover, and truly, some books don't look interesting on the outside, and too often children judge them thus. By this method we get the best literature into he hands of the children, which otherwise would remain on the shelves untouched. The busy work period in the 1st, 2nd and 3rd grades is now being devoted to raffia work, and we have finished picture frames and have started our raffia boxes.

Teacher: "What are baby goats called?"

M. S. "They are called children."

This answer was greeted by a general titter from the rest of the class.

Teacher: "Well, I can't make out which is worse to call children "Kids" or kids "children." (The titter subsided).

The 7th grade had an essay on "Why I'm glad I'm an American," and one paper read thus: "I'm glad I am an American because we have a compulsory school law."

EBBA SAGMOEN, Teacher.

For some time past plans have been brewing relative to the starting of a general hardware store at Rosewood, the parties interested being Cashier O. S. Hellerud of the Farmers State bank here, and John Sagmoen, former general merchandise companion in the Carlson & Sagmoen company. According to advice this week from Mr. Hellerud, the plans are now definite, and work will commence sometime during March on the construction of an 18x22 frame building on lot No. 10, north of the bank building, and it appears Mr. Sagmoen, assisted by John Sorenson, will do the building, the bill and plans already being drawn out and [illegible]. The present intention is to handle farm machinery in a general way together with shelf hardware, repairs and accessories. The agency for one of the oldest farm machinery firms will be secured, and as much stock as conveniently will be shipped in this spring. Mr. Sagmoen will be manager and salesman for the concern. The concern will commence in a very modest way, as it realizes the present financial difficulties confronting the farming population, but it is the hope that the future will brighten, and that the company can grow, and before long be able to meet any demand of the farmers in the machine line. It is unnecessary to say that the undertaking meets with the hearty approval of the entire community.

An unconfirmed rumor, which in some way seems to have come from Warren has it, that the Soo Line is planning to build a larger depot at this place, for the accommodation of passengers, express and freight. About two weeks ago a gentleman of the Soo spent a day at this place and took extensive measurements of the present passenger and freight facilities here, and made a thorough survey of things, but will give no statement as to the object. He went from here to Radium and Warren and should there have given the above statement, how much of which is near the truth will remain to be seen, but we do wish that the Soo would at least improve the passenger waiting room here, as fully a thousand travelers use it yearly, and they should deserve something a little more human than the half end of an old discarded freight car, barely fit for freight use and much less so to accommodate the traveling public, on cold, wintry days like this last month, and with trains late six nights in the week.

Sigurd enjoyed his trip immensely.

THIEF RIVER FALLS TIMES
Volume 13. $2.00 a Year Thief River Falls, Minnesota, Thursday, Feb. 22, 1923 Number 3

GREAT SHOWING MADE BY LOCAL GUERNSEY COW

Three-year-old Owned by F. B. Conklin Is State Champion In Her Class

Produced 712 Pounds of Butterfat In One Year Under Ordinary Feeding

Predicted That This Cow Will Be Contender for National Honors Soon

Pennington county can now boast of having the champion three-year old Guernsey cow in the state of Minnesota. She is Lady Bruce of Clovercrest and has a record of 712 pounds of butterfat on official rest in one year. This is the best record ever made by a cow in her class in the state and it is predicted by experts that as an aged cow she will be a strong contender for the national championship.

Lady Bruce was purchased a year ago last summer from L. Jenson of Clearbrook, by F. B. Conklin of Thief River Falls. The price paid for her at a dispersal sale in this city was $240. Her breeding is excellent and she even at an early date gave every promise of becoming a great cow but it is doubtful if either buyer or seller figured on her making any such record as she has since hung up.

On February 20, 1922, Lady Bruce was placed on official test and during the remainder of that month produced 16.44 pounds of butterfat. No particular attention had been paid to her feeding up to this time, which is proved by the immediate improvement noted in her production. During this test no concentrates outside of bran and a little oil meal were fed, the remainder of her ration being the regular farm ration. No attempt at forced feeding was made at any time during the test, a fact which makes her performance all the more remarkable. Her butterfat test also steadily improved, the lowest point during the year being for the remaining days of her first month's trial when it averaged 3.917 per cent. Her production and test records for each of the 12 months are as follows:

	Butterfat lbs.	Tests Per. Ct.
February (8 days)	16.44	3.90
March	68.15	4.58
April	69.96	4.90
May	59.62	4.80
June	55.76	4.78
July	70.58	4.64
August	66.35	5.97
September	56.48	6.17
October	53.80	5.94
November	52.89	5.29
December	59.36	5.59
January	58.25	6.58
February (13 days)	35.66

Mr. Conklin was offered $1000 dollars for this cow last fall and it is certain he could at any time take $5,000 for her now that her test is completed. He says she is not for sale at any price, however.

NEW YORK EXPERT BUYS PENNINGTON COUNTY POULTRY

Hayner of Livingston, N. Y., Nationally Known Fancier, Secures Barred Rocks

The annual meeting of the Poultry association will be held in the Commercial Club rooms, Saturday at 1 o'clock, N. E. Chapman of the poultry extension division will address the meeting. Mr. Chapman has some very interesting things to tell of the success of poultry raisers in other parts of the state.

Officers and directors of the local associations will be chosen at this time.

Pennington county is rapidly forging ahead in standard bred poultry lines. The annual poultry exhibit here in Thief River Falls is one of the best in this part of the state, both in size and quality of birds shown. Olaf Neset and C. M. Buoen have each won cups at the Red Lake county and Red River Valley livestock shows at Crookston. Mr. Neset also won first at the state show held in Minneapolis.

A letter of much interest to Barred Rock raisers, written to C. D. Gustafson was received this week from Hayner, of Livingston, N. Y. This man ordered a $36.00 bird from Mr. Gustafson stating that he won fourteen prizes at Chicago Coliseum shows and fourteen prizes at Madison Square Gardens. Mr. Hayner has been breeding Barred Rocks for thirty years and had made a success in it in every way, getting much of his stock from the famous Thompson strain. He appreciates good birds and knows that Mr. Gustafson has them.

Mr. Gustafson has also sold some of his show stock to the leading judges in the northwest, including Hackett and Stanfield, judges of national reputation.

Other poultry breeders in the county are now preparing for a season of successful poultry raising and will make 1923 a record breaker as far as poultry products are concerned.

YOUNG MAN HELD FOR MAIL THEFT WAS VISITOR HERE

Parents of Harry E. Toms, Arrested at LosAngeles, Residents of T. R. Falls

Harry E. Toms of Minneapolis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Toms of this city, was last week arrested in Los Angeles and taken to Fargo to answer to a charge of having stolen a mail pouch from a postal truck at Kenmare, N. D.

Toms, whose age is given as 23 years, was in Thief River Falls on Feb. 12, 13, and 14 and left for the west on the day the mail sack disappeared at Kenmare, being undoubtedly a passenger on the train on which this particular pouch was carried west. It is alleged that with the money secured through this theft the young man went to Minneapolis and later to Omaha and Kansas City, finally winding up at Los Angeles, living high on the money secured.

A nation wide hunt for the youth began in Minneapolis, Jan. 20, and jumped from city to city as postal inspectors followed the trail of checks. The total amount obtained will exceed $3,000, postal inspectors claim, and may triple that sum.

Reports to Minneapolis postal authorities indicated that the youth held there was arrested when he attempted to cash a check which was questioned by officials at the hotel where he was stopping.

WORLD'S GREATEST ART TREASURES TO BE EXHIBITED

Collection of Over 200 Pictures To Be Shown Here Under Auspices of Schools

The first art exhibition in the history of Thief River Falls will be held at the high school auditorium on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week. This exhibition will be given for the purpose of raising funds for pictures for the school rooms of the city and is one of more than ordinary interest.

The pictures are carbon photographs and engravings loaned by the Elson Publishing company of Belmont, Mass., and are only the very best reproductions of the masterpieces of art of different countries and periods. Nearly every gallery and country in the world would have to be visited to see the original pictures which are here brought together in one collection.

The collection comprises two hundred subjects representing all the principal schools of art and including many reproductions of sculpture, architecture and important views from nature. Few collections have ever been brought together which so completely cover the history of art of all times as this. A catalog will be on sale at the exhibition hall.

No city or town should be indifferent to the culture and refinement of its people. It is part of the school work to inculcate those qualities in the children through whatever means it has at its disposal. The wholesome and refining influence of pictures of the right sort on the school walls is now generally recognized as one of the most valuable means of securing this end. The funds for purchasing such pictures, as well as an opportunity to make a selection from a very large number, is secured by means of the exhibition. The larger the attendance, the greater the number of pictures that can be secured for the schools.

JAIL TERM AND FINES FOR TWO LAW VIOLATORS

Peter Kolstrand of Highlanding Town, Changes Plea to "Guilty" When Called

Bennie Vigen of This City, Admits Charge and Gets Same Jail Dose With Fine

Jury In Case Against Rasmussen Disagrees—State's Witnesses Missing

The regular February session of the district court convened Monday after an adjournment of a week. Judge William Watts of Crookston is presiding because of the illness of Judge Grindeland. No grand jury was called but there were a number of criminal cases bound over from the municipal court as well as one or two continued from last term.

There were a number of cases in which the defendants were accused of violating the liquor laws, and these were taken up first. Peter Kolestrand of Highlanding township, was sentenced to 30 days in jail and to pay a fine of $150. This case was been continued from last term of court, at which time the defendant pleaded not guilty. This plea was changed to guilty when the case was called on Tuesday morning.

Bennie Vigen was sentenced to pay a fine of $250 and to spend 30 days in jail upon pleading guilty to a complaint charging him with violation of the liquor laws. The information in the first case cited against this defendant was withdrawn, the sentence imposed being on a second count.

The case against Ole Ystesund on a similar charge was continued upon information that this household was quarantined on account of diphtheria and he could not therefore be present in court.

After being out for nearly 12 hours the jury in the case of the state against Alfred Rasmussen reported that an agreement seemed impossible and was discharged. He is charged with having in his possession and for sale a quantity of moonshine. Another and similar case against the same defendant had previously been continued.

The cases against O. W. Carlson and Adolph Amundson were continued over the term because the principal witnesses for the state could not be found. Melvin Voldness, charged with the sale of intoxicants, failed to appear when his name was called and no one seems to know his present whereabouts.

E. J. Gilmet, indicted for grand larceny, was found guilty. He bought a team of horses from William McGinity for which he was to make payment in wood. Investigation disclosed the fact that he had no wood to dispose of.

Jesse Sorum received a suspended sentence to Stillwater penetentiary upon being found guilty of passing bad checks. The charge against him was forgery in second degree.

A jury in the case of Ole Mattson of Hazel, also charged with passing bad checks, was secured yesterday and returned a verdict of not guilty.

In the case of Dr. C. M. Adkins of Grygla against John Dahlsing, the jury found for the defendant. Dr. Adkins brought suit to recover for medical services extended to a sister of Mr. Dahlsing at the Grygla hospital. This was the first civil action tried and was heard on Tuesday evening.

Young Men of City Attend Initial Opening of New Headquarters Monday Eve.

The community Y. M. C. A. in Thief River Falls is now a reality, the formal opening taking place last Monday evening at the quarters arranged under the Carnegie library. A considerable large number of young men and boys were present at the initial opening of the "Y" and most of them entered their membership for the season. The costs for this year's membership has been set at the nominal sum of two dollars and all who wish to join may do so thru Clarence Pope who has been put in charge as supervisor. Mr. Pope is well known to the boys in this city, being instructor in the local high school, and is very well qualified to have charge of the activities of this organization.

Considerable equipment has already been installed, most of the gym paraphernalia in the Fallness athletic club quarters having been purchased. More in the line of interesting features will be added when the purchasing committee decides upon just what to secure. They contemplate installing a radio set in the near future and various other features are under consideration. The equipment will be largely determined by the demands of the young men taking part in the organization.

Exhibits In Gummer Case Now Before Supreme Court

Gruesome reminders of the murder of Marie Wick of Grygla in a Fargo hotel, for which William Gummer is serving a life term in prison, were placed in the custody of the supreme court at Bismarck last Friday to remain until the court acts on Gummer's appeal.

Five boxes of exhibits—including the hotel bed, bloody bed clothing, the hose nozzle alleged to have been used in the murder—were shipped there, together with the transcript of the trial at Valley City and the briefs drawn by Gummer's attorneys. Scores of photographs accompanied the papers.

Presence of the exhibits is a part of consideration of the case, but it is unlikely the court will order the boxes opened.

The appeal will be heard in the March term of court beginning March 6, and the case may be reached about March 10.

Mass Meeting Friday

SHAW REMAINS AS POSTMASTER FOR FULL TERM

Named This Week By President Harding From Field of Five Applicants

Has Been Acting Postmaster Since Resignation of John Morgan, Dec. 1

Appointment Will Prove Popular With Office Force and General Public

Daniel Shaw, who since the resignation of John Morgan last December has been in charge of the Thief River Falls postoffice, was this week appointed for a full four year term by President Harding. In accordance with the civil services requirements an examination of candidates for the position was recently held in this city and of the five applicants Mr. Shaw had the highest score and received the appointment.

This outcome will prove highly pleasing to the patrons of the office as during his short term Mr. Shaw has dewonstrated his thorough fitness for the place. He is capable and obliging and while the same may be said of the others who aspired to the place it will generally be admitted that the appointment went to the man most acceptable and best qualified.

Mr. Shaw has been a resident of Thief River Falls for over 20 years and has always taken a deep interest in the progress of the community. He has never held a public office before except during a short period when he was county commissioner. This was while the present Pennington county was a part of Red Lake county. While often urged to become a candidate for places within the gift of the people of the city he has steadfastly declined. That his adminstration of the postoffice during the next four years will give general satisfaction is certain. The institution will be conducted strictly along business lines, thus continuing the policy so successfully pursued by his predecessor for eight years.

THORHULT FARMER FALLS VICTIM TO BLIZZARD'S RAGE

Olaf Fjose Succumbs in Storm Tuesday While Trying to Reach Home of Neighbor

Only one death directly chargeable to the heavy snow storm of last week is reported from this immediate section. Olaf Fjose, a timber cruiser and farmer residing in the Thorhult neighborhood, about 40 miles from Thief River Falls, was found frozen to death by searchers late Saturday afternoon, having evidently lost his way in the woods while attempting to reach a neighbor's house on Tuesday. The body was brought to Thief River Falls and prepared for burial at the Larson undertaking rooms.

Fjose, who had been a resident of the region around Thorhult for some years, last week offered to look after the livestock of a farmer neighbor while the latter was absent from home. It was while on his way to attend to this chore that the storm overtook him and, by obliterating the landmarks, caused him to lose his way. He was well acquainted with the territory over which he was traveling and as he was also a man of strong physique no great alarm was felt at Thorhult over his nonappearance at the usual time. When days passed without any word from him, however, a searching party started over the route he was known to have taken. His body was found frozen in the heavy underbrush to the east of Thorhult on Tuesday afternoon and brought to this city.

Fjose, who was 53 years at the time of his death, was married and leaves no relatives in this section so far as known. The body will be shipped to Decorah, Iowa, where his people reside.

WHEAT GUARANTEE OF $1.75 FOR THREE YEARS SUGGESTED

Senator Gooding of Idaho, Says Farmers Must Have Assurance of Fair Prices

Stabilization of the price of wheat for at least three years is declared to be desirable in a report submitted by Senator F. R. Gooding (rep. Idaho) to the senate from the committee on agriculture in support of a bill creating a wheat stabilizing corporation. Under the bill, $300,000,000 is provided as the working capital for the corporation, which would make purchases at $1.75 a bushel when necessary to keep the market price above that point.

"At different times numerous witnesses have appeared before the committee and testified as to the condition of agriculture and, while there seems to be some improvement in some products of the farm, it is clearly shown that the condition of the wheat farmer grows harder and harder and that he has been producing wheat below the cost of production for the last three years and unless something is done to stabilize the price of wheat there is grave danger of that branch of agriculture breaking down and becoming demoralized," says Senator Gooding in his report.

"One of the saddest stories related to the agricultural committee was by John F. Sinclair, who gave his business as banking and investment and his residence as Minneapolis. Mr. Sinclair stated that in the last 12 months there were 956 farm mortgages foreclosed in Minnesota, 2,456 in North Dakota, 969 in South Dakota and 955 in Montana. He stated that last year there were 34 sucides of farmers in Minnesota; 87 in North Dakota, 32 in South Dakota and 15 in Montana, making 168 sucides in those four states in the last 12 months."

STOCKHOLDERS TO DECIDE ON NEW CREAMERY

Meeting to Be Held March 6 For Purpose of Taking Final Action on Project

Many of Opinion That Interest Rate Makes It Inadvisable to Build at This Time

Cheese Factory to Take Up Surplus Milk Products Is Favorably Considered

Notices are being mailed out by Secretary T. H. Bjerke of the Thief River Falls Co-operative Creamery association calling the attention of all stockholders to a special meeting to be held at the Commercial club rooms in Thief River Falls on Tuesday, March 6, at 1 o'clock p.m. At this time several propositions of great importance to the dairy industry in general and to creamery stockholders in particular will be taken up.

Final action on the question of whether or not to build a new creamery will be taken at this time. The directors do not feel justified in proceeding with this project without having the conditions fully understood by the stockholders. It is reported that it will be impossible for the association to finance the enterprise without paying an interest charge on money borrowed of 8 per cent. In the opinion of many this is a greater price than the business will safely bear, it having been the general expectation that the money could be had for 6 per cent at the highest. The directors are anxious that all stockholders shall have a voice in the final acceptance or rejection of the offer made as well as fully understand the terms and conditions under which the erection of the building can be undertaken.

Another important proposition which is scheduled to come up at this time is the erection of a cheese factory. Many are of the opinion that an institution of this kind will solve the question of what is to be done with the milk and cream produced in this section, which is now greater than can be handled by the local creamery. This matter has been discussed informally by the creamery association and has many supporters. Changes in the articles of incorporation and by-laws will be necessary in order to meet any expansion of this nature and this is one of the purposes of the meeting.

The Farmers State Bank of Karlstad has been closed by the state bank examiner. The state department had representatives there last week compiling a complete checkup of the bank's affairs.

PRICE STABILIZING CONGRESS TO MEET

Cabinet Members and Governors to Confer With Business Men and Bankers

Nine governors and two cabinet officers besides hundreds of business men and bankers from nine states will be present at the Northwest Agricultural Price Stabilization congress which meets at the invitation of Gov. Preus at St. Paul on Feb. 27 and 28. There is a movement on foot to send a delegation from Thief River Falls and a meeting for the purpose of discussing the matter has been called for Friday at 2 o'clock at the Commercial club rooms.

Secretary of the Treasury Andrew Mellon and Secretary of Agriculture H. C. Wallace will be among those present as will the governors of Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, North and South Dakota, Montana, Iowa and Nebraska. The following subjects will be discussed at the congress:

The possibility of stabilizing agriculture by governmental purchases of exportable farm products.

The possibility of stabilizing prices by the formation of nationwide cooperative marketing organiztions.

The ultimate effect of wider and easier rural credits.

The bearing of recent advances in the prices of goods the farmer buys.

The possibility of curtailing production.

Walter Peteet, director of the new co-operative marketing division of the American Farm bureau, will speak at the meeting on co-operative marketing. He says he believes that the only feasible plan of stabilization is cooperative marketing. This is a method by which the farmer helps himself, and therefore is superior to governmental interference.

Colonel C. H. March, president of the farmer-banker council, which originitated the congress, will be another speaker.

John R. Mitchell, member of the federal reserve board, will come from Washington to address the congress.

The Movies

Wallace Reid Goes Slow

Wallace Reid has driven almost every kind of vehicle in his Paramount screen offerings. In his recent picture, "The Love Special," he added a locomtive to the list and in the automobile race picture immediately following, he drove a fast racing car around the track at a speed of a hundred and ten miles per hour.

In "The Hell Diggers," his late picture written by Byron Morgan, which will be shown at the Lyceum theatre Wednesday and Thursday of next week the star operates one of the most unusual machines in the world—a giant dredger which is used to pan the precious metal from the earth in Northern California. On this occasion, however, he was unable to make more than half a mile a day.

This lack of pep in the speed of the big machine, however, is more than compensated for by a thrilling fight when the dredger is converted into a floating fortress which it is up to the faction headed by Mr. Reid to storm and capture, and by many other unusual scenes and situations.

St. Olaf Choir on Tour

Arrangements have been nearly completed for extensive tours this season by St. Olaf's two musical organizations, the St. Olaf Lutheran choir, F. M. Christensen, director, and the St. Olaf Concert band, J. Arndt Bergh, director.

The tour is managed by Prof. J. Jorgen Thompson. The band will appear at Crookston March 6 and at Grand Forks the 7th. One of its members is Roy Flattum a junior at St. Olaf, formerly of Thief River Falls and a member of the 1920 graduating class. He also took part in the tour last year. Mr. Flattum plays the French horn.

The choir will leave Northfield on Mar. 23 and will give its first concert at Albert Lea. The itinerary this season is confined to a comparatively compact territory, but includes some of the largest cities of the Middle West, in several of which the choir is making its second appearance. The tour is under the direction of Prof. Paul G. Schmidt. Prominent among the choir members are Miss Gladys Grindeland, alto, of Warren, sister of Mrs. O. F. Mellby of this city, and Henry Halverson, tenor, also of Warren, a brother of Miss Clara Halverson who is teaching in the local schools.

SOW THISTLE AND FARM LOANS

That the presence of sow thistle has injured the standing of Northwestern Minnesota as a farm region has to be admitted, but it is also a fact that the reports of damage done by the weed have been greatly exaggerated. To add further to the harm done it has of late been freely reported that the Federal Land bank has withdrawn loan privileges from four counties in this neighborhood—Pennington, Roseau, Kittson and Marshall. A correspondent of the Northwest Farmstead in Pennington county, signing himself "L. O." raises objection to the section being thus "black balled" and writes the farm publication as folows:

> To Northwest Farmstead:
> President Quamme of the Federal Land Bank withdrew four counties: Pennington, Roseau, Kittson and Marshall, from the privilege of federal loans because of the prevalence of sow thistle. If any person will go into any of the neighboring counties, he will find just as much sow thistle there as in the far northern counties that have been "given the air" by the Federal Land Bank.—L. O., Pennington Co., Minn.

Commenting on the above communication the editor of the Farmstead says:

> "Inquiry at the Federal Land Bank, St. Paul, indicates that there is no truth in the rumor which has been accepted by the writer of this letter. It is true that sow thistle is a menace in northwestern Minnesota. It has made unprofitable the continued exclusive growing of small grains. Some folks in the Red River Valley think that it is going to prove eventually a blessing as it will compel the growing of more livestock.
> "Be that as it may, at the petition of some 20 farm loan associations last summer, the Federal Land Bank held a hearing at Grand Forks on the sow thistle situation. Farmers, bankers, association secretaries and others gave their ideas. According to a statement of the Federal Land Bank, while the menace was recognized, the bank did not consider it sufficient to justify withdrawing from these counties. However, a number of local associations have decided that they will not endorse loans in communities where no organized effort is being made to fight the sow thistle or to individual farmers who are attempting to continue exclusive grain raising. The farmer who is in a community where the thistle is being held in check and who himself is practicing crop rotation and the growing of livestock still can get his loan even in sow thistle territory.
> Association members cannot be blamed for taking this action. When they admit a new member and help him to get a loan from the Federal Land Bank, they practically endorse his paper. If he does not pay his note, the association will have to pay it

Interviewed personally as to the truth of the statement ascribed to him President Quale made the following reply to a representative of the same publication:

> While we have not withdrawn from any county on account of sow thistle, we fully recognize its menace. Good farms in Pembina County, N. D., have been abandoned on account of it. We believe that sow thistle can be successfully fought by the planting of clovers, alfalfa, etc., the rotation of crops and the introduction of livestock. Unquestionably money will be made by men who have the nerve and the capital and the ability, who will go in, buy these abandoned farms with their wonderful soil, and practice the kind of agriculture suited to the conditions. The Federal Land Bank, however, will not encourage the making of loans to men who are unable or unwilling to conduct their business along lines which have been proved to have a possibility of success.

FADS IN THE SCHOOLS

Representative Thomas H. Girling of Robinsdale, wants a limitation placed on the number of subjects taught in the public schools of the state, the purpose being to eliminate what Mr. Gerling terms "nonessentials." In a resolution offered in the house he cites a long list of subjects taught in the Minneapolis schools in particular, and more or less generally in all parts of the state, which could and should be stricken from the curriculum as their cost far exceeds their value. The resolution says:

> "It is a matter of public record and public knowledge that our system of education through our university and various schools, city and county, is by far the most expensive department of our state and local government and it also as a matter of common knowledge that the schools are rapidly adding to the course of study many fads and impractical studies at tremendous expense to the taxpayer, and of doubtful benefit, if any, to the scholars. It is very apparent that something should be done to stop this tremendous waste."

There is no escaping the fact that this resolution will prove popular with a large class of citizens as there is general complaint over the cost of our schools. The trouble is that it will be next to impossible to get people in the different parts of the state to agree upon what may be termed "frills" and what are the essentials. In the rural sections instruction in farming might be regarded as of very great value while music and drawing are subjects which many believe could easily be dispensed with.

In the large cities the opposite would be the case. There may be courses that could be dispensed with in both city and rural districts, but it would be a hard matter to reach any kind of an agreement as to what they are. The existing situation was brought about by trying to please everybody and it cannot very well be corrected without displeasing somebody. All are probably agreed that our schools are costing too much but there is no agreement as to what may be eliminated in order to reduce this cost. If Mr. Gerling's resolution proves instrumental in disclosing a way by which this difficulty can be overcome it may easily become the most important legislative act of the session.

Under the resolution, the house committee on education is instructed to investigate the courses of study taught in schools of the state and to report a bill providing for courses of studies to be taught by any public school before such school shall be eligible for state aid and to provide that any school that adds to such course of study, fads or other studies increasing the expense of operating and maintaining such school and probably wasting the public funds thereby, first shall obtain the approval of the superintendent of public instruction of this state or shall be prohibited from receiving any state aid.

Legislative Letter

(By Martin W. Odland)

By a vote of 82 to 43 the house killed the bill changing the date of the primary election from the third Monday in June to the Tuesday seven weeks before the general election—about September 10. The bill was introduced by Reps. C. C. Neuman of Wheaton, T. H. Girling of Robbinsdale and J. A. Johnson of Preston, and was recently reported out by the committee on elections without recommendation, on the theory that it is a question which should be passed upon by the entire membership of the house. The farmers of the house lined up solidly against the bill, on the grounds that a September primary would come at a busier time for the farmers than a June primary. Messrs. Girling and Neuman were the only speakers for the bill; five sturdy farmers spoke against it.

The bill was taken up Friday afternoon and its defeat is one of the few important doings of the legislature during the week.

Butler Confirmed As Regent

Justice Pierce Butler of the United States supreme court will continue as a member of the board of University regents, and so will F. Snyder of Minneapolis, who is accused of being pretty closely affiliated with the Steel Trust. The senate acted on Governor Preus' appointments Wednesday morning, and after a hot debate lasting for two hours, turned down a motion by Sen. James A. Carley, the Democratic leader from Wabasha county, to send the appointments to the elections committee for consideration. This motion was voted down 34 to 32—a very significant vote, as it shows that the factions for and against the Preus administration are almost of equal strength.

After the defeat of his motion, Sen. Carley withdrew his opposition to the confirmation of the appointments, and all of the regents were confirmed with only six votes in opposition.

Sen. Carley will not "lay down" on his resolution to investigate the regents, however. He is going to call up his resolution, introduced some time ago, and press for its adoption.

Rural Credits Postponed

The vote on the rural credits bills has been put off several times, as the contending factions have been trying to get together on a compromise measure. The men primarily responsible for these compromise efforts are Reps. W. I. Norton of Minneapolis and O. H. Dahle of Spring Grove. According to the best information obtainable at this writing, the two factions have practically reached an agreement. It is understood that the rural credits board or bureau will be composed of three officials; a farmer, who shall be chairman; a real estate and investment expert, who shall be secretary, and an assistant attorney general, who shall be the legal adviser of the bureau. Each shall draw a salary of $4,500 per year. The state treaurer shall be the treasurer of the bureau. Applications for loans may be made through the county auditors, who shall be supplied with blanks for that purpose, or may be made direct to the bureau.

The bill will come up for final consideration Wednesday afaernoon.

Stalling On Loan Shark

The senate is stalling on the "loan shark" bill, which recently passed the house by a narrow margin. The general understanding now is that the bill will be amended so as to apply to the three big cities only, on the theory that only in those cities is there any loan shark evil to contend with. This amendment is proposed in the hope of removing the opposition of the rural members who are said to be almost solidly opposed to the bill in its present form.

High Dam Scrap

A merry scrap has broken out between St. Paul and Minneapolis over the High Dam. St. Paul wants Henry Ford to have all the power from the dam; Mayor Leach of Minneapolis is leading a fight to award the power to the people of the two cities and the State University. The University, however, seems to be willing to let Ford have the power, provided, of course, that he pays for it. A public hearing on the Leach bill, now before the house committee on cities of the first class, will be held Tuesday evening, followed by the action of the committee the next morning. The outcome is in doubt.

The senate has passed Sen. Boylan's bill extending the present boxing law to include all cities of the state having a population of 5,000 or more. At present prize fights can be held in the three big cities.

Rep. O. D. Nellermoe, the radical member from Minneapolis, created quite a stir a few days ago by introducing a bill reapportioning the congressional districts of the state. His bill makes radical changes, the most important of which are that both Congressman Newton and Schall are shunted out of their present districts into the sixth district, while Congressman Knutson of St. Cloud is shoved into the tenth district. Mr. Nellermoe, however, insists that his districting is better than the old one, the distirets being more equal in point of population and also more compact and regular in form.

The number of bills introduced in the senate so far is 527; in the house 698.

News-Reading Jurors

Another kind word for newspapers has been spoken. This time a common pleas judge declared that reading of newspapers by prospective jurors is a "sign of intelligence" and does not "indicate bias."

His statement was inspired by the fact that an attorney objected to a prospective juror on the ground that he had read about the case in the papers.

The judge's decision on the point is eminently sensible. The man or woman who never reads a newspaper is not so intelligent or so well informed or so competent a thinker as the one who gives them a regular place in the day's routine, and is therefore less fitted to pass judgment on fellow citizens.—Little Falls Transcript.

Orchard And Garden Notes
(February 15 to 22)

Calla lilies flowering in pots require plenty of plant food at this time of year. Liquid cow manure is good. Apply once or twice a week. Do not apply when soil is dry or the roots are likely to be injured.

Better buy spray materials now. Arsenical materials are apt to be much higher at spraying time.

Hickory, butternuts and black walnuts are coming to have a market value. A few planted in the windbreak will bring good returns if they are not wanted in the home.

Apple trees may be pruned now on warm days. It is not a good plan to work when there is frost in the branches as they may break in the wrong place and the tools break easily.

As a rule we get what we pay for in seeds or nursery stock. Cheap seed and cheap stock may in the end be most expensive. Be sure of the quality; price is secondary.

Many growers find it worth while to buy seed a year ahead. Plant a small quantity and test the product along side of known and tried sorts. This will give a good idea of what crop to expect.

If fruit trees and berry shrubs are worth growing they are worth spraying, pruning and fertilizing. Better cut out the trees than not to spray. Wormy fruit won't sell, it can't be used to advantage and the trees are a menace to clean orchards.

Nearly all the lettuce seed used in this country is grown in the Santa Clara valley of California. Crops yield from 150 to 600 pounds per acre depending on varieties. From 2,000 to 2,500 acres of seed lettuce is grown in California.

English As It Is Rote

Even in peace time the army headquarters staff has its troubles. The following is a sample of some of the mail received from time to time.

> Dear Mr. Headquarters:
> My husband was induced into the surface long months ago and I aint received no pay from him since he was gone. Please send me my elopment as I have a four months old baby and he is my only support, and I kneed it every day to buy food and keep us enclosed. I am a poor woman and all that I have is at the front. Both sides of my parents are very old and I can't suspect anything from them as my mother has been in bed thirteen years with one doctor and she won't take another one. My husband is in charge of a pittoon. Do I get any more than I am going to get? Please send me a letter and tell me if my husband made application for a wife and child and please send me a wife's form to fill out. I have already written to Mr. Harding and got no answer, and if I don't hear from you I will write Uncle Sam about you and him.

> P. S.—My husband says that he sits in the Y. M. C. A. every nite with the piano playing in his uniform. I think you can find him there.

It Is Surely Coming

Warren Sheaf:

Thief River Falls has made arrangements with the beet sugar factory at Mason City, Iowa, to raise sugar beets and has secured an allotment of 1500 acres to be planted to beets by farmers in the vicinty. The acreage already pledged exceeds 2,500, almost double the acreage allotted by the Mason City factory. The Chaska factory has already contracted for all the beets it can use and care for next season, 2,600 acres, grown mostly in the vicinty of Fisher and East Grand Forks. A sugar factory in the valley will be the next big thing to work for. A few years ago no one thought it possible that Red River Valley farmers would own sugar planations, but this is now an accomplished fact.

Baudette Region:

They're all het up over the growing of sugar beets, over in Pennington county, and the Thief River Falls newspapers see visions of a sugar factory on the Red River. We tried to work up interest in the same industry in this section seven years ago, but were met with the general objection that pulling weeds and swinging a hoe were not conductive to the general erectness of the spinal column.

Farm College "Grads" Stick to Agriculture

Do graduates of the agricultural course in the Minnesota College of Agriculture engage in farming or other agricultural enterprises after graduation? Dean E. M. Freeman of the college, who has been collecting evidence, says they do. Here is a digest of the first 100 answers by graduates to questions as to present occupations and other occupations since grauation.

Ninety-seven have at some time since graduation engaged in some form of agricultural pursuit. Only three of this first 100 have been engaged exclusively in non-agricultural work. One of these went into the army directly from college in war time and has retained his captain's commission. Another was advertising manager for the State Fair and has since established a commercial advertising agency. The third has taught non-agricultural science in a high school. Of the 97 in agricultural pursuits, 41 have engaged at some time in farming, 41 at some time in technical professions as in agricultural colleges and experiment stations and similar positions; 25 as county agents; 44 as high school instructors in agriculture; 11 in agricultural industries such as livestock associations, farm papers, cow testing associations, cooperative creameries, etc., and one became a practicing veterinarian. As to present occupations, 69 of the 100 are now engaged in distinctly agricultural pursuits and 11 in non-agricultural positions.

The investigation shows that out of the 100 only three are engaged in exclusively urban communities.

Journal Offers Free Trips To Several Club Juniors

Many more free trips to a great national meeting and four scholarships of a value of $100 each are assured the club boys and girls of Minnesota by the action of the university board of regents in accepting a proposition laid before it by The Minneapolis Journal.

The Journal's offer provides for a free trip at the expense of The Journal to the 1923 National Boys' and Girls' Club Exposition at Chicago for the winners in boys' and girls' dairy calf club work in every Minnesota county having a dairy calf club enrollment of 25 or more. Also for four scholarships of $100 each to be applied in any of the schools of agriculture in Minnesota boys' and girls' dairy calf club work in the Holstein, Guernsey, Jersey, and Ayrshire classes.

Minnesota club leaders say that juniors in at least 40 and perhaps 50 counties in the state will qualify for the free trips given by The Journal. Nine hundred twenty four boys and girls enrolled in 79 clubs in 40 counties for dairy calf work last year. The value of their products above costs was $23,956. A marked increase in the number engaged in dairy calf club work and in results achieved in 1923 is predicted by university men as a sequel of The Journal's generous offer.

SEND REGISTRATION FOR MOTOR VEHICLE TO SECRETARY EARLY

This Is the Advice of Mike Holm, as Otherwise Your Car May Be Laid Up—Get the New Number Plate Before Starting Out.

By legislative act which became effective January 31, 1923, penalties for delayed registration were suspended one month for motor vehicles that have been operated before March 1, and two months for motor vehicles that have not been operated this year before April 1. This means that, if one has operated his motor vehicle during the months of January or February, he must apply for registration and pay the 1923 tax before March 1 to avoid penalties for delayed registration. If one has not used a motor vehicle at any time in 1923 before April he may have until April 1 in which to register and pay the tax without the penalty for delayed registration. There will be no extension of time beyond these dates this year.

Though the legislature extended the time for registration, they did not extend the time for the use of 1922 number plates. According to law, therefore, no motor vehicle may be operated upon the public streets and highways after April 1 without displaying 1923 number plates. This means that the limit of the time for registration without penalty and the limit of the time for operating a motor vehicle under 1922 plates is set for the same date. The registrar, however, can only turn out a certain number of registrations each day. Owners of motor vehicles who would not run the risk of being obliged to lay up their machine must, therefore, make sure to send in their registrations long enough before the expiration of the time so that the registrar may deliver the plates before April 1. In all probability 200,000 owners will make their registrations in March. If they all delay until the last week in March it will be a physical impossibility for the registrar to issue the number plates in time for immediate use. An owner who expects to operate his car should allow from fifteen to twenty days, at least, for the registration to go through.

All applicants who delay their registrations until in March are again reminded that, unless they show by sworn statement in their application that the motor vehicle has not been operated in 1923 before April, the penalty for delayed registration must be charged at the regular rate prescribed by law, of 25c a day, for not to exceed thirty days.

Alma Reubens Risks Life

While Alma Rubens has never posed as an athlete, in "The Valley of Silent Men," a new Cosmopolitan creation based on James Oliver Curwood's novel of the same name, which comes to the Lyceum theatre Sunday and Monday, she performs some feats of endurance which prove her an outdoor woman. Cosmopolitan sent a company under the direction of Frank Borazage up into the Canadian Rockies to film the story amid the scenes where the author conceived it. For twelve weeks Miss Rubens and Mrs. Borazage were the only women with the company, sharing all the inconveniences and dangers of camping in the northern wilds.

Miss Rubens learned to drive a dog-sledge, and her first appearance in the picture is when she is seen afar off piloting her team of "huskies" across the snowy wastes. Then when supposed to be lost in the mountains, she is seen tramping for miles through the deep snow, climbing steep peaks, and finally slipping and falling into a crevasse of the great glacier above Lake Louise.

Again, with Lew Cody as her companion, Miss Rubens leaped from a boat which was about to go over the rapids into the icy waters of the Kipewa river, and swam to the shore. But before they landed they were obliged to duck under the water and remain submerged for fully a minute, while the pursuing police passed by in a motor boat without seeing them. But even this experience did not chill the ardor of the young actress.

This is one of the greatest north-country pictures ever filmed and is filled with action from beginning to end.

Officer of Singers Association

The Northwestern Singer's association held its annual meeting at Crookston during the Winter Shows and among the officers selected was E. M. Bennes of this city, who was chosen auditor. The local singers did not attend this year, due to the absence of the director, Dr. P. L. Vistaunet. The other officers of the organization are: C. M. Berg, McIntosh, president; Robert Erickson, Fertile, vice president; N. Marsh, Crookston, secretary; A. Hopkins, Fisher, treasurer; T. W. Thorson, Fertile, director; J. Hamre, Erskine, assistant director; N. Weadenhoffer, Lowell, marshal; and Elmer Uggen, Crookston, third member of musical committee.

The time and place for the 1923 summer concert was not decided, but some talk as to having this festival at Union or Maple Lake was up before the meeting.

SECOND LENT SERMON WILL BE PREACHED BY REV. FEDCKE FEB. 28

Mahnomen Pastor Will Speak Under Auspices of St. John's Lutheran Church on "Cure for Evils of the World."

The Rev. O. C. Fedcke of Mahnomen will preach the sermon at the second Lenten Service in the auditorium next Wednesday evening. The subject of his sermon will be "The Cure for the Evils of the World."

To every student of current events the timeliness of this topic will be apparent. In spite of the poet's words, "Our God's in the heaven, all's well with the world," he who runs may read in the events as they transpire, that all is not well with the world, even though our God is in the heaven. Something is decidely wrong with the world. Else, why all this unrest which has gripped whole nations and groups of people? Why the great number of would-be reformers, who day after day are advocating their pet remedies? Why the determined efforts of the world's best minds to find a real cure for the ills of the world?

The world is sick. All who are willing to face the facts as they are admit it. Only the wilfully blind can declare: "Day by day, in every way, the world is getting better and better." Experience teaches us the very opposite.

Rev. Fedcke is not a so called reformer, and he does not intend to pose as such. When he speaks to the people of this city on the ills of the world and their remedy, he will not expound his own theories and speculations; he will not weary with a self-conceived and never-tried system of world-therapeutics.

The Rev. Fedcke is a plain-speaking preacher with a message from God's Book. From the inspired Word of God he will show his audience what is wrong with the world, and, what is more valuable, he will show God's remedy for curing these ills.

Here is a message of vital importence to every person. You will not want to miss these weighty truths, presented by a careful student of the Bible and of the world, a forceful and eloquent speaker. They who heard Rev. Fedcke last year, when he spoke on the "Origen of Man," will no doubt look forward to hearing him again.

St. John's Lutheran church extends to the people of Thief River Falls a most cordial invitation to attend these services. The service begins at 8:00 o'clock and will be conducted throughout in the English language.

Bemidji Moonshiner Pleads Guilty and Given Sentence

Mike McCrehin, who was arrested Jan. 30 by the county sheriff's office after his residence at 419 Eighth street, had been searched under a warrant secured from Court Commissioner D. H. Fisk on complaint made by E. G. Boyd and found to contain a large quantity of moonshine whiskey and mash in addition to a still and other equipment, did not wait for grand jury action when that body went into session at the court house at Bemidji last week.

At the preliminary hearing, McCrehin waived examination and was bound over to await the action of the grand jury. Tuesday he entered a plea of guilty before Judge C. W. Stanton and was sentenced to a fine of $200 and confinement of 60 days in the county jail, with the provision that the confinement would be increased 30 days upon default of the payment of the fine. He is now serving his sentence. McCrehin operated one of the most extensive stills found in the northwest.

DISSENTING JUDGE GIVES REASON FOR CLEARWATER STAND

Judge Stanton Voices Particular Objection To Ruffy Brook Portion of Assessment

Judge C. W. Stanton of Bemidji, who sat with Judge William Watts of Crookston, at the final hearing on the Clearwater river improvement project, decided against allowing the petition of the farmers and others who favor the work being done, but admitted that the opinion of Judge Watts allowing the petition will prevail as he is the senior and presiding judge.

Judge Stanton's opinion, dated Feb. 10, is as follows:

"This proceeding was instituted and is now pending in the County of Red Lake, but the petition therefore includes territory contained in each of the three counties, Red Lake, Pennington and Clearwater, all of which said territory is within the limits of the Red Lake Drainage and Conservancy District, in the State of Minnesota. Red Lake and Pennington counties are included in the Fourteenth judicial district and Clearwater county is included in the Fifteenth judicial district.

"Because of these facts, the Hon. William Watts, one of the judges of the Fourteenth judicial district, before whom the said proceeding was pending, requested the writer, C. W. Stanton, one of the judges in the Fifteenth judicial district, to sit with him at the hearing and in the consideration of said matter. I accordingly did sit with Judge Watts, as requested.

"Now, after giving the said matter due and careful consideration and after conference with Judge Watts I find that we are unable to agree upon the paramount question as to whether an order should be made confirming the reports of the engineer and viewers and establishing the project. It is my opinion, in which Judge Watts concurs, that because of such equal division of opinion, that of the senior and presiding judge, Judge Watts, should prevail. Judge Watts has, therefore, made and filed his order establishing the said project.

"I desire, though, to let it appear in the record that it is my opinion that the petition should be denied and the proceeding be dismissed and briefly state some of my reasons for such conclusions:

The project should not be established because:

1. "The estimated benefits to be derived from the construction of said improvement will not exceed the total cost thereof and damages.

2. "A considerable part of the engineers' report disregards to a great extent any consideration of the actual benefits to be derived. This is especially true as to the lands assessed for the Ruffy Brook portion of the project.

5. "In the present period of agricultural depression and high taxation it will be grossly unfair and seriously detrimental to the public welfare to impose the burden of more assessments upon lands alrady heavily taxed.

6. "Water power interests on Red Lake River will be especially benefitted by the Clearwater Lake reservoir and the straightoning and deepening of the Clearwater River and should be assessed for benefits accordingly."

Crookston Debating Team Wins District Championship

The members of the local high school debate team can justly feel that they were beaten by an exceptionally good aggregation when they were defeated by Crookston recently. The Crookston high team has now won the district championship, according to Tuesday's Crookston Times which gives the following account:

"Champions of the Ninth District of the Minnesota State Debate League," was the honor achieved by Coach E. G. Norstrom's Crookston high school debate team composed of Glen Sunberg, Norman Hagen, and Kenneth Robbins, when they won a 2 to 1 decision of the judges over the Detroit team Monday. The Central trio won by upholding the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved, that the Kansas type of Industrial Court of Adjudication be adopted in Minnesota."

This last victory, which gave the Crookston high school another district championship, was a continuation of Crookston's remarkable record in debate work. Central high teams have failed to win the district championship but once in the last ten years, being eliminated for the first time in that many years last winter when Ada won a 2 to 1 decision debate over the Central high trio. Crookston teams have won the state championship two times, in 1912 and 1921, and have entered the semi-finals and finals in several other years. Central undoubtedly has the most remarkable record of any high school in the entire state.

Fire Destroys Soo Line Station At Cass Lake

The Soo Line depot at Cass Lake was totally destroyed by fire which started at about 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning. Difficulty was experienced in getting the fire truck to the depot on account of the drifted snow and efforts to save the structure were useless. A number of freight cars on the track near the depot were moved out of range of the fire.

The depot building was a frame structure about 15 years old, standing a few blocks to the north of the main section of the town. The depot was visited by fire about seven or eight years ago, it is reported, but the blaze was extinguished without great loss. The cause of this fire has not been stated. The loss to the building is estimated at about $5,000.

Building Boom Forecast

In advance of a forecasted building boom, the annual St. Paul Building show opened at the auditorium and will continue all week.

"The impetus gained by tremendous building actively in 1922 will not lessen, but will result in even greater building activity this year," said Oscar Lampland, general chairman of the building show committee.

"Manufacturers and contractors at the shows are optimistic. Building booms always mean prosperity for everyone," he said.

Loyalty to the Service

Almost daily something happens that strikingly proves the loyalty and devotion of telephone employees to the public they serve.

Storm, flood, fire, tornado, explosion, wreck, or disasters of any kind, are met in a manner that emphasizes the spirit of service underlying the daily work of telephone people.

Each year the younger men and women who come into the service to help meet the growing demands made upon the telephone, are imbued by the other employees with the spirit of devotion to the public welfare.

This loyalty, this thought of "service first," is more than devotion to an organization. It is devotion to the whole telephone democracy, to the millions of people who form the telephone-using public.

Prof. Cochran's reading of "The Fortune Hunter" at the high school auditorium Friday evening merited a much larger audience than it had. Owing to the interrupted train service it was for a time uncertain whether Prof. Cochran would be able to arrive on time, which undoubtedly kept many away. The few who did come however, were more than satisfied, the only regret being that more could not have enjoyed the delightful entertainment.

The faculty, to whom the school board left the matter of deciding for or against a spring vacation, announces its decision to abolish this year, at least, the custom of having a week's recess at Easter, as a result of which school will let out a week earlier at the end of the year. This action meets with varying degrees of approval. Students who find school tiresome are anxiously awaiting summer vacation; the vote of the teachers shows that they would part with us forever a week earlier in the spring rather than lose our company even for one short week at Easter time. But the seniors, while they realize that spring vacation would interupt their numerous class activities, are not in favor of early graduation. The pleasant days of seniordom are slipping by at an alarming rate, and they see that day of momentous import, commencement day, will come altogether too soon. The graduating class is not at all in a hurry to exchange school life for the school of life.

Place Pictures In Halls

It has been customary to place pictures of our football and basket ball teams in the halls of our high school. Many schools have a tradition of this kind, but in our case the expense has fallen upon the unfortunate captain.

This custom seems rather unfair, the school does not want the captains to bear the burden of leaving a memorial of his team or rather the school's team.

They play for the school and not for themselves.

Some system ought to be devised so as to have the student body pay for the pictures. This would distribute the cost and make it so very small no one would feel it a burden.

The members of the team are willing to put up pictures of the captains. The school wants pictures of its athletes in the halls, and we are safe in saying that the student body would back any scheme that is fair and just to all concerned. What say!

Our Trip To Warroad

Well folks this has been one awful wk. and if I have a chanst to go to Warode again I am going to pass it up. Not that I have anuthing vs. the pop. residing in the handsum city they are hospital and all that but I have seen the sites now and know what kind of menu they put out so what would be the sens.

We (by we is meant the basket bawl teem) left our "faro hamlet" (like I refer to T. R. F. when I am joking) on Monday P. M. via the G. N. R. R. (They had vacation here Monday so we could get let off without missing anything and I don't know, but what I imagine is that they was vacation the rem. of the wk. too when they saw how we weren't showing up.) The band wasn't at the depot yet when we pulled into Warode so we went directly to the Hotell (which couldn't be helped as they have only the one Hotell there and not such a bad one either on the inside with all modern convenances namely: dum waiters, bell hops who were much dumer, folding beds with mattress tiks, and etc.)

Well after we had eten sparingly (which is 1 of the drawbacks of athletics i. e.—you have got to feed a 60-horse power aptite on a poets dyet and then grin like you were on the exterier of a 4-cornered soup-to-nuts menu in 6 instalments or sumthing.)

Around 7:30 we dropt in at the H. S. to play a few rounds of basket bawl vs the opposing teem which was pwehaps the main reeson we had come to Warode for. There was quight a crowd folloed us to the H. S. and staid to witnis the game which last we wun by a cold 21 pts. We felt pretty hollo afterwds. so the H. S. femails fixed us up a lunch and told us where the dants was at which we tended in a body. When we got back to the Hotell nobody could sleep so we all layed awake.

Tues. P. M. we were all abroad the trane when the conducter past the remark that on acct. of the storm we are not running no tranes so we thought we had best git off and go back to the Hotell. Mean while some traveling men had gathered there with their ft. on the radiater who had been to Omahah, Nev. once and so had a no. of interesting facts to tell us.

Wed. A. M. we got up on acct. the chamber maid wanted to sweep out our rm. In the afternoon we desided to lets go up to the H. S. and see how things are running there. The beauty of visiting school is because you can see somebody else do the work and rec. the abuze from the teechers. I spent a very pleasant afternoon. On our way back we stopt in at the depot to ask was there maybe a trane running south today, but we could tell by the isicle on the ticket seller's mustash that there wasn't. We had brot our nite gowns in case emergensy so what did we care.

No doubt we could have gone on in this fashun indefinitly playing cards and loafing in gen. only that we happened to think get up a dants amongst ourselfs. But where would we get the dames there being none to speak of at the Hotell. At this junction Charlie was struck by an idea which er thot was pretty good for Charlie namely: to tell Central about it and would she spread the news by wd. of mouth to all the girls in town which was not such an impossibilty as it would sound for inst. in T. R. F. Central was so sweet about it we asked would she come too which she ans. would be simple enuff by notifying the phone-owning public her line was busy so to not do any phoning this P. M. Personally I enjoyed myself at the dants and my partner said so too.

Last call for dinner was the reason we got up Fri., because we had not had any breakfast to say nothing of the light refreshments the nite before. A man from the R. R. phoned us. In the P. M. and stated there would be a trane at 5:35, which made us all so joyful the propriter asked did our rich uncle kick off or what. He felt awful when we told him we were leeving town because he asked was that all we were leeving which reminded us to pay our dets 1 st. Around 3:30 we went to the depot but the trane was late so we had to wait upwards of 2 hrs. before the snow plow showed up folloed by the regular trane.

When we pulled into our home town we were met by some of our former acquaintences who came in handy for carrying our baggage. It certainly seems nice to get back to city life after what we have gone through.

Progressive Party

After Prof. Cochran's reading, "The Fortune Hunter," given at the High school Friday night a group of his listeners finished the evening in the form of a progressive party. Leaving the high school, the merry-makers made their way to Black's Sweet Shop where they partook of a lunch. Following this they left for the Dahlen residence on Markely avenue, where the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. The members of the party were Lydia Dahlen, Lucille Curtis, Ruth Knutson, Pearl Weeks, Rose Costello, Viola Buringrud, and Harriet Morgan.

COCHRAN PLEASES SMALL AUDIENCE

Presentation of "The Fortune Hunter," By Famous Reader Thoroughly Enjoyed

A treat that will not soon be forgotten was tendered the public by Prof. Cochrane of Carleton College in his presentation of "The Fortune Hunter," at the high school Friday evening. Mr. Cochrane is one of the foremost students of public speaking of the "New School" type. His handling of various eccentric characters was exceptionally fine.

"The Fortune Hunter" enjoyed a 2 years' run in New York and also played in Chicago for over a year and is a high class comedy. Those who secured Mr. Cochrane's services should feel proud to have given the high school students and the public such a treat.

Due to uncertain train schedules, little advertising had been done and a small appreciative audience was the result.

Normal Girls Hosts At Taffy Pull Saturday

The girls of the Normal Training department held a party in the gymnasium of the high school last Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. The following were guests of the girls: Mr. and rs. Simley, Mr. and Mrs. Rapacz, Miss Ruth Johnson, Mr. Stanley Powley, Miss Kirk, and Miss Stapleton. The party was in the nature of a taffy pull, and after a few games, and a lunch of ice cream and cake, the evening was spent in taffy pulling. The party was adjourned at 12 o'clock and everyone reported a good time.

As Seen By a Freshman

Was I seeing things, was it the effect of the magnesium sulfate I overdosed with last night or the mistake I made by taking my ablutions that I saw such funny sights? Huh—maybe it wasn't myself but the Seniors. Well, "pon my honor," I have never before seen students come to school looking so funny, and, I never saw so many ears in five hours and thirty minutes.

Why all those Senior girls wore their hair down, and oh such big ribbons they did sport. They knocked five years off their age, to say the least, and looked real cute. Some of the girls that never showed up much before wore what the Sophomores called "loud" stockings. I didn't think so because they never spoke to me when I stood by a girl that wore them in the hall. I didn't like the togs the boys wore as well as the girls.

Classic Literature

I suppose our teachers think that they
Are doing quite a lot,
When they make us buy those novels
By that guy named Walter Scott;
And I'm wasting some real precious time,
For though I've started in
And finished half of chapter one,
It has failed my heart to win.

No lover's been brought to view so far,
To my intense regret,
And though I'm starting chapter two
No one's been killed as yet.
Just yesterday I overheard,
From someone who should know,
That in a book like Ivanhoe
Indians never, never, show.

At first I thought it all a lie,
But now I must submit
That though I've finished chapter four
No lover's peared as yet.
But, really, now, to tell the truth,
Do you think it true,
That folks, for just one single fight,
Will read a big book THROUGH!

Someday I'm going to write a book,
(I'll do it just for fun)
And all the folks 'll get married or
Be killed in chapter ONE.

Stephen Game Called Off

The basket ball game with Stephen, which was scheduled to be played at the city auditorium Friday, February 23, has been called off on account of a measles epidemic at Stephen.

The team is trying to get a game with some other school, if they do not all have their schedules filled. Watch for posters announcing a game if one is secured.

Warroad Aftermath

The basket ball team after being "snowbound" in Warroad for all last week are back at their regular routine work much the worse from the experience. Sydney Schutt and Charles Herron were both sick while in Warroad and are just recovering from a severe attack of grippe. Milford LaBree has been confined to his bed during the week, threatened with pneumonia. The rest of the fellows were more fortunate however, and are in the best of condition.

The team, from all reports, played a very good game with the Warroad bunch, defeating them 31 to 10. This puts Thief River Falls in the running with the rest of the teams for district championship, and second best in the district.

Echoes From the North

Stan says, "Some of the girls live a long way out of town," seeing as how he froze his nose twice while he was in and around Warroad.

Chuck says he usually gets on the good side of the waitress and gets pretty well fed up, but he starved in Warroad.

Math floated in at three o'clock one morning from—Oh, he didn't know where he had been.

Mac says, "It's darn hard to live five days in the same white shirt."

Sid has been suffering from straw in one of his ears received while sleeping on a straw mattress up there.

Kip seems to like vacations, he's not back to school yet—Oh you Warroad.

John seems to have gotten a good whiff of Warroad air; he has been telling some good fish stories (herring seems to be the "long suit.")

Cliff was lost in a snow drift "where?" at Warroad.

Sid says, "Those Warroad girls sure can cook."

Personals

Because of the severe snow blizzard which passed over the country last week there were between fifty and seventy-five absenses in high school each day.

It's the latest fad to leave your mittens at Lincoln when you go home from staff on Saturday afternoons so you'll have an excuse for returning to visit your friends in the evenng. For further details of the scheme ask Ruth.

Friday after school another candy sale was held by the Seniors. They have found this to be a successful way to earn money for the "Prowler" so as long as the students find refreshments after school refreshing the seniors will continue this practice.

Reports from Miss Lorrayne Crandall, a former member of the class of '23, say that she is getting along fine at Napa, California where she moved with her parents last summer. Lorrayne is greatly missed by her friends and by the class as a whole because she always played an important part in all school activities. We are glad that she has entered upon her studies in the new state so successfully.

We had two substitute teachers at Lincoln last week. Mrs. Campbell substituted on Thursday for Miss MacNair who was absent because of illness. Mrs. Rapacz took charge of Coach McFarlane's classes while he was "showed in" with the team at Warroad.

Ask Steve if Rose has forgotten Sauk Center and Minneapolis since the Sheik of Jamestown came to town.

REPRESENTATIVES IN DECLAMATION PICKED

Melvin Engelstad and Liv Vistaunet Chosen To Represent T. R. F. March 2

In spite of the inclement weather the local declamatory contest was held at the high school auditorium, Wednesday, February 14.

Melvin Engelstad giving "The Turk Must Go" was chosen to represent Thief River Falls in oratory at the sub-district contest to be held here March 2, and Liv Vistaunet reading "The Death Disk" won first place among the girls.

Critics say that this contest was above the standard usually set at the home elimination contests. Every contestant showed remarkable training and more or less natural ability, and it is rumored that the judge, Mrs. Gerlinger, almost had to flip coins to pick the winners.

The contestants with their selections in the order they appeared are:

Cleon Bottleson	A League For Peace
Melvin Engelstad	The Turk Must Go
Lucile Roark	My Ain Countree
Pearl Weeks	Famine Scene From Hiawatha
Agnes Johnson	The Other Wise Man
Grace Mostue	The Swan Song
Lilian Arnold	Two Soldiers of Fortune
Dorothy Swedenburg	The Perfect Tribute
Liv Vistaunet	The Death Disk

Only a small audience was present. An admission fee of 10c was charged, the proceeds of which go to the General fund.

The Modern Mariner

It is the modern mariner
Who is stopped by one of three
"By thy long blue coat and glittering star,
Now wherefore stopp'st thou me?"

"Your clutch, oh, sir was opened wide
We heard the awful din,
We saw you speed through Lover's
Lane,
In that old bunch of tin.

He pointed his skinny hand,
"Full forty-five," quoth he,
"Get off my running board, you loon!
You're drunk as you can be!"

The cops were here, the cops were there,
The cops were all around,
And when he cussed and raised a fuss,
They felled him to the ground.

The mariner lay in his tracks,
And swore he would not budge;
They tied him up with skid chains tight,
They hied him up to the judge.

Judge Mix then rose upon the left,
"One hundred bucks," said he,
And smiling he leaned toward the right,
And pocketed his fee.

"Gasoline, gasoline, everywhere,
But nothing in the tank,
So all aboard for Broadway,
I'll have to touch my bank."
A sadder and a poorer man,

He rose the morrow morn,
He swore he'd never speed again
And honked his klaxon horn.

The Automobiler.

Mr. Harner: What's the formula for starch, Stephen?

Stephen: C H O taken X times.

Lucile: (The sun beginning to dawn) Oh! that's why they put the X on flour barrels.

The Old Soak

Mr. Harner: What's another name for ethyl alcohol?

Lydia: Good alcohol.

Mr. Harner: They're all good.

Miss Skinner: "How can you tell when an egg is fresh?"

Phyllis: "Well, you put it into water and if it is good it will sink or float. I don't remember which."

Declamation Contest March 2

The district contest in declamation and oratory will be held at the local high school auditorium on the evening of Friday, Mar. 2. The following schools are to be represented: Roseau, Greenbush Lancaster, Erskine, Red Lake Falls, and Thief River Falls. The winners in this contest will go to St. Paul to participate in the state contest in the spring. The contest is open to the public, and the citizens of Thief River Falls are strongly urged to attend and compare the dramatic talent and coaching at the Lincoln with that of neighboring schools. Judging by the showing made in the home contest, the local representatives will make a strong bid for the trip to St. Paul.

"Prowler Well Advanced," Says Editor Stengelsen

"The 1923 Prowler is farther advanced than any preceding Lincoln High annual has ever been at this stage of the school year," said Albert Stengelson, Editor of the 1923 Prowler, in an exclusive interview with the Progress reporter yesterday.

"And to what," asked the reporter, "do you ascribe this fact?". "To beginning early, and working late," replied the editor. "We decided that since the financial end of the proposition would not permit us to put out a big book, we decided that the best we could do was to put out the best possible kind of an annual—so we started early. Most of the engraving was completed by the end of January, and the few pieces remaining will go in a couple of days. You see, we planned on going to press on March fifteenth, thus getting the book out by April fifteenth. I believe that the book will be much more valuable if it comes out early; and we know that our subscription list will be much greater because of that."

"What are you doing now," asked the reporter.

"Oh, a little of everything," answered the chief. "We are finishing the last few pages of snaps, and are getting ready to paste up the dummy annual that we must send to the printer. And then we are getting the written material for the different sections of the annual, so as to have them ready when the engravings are completed. Everything ahead points to clear sailing from now on, and I can tell that the '23 Prowler is going to be a good one."

Geometry

Balboa discovered the Pacific in 1523
Columbus, America in 1492
Whoever discovered geometry
Must have been a Hindoo.

All of the lines, arches, and angles
Of which there are more than a few
Get you into such terrible tangles
You simply don't know what to do.

The problems, rules, and theorems
Almost drive you mad
You know you'll get all zeros
It's the worst you've ever had.

You fret, you scold, you fuss
To think of such a man
And you really would like to cuss
But a voice says, "Be a man."

You take the good advice at once
—You sit up and get to work
You make up your mind not to be a dunce
And never again to shirk.

Then you get the answer right away
Oh, what a head you've got!
"Geometry's in it for good, you say.
'And never to be forgot."

OPENING OF Y. M. C. A. CLUB ROOMS BOON TO BOYS OF CITY

Opening Night Monday Draws Many To Discuss Installations With Board

Through the efforts of Rev. Gerlinger, C. D. Gustafson, Supt. Simley, and other progressive men of this community we now have a Y. M. C. A. to furnish clean and wholesome entertainment for the young men of this city. The rooms at the public library are just a starter and this organization will in time develop to be one of the leading places for young men to come together in good fellowship. This is something that has been lacking in Thief River Falls, for a long time. The young men of this city all patronized places of recreation that were not of the wholesome type but now since they have a place for recreation, some of the city ordinances, prohibiting especially students from attending these places, will be in enforced.

The young men of the community are all grateful to the men and church organizations who helped in the work of establishing a "Y" for our city. And all wish to express their appreciation of the same. Several of the high school students have signed up and many have joined the organization, but it should also be kept in mind that this is for boys outside of school also, any young man from 14 years old on up may join.

Now, fellows, since the men of the city have organized this "Y" for us, let's show our appreciation by signing up. DO IT NOW! See Mr. Pope or call at the "Y" in the library any time, get a registration card and sign up for membership. Show the citizens of our city that we appreciate what they have done for us.

On last Monday night the Young Mens Christen Association Community club of Thief River Falls opened for the first time. There were a large number of young men there who appeared to be very much interested in the outcome of the Y. M. C. A. The club board were at the club rooms at the opening and after a board meeting, the future members of the club were invited into the meeting. The boys were given a chance to declare themselves as to what equipment they would like. The discussion of whether a pool table was wanted by the boys was brought up. A large number of the boys seemed to be in favor of a pool table.

The gymnasium equipment was put up and in shape for the opening night. It seemed great sport among the boys to put the gloves on and try out on the other fellow. Rev. Gerlinger announced that the chess room would be open Tuesday evening. The board has decided to put a Radio set in the club rooms, and Mr. Pope who has charge of the rooms thinks a labratory will be fixed up and a class in electricity will be started for the benefit of those that are interested in that sort of thing.

After the meeting on Monday those boys that wanted to enroll at that time were given a chance and there were thirteen that did enroll. The club rooms will be open to the boys from seven fifteen to ten o'clock every evening, except Sunday. One of the rooms has been fitted out for such games as chess and checkers and also for reading. The rooms which are under the public library are fairly large and make a fine place for the boys of Thief River Falls to spend their evenings in a pleasant and helpful way.

Using It

"Henry," said a mother to her 10 year old son, "haven't I always told you to use your napkin at the table?"

"Why, I am using it mother," protested Henry, with an air of injured innocence. "I've got the dog tied to the leg of the table with it."—The Echo, Hume-Fogg H. S., Nashville, Tenn.

American Legion Corner

Lightening The Load

"I like to think of our Legion as a great army of comrades," said Legion National Commander Alvin Owsley during his St. Paul address, "A great column of buddies marching along, swinging down the long road of service to our camping ground in the greater and finer America that is our objective. It is a tough detail to step out alone on a long hike under your pack. But with comrades marching beside you, the load is light, the journey a pleasant one. Let us never forget our comradeship and the ideals for which we are united. And when we mount guard in our last camp may the countersign be 'Accomplishment,' and may every buddy have the right to enter."

It Can Be Done

"Feeling a sincere pride in my state, and realizing the power of the Legion in her future development," said State Commander Gerald Barron in Montevideo last week, "I would not be fair to myself or to the trust of my office of leadership if failed to urge every Legionaire in the state, both old and new, to lend his time and influence to the task of enlisting the co-operation of every former service men in the state. The American Legion is fundamentally right in principle and consistently unselfish in motive. It deserves the combined co-operation of all veterans. Get in, Buddy, and let us build for Minnesota a Legion that will command the respect of all good citizens of our state, and stimulate the admiration of the entire Legion world. It can be done."

Actions Speak Loudest

"To be a good Legionaire you first must be a good American," declared Staff King, Minnesota Legion Adjutant, speaking over the WLAG radio broadcasting station to Minnesota Legionaires February 10th, "for the ideals of the Legion are based on the hopes of our country. To be a good Legionaire, you must live a life of service to others as well as to yourself, for the Legion was born thru sacrifice and service to a great cause. Don't be egotistical, self-centered or narrow minded; don't selfish, boastful or domineering. None of these are the traits of the true Legionaire. For the good Legionaire lives up to the aims and ideals of the Legion, and they are suumed up in the words 'Honor to the dead by service to the living.' Every man who served his country in war should be proud to honor the memory of his dead comrades by joining the Legion now and helping his living comrades to continue in the servce of Old Glory."

The Father of A Nation

"How providential seem the services of the truly great?" writes Royal A. Stone of St. Paul, in charge of patriotic activities for the Minnesota Legion State Americansm Commission in a message to Minnesota Legionaires. "What man of his time, other than Washington, had the strength, the poise, the faith, the courage, the wisdom, the military skill to direct successfully, through the long dark years of the Revolution, the military affairs of the Colonies? But great as were his services as a soldier during the war, Washington's efforts as a civilian after the war were as great, or greater, and probably more valuable. He presided over the convention of 1787 which gave us the ordinance of our nationality, the foundation and framework of our national greatness, the Federal Constitution. To what extent its substance is due to his wisdom and his counsel is not known but we do know that, had it not been for his aggressive support, his own state of Virginia would not have approved it; and that without Virginia's approval the Constitution probably would never have been adopted by the requisite number of states and in consequence the United States as a nation might never have come into existence. Let us be specially reminded, then, by this national day of Washington, that the services and duties of peace, particularly those of Legionaires, are no less important than those of war. In this year of Grace, 1923, Feb. 22 will be particularly significent to Legionaires, for it is going to be the day of victory in our campaign for 40,000 members."

Days of Remembrance and Reminder

In an address made on the anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, February 12th, Mr. Stone said: "Thoughtful Americans are distressed by the tendency of our people to overlook the significance and purpose of our national holidays. We of the American Legion, who believe in the inclusion of true Americanism, may well pause and consider this subject. What are these days of patriotic significance that they have been set aside for special and solemn observance? They are Days of Remembrance and Reminder,—of remembrance in that they call to mind great men, great services and resulting great events;—of reminder, in that they solemnly admonish us of the duties of our matchless citizenship. February 12th, birthday of the saviour of our country; February 22 nd, birthday of the father of our country Memorial Day, consecrated to the memory of our dead; Independence Day, for rejoicing in our nation's freedom; Labor Day, which should express the high quality and dignity of all labor; and finally Armistice Day with its tremendous meaning of joy and sorrow, not to Legionaires alone, not to Americans alone, but to all the world; these are our great patriotic days of REMEMBRANCE and REMINDER. It is in this spirit that the Minnesota Department of the American Legion is going about its Lincoln-Washington Membershhip Drive. It does not propose to leave undone anything that will save our departed comrades from having died in vain. And it does not propose that the living but disabled shall suffer unnecessarily or in vain. This is our great ultimate purpose in wanting every service man to be a legionaire."

Director Charles Forbes

Charles R. Forbes is responsible for the administration of all soldier relief in the United States as director of the U. S. Veterans Bureau. In this work he has charge of their hospitalization, compensation, vocational training and insurance. He is the foremost paymaster of the government, disbursing annually one-fifth of the outlay by the government, exclusive of the public debt. He distributes more than a million dollars daily to veterans, their dependents, and beneficiaries.

Born in Massachusetts, Feb. 14, 1877, his early life was spent in New York and Boston; and he was educated at Phillips-Exeter Academy, Cooper Institute, Columbia University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. By profession he is a civil engineer. He is a New Englander by birth, but a Westerner by adoption.

Colonel Forbes is a comrade-in-arms with the beneficiaries of the Veterans' Bureau, for he shared their dangers and privations overseas. The greater part of his time overseas was on the line, and he participated in the Somme offensive, as well as in the St. Michel and Argonne drives. He entered the signal corps as a major, and served on the staff of Major General Hunter Liggett; and went overseas as chief signal officer of the 41st division. Later he was transferred, in the same capacity, to the 3rd division. He was subsequently appointed chief signal officer of the 9th army corps, but resigned from the army at the conclusion of hostilities to resume his profession.

President Harding appointed Col. Forbes director of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau because of his business and administrative experience, his broad human sympathy and clear understanding of ex-service men.

Prior to his military service in 1912 he went to Honolulu as constructing engineer of the Pearl Harbor Naval Station. In 1914 he was appointed Territorial Superintendent of Public Works. He also served as chairman of the Public Utilities Commission, chairman of the Board of Harbor Commissions, chairman of the Cahn Loan Fund Commission, was a member of Hawaii Loan Fund Commission and of the Reclamation Commission. His services in these capacities won the admiration and commendation of those associated with him. This wide administrative experience taught him to appreciate that human contact with employees is a necessary element in the success of any big administrative problem.

One of the first acts of Colonel Forbes as director of the Veterans' Bureau was to expose the use of mushroom vocational schools which had sprung up over night for the sole purpose of obtaining the tuition the government paid for training disabled veterans; and the system of placement training under which trainees were farmed out to small shops and exploited by our employers. He promptly remedied these conditions, and placed the men in established and accredited trade schools and colleges, or in business establishments of high standing. He then turned his attention to the hospital program and recommended to congress the establishment of modern, fire-proof, government owned and controlled hospitals. Under his administration the rating of cases of compensation and claims by the Bureau has been liberalized, and ex-service men given the benefit of every doubt.

The U. S. Veterans' Bureau received, up to August 31, 1922, 857,235 compensation death and disability claims, and 1,038,239 compensation and insurance claims. There are at present more than 25,000 disabled veterans hospitalized by the Veterans' Bureau. The report of the Insurance Division shows that on July 1, 1922, there was a total of $1,047,083.39 of U. S. government life insurance in force. This report also shows that there was a total of $2,186,113,054.00 of term insurance in force. A report of the rehabilitation division of August 1, 1922, shows that 156,562 disabled veterans had entered training, with 99,090 actually in training at the present time; and 17.251 disabled veterans rehabilitated to date, now in gainful employment.

Colonel Forbes was awarded the distinguished service medal for notable work overseas. He is a member of the American Legion, and of the Rotary, Advertising and University cubs of Honolulu, the Hawaiian Society of Engineers, the Chiefs of Hawaii, the Geographical Society and the Municipal Research club.

Income, Tax Facts

Liability to file an income tax return for the year 1922 is determined by a person's status on the last day of the taxable year, December 31, if the return is made on the calendar year basis, as most are. If on that date he was single he must file a return if his net income for 1922 was $1,000 or more, and he is allowed only an exemption of $1,000. If he was married on December 31 he is granted the exemption allowed a married person for the full year, $2,500 if his net income was $5,000 or less, and $2,000 if his net income exceeded $55,000. The bride's income however, must be considered with that of her husband, the larger exemptions being allowed married couples living together. A widow or widower whose spouse died before the end of the year is classed as a single person. Divorcees and persons separated by mutal consent also are classed as single persons.

Similar conditions exist with respect to the head of a family. If, during the year, his support of relatives ceased he is entitled only to the $1,000 exemption. A man who has a dependent child, not mentally or physically refective, that attains the age of 18 years qust before the close of the taxable year, can not claim the $400 credit for a dependent.

To avoid penalty, income tax returns must be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer lives or has principal place of business on or before midnight of March 15, 1923.

Where addition time is required because of illness or absence of the taxpayer from home, the collector may grant, upon application before the return is due, March 15, an extension of not to exceed 30 days. If an accurate return can not be made within the 30 days extension period, a request for a further extension must be made to the Commissoiner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C. Collections have not authority to grant extension exceeding 30 days.

Failure to make a return on time subjects the delinquent to a penalty of $1,000 and an additional penalty of 25 per cent of the amount of tax due. Team Work in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana)

"Paying for needless strikes is an item in the cost of living that conceivably might be reduced."

When all is said, strikes are but the symptoms of an industrial disease, which is not eradicated when the strike is settled. If those engaged in the conduct of a business, whether they be employer or employe, will approach a controverted point in a spirit of justice, the differences can be adjusted satisfactorily and the strike made an unnecessary extravagance.

The record of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a record of industrial peace. Employes of the organization always have had ample opportunity for bringing their grievances to the attention of the management, and during the past few years ways have been provided whereby these complaints can be adjusted with promptness and finality. This is called the Department of Industrial Relations.

Its function is to substitute evolution for revolution; to avert discontent; to prevent conditions which give rise to disorder and strikes.

Since inaugurating this Department of Industrial Relations we have had little or no labor troubles and these have been adjusted as soon as the facts could be set forth, and opportunity given to demonstrate the justice of each side to the controversy.

Team work is the fundamental base upon which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) efficiency is built. To calculate the value of this efficiency in terms of money one has but to figure the cost of disorganization, discomfort, and expense which the people in the Middle Western States have suffered through industrial strife. As petroleum products enter into every phase of life to an extent which appears incredible to the layety, uncertainty or scarcity in the supplying of these products would affect the daily life of the individual definitely, unfavorably, disastrously.

Both the management and the employes of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) recognize teamwork as a definite necessary part of this organization. The army of employes under sound leadership are working toward the ideal where adjustments will be made automatically, because justice and equity will rule to the profit of the employe, employer, and the public at large.

COUNCIL FAILS TO SET ASIDE VETO BY MAYOR

Executive Refuses to Approve Granting of Soft Drink License to O. W. Carlson

Councilman Ness Only Member Present Agreeing With Him, But It Was Enough

Demands That Two Others Who Were Turned Down Be Also Restored To Favor

Mayor John Bratrud refused to give his approval to the issuing of the soft drink license granted by the council on Feb. 13, to O. W. Carlson, and the council failed by one vote to override the veto on Tuesday evening. Councilman O. L. Ihle was absent and the vote stood four to one in favor of granting the license in spite of the mayor's opposition, but a five-sixths vote was required to accomplish this. Had Councilman Ihle been present the result would undoubtedly have been the same as he cast the only vote against granting the license in the first place.

The mayor did not go into details as to why he has opposed to this particular applicant simply stating that two others who, in his opinion were no more to be objected to than Carlson had been refused permission to continue in the present business because the privilege had been abused. Further, it was his opinion that a sufficient number of these licenses had been issued to more than the requirements and that including persons to whom objection might be raised was both unwise and unnecesary.

During the discussion which followed it developed that the only council member present who agreed with the mayor was Andrew Ness. This was a complete change of front on his part as he had voted in favor of granting a license to this party at the preceding meeting. In explanation of his position he stated that so long as licenses had been denied two other applicants for the same reasons as the mayor objected to Carlson's he could see no good reasons for making an exception of his case. If the council was willing to reconsider its action in refusing a license to the other two he would vote to override to veto of the mayor, otherwise Carlson's application would have to go the way of the others. Explaining that the other applications were not an issue had no effect. Ness stuck by his guns and the mayor's veto stands.

Six new applications were granted, as follows: George Christo, Austin & Eichhammer, Anton Dahl, Carl Christofferson, Park Hotel, Zavoral & Prestebak.

At a meeting of the board of trustees for Independent School District No. 1, of Crookston, Leonard Peterson, superintendent of the Crookston Water Works Power & Light company was named to fill the vacancy on the school board caused by the death of the late Dr. C. Early Pennington County Settler Dies at Age of 92

Jacob Olson, since 1889 a resident of this section, passed away quietly Sunday at the farm home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hove og North township, two miles west of Thief River Falls. Deceased had reached the ripe old age of 92 years and five months at the time of death, which was caused by general weakness due to old age.

Mr. Olson was born in Vestmansland, Sweden, Sept. 6, 1830, and came to this country together with his family in 1889, settling on a homestead in town of Norden, five miles west of this city, in the early pioneer days. He resided there until in 1900 when he sold the farm and together with Mrs. Olson made his home with his daughter, where he passed away. His wife died in 1910. Mr. Olson had been rather sickly and helpless for the past twelve years, becoming more seriously ill after an attack of paralytic stroke last spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Olson were married 56 years ago, four daughters being born to their union. One daughter died while they still resided in Sweden. Three daughters mourn his departure, namely: Mrs. L. E. Erickson, 310 Kendall avenue north, Thief River Falls; Mrs. Gilbert Hove, North township, two miles west of Thief River Falls; and Mrs. Alec Elstrom, Pueblo, Colo.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock from the Hove home, interment to be made at the Norden cemetery. Rev. O. J. Lundell of the Swedish Mission church will officiate at the obsequies.

FORMER RESIDENT AMONG VICTIMS OF PACIFIC HURRICANE

Sam O. Hofto Perishes Near Astoria, Oregon; Body Not Found For a Month

News of the death by drowning of Sam O. Hofto in the terrific storm which swept the Pacific states during the first two days of January was received this week by his mother, Mrs. Thorbjor Hofto, 511 Horace avenue north. His body was found adrift near Sand Island on Feb. 1, in a badly decomposed state.

No marks indicating violence was found on the body and the coroner rendered a verdict of accidental death. He was identified by friends, but these having no knowledge of his relatives, interment was made in Ocean View cemetery, Astoria. His disappearance caused the people with whom he made his home to investigate inquiries with the result that his identity was established.

Hofto was born May 10, 1886, at McIntosh, and with his mother, two sisters and a brother moved to Thief River Falls in 1905. For a long time he was employed by the local telephone company under Manager G. L. Sterns.

He enlisted in the army at Ft. McIntosh, N. D., in 1917, and at the close of the war was honorably discharged from the 11th squadron of the First Provisional regiment. Since that time he had been employed as a lineman at different points in Oregon but at the time of his death was engaged as a boat builder at Astoria in that state.

Besides his mother, a sister, Mrs. J. E. Nelson, resides in this city at 903 Knight avenue north; another sister, Mrs. E. O. Thompson is a resident of St. Paul, and a brother, Halvor, lives at Bushy Park, Tasmania, Australia.

Asks Permission To Cut Wires

Rev. J. M. Noeson of St. Bernard's church, on Tuesday evening, sent a request to the city council asking that he be permitted to cut the electric ligh wires in order to move a building from the East to the West side. It would entail the cutting of one of the main cables and the councilmen were somewhat loath to grant the request for this reason, much as they would like to do so. Taking the building up Atlantic avenue was suggested but it was learned that by taking this route it would be necessary to cut a large number of telephone wires which would prove even more expensive than the other way. It was finally decided to take the matter up with Father Noeson and explain the situation.

Excellent Record Being Made By Hazel Creamery

The co-operative creamery at Hazel, one of the newer institutions of Pennington county, is beginning to hand out some sizeable checks to the milk and cream producers of the neighborhood. The creamery has now over 100 patrons and has had a very successful run during the past year. Officers and directors point with pride to the fact that the plant has been kept running the year round, thus providing a certain and profitable market for milk and cream.

Following is a list of the high check ricipients for the month of February and there are a number of others who are rapidly getting into this class: E. G. Shumway, $149.79; Martin Mathson, $139.31; A. P. Sandberg, $111.96; Anton Anderson, $103.21; Hedin & Prestby, $100.71; E. A. Peterson, $93.83; J. R. Larson, $93.83; P. W. Peterson, $90.76; Clarence Reese, $87.21; Anton Peerson, $75.13; Agnes Neiworth, $64.42; Elling Klemetson, $62.48; C. F. Carlson, $54.97; Ben Szymanski, $54.60; John Stroberg, $54.25; J. C. PLANS FOR NEW G. N. DEPOT ARE INSPECTED HERE

Provide for Fine Structure, 34x134 Feet, of Brick and Stucco Construction

Strong Attempt Being Made To Have Building Moved One Block Farther East

Expected That Work Will Begin As Soon As Frost Is Out of the Ground

Plans for the new Great Northern depot to be erected in this city were this week received by City Agent W. E. Baker. All previous disappointments were forgotten and all criticism hushed when it was learned that the company had finally decided to improve their terminal facilities at this point by the construction of this much-needed improvement.

It is expected that material will at once begin arriving but no one knows when construction work will begin. If it is decided to erect the new building on the site of the present depot some time will be taken up in the moving of the old building to the other side of the track for use while the new quarters are under construction. It is generally felt, however, that no unnecessary delays will be allowed to interfere with the early beginning of the work.

It is not yet definitely settled that the new depot will go up on the site of the old one. Mr. Baker is very much in favor of having it moved to the east a couple of hundred feet, thus bringing it into the block between LaBree and Main avenues. This would place it at the extreme end of the Great Northern and might be objected to on that score as there would be little or no room for the handling of cars on the east side of the depot. The change would present many advantages, however, and adopting it would obviate any necessity for moving the old depot while the new one is being completed.

The plans are for a structure 13x134 feet. The base will be brick veneer for a height of four feet, the remaining eight feet to the roof being of stucco construction. It will be a combination freight and passenger depot with spacious waiting rooms for men and women. These rooms will be connected by a passage way at one side of which the ticket and business office will be located, the same plan as in the Great Northern depot at Crookston being followed in this respect.

All the latest convenience in the way of cooling and warming rooms will be installed and a model heating plant will be placed in the basement.

The present depot has served the pople of Thief River Falls for about 30 years, according to old-timers and has long been regarded as inadequate by the traveling and shipping public. The new building will add much to the attractiveness of that end of town besides increasing greatly the prestige of the railroad company.

Rev. Aastad Again Heads North Minnesota Pastors

Rev. E. T. Sweger of Trinity Lutheran church, returned the first of the week from attendance at the annual meeting of the Northern Minnesota Ministerial association, which was in session at Crookston from Saturday until Tuesday. More than 60 pastors were present.

The visitors were guests of the Norwegian Lutheran church on Saturday evening at a supper and program. A sermon in the English language was delivered by Rev. Sweger in the forenoon, followed by a lecture by Rev. A. T. Tolevs of Warren on the subject: "Sermon building." J. Tahner of Concordia college, Moorhead, delivered a lecture in the afternoon on the subject, "To give to the kingdom of God."

Sunday's program included services at both the English and Norwegian Lutheran churches.

All the old officers and members of the executive committee were reelected as follows: Rev. I. T. Aastad, Detroit, formerly of Thief River Falls, was again chosen president; Rev. J. H. Stenberg of Duluth, vice president; Rev. A. J. Anders of Lake Park, secretary; Rev. A. B. Hinderlie of Detroit, treasurer; Rev. O. G. Ausen was named as the other member of the executive committee.

There are 136 churches in the district, which includes all the territory north and west of Duluth.

DeCremer To Erect Brick Building On Main Avenue

The coucil on Tuesday night granted the application of Louis DeCremer for a permit to erect a store building at his present location, 214 Main ave. north. The structure is to be of brick, 25x60 feet and one story high. Construction will begin as soon as the weather settles somewhat and rushed to an early completion. The estimated cost was not mentioned in the application.

Red Lake County Farmers Trying Out Sugar Beets

Red Lake county farmers are also becoming interested in sugar beet growing. Two of these recently reported on the outcome of last year's operations as follows: E. J. Porter planted 20 acres to sugar beets. The total produced was 239 tons, for which he received $1,528.32 gross. After deducting $523 for Mexican labor and seed he had remaining $1,005.32, or an average per acre of $38.60. Joe Benoit grew five acres of beets. His total income from these five acres was $341.11 or a net income per acre of $68.20 per acre. Twenty dollars was deducted for the cost of seed and Mr. Benoit and family did their own work, that is they did not hire any Mexican labor.

Former Resident Injured

Gustaf Stokke, for many years a resident of Thief River Falls, being employed by the Thief River Falls Lumber company during the old sawmill days, met with a serious accident at Rose Lake, Idaho, this winter, according to word receiver here this week. A fragment of steel lodged in his right eyeball and had to be removed by means of a powerful electro magnet. The sight in that eye is gone but the removal of the eyeball was not found necessary. The accident happened while Mr. Stokke was drilling through a tough piece of wood. The drill broke and the fragment lodged in the eye.

Train Kills Three Horses

The following item relating the incident of three horses being killed by a train, appeared in the columns of the Greenbush Tribune last week:

"Last week Helleck Halverson, living four miles up the ridge road, had the misfortune to lose three of his horses killed and a fourth one slightly injured by the train which came down Friday evening. The horses had got out of the barn and unto the track, where evidently they had run some distance when overtaken at a cattle guard by the train. The horses had been killed instantly, and were badly cut up and the remains strewn along the track for some distance.

MRS. CORA E. WOLD TO AGAIN ENGAGE IN BUSINESS HERE

LaVogue Shop, In Charge Of Mrs. Henry Melby, To Open About The Middle of Mar.

Mrs. Cora E. Wold, formerly a resident of Thief River Falls, but for some years engaged in business in Grand Forks, has leased the Eyde building on Third street formerly occupied by the Shanahan grocery, and expects to open with a stock of ready-to-wear garments for ladies and misses in the near future. She will handle women's wear exclusively, including hosiery and furnishings.

Mrs. Wold has successfully conducted a similar store at Grand Forks since leaving Thief River Falls and will continue in business there, the addition of a store in this city giving her added buying power which means better wholesale prices. She has been in the east for the past month selecting garments for the two stores and expects to be ready for business here about March 15.

The new shop will be in charge of Mrs. Henry Melby, formerly Miss Lois Wold, a graduate of Lincoln high and well known to a large number of our citizens. The store will be known as LaVogue Shop.

Mrs. Melby's wide acquaintance in this vicinity will prove of great value in this undertaking, while the class of goods carried will appeal strongly to women of all classes. The quarters chosen are well adapted to a business of this kind and are in an excellent location.

ART EXHIBIT AT LINCOLN SCHOOL ATTRACTING MANY

Beautiful Display of World's Masterpieces Greatly Admired On First Night

There was a good turnout at Lincoln High auditorium last evening to view the wonderful array of pictures on exhibition, many of which are of more than ordinary interest. The exhibit will remain in Thief River Falls until Saturday evening when it will be shipped to some other point for the purpose of stimulating interest in art among school students. The display may be viewed on any of the days mentioned from 4 to 6 in the afternoon and from 7 to 8:30 in the evening.

This collection consists of some 200 carbon photographs, photogravures, prints in full colors, etc., loaned by the Elson Art Publication Co., Inc., of Belmont, Mass., and contains only the very best representations of the masterpieces of art of different countries and different periods.

A small admission fee will be charged. Nearly every art gallery in the world as well as many of the private art galleries would have to be visited in order to see the originals of these pictures.

After deducting the expenses of the exhibit the proceeds will be used to purchase pictures for the schools, each school sharing equally in the proceeds. The purpose of the exhibit is to give the people an opportunity to see a collection of the world's famous masterpieces of painting, sculpture and architecture, to encourage and foster the study of art in the schools as well as the teaching of art appreciation and to raise funds to place pictures on the walls of the various school rooms.

The sale of tickets will be handled by the various schools and in order to facilitate the sale of tickets the Elson Art Publication Co., Inc., have given to be used as prizes two large photogravures. The room turning in the largest amount of money from the sale of tickets based upon the per capita enrollment will get first choice of these pictures, and the school coming second will get the other one. These two pictures are to be seen in the windows of the Times Printing Company.

WOMAN SECURES VERDICT OF $1050; COURT ADJOURNS

Train Failed to Stop at Steiner And Plaintiff Was Forced To Walk Back

Verdict For $300 Awarded Younger Woman as Personal Damages

Number of Court Cases To Be Heard Here Sometime Later In the Season

An Explanation

The statement appearing in The Times last week to the effect that E. J. Gilmet had been found guilty of grand larceny in the district court was erroneous. Mr. Gilmet's case did not come before the court at all, having been continued.

Mrs. Johanna Sande was awarded a verdict for $1,050 by a jury in district court here Friday against the Great Northern Railroad company. Mrs. Cora B. Sande, a daughter-in-law of the first-named, received a verdict for $300.

This was the only personal damage case tried at the February term of court, which adjourned Friday night. Court was presided over by Judge William Watts of Crookston.

The complaint in the Sande case alleged that the women were passengers on a Crookston-Warroad train and that they had purchased tickets for Steiner, a short distance north of this city. It was claimed that no stop was made at Steiner and that the passengers were carried about a mile and a half past their point of debarkation. The error was pointed out to the brakeman but he is said to have claimed that but two alternatives presented themselves—either to walk back to Steiner or to stay on the train until Holt was reached. The women had no business at Holt and very little time was given them for decision before the train went away and left them, according to the testimony. Before reaching shelter at Steiner they suffered severely with the cold, Mrs. Sande having a frozen ear. Suit was brought for personal damages with results as stated.

Mrs. Sande was represented by H. O. Chommie of this city and the defendants company by F. J. Dorety and A. L. James of St. Paul.

A number of cases were continued until later in the term when they will undoubtedly be heard by Judge Grindeland. These were: J. Payne vs. the town of Grand Plain; S. M. Erickson vs. S. M. Nichols and William Nichols; V. F. Anderson vs. Tallack Froisness; Lottie Jensen vs. James Mulhall et al.

Some cases were also settled out of court, as follows: Gurine Folkedahl vs. First State bank of Oklee; C. Calvin Modesett as administrator vs. Tessum Grain, Seed and Supply Co.; John J. Aga vs. Peoples Auto Co.; Gopher Granite company vs. G. Halvorson. In two cases in which the Wylie Elevator company was plaintiff and C. A. Anderson et al, and John Schals defendants respectfully, a verdict was returned for the plaintiff.

The bond of Melvin Voldness, charged with violating the liquor laws, amounting to $250, was declared forfeited, he failing to appear when called.

Community Girls Celebrate

The Girls' Community Club celebrated the fourth anniversary of the club Monday evening in the club rooms on Horace avenue. The rooms were prettily decorated in red and green. A huge birthday cake with four red and green candles made a pretty centerpiece. Miss Bertha Poston of New York City, a former resident of Thief River Falls, gave a very interesting talk relating some of her experiences as a social welfare worker in the world's largest city. A vocal solo was rendered by Miss Thora Hanson accompanied by Miss Edna Larson. A social time was enjoyed until the serving of a splendid luncheon. The serving committee was composed of the following: Misses Esther and Emma Tandberg, Clara Halvorson, Hilda Hammarsten, Doris Richter and Sibyl McGinn.

Novel Musical Attraction Comes Here Tuesday Eve.

Something new in musical attractions will be presented to the people of Thief River Falls and vicinity on the evening of Tuesday, March 6, when the Harp Ensemble company appears at Sons of Norway hall. This is a quintet of three harps, violin and cello which for peculiar beauty of orchestration has seldom been equalled by any five-artist company.

This organization is the product of the expert coaching of Clara Louise Thurston, of Chicago, one of the most gifted harpists in the country. The program is one in which there are no novelty numbers, the company resting its popularity entirely upon the musicianship of its members and upon the beauty of its vocal and instrumental selections.

The ensemble singing of the company to their own stringed accompaniment is one of the most delightful features of the entire program.

The Harp Ensemble company has appeared in many of the largest cities and has everywhere been given the highest praise. They furnish an entertainment of unusual charm and interest.

Bemidji Elects Many New Men

In the city election held at Bemidji a week ago Tuesday a complete set of officials were named.

For mayor, John Moberg, contractor, won over J. P. Lahr; for alderman at large, Morris Kaplan won over J. C. Parker. Mrs. Belle Denley for city clerk, George Rhea for city treasurer, C. B. Hoyt for assessor and Joe Dislar for park commissioner, were unopposed. In the first ward E. C. Shadegg won for alderman, in the second ward A. T. Carlson was elected. In the third ward there was a three cornered fight in which Harold Swisher was elected. George Hickerson was reelected as alderman in the fourth ward, winning over F. G. Troppman, and in the fifth ward John Sparks was elected over Peter Wold.

CONGRESS IS ASKED TO IMMEDIATELY SET PRICES FOR FARMERS

Representatives From 9 States Pass Strong Resolutions For Prompt Relief

The northwest price stabilization congress met in St. Paul Tuesday and Wednesday on call of Gov. J. A. O. Preus, is described as the most wonderful meeting ever held in Minnesota by Attorney G. Halvorson, who attended as a delegate from Thief River Falls.

The meeting went on record as favoring the immediate stabilization of prices on farm products by congress. The Times is indebted to Mr. Halvorson for a copy of the resolutions adopted by an overhelming vote, which was later made unanimous. They are as follows:

Your committee has carefully considered the various phases of price stabilization of farm products and do hereby report as follows:

The disparity between the price of the products of the farm and the price of these commodities which the farmer must purchase is indefensible from an economic standpoint and if permitted to continue will result in the breaking down of the nation's basic industry.

This disparity in prices between what the farmer purchases and what he sells is largly due to congressional and legislative enactments which has thus been given to other industries such an advantage over the farmers of the nation that immediate relief must come to right this wrong that has been done to the tillers of the soil.

A crisis exists in American agriculture. The man on the farm is bearing more than his share of the common burdens. Other lines of business are prosperous, while hundreds of thousands of our farmers are facing bankruptcy and the whole industry is struggling against the irresistable tide of an illogical economic system for which he is not responsible and which he is powerless to combat.

And while we are convinced of the fact that stable and well directed co-operative marketing organizations should be provided for the orderly marketing by the farmers of their own products, nevertheless immediate and adequate relief cannot be secured in that way and because of the deplorable conditions now prevailing in the farming industry we do resolve:

That until such time as the farmers of the republic are in a position through their own agencies to handle and control the marketing of their products, thus enabling them to hold their own with other protected industries, we do hereby call upon Congress to immediately stabilize the price of farm products on the basis of the cost of production.

And to the end that the wheat growers of the nation may be assured in their efforts to provide bread for our people they shall not be compelled to continue to do so at a great loss, we do hereby demand that Congress shall immediately enact the Gooding Bill, Senate File No. 4178, unanimously recommended for passage by Senate Committee on agriculture and forestry.

In the event that Congress in its present session cannot or does not pass legislation prayed for in these resolutions, we respectfully petition the President to convene an extra session of Congress immediately for the purpose of affording the relief herein asked.

We endorse and fully approve co-operative marketing as sound and practical and pledge our support in promoting commodity organizations for the purpose of marketing grain, livestock, dairy and all other farm products.

We recommend, that local, state and district co-operative marketing organizations combine their strength and mobilize their power into national or district unity that will bring about the full effect of ordinary marketing and stabilized prices.

We demand the earliest completion of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Waterway in order that adequate water transportation may be assured from the northwest to the ocean and European ports.

We insistently demand such action as will restore to the wheat growing states such standards for grains as will not penalize wheat on technicalities that do not lower its true milling value, and denounce the present grades as unjust and indefensible.

The Farmers-Banker Council that arranged for this congress is hereby directed to make suitable provisions for the due submission of these resolutions to the President and Congress.

VOTE TUESDAY ON BOND ISSUE FOR NEW BRIDGE

To Decide Whether or Not $60,000 Structure Is Wanted At Foot of Third Street

Opposition Is General and Indications Are That Proposition Will Be Defeated

Objection Voiced to Undertaking Anything At This Time That Will Increase Taxes

On Tuesday, March 6, the people of Thief River Falls will decide on whether or not they are willing to bond the city for $60,000 in order to construct a bridge across the Red Lake river at Third street. From present indications the proposition will be defeated by a large vote.

This special election was called by the city council at the request of a number of citizens residing in the district known as Tindolph park. These are now compelled to travel to First street in order to cross the stream—two blocks farther than would be the case if this bridge were constructed.

While it is generally admitted that such a structure would prove of convenience to people residing at this particular point, the overwhelming opinion seems to be that the city is not warranted in making any such outlay at this time merely to accomodate a district which in the very nature of things is prevented from very great development. The Red Lake river forms an angle at this point and much of the land in the immediate vicinity is subject to overflow in the spring. This land will not be requisitioned for business or residential purposes for many years to come. Further south there is a fine residential section but this is so near the present bridge that it is not likely the householders there will care to add a rather respectable sum to the amount of their taxes in order to secure another.

During the winter months nearly everybody residing in this particular part of the city crosses on the ice, their route being almost parallel to the site selected for the proposed bridge. For these the structure would mean a convenience only during the months in which the river is open and there is not a sufficient number of them to warrant the expense. This is the opinion of practically every one interviewed.

Another bridge across the Red Lake river will have to be provided in the future, no doubt, but the general attitude seems to be that the necessity is not at the present time sufficiently acute to warrant the outlay. The steadily mounting tax burden is pointed to as the principal reason for voting down the proposal. The comparatively small number to be served by the improvement is another.

There is a general feeling that a halt must be called on improvements of this nature for a while—particuarly if bond issues are required to make them. Time must be given the city to catch up on its indebtedness before any vast sums are expended for things which are not absolutely necessary. With street paving accomplished and a filtration plant installed within a short time of each other the feeling is that sufficient in the way of permanent improvement has been undertaken.

Bill Providing Old Age Pensions Is Introduced

An old age pension bill has been introduced in the house. It would provide up to $1 per day pension for certain persons 75 years or older. A commission of three members would be appointed to handle the pensions.

The public welfare committee of the house recommended indefinite postponement of a bill to pension adult blind persons and decided to introduce as committee bills the measures recommended by the interim commission on the blind appointed by Governor Preus. The legislation recommended would provide for establishment of a bureau for the blind, under the direction of the state board of control.

Polk County Woman Dies at Old Age

The death of Martha I. Salibakke occurred at her home in Kritsenville township, Polk county, on Saturday, Feb. 17, after a lingering illness with complications and old age, she being over 79 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Isak Isakson Salibakke came to Crookston in 1879 and took up the homestead where she resided until her death. To this couple ten children were born, only six of whom survive. The children use the name of Isaakson, having dropped the Salibakke, which was the estate name in the old country and often used by the Norwegian immigrant. The children are: Isak, Thief River Falls, Mrs. Ackerman, Edmonton, Alberta, Canada; Tom on the home place, Mrs. Ole Martinson, Audubon; Ole, Crookston; and John of Fergus Falls.

Salvation Army Social

Capt. A. O. Watson, commander of the local Salvation Army corps, announces that an ice cream and cake social will be given Friday evening, March 9, at 8 o'clock, at the regular Army headquarters on Main avenue north. The citizens of Thief River Falls and vicinity are invited to attend.

A short but interesting program will be presented by the young people and children, after which all will be served lunch. The admission prices will be 10 and 20 cents, the proceeds to go to the Army funds.

MUST STOP SOMEWHERE

There will be a special election in Thief River Falls on March 5 for the purpose of deciding whether or not the city shall issue its bonds in the sum of $60,000 for the construction of a bridge over the Red Lake river at Third street. Not much interest has been taken in the proposition to date, the general feeling being that no such issue should be authorized at this time.

A bridge such as that proposed would be a convenience to the people residing at the north end of the East Side no doubt, but there are not enough of them to warrant any such expenditure. The new structure would be just two blocks from the present wagon and foot bridge across the stream. This bridge is easily accessible for all the people residing on that side with the exception of a few who live at the extreme northern end of Tindolph Point. To construct a $60,000 bridge merely to save a handful of people the trouble of traveling two blocks is something that is not likely to meet with approval on the part of the rest of our people.

It is pointed out by those objecting to the project that during the months of the year when travel is difficult because of snow the people on the point have a natural bridge. Everybody crosses on the ice during the winter months and a new bridge would therefore be of no particular advantage at this season. In the summer a walk of two extra blocks is not a matter of any great hardship under the worst of conditions. A bridge at Third street would certainly not help merchants on the West Side sixty thousand dollars worth and they are arrayed against the expenditure.

This thing of issuing bonds every time a few people decide there is some particular convenience lacking will have to stop. Taxes are sufficiently high now without adding to the burden by the construction of sixty thousand dollar bridges that are not needed. And many are of the opinion that the proposed bridge would cost much more than $60,000 before we were through.

Adding a considerable amount to the tax burden of our people in order to make it more convenient for a few is not to be considered under present conditions and it is important that all those who think so get out and vote next Tuesday. The only way in which the proposition can carry is for those in favor of it to get out and vote while those opposed neglect this important duty.

OUTLOOK NOT ENCOURGAING

It looks very much as if the Minnesota legislature is going to fail in its promise to pass a helpful rural credits bill at this session—or if one is passed it will be so hedged about with reservations and conditions that it will be of no value to those it was intended to help. There is no excuse for any such delay as that which has attended the handling of this bill. The slightest pretext has been used in securing postponments while squabbles over unimportant details have befogged the main issue until the people have become sick and tired of the whole proceeding and discusted with ligeslative performance generally.

Legislators who found in advocacy of the rural credits measure a popular issue upon which to ride into office have in many cases changed their minds and, if they are not actively opposing the bill, seem perfectly willing that it shall be so emasculated before passage as to be of no value. The great fear seems to be that the law will be so framed as to seriously interfere with the federal farm loan banks and private loan companies, the legislature being evidently more interested in protecting the interests of these institutions than in aiding the farmer.

The rural credits bill as redrafted limits loans to 50 per cent of the appraised value of the land and 25 per cent of the value of improvements. This is only slightly better than the terms made by the federal land loan banks which are 50 per cent on land and 20 per cent on improvements. The original bill placed the limit at 60 and 40 per cent and strenuous effort was made to have even these figures increased. Theodore Christianson, who fathered the rural credits amendment to the constitution two years ago, says that these changes will make the system ineffective.

Northern Minnesota men, as a rule, are fighting for a higher limit, both for lands and improvements. They assert that the bill as amended is worthless and that few loans can be placed by the state under such limitations. It is possible that a better proposition for the farmer can be secured when it comes to the final test, but the outlook is not very bright.

This deliberate disregard of promises made before election is going to be hard to explain. The farmer has been lead to believe that he might expect early and substantial relief from the burdens which are now crushing him, but so far as rural credits are concerned, this seems to be a vain hope.

It is very much to be feared that when the rural credits bill becomes a law—if it ever does—it will be of little or no value

ADDING TO THE COST BURDEN

By what system of reasoning certain legislators arrive at the conclusion that making unreasonable demands on the railroads will prove of benefit to other industries of the state, and particularly to farming, is not very well understood by people generally, but such is the case. At every session of the legislature bills are introduced—and sometimes passed—making it compulsory for the railroads to inaugurate policies or introduce changes which cost a vast amount of money but have no appreciable value in the way of improved service or lowered costs to the traveling or shipping public. The fact that this extra cost must be paid by railroad patrons does not in the least deter the lawmakers from these periodical onslaughts. When the attempts are successful it simply means that the public, and particularly the farmer, has been stung again.

Just now there are three such bills before the Minnesota legislature. They are the Full Crew bill, the Vestibule Cab bill and the Section Crew bill. These three measures, if they become law, will mean an added $11,142,000 in the expense account of the railroads, which in turn will mean higher freight rates for the farmer and shipping public.

It is true that the passage of these measures will also mean the employment of hundreds of additional trainmen and, in the case of the Vestibule Cab bill, an investment of nearly $9,000,000 for engine reconstruction alone.

All three are being advocated under the guise of safety and comfort for trainmen and the traveling public. The Full Crew bill demands that on all through trains the crew shall consist of an engineer, fireman, conductor and three brakemen which is one additional to the number now used. To comply with it, the roads say, would mean an additional outlay of $1,512,500 yearly in wages. The Vestibule Cab bill requires the installation of vestibules similar to those now in use on standard coaches between cab and tender and if carried out literally, which the road officials say is impossible, would necessitate the rebuilding of 2,545 engines at a total cost of $8,907,500, not to mention the added upkeep which would follow as a consequence. As to the Section Crew bill, its principal feature is a reorganization of the present method of track and road inspection and maintenance so as to compel the employment of extra men, which, further quoting the road officials would mean an additional expenditure of more than $1,000,000.

There is no denying the fact that the passage of these measures would mean the employment of a much larger number of railroad men and the consequent placing of a huge sum of money in circulation. This is most particularly stressed when anyone is disposed to question the wisdom of the proposals. What is not so well understood is that the extra millions paid to railroad men will be assessed against the farmer in the shape of higher rates.

The farmer's burden is certainly sufficiently heavy without this needless addition. Favoring one class at the expense of another is not good business at any time and is particularly to be avoided in cases where the industry least able to stand further encroachments is being made the goat.

FIND IT HARD TO MAKE GOOD

In the heat of a political campaign promises are often made which it is afterward found had better be broken. A legislator may discover that his first opinion of a proposed measure was all wrong and that no such law should be passed. He is committed, however, and naturally dislikes to go back on his promise. Consequently there are at every session a lot of plain and fancy jobs of "trimming." It is very often a difficult job for a man to satisfy his own conscience and his friends at the same time.

This fact was never more clearly exemplified than in the matter of the bank guarantee bill now before the Minnesota legislature. Attempts have been made at several sessions to pass some such measure and there has been a strong demand for it on the part of the voters. For this reason legislative candidates have used it for the purpose of gaining favor without going very deeply into its merits. This was the situation in Minnesota at the last election. Candidates for both house and senate made the support of such legislation an outstanding plank in their platform. It no doubt helped in electing them.

Now the time has come to make delivery and things are not so rosy. Careful study of the bank deposit guarantee proposition discloses the fact that the matter had better be approached with some care. It may be all right but this is not sufficiently well established to warrant the legislators in going ahead and making it a law. They must somehow make good on their pledges, however, and for this reason it is likely that some kind of a bank guarantee law will be sent to the governor for signature. It is asserted that the latter is not particularly committed and is by no means certain that it would prove a good thing.

Legislators would be glad to find some way out of the difficulty. They would no doubt be well satisfied to be able to leave a bank guarantee bill severely alone but in that case they would be up against a lot of embarrassing explanations to the home folks. It is all the result of trying to adjust themselves to meet an ill-considered demand.

TALKED IT TO DEATH

The ship subsidy bill has been killed in the senate after one of the hardest filibustering campaigns in the history of the country. It was President Harding's pet measure and its defeat is a direct slap at the chief executive.

There is every indication that another talk-fest impends. The President has sent a letter to the senate urging that the United states seek admission as a full-fledged member of the court of international justice, organized under the auspices of the league of nations, of which this country is not a member. It has been claimed by the party in power that participation by the United States in this league could not be considered and the tremendous vote received by President Harding in the last election is pointed to as proof that the people are opposed to any such alliance as this membership would signify. The President asserts that the United States can take an active part in the international court's proceedings without becoming a member of the league and that such affiliation would in no manner place us in any legal relation to that body. The Democrats seem to regard this assertion as a joke and maintain that any kind of affiliation means that we must embrace the protocol.

Whatever the final outcome of this matter may be, it is certain that it will give opportunity for a lot of fireworks.

March is certainly "coming in" all right.

Legislative Letter

(By Martin W. Odland)

St. Paul, Minn.—Two big measures were acted upon by the house Wednesday afternoon—the High Dam bill and the Bendixen bill imposing a tax on iron ore royalties. The twin city press has been full of stories of the fight raging between St. Paul and a part of Minneapolis, including Mayor Leach, over the disposition of the power developed at the High Dam on the Mississippi river, near Fort Snelling. The federal government built this dam many years ago, but as yet no use has been made of it, despite the millions spent in its construction. The great Henry Ford, the world's foremost business man, has offered to lease the power for the use in turning the wheels of a ten million dollar factory which he proposes to build on the St. Paul side of the river, near the dam; and St. Paul wants Henry Ford to have the power. Mayor Leach, however, wants the people to have the power and some weeks ago caused a bill to be introduced in the legislature making such a disposition of it. This bill was defeated Wednesday—first in the committee on cities and later on the floor of the house. In the committee all of St. Paul members, two of the Minneapolis members and one of the Duluth members voted to kill the bill; in the house the vote stood 82 to 41 against the bill, most of the farmers rallying to the support of St. Paul and Henry Ford.

It was stated in the debate that the coming of Henry Ford means the erection of a ten million dollar plant at the High Dam, the employment of 14,000 laborers, an annual payroll of twenty five million dollars, and the building of a railway line to the iron ore mines of the range.

Was a Tame Affair

The fight over the Bendixen royalty tax bill did not develop any fireworks. Rep. A. C. Welch attempted to amend the bill by raising the tax to 10 per cent, but failed; and Rep. N. T. Moen of Fergus Falls tried to raise the tax to 8 per cent, also without success. The tax fixed by the bill, 6 per cent, remains unchanged.

Only 16 votes were cast against the bill, these coming from the range and twin cities. It was conceded at the outset that the bill would pass and no particular fight made against it. The result shows how perseverence brings success. When a royalty tax was first proposed, it commanded little support.

The rural credits bills have been rereferred to the committee on markets and marketing, where they will probably be combined into one measure. It is likely that the matter may be disposed of, so far as the house is concerned, in a few days, but when the senators will take final action upon the bill remains to be seen. Sen. J. E. Diesen of Cloquet took it upon himself to introduce a new bill a few days ago, similar to the house bills, except in the section which provides for the administration of the proposed law.

Steel Trust and Immigration Commission Are Handed Their First Jolt

The Steel Trust, and incidentally the state administration, were given a bad swat Monday afternoon, when the house overturned the report of the tax committee, killing the per capita tax repeal bill, and put the measure on general orders. As will be remembered, the legislature of 1921 passed a bill which provided that no municipality can levy taxes that will amount to more than $160 per individual. It was introduced to protect the steel interests, which pay practically all of the taxes in some of the range communities and which were complaining that these communities were awfully extravagant, at their expense, in levying taxes. The fight created no end of bitterness and the range sent men to the present legislature determined to repeal the hated per capita law, or die in the attempt—that is, politically. These men lost out in the tax committee, which went against them 13 to 5. But, nothing daunted, they moved to substitute their own minority report for the committee report, and after a red-hot debate lasting over two hours, scored a brilliant victory.

It is now generally believed that they will succeed in passing their repeal bill when it comes up on the calendar or as a special order.

Much Oratory Uncorked

The longest debate that the state senate has pulled off during the present session, and one of the longest for many, many years, came Tuesday afternoon, when the "loan shark" bill, which recently passed the house, was taken up as a special order. The debate started at 2 o'clock and continued without a let-up till 7 oclock in the evening, five solid hours of oratory. And the bill was killed, not because of the oratory but because there was a feeling among the senators that the law proposed had dangerous possibilities. While ostensibly aimed at loan sharks, the senators feared that it might create a new crop of such creatures and, at the same time stiffen the interest rates charged by the state and national banks. In brief, the bill permitted loan companies to charge up to 3½ per cent interest per month, or 42 per cent per year, on loans of $300 or less. The authors of the bill admitted that this is a high rate, but much lower than the loan sharks in the twin cities now get by fair means or foul, from their hard pressed victims.

Rep. A. C. Welch of Glencoe scored a distinct triumph Monday afternoon, when he informed the house that his bill to combine the immigration bureau with the agricultural department had been killed by the house committee contrary to agreement and moved that the report of that committee be overturned and the bill placed on general orders. In spite of the protests of the committee chairman and other friends of the immigration commissioner, who is anxious to retain his job, Rep. Welch's motion was carried more than three to one, and it is probable that the house will pass the bill in the near future. The state would save about $8,000 per year.

Maccabees Honor Mrs. Halldin

Following the regular business meeting of the Lady Maccabees Monday evening, an entertaining program was rendered and a social time enjoyed. The event was in the form of a surprise for Mrs. O. F. Halldin, lady commander of the order, who was presented with a beautiful set of cut glass as a token of appreciation for her work in lodge affairs.

The meeting was attended by Mrs. Ruth Pierce of Crookston, district deputy, who gave a very interesting talk on "Junior Membership" and also on "Girls' summer camp." Other numbers on the program were a violin solo by Miss Lorraine Will, accompanied by Miss Pearl Weeks; a vocal duet by Misses Lorraine Will and Liv Vistaunet; and a piano duet by Mrs. Clarence O. Erickson and Miss Mildred Engen, all of which were very much appreciated by an attentive audience.

After the program refreshments were served by a committee and a social hour enjoyed. A large number of the members were in attendance.

Mrs. Reidy Surprised

A large number of friends very pleasantly surprised Mrs. L. C. Reidy when they gathered at her home, 935 Duluth avenue north, Saturday evening. The honored lady was presented with a pretty set of dishes and other useful articles as a memento of the occasion. "REMEMBRANCE" FILM THAT GRIPS

Self Sacrifice Of Fatherhood Is Theme Of Powerful Story Of American Family

In "Remembrance," the big Goldwyn special, coming to the Lyceum theatre for Sunday and Monday, Rupert Hughes has again demonstrated himself a film craftsman of the first order. Then new photoplay is a companion-picture to Mr. Hughes' screen masterpiece, "The Old Nest," which was one of the few really big pictures of last year.

"Remembrance" does for Father what "The Old Nest" did for Mother; it presents the head of the house in a sympathetic light. He "comes first after everyone else" but in the end he comes out strong. "Pop" Grout is the head of a household which has developed into "spenders;" they look upon "Pop" as a "good thing" to be worked to the limit—and "Pop" works to the limit for his family. When the limit is reached, "Pop" has an illness which nearly carries him off to a better world and his family awaken to a belated sense of his importance in their little world of the present. Mrs. Grout becomes again the helpful, sympathetic wife; the worthless son who was on the point of stealing the securities upon which the rehabilitation of the family fortune depended, awakens to his worthlessness and repents; and the daughters find they have a real affection for their father.

Mr. Hughes directed the picture as a film of this sort should be directed—with imagination and insight as well as in a workmanlike way. There are in it hundreds of the deft little touches that go to make a Rupert Hughes picture infinitely closer to real human beings than the average run of photoplays. It reaches the heart of the spectator and is not merely a pleasant means of passing an hour.

The cast ranks in ability, intelligence and convincingness with the best that Goldwyn has ever selected for any picture. Claude Gillingwater is "Pop" Grout to the very life. He's an actor of long-established reputation on the stage and a screen acquisition of which filmdom should be proud. Kate Lester is "Mom" and the children are acted by Cullen Landis, Patsy Ruth Miller, Richard Tucker, Nell Craig and Dana Todd. Esther Ralston, Lucille Ricksen, Arthur Trimble, Max Davidson, William Carrol and Helen Hayward complete the cast.

If you enjoyed "The Old Nest" do not miss "Remembrance."

Case Of Sleeping Sickness Reported From Newfolden

A number of cases of the so-called "sleeping sickness" have been reported in various sections of the state. Mr. Farstad of Newfolden is suffering from the disease, according to information given by a local physician. There are about 30 cases of the peculiar Malady in the state. Yesterday's issue of the Crookston Times reports two victims in Crookston: Signor Vogen, aged 25, who has been confined to a hospital for the past six weeks with the sickness, and a boy six years old is also said to have been afflicted but is now on the way to recovery.

The victim of the "sleeping sickness" becomes tired and wishes to sleep all the time. It is not accompanied by any pain, but the patient is very weak. Physicians state that it is associated with influenza, but have as yet not discovered any remidies for it nor any causes for its appearance. It is not contagious, according to medical men.

FARMERS Turn Weeds Into Money

Sounds just as impossible as turning water into wine, but the miracle is being performed every year, right here in Pennington County. You can do it and every farmer can do it, with a Bunch of Sheep.

Why be alarmed about the sow thistle and other weeds, when sheep are particularly fond of such?

If you have a piece of brush land which you wish cleaned up, how can it be done any cheaper than by turning in a Bunch of Sheep?

Sheep produce the farmers' easiest livestock money, because they require less care, less feeding and cheaper housing than any other farm animal.

Washington's Birthday Observed at High School

Due to the fact that Washington's birthday came on Thursday our Wednesday chapel period was postponed until Thursday.

The program was divided into two parts. The first part in celebration of Washington's birthday. Mr. A. Mayra and Mr. R. Prytz accompanied by Mrs. C. Erickson rendered a number of vocal duets. They responded to two encores. It was a rare treat and we all wish we could have that kind of a program every week.

Mr. Rapacz read a very interesting article by Senator Beveridge of Kansas on "Washington's Life" which was enjoyed by all.

The next part of the program was in commemoration of National Song Week. Miss Johnson and her music class were the leading characters in this part. Each member of the class gave a talk on one of the old songs which are so familiar to all of us. Then the assembly sang one verse of each song.

The program lasted until 12:00. But we forgot we were hungry. This is one chapel that will not soon be forgotten.

Not So Crazy

One of the inmates of the asylum to the janitor: "Say, janitor, is that clock right?"

Janitor—"Yes."

Inmate—"Then what is it doing here?"

The boys in Ind. Arts were connecting telephones, one in the class room and one in the basement. The telephones were connected to the best of their ability. They then tried to talk thru them. The one in the class room asked: "Can you hear me?" "No, you'll have to talk louder," come the answer.

The world is going from bad to worse especially in the line of vanity. In fact, the public speaking people practice aloud every day before a mirror. You see, they are studying gestures now, so that in order to get the full value of graceful movements they must see them themselves before exhibiting them to others.

George Washington Party

Miss Pearl Weeks entertained at her home last Thursday evening, at a George Washington party. Progressive rook formed the chief diversion of the evening. Henry Vorlicky winning head prize, and Lucille Curtis the low score. A sumptuous luncheon was served at 11:30, and the novelty of the evening was a surprise in the form of fortunes, found in quaintly shaped cookies.

The invited guests were Lucille Curtis, Lydia Dahlen, Ruth Knutson, Lorraine Will, Myrtle Helgeland, Viola Buringrud, Elsie Buringrud, Harriet Morgan and Eileen Arneson; Allison Stitt, Bert Umland, Craig Halverson, Stephen Arneson, Albert Stengelsen, Ole Helle, Henry Vorlicky, Henry Mellum, Sidney Schutt, and Math Barzen Jr.

Elson Art Collection On Display at High School

Recognizing the educational advantages to be derived from opportunities to see good pictures, the city schools have arranged with the Elson Art Pub. Co., Inc., of Belmont, Mass., for an exhibition of two hundred pictures to be held in the H. S. gymnasium Feb. 28 to March 3 inclusive.

During the four days time has been allotted to give each school an opportunity to view the exhibit. Pupils of the Central school will attend the exhibit before the morning recess. Wednesday is Knox day. The first and second grades will have an opportunity to see the exhibit in the morning while the third and fourth grades will familarize themselves with the great works in the afternoon.

Thursday is Northrup day with the same schedule as Knox. Friday is Washington day. The High School and the public will be allowed to view the exhibit from 4 until 6 each afternoon and from 8 until 9:30 in the evening.

This collection, consisting in large part of carbon photographs, photogravures and prints in full color, made directly from the original masterpieces, is selected by art experts and should attract large crowds, deducting the expense of the exhibit will be used in the purchase of pictures for wall decoration. The purpose of the exhibition is thus clearly two-fold:

First—To give people an opportunity to see a collection of world's famous masterpieces of painting, sculpture and architecture.

Second—To make it possible for the public schools to own a few of these pictures.

Why should this exhibit interest you?

Because, throughout the country, people are awakening to the importance and value of good art as creative of a refining influence and inspiring atmosphere and so surely as people become familiar with the best in art, just so quickly will the crude in art be displaced through appreciation of something better. It is, of course, idle to suppose that one shall become a competent judge of art simply through studying for a time photographs of prints.

But what can and should be obtained is a large measure of appreciation. A work of art which is really great will bear reproduction, and even though this may not posses the pleasure-giving power of the original in a gallery three thousand miles away, that measure of power which it does posses is well worth taking.

One of the leading art critics of our own, John C. Van Dyke, says:

"You must look at pictures studiously, earnestly, honestly. It will take years before you can come to a full appreciation of it, but when at last you have you will be possessed of one of the purest, loftiest and most ennobling pleasures that the world can offer you."

One great object of picture study is that of opening the eyes to the beauty all around which an artist's trained eye perecelves, while it is missed by others. This is the essential service of all great men—to draw us up in some measure to their own level of insight, enjoyment and inspiration.

These pictures are of interest to both young and old, and they are expected to attract and instruct large numbers of people. Everyone should come.

Tickets for "Assisted By Sadie" will be on sale Monday.

Extra Minutes of Play Wins Game For Argyle

The Thief River Falls high school basketball team lost a close game to Argyle at Argyle Tuesday by a score of 11 to 15. The game ended in an 11 to 11 tie, but in the extra five minutes played Argyle slipped in two beautiful long shots, making the score 15 to 11.

Inability to count on foul shots was the direct cause of Thief River's defeat. The locals made only 1 out of 11 free throws, while Argyle made 5 out of 8. The Argyle playing floor is small, which greatly handicapped the boys who were accustomed to the large auditorium floor. It is a peculiar coincidence that Argyle has played a large percentage of her games to ties, winning out in the extra minutes of play each time.

The lineup was as follows:

C. Sorenson	F	R. Parent
Schutt	F	Pfiffner
LaBree	C	Nelson
Herron	G	Green
S. Sorenson	G	Rivard

Substitutions: Sether for LaBree, M. Barzen for Herron, Redard for Parent.

Referee: Schmidt of Crookston.

Friday the team goes to Mahnomen for a game there that evening, returning Saturday morning. Negotiations are under way for a game with McIntosh here next Monday or Tuesday.

The place of the tournament will be known by Monday. There has been close competition for eight places in the district standings, but at the end of this week it will be known definitely which eight teams will vote on the seat of the tournament.

Just how does Sadie assist? City auditorium Friday, March 9, 8 o'clock.

Heirlooms

"Here, boy," exclaimed the excited little man as he rushed up to a page in a big hotel. "Run up to my room and see if my umbrella is there. Hurry now, because I've just got five minutes to catch a train."

Three minutes later the boy came tripping down the stairs.

"Yes sir," he said, "It's there all right."—The Cardinal, South Dakota Division H. S., Milwaukee, Wis.

Personals

The public speaking class enjoyed an entertainment on Thursday which the rest of the high school did not have the opportunity to hear. The class had been studying Lincoln's Gettysburg Address and Miss MacNair secured Supt. Simley, especially interested in that kind of work, who appeared before the class and gave the setting and his interpretation of that master-piece of American literature. The class not only enjoyed, but also received inspiration from, this special instruction in their work.

Mrs. Korstad was absent from school on Friday because of illness.

Myrtle Helgeland returned to school Monday after an absence of four days last week due to a severe cold.

Lorraine Will was absent Friday morning. Can't you stand short nights Willie?

Eleanor Toms from Crosby, North Dakota entered school here the beginning of the second semester. She has joined the Glee club and has become an active participant in school affairs.

The downfall of Harner, the Great, occurred the sixth period, when the chair which he depended on for support failed him and our professor gracefully planted his feet on the desk and his head on the assembly floor.

Did you know that Mr. MacFarlane is a pianist? Come and hear his compositions presented at the auditorium March 9.

HIGH SCHOOL FACULTY WILL GIVE PLAY AT AUDITORIUM NEXT FRIDAY

The Faculty Play as She Looks to Date

By Special Correspondent

Well friends I have just been in attendans at a rehearsal of the forthcoming fakulty play which goes by the name of Assisted by Sadie which is going to be given the 9 of Mar. and wile there was asked would I state my voos the perforans thru the colums of the progress to which I ans. this is sumthing I have not done befor not being a Dramatic Critter but it will be a grate experiment and maybe land me a job as a D. C. so will atempt same.

The play senters about the disapecrans of a sumthing which Miss Thompson belonged to who has assoomed the stage name of Hairyet (I do not know wither I have spelt that rt. but it is the fem. for Hairy) Carley step-dotter to Mrs. C. C. Carley who is her step-mother but in realty only Mrs. Brevig.

Up to this pt. I had it all figgered out the thief is coach MacFarlane who I had a hard time reckonizing him as the hansum mistry Alonzo Dow. Mrs. Brevig speeks with the mgr. of the hotel (where the play is sposed to have taken place there) and Mr. Pope (the mgr.) hires Mr. Bye for a detective (whose stage name is Mike Cameron and looks the part.

The second act is in the nature of a bawl (and if you have never tended a bawl now is your chanst.) At this junkshun I will state how much I admired the title roll Sady (who in private life teeches me pub. speeking poor lady) and (who as a actres is right smart but all same gets all bawled up trying to est. the inocents of above menshund Alonzo Dow.)

Meen wile Mr. Simley takes the part of Doc. Beedle a metal filosofer who has also a gilty look about him and so comits suside. Miss Birong figures prominently as the senora wich is not pernounced as you would think to look at it. Miss Bauman acts the part of a debutanty to perfection as she is just at that age now, wile to see Mr. Rapacz as the millyunair you would think it came and bell boy in the order given. As for Mr. Pope, will say theys mighty few women who are better qualified to handle the roll of mgr. in any capacity to say nothing of in a hotel.

On the hole the above drama is sure worth any prize that might be fixed per seat and then be a bargen as there is 4 acts where as a rule the majority of plays has only the 3.

Well friends, pairents, and gen. public, I have herein exprest my voo pt., but you had best come and see for yurselfs what kind of a fakulty we have got in H. S. You will be surprized who is the reel thief and him so inocent to look at him. I have the rep. for having one of the finest fakulties for unravling mistries in the N. W. but I must have miscalcated becuz at one time there I had them all down for theefs except the reel one. So you see you never can tell.

Personally I am going to sit on the balcony from where it is easiest to toss bokays. Tickets on sail at a erly date.

"Assisted by Sadie" is a mystery comedy, with twelve characters.

The members of the family have been working hard to put the play over big, and a capacity house is in prospect. "Assisted by Sadie" was chosen because it was felt that the greatest possible amount of clean enjoyment could be got out of this particular type of play.

Following is a list of characters:

Alonzo Dow	Mr. MacFarlane
Colonel Jenniner	Mr. Pope
Michael Cameron	Mr. Bye
Reginal Null	Mr. Rapacz
Dr. Beedle	Mr. Simley
Bunch	Mr. Powley
Sadie Brady	Miss MacNair
Mrs. C. Christopher Carley	Mrs. Brevig
Harriet Carley	Miss Thompson
Senora Gonzales	Miss Birong
Vichy Vaughn	Miss Baumann
Mrs. Quinn	Miss Kirk

How It Started

Some of the members of the high school faculty were talking together one evening. Ordinarily, of course, the members of the high school faculty do not talk, but this occasion was an exception. In the course of the conversation, certain remarks were made as to the prowess of the high school athletes, their loyalty to the school, as evidenced by consistent practice to win laurels for her, as well as doing creditable scholarship work. Someone suggested that a token of remembrance and appreciation should be given to the boys, but where were the funds to come from? The Athletic Association had none available, and then the idea came! A play! The subject was brought up in faculty meeting and the vote registered 100% support for the scheme. Within a week the play was selected, characters picked, and work begun.

Northrop School

The pupils of the Northrop School observed Washington's birthday by having a very enjoyable patriotic program.

This program was opened by singing "America" and giving the flag salute which were followed by songs about Lincoln and Washington. Little accounts of the lives of Lincoln and Washington were then given by the fourth and fifth grade pupils. The origin of our old popular melodies were explained by the sixth grades and the songs sung. The program ended by the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner."

Mrs. James Johnson and Mrs. Rhodegaard visited Miss Tragan's and Miss Lura's room this week.

Mrs. Frances Burns substituted for Miss Adams on Thursday and Friday of this week.

Edith Morse, sixth grade, was awarded second prize in the essay contest which was given in connection with the Farm Crop Show at Crookston.

The marching pennant was given to Miss Laura's and Miss Sand's rooms this week.

WILL PREACH THIRD LENTEN SERMON WED.

Rev. Nuoffer, Cass Lake, To Discuss Religious Education for Children

The mid-week Lenten services being held in the auditorium by St. John's Lutheran church are attracting considerable interest. Rev. Buegel's sermon, showing that man's real purpose in life is the attainment of eternal salvation through the merits of Christ, the suffering Savior, was well received by a large and appreciative audience. The same must be said of Rev. Fedcke's sermon on "The Remedy of the World's Evils," in which the speaker eloquently presented the theme, "Christian fear of the Lord God, practiced by the individual, is the only force which can liberate humanity from the bondage of evil with which it is fettered and bound."

The Rev. H. A. Nuoffer of Cass Lake will present a third practical value of Christianity: "Christian Training of the Child."

One will search long for a topic of greater importance to the people of this country and city. "Religious education for children" is the live question of the day. Educators, moralists, societies, judges on the bench, and religious organizations are bewailing the lack of religious education in the training of our youth. They are unanimous in predicting dire results for this, our beloved land, unless something is done in the near future to supply this deficiency.

Someone has said, "Education without religion is dangerous. That is only too true. The uneducated criminal is an evil; the educated crook is a menace. Does education in itself deter from lawlessness? Does education in itself make for good citizens? It does not. Our biggest lawbreakers are the best educated. The ignorant safe-cracker steals a few hundred; the educated bank-president embezzles thousands; the illiterate pick-pocket snatches a purse; the highly polished and educated grafter gets away with millions.

A solid religious foundation of morality; a deep spiritual conviction of responsibility to God for one's every act; a fine religious consciousness of sin and righteousness. These are the forces that build character and make for good men and women. And if we want these, then we must make the beginning with the boys and girls.

Said Thomas Jefferson: "I have said, and always will say, that the studious pursual of the sacred volume will make better citizens, better fathers, and better husbands."

The following is taken from a folder issued by the Episcopal church: "American liberty cannot long endure without a basic religious prepossession in the people, for it is easy to see that spiritual illiteracy may become a social menace. Already we find that the absence of religious training explains many things that puzzles us in the reactions of the rising generation toward our modern problems. They are moral and religious issues. Without religion as a part of the child's education our country is in grave peril."

The Rev. Nuoffer has had years of experience in the teaching of religion; he has observed its wonderful influence in the great task of character-building. His sermon will be an inspiration and a help to you, who are confronted with the same task.

Remember the speaker, the time, and the place: Rev. H. A. Nuoffer, Wednesday 8:00 p.m. at the auditorium. The English language will be used.

Henry Randorf, Rocksbury Farmer, Died This Morning

The many friends and acquaintances of Henry Randorf, for the past 35 years a prominent farmer in Rocksbury, will be saddened by the news of his death which occurred at the Physicians hospital this morning at 10 o'clock. Mr. Randorf had been suffering from bladder trouble during the past year. Tuesday his condition became serious and he was taken to the hospital for treatment. Mr. Randorf was one of Pennington county's most industrious and highly respected citizens. His numerous friends will feel his loss very keenly and extend their sympathy to the bereaved family.

Definite plans for the funeral services have not been made as yet but will most likely take place Saturday or Sunday. The last rites will be held from the home and the St. John's Lutheran church.

Stanton Dahlen Ill

Stanton Dahlen, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Dahlen, who underwent an operation for an abcess in the right leg the first part of February, is quite seriously ill, it is reported. He was taken home from the hospital over a week ago and was seemingly recovering rapidly, but the last few days his condition has been getting worse, the complication being marked with a very high fever.

FINAL BASKETBALL STRUGGLE MAY BE DECIDED IN T. R. F.

Will Be Determined By Vote Of Terms On March 3; Tournament On 15th and 16th

Superintendent G. H. Sanberg, president of the state basketball conference, district number one, which includes 18 towns of northwestern Minnesota, announced this week that the eight highest teams in standing on March 3rd would each cast one vote for either Crookston or Thief River Falls to determine the location of the district conference championship tournament. The tournament will be held on Thursday and Friday, March 15th and 16.

The regular playing season does not end until Friday, March 9, but it was decided to take the vote of the eight high teams on March 2nd so as to make proper preparations for the holding of the tournament. A team may have an opportunity to vote in the selection of the tournament city and yet may be displaced late by a team not then among the eight high teams. The eight leading schools at the end of the playing season of March 9 will enter the tournament.

Superintendent Sanberg also announced that Everette Dean, coach of Carleton's college crack basketball team champions of the Minnesota state college conference for the past eight seasons and runnersup for the championship this season, will officiate in the conference tournament games. Coach H. P. Constance of the Northwest School has been selected to act as umpire and may also assist in officiating in a number of the contests.

Games played last week resulted in a number of changes in the standings of the teams from sixth to tenth position. East Grand Forks advanced from tenth position to eighth displacing Argyle. Argyle now follows East Grand Forks. Bagley, the only other team in the race for a chance to enter the district tournament, comes next with two victories and three defeats.

The three leaders, Crookston, Fosston and Thief River Falls were idle last week. McIntosh increased its percentage by defeating Ada at Ada. Stephen and Warroad did not play any games last week but Warren defeated Argyle and now has a percentage of .553.

Crookston and Fosston, the two leading teams, will clash in one of the final games of the season at Crookston on Friday night. The game was scheduled for last Friday but was postponed until this week on account of the illness of a number of Fosston players.

Tuesday the Thief River Falls high school quint went to Argyle where they lost a hard fought game played under various disadvantages. The score at the end of the regular period was 11 to 11, but in playing an extra five minutes the Argyle basketeers succeeded in putting in two more baskets.

Friday the locals will meet the Mahnomen five at Mahnomen but as the latter team has lost every game played so far, victory is practically certain. As the last game of the season the management is trying to schedule a contest with McIntosh on the local floor, possibly Monday or Tuesday evening.

The standings to date follow:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Crookston	9	0	1.000
Fosston	6	2	.750
Thief River Falls	5	2	.714
McIntosh	7	4	.636

East Grand Forks	3	3	.500
Argyle	3	4	.428
Bagley	2	3	.400
Ada	3	8	.272
Hallock	1	4	.209

A. C. TOWNLEY HEAD OF FARMERS' NEW FAIR PROFIT MOVE

Former Non-Partisan President Launches Non-Political Organization In 12 States

A. C. Townley, founder and former president and directing genius of the national Nonpartisan League, is the head of a new nation-wide non-political farm movement which was launched by a group of 75 farmers from 12 states at a meeting in Minneapolis Friday night, according to an announcement by leaders of the movement.

According to the announcement the purpose of the new organization, which is named the National Producers Alliance, is the stabilization of farm produce prices through voluntary co-operative control of acreage and the dessemination of price and market information and advice.

Articles of the association, adopted this week, provide for an initiation fee of $4 and thereafter quarterly dues of $1 per member. Half the dues will go to the local precinct unit and the other half to the national office.

The organization proposes to:

Organize the farmers into precinct units on an intensive organization plan much like the plan of the Nonpartisan League.

Cause farmers to keep an accurate account as to acreage and costs, with quarterly meetings of precinct units to compare the costs to individual farmers and make reports to general headquarters on acreage and cost of production in each crop area.

Establish a central bureau to compile the statistics thus gathered, study the markets and price conditions and issue periodical information and advice to the members as to the acreage to plant and the favorable time for marketing.

"In brief," said Mr. Townley, "the plan is to get the cost of production and a fair profit for the farmers thru voluntary co-operation and an understanding by each member of the local and general acreage, price and market conditions."

The organization plans to issue a bi-weekly publication to each member at the outset. Organizations will be started in several states at once. The organization is non-political and nonpartisan and will take no hand in politics, Mr. Townley said.

Mrs. Henry Sunsdahl and little son arrived yesterday from Kloten, N. D., on her return to Erie. She has spent the past few months visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Halvor Bjornaraa, who formerly resided in Star township. A younger sister of Mrs. Sunsdahl, Bessie, recently had the misfortune of fracturing her skull while tobogganing. As a result of the accident she was unconscious for a period of fourteen days, hope for her recovery almost being given up. Rev. T. S. Sweger of the Trinity Lutheran church, Thief River Falls, V. O. Aaker of the Norwegian Lutheran church, Goodridge and E. A. Saho of Mavie returned Tuesday from Crookston where they attended the annual meeting of the Northern Minnesota Ministerial association. The four-day session was brought to a close Monday instead of Tuesday due to the diminishing number of pastors, many being called away. The attending pastors report the meeting a splendid success both in attendance and work accomplished. About 80 ministers from Lutheran congregations in the northern half of Minnesota took part in the meeting.

The Middle River basketball team composed of Harold and Ingral Gullikson, Sanford Hagen, Clarence Nordlun, Sula Sandberg, William Kramer and Eugene Peltola, accompanied by their coach Elmer Tandberg of this city, were in Thief River Falls Friday on their way to St. Hilaire where they played the high school of that village in the evening. At the end of the regular period the score was 8 to 8 and the extra few minutes played ended in a row so that the final result was left undecided. Coach Tandberg states that he may take his team to the conference at St. Paul which takes place in March. His quint has practically a clean record of victories for the past season.

A. W. Hoglund, G. Stebbins, S. Becker and Owen Mulwaney of Crookston arrived here the first of the week and are now busy in an attempt to move the emerged Knox building out of the river. The crew will, by means of derricks and other equipment, try to raise the structure sufficiently so that it will be possible to get it on rollers and get it on land. The other half of the original Knox school, which is still on the east side of the river, will also be moved across the river to a place near the St. Bernard's church, as soon as the first part has been safely taken to its position. The structure is the property of the church of St. Bernard and will, after it has been rebuilt, be used as a parochit school.

If weather permits there will be a dance at the Rink Friday evening, March 2. Let's go! m2

Favors New Bridge

Editor Times:

As the day approaches for the election to decide on bonds for a new bridge, I ask space in your valuable paper in order to express my views on this subject. It seems superfluous to say another word in favor of this proposition to any voter in the city as we are, or ought to be, familiar with the traffic conditions and congestion of travel on the only narrow bridge now spanning the river. Because of the financial conditions and the economic outlook in general there may be those who will hesitate to give this matter their support, and to those I respectfully submit a communication.

It certainly is a peculiar situation when a city o 5,000 inhabitants can get along with one narrow bridge across an unformidable river when that population is divided about 40 per cent on the side of the stream and 60 per cent on the other, with a heavy travel between the two, besides the through travel, which will double in the very near future when roads open and under construction are in proper shape for travel.

The proposed new bridge on Third street will relieve the tractor drivers of the delay and expense of covering wheels, as the driveway of the new bridge will be made sufficiently strong to accommodate travel by any vehicle in use. The present bridge cannot be used except by crossing the tender bitulithic pavement. It is also badly in need of new covering on the driveway, and how to do this under present conditions is quite a problem.

In short, we need the new bridge and if we wait until we feel fully able, financially, it may cause unexpected and unnecessary damages which now can be avoided. A new bridge will bring comfort and a big improvement in the entire city.

Respectfully submitted by the bridge petitioners.

Both Winter and Summer— 451 Makes of Cars

POLARINE lubricates perfectly — in cold weather and in hot — 451 different makes of passenger cars, trucks and tractors. No matter how extreme the change of temperature — the grade of Polarine indicated in the Chart will remain of the right viscosity. It will spread rapidly. It will form a perfect film between the moving frictional surfaces. It will insure long life to the bearings; complete protection to piston and cylinder.

Changing to Polarine has saved many a motorist hundreds of dollars a year in repair bills. Yet Polarine costs little, if any, more than the lubricant you are using now.

Made in Five Grades

It outstrips any lubricant on the market in maintaining its body through any extreme of temperature. Its elasticity and adhesiveness cause a perfect seal and complete lubrication at all motor speeds and temperatures.

Don't fool yourself into fancied security, by thinking, "Oh, the oil I'm using works all right— why bother to change? It's just as good!" There is no "just as good", or even "second best" lubrication. There is one right lubricant for your car. It is specified in the Chart. When you do not use this lubricant, you fail to get the maximum of economy, efficiency and saving of wear on your engine. Change your motor oil every 500 miles—it is the essence of economy.

Remember the resources — the experience — the scientific experts of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) are behind every gallon of Polarine sold. This means maintained quality — at all seasons, in all temperatures — and everywhere throughout 10 Middle Western States.

HAVING long desired to conduct a store of this character in this city, Mr. Lieberman hesitated only because he wished to be sure he would be abundantly able to satisfy the desires and meet the high standards demanded by his patrons before engaging in the new venture.

EAST MARSHALL FARMERS WISH TO BE CUT OFF

Request of Those Residing North and East of Thief River Falls in Particular

Would Be Better For All Concerned, Assuring More Convenient Administration

About 25 Townships Involved, All In Business Territory Of Thief River Falls

Residents living in that section of Marshall county directly north and northeast of Thief River Falls are agitating for the incorporation of that district as a part of Pennington county. For years it has been realized that their location would make it much more convenient for them to be affiliated with Pennington than with Marshall county.

The understanding in Thief River Falls is that Warren, Argyle and the western section of Marshall county would not seriously object to this amputation of a part of their territory, while the residents of the section referred to will favor it strongly. Under the present arrangement it is a three-day trip for the farmers in the eastern part of the county to reach their county seat and in the winter particularly it is necessary for them to pass through Thief River Falls both going and returning. If their business could be transacted here this time could at least be cut in two. It is said that there are farmers in many of the townships to the north and east of Thief River Falls who never have been at Warren unless they happened to be drawn for jury duty. Their business is all transacted in Thief River Falls and in many instances the county officials here do their business for them and finish the transaction by mail. This is unsatisfactory to Warren and decidedly inconvenient for the farmers.

If the plan advocated by these Marshall county residents goes thru it will mean an increase in the size of Pennington county of about 25 townships and a corresponding reduction of Marshall county. The latter would still be a large territory, but more compact and more easily administered. The sections of the county carrying the heaviest assessed valuation would still remain a part of Marshall as would the villages of Argyle and Stephen. For this and other equally sound reasons it is doubtful if the people of these villages would interpose any serious objection to the plan.

The townships involved, according to the tentative plan, are: Valley, Esplee, Eckvoll, Moylan, Mud Lake, Grand Plain, East Valley, Agder, Holt, Excell, Newfolden, New Solem, Huntley, Como, Thief Lake, Moose River, Linsell, New Maine, Spruce Valley, Cedar, Whitford, Rollis and Velt.

A glance at the map will prove the greater convenience of the proposed arrangement. The villages of Holt and Middle River have decided that the time is not ripe for either place becoming the county seat of a new county and are understood to favor the new allignment. It will be noted that all railroad connections with the territory involved make Thief River Falls the logical capital for the people residing there.

Similar plans have been talked of for many years but have never been brought to a head. The movement at this time promises to be more successful.

Bank Deposit Guarantee Bill Killed In Senate

Voting 11 to 1, the Minnesota House committee on banking Tuesday killed three bills designed to guarantee deposits in state banks.

Representative M .B. Benson, Erskine Farmer-Labor member, declared he would submit a minority report if authors of the bills wanted them debated on the House floor.

Several hearings were conducted on the bills. Bankers appeared at all of them and entered objections on the ground that such a law would work a hardship on the small country banks and farmers.

The committee on banking has already recommended for passage the senate bill lowering the legal interest rate passed by the senate, however, was amended to make it effective July 1, 1924, instead of July 1, 1923.

Provides Family With Only $30 During Whole Year

Clarence Benson, who has made his home in Hickory township, was arraigned before Judge N. W. Tarrant in Municipal court Tuesday afternoon, charged with non-support of family. The judge gave him a sentence of ninety days in jail, with the understanding that the sentence would be suspended if he gives a bond for the support of his three children. The bond had not been furnished at latest reports today.

Complaint was made by Benson's wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Benson, who is at present employed in this city, while the three children are staying with their grandmother, Mrs. F. Savage, in Hickory township. It was alleged, and admitted by the defendant, that the family had received only $30 for sustenance from him since April, 1922. Benson has been employed in the woods this winter returning to this city the first of the week. When his presence in the city became known, Mrs. Benson immediately secured a warrant for his arrest and he was put in jail Monday evening and appeared for trial the following day.

Must Shut Water Supply Off For Awhile Sunday

If you are in the habit of taking a bath on Sunday morning you better do it Saturday night. Supt. Legvold of the water works announces that it will be absolutely necessary to shut off the supply on Sunday morning, beginning at 8 o'clock. Just how long the drought will last he is unable to say but assures the public that it will not be longer than is necessary. He will have a crew of men connect the mains with the supply pipes from the new filtration plant and this cannot so conveniently be done at any other time.

The probabilities are, according to Mr. Legvold, that we may have filtered water to use inside of two weeks. The plant will be in readiness at that time but if it will be possible to give the mains the thorough flushing required before the first of April is not yet certain. He wants everything to be in running order when the new water is turned on in order to avoid further shutdowns.

A Delightful Entertainment

The second Lyceum number, the Redpath Harp Ensemble company, played to a capacity house at the Sons of Norway hall Tuesday evening. The group consists of three harps, cello and violin. The program consists of classical numbers as well as popular selections, all of which were presented in a highly artistic manner. Every number on the program was brilliantly rendered, the violin selections being particularly appreciated. This was the second number of the Lyceum course.

The company is composed of Misses A. Nyberg, R. Dawe, N. Adams, F. Godard and A. Lindorf.

STOCK DIVIDEND IS DECLARED BY CREAMERY ASSN.

Three Shares For Each One Previously Held Will Be Basis of Distribution

Building Program Postponed for Another Year—Interest Too High

Incorporation Articles Amended So As To Permit Greater Expansion

Stockholders in the Thief River Co-operative creamery association on Tuesday formally went on record as deciding to postpone their contemplated building operations for another year. The reason for this action was given as inability to secure the needed money except at a rate deemed too high to make the venture feasible. The concensus of opinion at the meeting held in the Commercial club rooms was that next year money would be available at a lower rate and that it would be the part of wisdom to postpone the undertaking.

A stock dividend of three shares was voted to stockholders of record up to the date of the annual meeting Jan. 27, and who had not in the meantime disposed of their stock. This was undoubtedly done with a view to beginning the laying up of a cash surplus in order to be in better shape to undertake the proposed building program next year.

New by-laws were adopted and the articles of incorporation so amended that it will permit the association to branch out into allied lines such as the handling of eggs and poultry and to more closely comply with recently enacted state laws. Fifty thousand dollars is the incorporated capital of the concern with $40,000 the limit of indebtedness.

It was voted to authorize the board of directors to dispose of the property on the northwest corner of Second street and Atlantic avenue if a fair price can be secured for same.

An effort will be made to dispose of a block of stock now held in the treasury of the association as it is realized that all the cash available will be needed when building operations begin.

Weed Inspection Law is Ditched by Legislature

The present state weed inspection is abolished and control passed to the town boards throughout the state in a bill passed by the senate Tuesday. The chairmen of the town boards are made weed inspectors by its provision. Cities of the first class are exempted from its operation. The house has yet to act on the measure.

Andrew Johnson Resigns From Conservancy Board

Andrew Johnson, Big Meadows farmer and member of the Red Lake Drainage and Conservancy board, has resigned from that body. Mr. Johnson has been a member of the board since its organization.

In explanation of his resignation he says: "I do not want to be placed in a position of trying to force anything not wanted upon anybody, and after viewing conditions from all angles, I do not think it wise to press the Clearwater project, let contracts and complete the work against the wishes of so many of the land owners.

"Under present distressing economic conditions the farmers, who have lived and suffered the privations of pioneers in this part of the state, must be forgiven for hesitating to take on additional obligations.

"That their hesitancy is genuine and based upon a consciousness that they cannot afford to pay the cost of the project there can be no doubt, and they should be respected for it."

"In as much as the major part of the work in question is located in Clearwater county where I reside, I dislike very much to take this step at this time, but I have learned on my travels that it is necessary to deal with conditions as we meet them, hence my resignation."

Bemidji Chief of Police Dies Just as Term Ends

Thomas Bailey, for the last three years chief of police of Bemidji, died Tuesday night five minutes before his term expired. Death was due to pneumonia. The city council was in session at the time of Mr. Bailey's death and were balloting on the selection of a new chief when news of the death came. Louis Larson was appointed to succeed Mr. Bailey. Mr. Bailey was the first elected sheriff of Beltrami county 20 years ago, holding the office for two terms.

Swedish Pastors of Valley Meet In Annual Conference

The Red River Valley district of the Red River Valley conference of the Swedish Evangelical church held its annual meeting in Thief River Falls Monday and Tuesday this week. The sessions were attended by about ten pastors and twenty lay delegates from the various congregations within the district, who met at the local Swedish Evangelical church.

The business part of the gathering was chiefly taken up by the reading of the reports by the officials of the conference. Pres. Rev. P. G. Carlstedt of Strandquist gave a very satisfactory report of the work accomplished in the district during the past year, and other officials also gave encouraging reports, including Rev. J. C. Matson of Alvarado for the district Luther League; Rev. S. W. Swenson, president of the board of charities, for Warren hospital; Rev. A. A. Larson of Thief River Falls for the Luther League Bible institute; and Prof. C. E. Sjostrand, president of North Star college of Warren gave a report of the standing of that institution. All reports showed a marked increase in accomplishments and interest, all displaying a fine financial status except for the North Star college, which has had a very difficult period to pass thru following the war. During the war the attendance naturally declined and the financial conditions have prevented many from attending the college in more recent years, consequently reducing the revenue of the institution. However, the conference showed an intensely strong interest in the college and in every congregation in the district Swedish Lutherans will rally to its support. The local pastor stated that there was never more enthusiasm shown than at the present time.

The Warren hospital which is maintained by the conference, had a particularly successful year in 1922 and actually netted a neat sum to the organization.

The election of the officers resulted in the following being chosen: Rev. P. G. Carlstedt of Strandquist, re-elected vice president; Rev. J. A. Parkander of Lancaster, re-elected secretary; Rev. A. C. Edstrom of Roseau, re-elected treasurer; and Rev. S. A. Erling of Kennedy, statistician.

ANOTHER FACTORY WANTS SUGAR BEET FROM THIS REGION

Representative of a Chippewa Falls Concern Offers to Take County's Surplus

Applications for sugar beet acreage are still coming in to the local committee. Contracts are being rapidly signed up and the details worked on for a successful year of sugar beet raising.

Arnold V. Dahlberg, acting as fieldman for the towns north of Thief River Falls, states he has contracts signed for 700 acres. Red Lake county has a man in the field who will have approximately 500 acres signed up by March 10.

Mahnomen county holds a meeting on March 8 and 9. A representative from here will attend this meeting to make arrangements for seed, machinery and complete the details. There are at present applications in for 400 acres in Mahnomen county.

The committee has received word from the manager of the Chippewa Falls plant in Wisconsin requesting that if any acreage is secured over and above what can be handled by the Mason City concerns they would be willing and glad to take it for the Wisconsin plant on the same terms.

Winnipeg parties have also written down requesting that beets be marketed in their city and Thief River Falls go in with them in the raising of this crop.

Pennington county and the surrounding territory is rapidly being recognized as the leading section for the growing of beets, not only because of the adaptibility of soil and climate but because of the high sugar content contained in the beets grown here. Judging from interest taken by outside parties it should not be long until Thief River Falls is the center of the beet growing industry.

School Championship Will Be Decided at Crookston

The conference teams of the Northwestern Minnesota basketball league chose Crookston as the place for holding the final high school tournament on March 15 and 16, McIntosh, Warren, Stephen, and East Grand Forks voting for the Polk county metropolis while Fosston was the only town sticking by Thief River Falls for the latter city.

Although it will not be definitely decided as to which teams will enter the tournament, it is quite certain that Crookston, Thief River Falls, Stephen, Fosston, McIntosh and Warroad will be eligible. The other two teams will be decided by games played this week and will be any two of the following: East Grand Forks Argyle, Warren, Bagley or Ada.

Anyone possessing a radio set, be on the lookout for this interesting discourse.

Dahl Sells Interest In Kleanall Co. To Partner

A deal was consumated the first of the week whereby Erling Dahl sold his interest in the Kleanall Tailoring company to Nicholas Reiter, his partner. The change made by Mr. Dahl was a surprise to most people of the city. He intends to leave about the middle of the month for points along the Pacific coast and may settle there if he finds conditions favorable.

Mr. Dahl has been engaged in the tailoring and cleaning business in Thief River Falls for the past twelve years at first in company with his brother, K. E. Dahl and later by himself. During the last few years he has been located at 216 LaBree avenue north, in partnership with Mr. Reiter, who is now sole owner of the business.

LONG DELAYED CREDITS BILL PASSES HOUSE

To Be Administered by Board of Three Members With Headquarters at St. Paul

Are Empowered to Loan up to 60 Per Cent of Appraised Valuation on Land

Improvements May Carry Loan of 25 Per Cent of Their Appraised Value

The rural credits bill, authorized by a Constitutional amendment adopted at the last election, passed the House of Representatives on Tuesday by unanimous vote.

The measure provides that a rural credits bureau shall be formed of two members appointed by the governor and an assistant attorney-general named by the attorney general. The appointees by the governor shall be from different political parties and each member of the bureau shall be paid $4,500 annually. Terms are for two, four and six years. One of the governor's appointees shall be an actual farmer at the time of appointment and he shall be chairman of the bureau. The other shall be a business man who will be secretary. The assistant attorney general will handle the legal work such as examination of titles.

Headquarters in St. Paul

The bureau will have its headquarters in St. Paul under the bill and shall set in motion the necessary machinery to loan money to farmers of the state. Loans will be made after approval of applications by at least two members of the bureau, the security to be mortgages held by the state upon the land and buildings owned and actually occupied by the applicant and for purposes of making improvements upon such property as specifically set forth.

Loans will be made up to 60 per cent of the value of the land as appraised by the bureau, and 25 per cent of the value of the improvements but the value of the improvements shall never be considered more than 50 per cent of the value of the land. The minimum amount loaned will be $500 and the maximum to any one applicant $15,000.

Empowered to Sell Bonds

To raise money to loan farmers, the bureau would be empowered to sell bonds from time to time to bear an interest rate of not more than five per cent. The rate of interest charged the borrower would be the rate of interest the bonds bear, plus from one fourth to three-fourths of one per cent for expenses of operating the bureau, plus an additional one per cent to amortize the loan in about 34 years. This amortization feature, which gives the borrower a chance to wipe out his loan, is declared to be something which is rarely offered by loaning companies.

The state is called upon to appropriate $200,000 to start the bureau, this money eventually to be refunded from the reserve fund.

Dahle Amendment Passes

The House, before passing the bill Tuesday, adopted an amendment offered by Representative O. K. Dahle to the effect that at no time shall the state have more than $40,000,000 in bonds outstanding. Mr. Dahle at first tried to have the bill amended so that the state could issue no more than $10,000,000 in bonds yearly with $35,000,000 as the total that should ever be outstanding, but this was emphatically voted down when speakers showed that it would defeat the purposes of the bill. Then Mr. Dahle tried to limit the annual issuance to $15,000,000 and this was spurned. Finally he managed to get the maximum limitation of bonds outstanding placed in the bill after Theodore Christianson, who had opposed his other amendments, said such an amendment would work no particular harm.

19 Amendments Offered

Nineteen amendments in all were offered and but seven adopted. It was noticeable that most of the amendments came from the Farmer-Labor members. Representative Skaiem, Farmer-Labor, tried to have the maximum interest rate on bonds lowered to four per cent from five per cent, but this was beaten. Then A. C. Welch, Farmer-Labor leader, tried to make it 4½ per cent, but this likewise lost. A roll call was asked by the Farmer-Labor group.

Efforts were made to amend the section stating the percentage of loans that would be made in respect to property valuation, but unsuccessfully. Farmer-Laborities failed to get the maximum amount of loans to individuals raised from $15,000 to $25,000 at first, and $20,000 on a second try.

The two sections upon which it was expected attacks would be centered, rode through without trouble. One was the section outlining the administrative plan. The other was the part which required that an applicant, to be considered favorably for a plan, should be a bonafide resident of the land upon which the loan was to be granted.

Pres. Sjostrand Resigns From North Star College

At the meeting of the board of North Star college of Warren following the Red River Valley district conference of the Swedish Evangelical church Tuesday evening, Prof. C. E. Sjostrand tendered his resignation as president of the institution. Prof. Sjostrand has ben connected with the college for the past fifteen years; first as commercial instructor, then an acting president and the last six years as president, and put forth much effort in promoting the welfare of the school. The retiring president has not definitely decided upon his future work but will enter another position continuing in the service of his church.

Numerous matters relative to the welfare of the college were taken up at the session Tuesday. Plans were made for the activities of the coming year, particularly in regard to financial support of the institution.

After Our Sugar Beets

L. C. Villard, representing the Chippewa Sugar Refining company of Chippewa Falls, Wis., was in the city the first part of the week to look over the beet situation in this neighborhood. The excellence of the Red River beet has impressed him very much and he offered to take all the acreage available not already contracted for by the Mason City and Chaska factories.

County Agent J. J. McCann has also received word from sugar men at Winnipeg stating that they would very much like to "tie up" with Pennington county growers.

COMMUNITY GIRLS HOLD OPEN HOUSE ON SATURDAY EVG.

Young People Invited to Make Use of Quarters Any Evening Except Monday

On Saturday evening the Girls Community club will throw open its club rooms to the young people of this community. Thereafter the privileges of the club will be extended to visitors every night in the week from 7 to 10 o'clock, with the exception of Monday.

This plan has been under consideration by the members of the club for some time and they have finally gotten matters so arranged that they can put the idea into practice.

The object is to provide a recreation center where young folks may meet and enjoy themselves under the proper surroundings and with the proper surervision.

Miss Bertha Poston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Poston of this city, who has been engaged in social work in the East for 11 years, will have full charge of the club rooms on these evenings.

It is hoped that a goodly number of young people will be present on this opening night to enjoy the program and hear what plans for the future meetings are.

The Community girls are entitled to the highest praise for having provided this recreational center, for the young folks. Something of the kind has long been needed, not alone for those residing in the city but also for those who may be here temporarily. The success of the enterprise depends entirely upon the amount of interest shown by those it is intended to benefit. The club members will do everything possible to make these open evenings interesting and entertaining and thus get the young people into the habit of making the club a kind of headquarters for their activities.

Civic Clubs and Temperance Union Give Unstinted Praise to This Production

"The Ruling Passion," which will be shown at the Lyceum on Friday and Saturday, is from the Saturday Evening Post story, "Idle Hands," by Earl Derr Biggers, and is one most highly recommended releases ever turned out by an American movie studio. It is endorsed by Kiwanis clubs, Rotary clubs, the Woman's Christian Temperance union and other well-known national organizations. The Parent-Teachers club of Thief River Falls, after having the nature and plot of the play explained by Manager H. A. Brumund, had no hesitancy in approving and recommending it.

The film play teaches a lesson of "honesty in business," and is thus both timely and wholesome.

Briefly, the picture tells the story of a very wealthy man who is obliged to retire from business because of failing health. While "resting" in his country home, the suggestion is made to him that he go into some little business to "keep his hand in," so to speak. This he does by acquiring a half interest in a back country garage, while Peterson, the man who sold the garage, opens another on a new State road two miles distant, knowing that with the opening of the new road the old garage will be valueless.

Jim Alden does not care about the money out of which he has evidently been swindled. With him it is a fight for a principle—that and a desire to protect young Bill Merrick, who has innocently put his money into the venture with Alden. Thus the fight is on.

The building of a new garage on the site of an old barn opposite the new garage which Peterson has built, opens hostilities, and the war goes on merrily until Peterson gives up. Alden's millions cannot lose—but with Alden it is simply a fight for a principle.

Is Awarded Damages

Martin Williams of this city, was awarded damages in the sum of $83 against H. E. Kirby of Grand Forks in municipal court by Judge Tarrant yesterday afternoon. A car driven by Kirby ran into another driven by Williams on the road to Holt on August 28, 1922, the case having since been postponed several times for one reason or another.

VOTERS DEFEAT BRIDGE BONDS THREE TO ONE

Only One Ward Out of Four In the City Cast Majority Vote For the Proposition

Less Than One-Half of Voters Showed Enough Interest To Vote

Out of 223 Ballot In Third Ward, Only 8 Were in Favor of the Bond Issue

By a vote of nearly three to one the proposition to bond the city in the sum of $60,000 for the construction of a bridge across Red Lake river at Third street was defeated at a special election on Tuesday. Only 719 votes were cast as compared with 1861 for the several candidates for United States senator at the last election.

In only one ward did the proposition carry—the Fourth—but even there the vote in opposition was much larger than expected, the affirmative leading by only 25. As the people residing in this particular ward would have been most particularly benefitted by the construction of the proposed bridge the outcome proves that there is a general determination on the part of the voters everywhere to halt the issuing of bonds for any purpose.

The result should not be taken as indicating that the voters failed to see any merit in the proposition because such was not the case. Practically everyone admitted that a bridge at the point selected would prove a good thing for the entire city and particularly for the people living toward the north end of the East Side. The action simply indicates that they have decided to put a stop to all expenditures not absolutely necessary and the general feeling was that one bridge could be made to answer the requirements for some time.

In the three West Side wards the bond proposal was severely sat on, the vote in the Third ward being over 12 to 1 against it. Following is the vote by wards:

	Yes	No
First	29	143
Second	19	163
Third	8	115
Fourth	133	109
Total	189	530

Mrs. Rapacz Has Sleeping Flu

Mrs. M. Rapacz was taken very seriously ill last week and after consulting local physicians it was decided most advisable to place her under the care of a specialist in Minneapolis. Friday evening she was taken to St. Mary's hospital, Minneapolis, where she is under the care of Dr. Hamilton, a head specialist. She was accompanied by her husband and her mother, Mrs. J. Donahou who came here from Minneapolis Thursday evening.

Mr. Rapacz in a communication to Dr. A. W. Swedenburg Monday, stated that Dr. Hamilton confirmed the diagnosis by Dr. Swedenburg, who pronounced the malady as being what is commonly known as the sleeping flu. It started with an attack of the ordinary flu but developed into this peculiar stage in which the patient in this particular case, is delirious at intervals. Mr. Rapacz also stated that his wife's condition was yet so critical that it was impossible to predict the outcome, but the attending physicians have hopes for her recovery.

In a letter to Dr. Swedenburg yesterday, Mr. Rapacz states that his wife has been given one injection of a new serum made at Rochester and which is the result of experimentation by the Rockefeller Foundation. It proved very beneficial and it is the intention of the attending physician to make more injections.

Rynestad Has Radio Set Installed At Farm Home

T. K. Rynestad, prominent farmer a short distance east of Thief River Falls, has the distinction of being the first to install a radio set on a farm in this community, as far as is known by The Times. Mr. Rynestad a few days ago installed a complete receiving set at his farm home and is now enjoying concerts broadcasted from stations in all parts of the country. One of the most interesting and valuable features of the apparatus is that it enables farmers to have a regular farm institute right at their home. "I can listen in on talks given by experts on potato raising, dairying, and almost any other line of work, and in that way gain much worthwhile information," says Mr. Rynestad in speaking of the radio.

She returned a short time ago from Duluth where she had been since last fall. Mr. Hanson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Hanson of Alvarado and is operating a farm near there. The newlyweds departed Monday for Alvarado and will make their home on the groom's farm.

A Business Paradox in Farming
(The Nations Business)

Although specialization and quantity production are two of the cardinal factors in business success, they are treacherous factors in farming.

Specialty farming, as contrasted with mixed farming, has brought about a great deal of hardship in the Great Plains regions.

Marketing conditions, blown-up foreign trade, the profiteering of middlemen and other causes have been given as the cause of sick agriculture. Each of these factors may have an effect, but the cold statistical reports of one typical state furnish such convincing testimony as to another cause of sickness that the subject deserves careful study.

Kansas furnishes the type. Almost any year's statistics will do, but those for 1920 are the last ones available.

The assessors' reports show that Kansas has 165,286 farms.

On 54,152 of these farms, or about 35 per cent, there were no dairy cattle.

On 74,330 or 44 per cent, there were no beef cattle.

On 104,158 farms, or 64 per cent, there were no beef cows, including heifers two years old and up.

On 48,999 farms all the salt pork, bacon and hams used are purchased.

On 42,434 farms there were no sows or gilts for breeding.

From 28,000 farms not a dollar's worth of poultry or eggs were sold during the year.

On 41,611 farms or about 25 per cent, no gardens were grown.

Certain communities are surrounded by prosperity and the reason is that the farmers are operating on a continuous all-year basis, with such a diversification that the farms become efficient full-time plants. In the specialty farm districts the plants are idle most of the year and the overhead goes on just the same.

What a Difference!

"Twenty-five years ago: Eggs were ten cents a dozen, milk was five cents a quart, the butcher gave away liver, the hired girl received a dollar a week and did the washing; women did not powder and paint (in public), play put and take or shake the shimmie, and they were taught to cook at the age of ten. Men wore whiskers and boots, chewed tobacco, spit on the sidewalks and swore; laborers worked ten hours a day and never went on strike; no tips were given waiters and the hat-check graft was unknown. No one was ever operated upon for appendicitis, microbes were unheard of; folks lived to a good old age and dying was cheaper than living.

"Today: Everybody rides in automobiles (or Fords); strains their neck looking at aeroplanes, plays the piano with their feet, attends the movies every night, listens to grand opera on the radio, fearlessly cusses the telephone girls, have discarded woolen underwear for silk, complains about not having the liberty to put their feet on the rail any more, swears at their income tax, smokes cigarettes, drinks hair tonic; blames the cost of high living on the politicians, never get to bed the same day they get up and think they are having an H of a time. These are the days of Prohibition, and dying is much more expensive than living."

The unknown writer of the above was sure some pessimist.

How Others View Us
(The Country Gentleman)

There is something about the Red River Valley in Minnesota and North Dakota that tempts men to try things on a big scale. Perhaps it is the far sweep of the horizons, perhaps it is the amazing richness of the soil. The valley is still a young empire of wheat despite recent unpleasant experiences with that crop. Last season its potato crop got clear out of hand; in a bad year, too, when cars were scarce and prices tumbling. Losses on potatoes rivaled those on wheat in its worst year.

But in balancing its books for the past year the Red River Valley seems to run across some exceptionally cheering items—little things, it is true, but pointing to big facts. In Grafton, North Dakota, $42,000 was paid to farmers for poultry in the space of two weeks. More than $100,000 worth of poultry and eggs was marketed through one firm in Crookston, Minnesota, $6,000 worth of poultry was sent to market in a single day. An observer who spent a week in the valley was told by many farmers that poultry showed the greatest percentage of profit of any farm enterprise. Next to it was dairying. The returns from dairy cows almost invariably show a profit.

Hens and turkeys and cows don't contribute much to the spectacular side of farming, to which the Red River Valley is rather accustomed. But they do have a way of contributing to steady profits. That is why there will be more of them in the valley this year. It is getting a better focus on the business of farming.

A Dangerous Law

The bill which would guarantee the deposits of individuals in state banks is now being considered by the present session of the legislature. There is no measure which is more dangerous at this time. There is a chance that the bill may even become law because some of our officials have not the backbone to stand up and denounce the proposed law, but feel rather that they must bow to the demands of the noisy minority, whom they feel may become more powerful in this state in the future than they are right now. Such temporizing is not statesmanship, and in the long run will be recognized as a characteristic of the office seeker more than anything else. The guarantee of deposits bill is contrary both in idea and practice to the principles of conducting business in this country. In the first place the sound, conservative banker will have to make good the losses caused to depositors by the reckless, wild-cat bankers. And this will mean that the interest rates charged for borrowing money will be increased. In these sections the farmers are among the heaviest borrowers of the banks, and they will feel the results of this legislation more than anyone else, it is likely. The proposed guaranty law also encourages wild-cat banking because the officials of a bank, which is apt to indulge in loose banking methods, will feel that there is no reason for exercising great precaution in the use of their depositors' money since the state will protect them from any loss which happens to their deposits. Then again the experience of other states has shown that the law is an unwise project. In the state of North Dakota the officials are considering a bond issue to take care of the $4,000,000 of losses which the depositors of that state suffered while the guarantee of bank deposits law was in operation. In Oklahoma the experience has been the same, and in a number of other middle western state also. The best thing that can be done to prevent the loss to depositors of their savings is to make the inspection of state banks more frequent and more exacting and more painstaking. Where the examiners discover that bad paper has been accepted as security that condition should be remedied before it goes any further. This would do much more good that any guarantee of deposits law could ever do, and would be much fairer to all concerned.

MORE BIDDERS FOR SUGAR BEET CROP OF THIS SECTION

Chippewa Refining Co. Agent At Crookston Signing Up Acreage With Growers

Crookston Times

The fame of the sugar beets raised in the Red River Valley is spreading among the western sugar refineries and their eyes are turning in this direction.

The pioneer in the promotion of the sugar beet industry in this section was the Chaska Refining company, a Minnesota concern which for the past two or three years has been contracting with the farmers for sugar beet acreage. The interest among the farmers of this section has become so great that the Chaska company this year was unable, owing to the limited capacity of their plant, to contract for the number of acres the farmers were willing to devote to sugar beets and quite a number of farmers who were willing to make a try at the business this year were unable to do so.

This caused quite a little disappointment, but it need exist no longer for L. C. Villard, represting the Chippewa Refining company of Chippewa Falls, Wis., arrived in the city and, after looking over the situation, expressed himself as willing to contract for a limited amount of acreage with those farmers who were unable to connect up with the Chaska people.

Mr. Villard left for the Twin Cities today, but has authorized the Times to announce that he will return to Crookston on Monday or Tuesday of next week and will be glad to confer with farmers in this vicinity with a view to making sugar beet acreage contracts.

From the interview had with Mr. Villard, our understanding is that the contracts will be made upon the same basis as these already entered into with the Chaska company.

Cash Estate For Ex-Service Men Guaranteed By Govt.

Information has been sent to the local post regarding a proposition from the U. S. government by which ex-service men deposit about $2.15 each month, or any greater amount desired up to $21.50 a month, for thirty years, with a guarantee from the government that at the end of thirty years, it will pay from $1,000 up to $10,000 cash in proportion to the amount of the monthly payments made, and with the further guarantee that if the insured dies at ANY TIME within the thirty years, the government will pay to his estate or designated beneficiary from $1,000 to $10,000 immedately upon receipt of proof of death. If he should become totally and permanently disabled, he will be paid a monthly income as long as he lives and remains so disabled.

If payments are continued, the government will, after the first year, upon application, make a loan of 94% of the then cash value of the contract, which cash value increases each year. In addition to the guarantees above mentioned the insured will be entitled to dividends from gains and savings as may be determined annually and approved by the director of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau. An apportionment of $1,750,000 has been set aside to pay dividends in 1922. The dividend schedule for 1922 shows a substantial increase over that of 1921.

This proposition is open only to those who, serving in the late war, carried the government term insurance, and may be secured by them, although they have dropped their insurance. It will give insurance protection, provide a "Savings Account" with the U. S. treasury, and in addition create a "cash estate" for the beneficiary in case of death or for the insured if living at the end of the thirty year period. The maximum allotted to each person is the amount of insurance carried by him while in the service, the minimum being $1,000. More than 300,000 former service men have secured similar contracts aggregating over one billion dollars.

Anyone interested in this proposition should write to the U. S. Veterans Bureau, Insurance Division, Washington, D. C., for further particulars.

Orchard and Garden Notes
(March 1 to 8)

Chrysanthemum cuttings may be taken now.

Garden and flower seeds may be strated now in the home or greenhouse.

Cheap seeds and cheap, poorly made tools have no place in the garden. The best seeds and good tools are cheapest in the end.

A householder willingly buys a new rug or new furniture, but often neglects to buy shrubbery for his lawn. The house furnishings are decreasing in value the longer owned, but the lawn paintings are gradually increasing the value of the property.

Calla lillies need plenty of fertilizer if large flowers are to be produced. Liquid cow manure applied once or twice a week will keep the plant in good condition to bloom.

Canna clumps may be cut up now and placed in sand or saw dust in a warm place to start their growth. As a rule it will be a good plan to dip the cut surfaces in powdered sulphur.

Large onions of the Prizetaker class may be grown if the seed is sown early in the home or hot beds and transplanted.

"To the Advantage of Consumers and the Public"

A court in Wisconsin declared recently that "the marketing policies of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) work to the advantage of consumers and the public."

The LaFollette investigating committee in Washington brought out facts which proved the same thing.

The investigation of this Committee developed, we believe, just why the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been uniformly successful; and why it has within the comparatively few years of its existence contributed so materially to our national prosperity—more particularly the prosperity in the Middle West.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) attributes its success primarily to the fact that it earnestly desires to render the public a complete cycle of essential service, from oil well to refinery, to the consumer.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a large retailer of its own products. It maintains for this purpose a distribution system which for size, thoroughness, and efficiency is unequalled in the world. It maintains and expands its business solely on a basis of quality and service.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has steadfastly maintained the policy of minimizing the spread between manufacturing costs and retail selling prices. This has meant, and means today a low price for gasoline and other petroleum products as compared with other essential commodities. A glance through any Department of Labor Bulletin featuring comparative prices for necessities will demonstrate this fact.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is proud of its success. It believes that its methods are exceptionally efficient. It believes that in many instances they have been a valuable contribution to the country's economic progress. It believes that the Company's activities redound to the advantage of the consumer and the public.

Mrs. Inga Gangness, 416 Davis ave., is receiving treatment for pernicious anemia at the Swedenburg-Bowers hospital. It is a very serious case and it was found necessary to inject about a pint and a half of blood sacrificed by her son, A. Berger of Halstad. Altho her condition is still quite low, she is reported to be improving. Mrs. Gangnes has been of ill health for some time.

The following were among the out of town people who attended the Red River Valley conference meeting of the Swedish Evangelical church held in Thief River Falls Monday and Tuesday this week: Prof. C. E. Sjostrand, president North Star college, Warren; Arthur Pierce, Spooner; Rev. J. A. Parkender, Lancaster; Rev. A. C. Edstrom, Roseau; Rev. P. G. Carlstedt, Strandquist; Rev. A. F. Nelson, St. Hilaire; Rev. J. C. Mattson, Alvarado; Rev. S. W. Swenson, Warren; Rev. S. A. Erling, Kennedy; and Rev. L. P. Lundgren, Hallock.

Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Bakken and three children, accompanied by Mrs. Bakken's mother, Mrs. Anna Wedmer, departed Saturday night for Los Angeles, Cal., where they intend to make their home. They visited with relatives in Minneapolis until Tuesday when they continued their journey to the coast. The Bakken family has lived in Thief River Falls during the past twelve years. Mr. Bakken has been engaged in contracting and painting, until a few years ago together with Halseth and Son, and later by himself. Their property was disposed of at auction Thursday. A large circle of friends are sorry to see the family leave the city, and wish them good fortune in their new home.

Spring Comes To Town

The little old town looks pretty good, in the amorous kisses of spring time, with all its slushy streets, its groups of wandering pedestrians and enticing memories. The little red school house looks pretty tame and feels rather lonesome when its students become subjected to spring fever and skippitis, and desert it.

It is neither fashionable, clever, nor wise to forget there is school, that there are classes that we must attend to get our credits. Just because there is a good show on, a special or regular matinee, that is not a sufficient reason to apparently ignore or disregard the rules of the school. You may get by one day and turn in a perfectly good O. K. permit but after a few cuts the faculty will find you out and wonder how all the O. K. permits come into existence. Beware the "tip toe" room.

This is not merely an idle remonstrance against skipping school, or cutting classes. You may have a good time but it will be you in the long run who suffers. the time wasted. This is your golden opportunity.!

Words

To be able to think of and to use the right word at the right time is an asset to any individual.

If you have ever experienced the feeling of black despair and utter bewilderment that accompanies the realization that you can't think of the right word, you will sympathize with others who undergo, almost daily, the same experience.

There is, however, a way of avoiding these agonies and it is both simple and effective.

Study the English language so concientiously that if, at any time, the word you wish to utter escapes your mind, a synonym will take its place. —Central High News.

Nothing Is Ordinary

"Nothing is ordinary if you know how to use it," said William Walcott, the noted English teacher. He was making a study of the New York skyline preparatory to making etchings of it.

He found some paper one day in an architect's office and asked what it was.

"It's just ordinary wrapping paper," said the office boy.

"Nothing is ordinary," said the artist, and he made two etchings of New York on the wrapping paper. He sold one for $1,000 and the other for $5,000. Two of the world's famous etchings are done on wrapping paper!

We are inclined to regard our school training and home life as ordinary, yet we all know folks with just the same environment who are getting so much more out of life than we are.

Thomas Edison and the poet Goldsmith were considered very ordinary, or poorer than ordinary, when they were in school. Their teachers did not know how to develop them.

Nothing is ordinary if we know how to use it.—West High Weekly.

Mr. Rapacz is absent from school due to the illness of Mrs. Rapacz. She has been taken to Minneapolis where she is under the care of a specialist.

Agnes Johnson was absent on Monday. She spent the week end at her home near Radium.

ROSEAU GREENBUSH WINNERS IN CONTEST

T. R. Falls Takes Second Place in Both Declamation and Oratory; Competition Keen

Friday, March 2, the sub-district contest in oratory and declamation was held in the local high school auditorium. The boys contest was held first and then the declamatory contest took place.

Arthur Wold of Roseau reading "The Turk Must Go," was awarded first place in the oratorical contest and Melvin Engelstad representing Lincoln High, giving the same selection received second place.

Ruth O'Brien of Greenbush reciting "Madame Buteerfly" walked off with the highest honor among the girls. Liv Vitsanuet giving "The Death Disk" tied for first place as to points, but her percentage was slightly lower. Third place was given to Alida Champlain of Red Lake Falls, who also read "Madame Butterfly." This contest was above the standard usually set for sub-district contests and the judges, Supt. Johnson of Warren, Mrs. Casedy of Warren and Supt. Peterson of Argyle, had no easy task to pick the winners.

Ruth O'Brien and Arthur Wold who won first places in these sub-district contests will take part in the district contest to be held in McIntosh. From the Eastern section of the district the Bemidji girl and the McIntosh boy won and will also take part in the district contest.

The contestants and their selections as they appeared in the program are: Arthur Wold, Roseau, "The Turk Must Go;" Axel Toflin, Erskine, "Appeal to Arms;" Melvin Engelstad, Thief River Falls, "The Turk Must Go;" Lawrence McIver, Lancaster, "Appeal to Arms;" Ruth O'Brien, Greenbush, "Madame Butterfly;" Alida Champlain, Red Lake Falls, "Madame Butterfly;" Helen Narum, Erskine, "A Few Bars in The Key of G;" Liv Vistaunet, Thief River Falls, "The Death Disk;" Edith Holmquist, Lancaster, "Last Word;" Carol Burker, Roseau, "The Lion and the Mouse."

A good sized audience was present and an admission of 25c was charged, the proceeds to go to defray the expenses of the judges.

Freidolph Gabrielson returned to school Monday after missing a week of school due to a bad cold.

School Superintendents Have Convention At "U"

"School-Mens' Week" will be held at the University, March 27-31. This will be a convention at which the school superintendents from all sections of Minnesota will assemble to discuss various methods of education. Supt. I. T. Simley of this city will attend.

J. J. Tigert, United States Commissioner of Education, Z. E. Scott, Supt. of schools in Louisville, Kentucky, and H. Rugg, director of the Lincoln's Teachers College, will be the principal speakers.

A short course will be given instructing the superintendents in the newest methods of supervising. A dinner will be given at the Mens' Union on March 29.

MISS POSTON SPEAKS AT P.-T. MEETING

Social Worker From New York Tells of Experiences; Rev. Kreidt Also Speaks

The Thief River Falls Parent-Teachers' association held their meeting at the high school on Monday night last. Miss Bertha Poston, of New York, was the principal speaker. Reverend Kreidt, of the German Lutheran church also spoke. A reading "The Death Disc," by Liv Vistaunet and a violin solo by Gordon Overland completed the program. A fairly large number of parents and teachers attended.

Miss Poston, who is here assisting the organization of the Community Girls, spoke on social welfare work in New York City, which she has been doing for some time, showing the forces that work for good or evil, and which can be guarded against. Reverend Kreidt spoke briefly on methods of making the organization of the parents and teachers more effective. He emphasized in particular those things which can be provided and guarded against to influence the child in the right way. He advocated a more stringent censorship for moving picture shows, and the posting of a list of selected books, which would be suitable reading matter for those too young to judge for themselves.

Mr. Simley, who was scheduled to give a speech, was unable to be present.

Why a Science Dept.

It shall be the policy of the Progress to publish from time to time a review of the work done by the various departments at the high school, in order that the public may fully appreciate the value of these separate courses, if they are of any value, to the school. The city spends a large amount of money for the upkeep of its schools, and can not afford to maintain any courses whose value do not justify their cost. A careful study of the courses offered at Lincoln high will disclose whether or not any of them can be advantageously dispensed with. Eliminating a department whose value is comparatively great would of course be false economy.

The Science department is one of the major departments which was inaugerated with the school. General Science, Biology, Chemistry and Physics are the divisions under the Science department. The first is a freshman subject which provides a good foundation for Chemistry and Physics, while Biology introduces us to plant and animal life, and includes a course in human anatomy. A Science course is one of the requirements for an accredited high school, and without it a school would get very little state aid.

Almost all colleges and universities require some chemistry. Chemistry makes us appreciate the surroundings in every-day life. The simplest kind of a food has at some time been in a laboratory under some kind of test, possibly to find its food value or to pass upon its purity before it is permitted to be sold to the public. Many classes of professional men such as doctors, druggists, and engineers, must know chemistry. A doctor must know what kind of solution to prescribe to his patient; while the druggist must know how to put it up. Chemistry enters into almost every phase of engineering. Privately owned and operated chemical laboratories may be found in all the larger cities, where almost every conceivable form of manufactured articles are tested and tried.

Physics is equally important. What we know about heat, light, and sound is all physics. Were it not for a knowledge of physics, the world wouldn't be half, nor even a third, as far advanced as it is now. What if Edison hadn't "bottled" light? We would still be using the trusty candle as they did back in the early colonies. He had some idea of Physics before he did it. Suppose we knew nothing of heat, didn't know how to regulate heat, nor how to give a building, no matter how large or small, proper ventilation? Physics teaches us this, and the large office buildings and factories of today, covering acres of ground, are, thru a simple application of the laws of Physics, more efficiently heated and ventilated than the average home. Such ordinary machinery as the cream separator is also based on motion, called "Centrifugal force," another law based wholly upon Physics.

All of the latest equipment is furnished for the experiments in Physics and Chemistry.

The Science department is under the able supervision of Mr. G. M. Harner, of Cloquet, Minn., a graduate of University of Illinois.

SENIORS ESTABLISH SCHOOL PRECEDENT

Rev. Gerlinger Gives Impressive Talk on Motto; Banner Presented to School

The new senior banner and motto were dedicated at a special chapel held at high school on Wednesday of last week. Reverend Charles Gerlinger was the principal speaker. Ole Helle, president of the senior class, presented the banner, and Superintendent Simley in a short but effective talk accepted the banner, on behalf of the school. The program was concluded by three selections by the boys' glee club.

Ole Helle, in presenting the banner to the school, explained the reasons for so doing. The school, he said, has long been lacking visible evidence of school spirit; and he showed how the banner and motto would help make the classes, particularly the seniors, feel a greater responsibility, and loyalty to their Alma Mater, during their years at school. If the present plans are carried out, there will be at least two ceremonies each school year in this conection; in the spring the banner will be presented to the junior class, who will, the following year, put up their own motto with the banner, in place of the one of the preceding senior class.

Superintendent Simley, in accepting the banner in behalf of the school, said that he was doing so, not for this year's senior class, nor for any succeeding class, but for every class, until, in his picutresque words,—our sons, as our sires, have passed away. The presence of the senior banner and motto, he said, does not indicate the superiority of any class, since at Lincoln High no caste is recognized, but rather that the senior class have climbed to increased responsibility. Any higher position in life, he reiterated, does not mean more liberties and privileges, but more responsibility.

Mr. Gerlinger, in dedicating the senior motto, "Character is above Genius," said that of the four words, "Character" alone was sufficient to convey the real meaning of the motto. He first explained how the word had evolved; the Greeks, in crude writing of several thousand years ago, used clay tablets, on which they scratched with a primitive instrument called the stylus. The impressions thus made they called "Characters." When dug up out of the ruins of ancient cities, these tablets still carry the impressions; and so it is, said Mr. Gerlinger, with character; the nation carries the impress of the character of the individuals making up that nation, and its success depends upon that character. The ancient Greek civilization reached the heights it did because of the innate high character of the people; the English have extended their empire because of the character of the English; and our own country owes her greatness to the naturally high character of the men who have builded our nation. Of the two assests, character and genius, the man who has both is a leader; the man, said Mr. Gerlinger, who has the former only is the ordinary man, who makes nations great; while the man who has genius only, is a danger, as shown, in one instance by the fiendish use to which science, through the genius of a few men, was put in the late war.

WIN LAST GAME AT MAHNOMEN 18 TO 7

T. R. Falls Quint Finishes Season In Second Place Among Conference Teams

Thief River Falls won their last basketball game of the season over Mahnomen at the latter place, March 2, by a score of 18 to 7. The game was very rough, 5 of Mahnomen's points being made on foul shots.

This victory places Thief River Falls in a tie with Fosston for second place in the district. Crookston maintains a safe lead with ten straight wins. The season closes March 9 and the tournament will be played March 15 and 16.

The game started out slow, but increased in speed until in the last quarter our team was playing the best basketball of the season. In spite of a preponderance of fouls called against them, the fast team work continued unbroken, and the hopes of the coach for a creditable showing in the tournament brightened considerably.

The team left here at six o'clock Friday morning, and spent the whole day viewing the pleasant scenery of Mahnomen, returning on the 2:37 flyer.

A return game with Mahnomen was arranged before the game for Tuesday, but after the game the Mahnomen coach thought his men were stale and decided not to play.

Mrs. Rapacz Ill

Mrs. M. P. Rapacz, wife of the principal of Lincoln High, was taken seriously ill on Tuesday of last week, and is, at the present writing, in a serious condition.

The nature of the malady is not known. From the time she became ill Mrs. Rapacz grew steadily worse, until her mother was summoned who with Mr. Rapacz, took her to Minneapolis on Friday evening.

The Progress expresses the wish of the entire school, that Mrs. Rapacz may speedily recover, and soon be with us again.

Civics Classes Organize For Legislative Session

On Monday of last week Mr. Rapacz organized his Civics class into a House of Representatives. Mr. Rapacz was Speaker of the House. Elsie Blair was the clerk.

Some of the bills that were placed in the "Hopper" would prove of great benefit to Thief River Falls. Representative Gullingsurd introduced a bill appropriating fifty thousand dollars for the building of a new post office in Thief River.

This bill which was entered in the "Journal" as H. R. number 3 was unanimously carried and made into Public Law number 1 of the Civics Congress.

Other bills put in the "Hopper" were appropriations for ditches, etc.

"ASSISTED BY SADIE" PROMISES TO RELIEVE ALL EARTHLY CARES

High School Faculty Presentation of Four-act Comic Mystery Drama Will Ring Out Winter's Gloomy Reign.

RESERVE SEATS AT STEBBIN'S DRUG STORE

Tomorrow evening the High School Faculty will present "Assisted by Sadie" at the auditorium. The play is a four act mystery comedy and is put on entirely by the local talent of the high school. The curtain will rise promptly at eight-fifteen, which means that those persons wishing to see the beginning of the play will do well to be there at that time.

"Assisted by Sadie" is sure to make a hit with the citizens of Thief River Falls, and we feel safe in saying that you will not be disappointed in being at the auditorium when the curtain rises on the evening of March ninth. The twists and twines of the original plot leaves the public in doubt until the last minute, just how the mystery will turn out. The admission will be thirty-five cents for high school students and fifty cents for adults. A special matinee will be held at three-fifteen in the afternoon for all grade children, the admission for which will be ten cents.

Come and see your energetic Manual Training teacher transformed into a drawing English millionaire, see all the dignity of the commercial department take wings as "Bunch" appears on the scene. You will be convinced that Miss Baumann and Miss Thompson missed their calling when they took up teaching, and that they never should do anything more strenuous than spend their time at fashionable resorts. And did you know that Supt. Simley had a side line of busines unbeknown to the people of Thief River Falls? Come to the auditorium Friday evening.

The cast of "Assisted by Sadie" follows:

Alonzo Dow	Mr. MacFarlane

Bunch	Mr. Powley
Sadie Bray	Miss MacNair
Mrs. C. ChristopherCarley	Mrs. Brevig

Noos Atoms

I have aptly chose as the topict of my noos atom for this wk. "Spring and her Attendent Evils." Not that Spring is not my favorite seeson of the yr. because it isn't, but enything that mite prove helpful in the way of lessening the suffering of the human kind at this time of the annum I am not the man to keep to myself.

It is customery amongst H. S. studance along about the 1 of Mar. to neglect there various corses, being content with ee's and F's, rather then to sit cooped up in a stuffy skoolrm. when all Natur is bekoning to cheer up. These tipe of studance have got littel or no forsite else they could reeson it is better to be bekoned by Natur and resist then by Mister Rapacz the following day to plees step into my offis a min., Oskar or Maybl, as the case maybe. A littel of above reesoning when censed by the desire to rome free as the bird has saved many a $.25 otherwise spent on slone's linamint which is useful in its place but it is best not to have no place and is not neerly so panefull. Love of Natur is a nobel trate and as such makes a sound argument on the negitive but who ever herd tell of a H. S. student playing hooky who wood waist a perfikly good P. M. or both watching a robun bild his nest or rite potry in regards to the slush in the gutters or etc. I never, nor hope to ever. You have got to wiggle around wile out of doors in Mar. else your ft. are libel to get wet and then where will you be but in bed with ammonia which is a poor bed fello as many will testify to same. Only a phool wood want the ammonia when the rest of the world is bursting into blosum wich is a pretty sentiment.

Spring is funny that way. You are to lazy to work and to full of the spirits of the seeson to be still from one min. to the next. The above simptons are a sign of Spring Feever for wich sulphur molasses (C12 H22 O11 or something) was ministered of old but is to mild a remedy for the rising generation who get more vilent attacts of the disease. In such a case I wood subscribe more of the vital mines A and B which mite as a consequents brake out on your report card as such vital mines A & B can be found in abundants in such food stuffs as i. e.—fresh greens (class of '26 have no occashun for offence as none intended,) cold-slaw, stewed prunes, fresh fish (which in addishun is said to be a good brane developer and as such can be indulged freely by Fakulty and no harm done, and etc.

It wood be uncanny me writing a article pertaneing to Spring and to not menshun that old adverb as follows: In the spring a young mans glances lightly turn to looks of love or sumthing to that affect else I'm laboring under a delusion. But what I can't figger out satisfactory is what can said yung man see in a yung woman suffering from the Spring Fever when he couldn't see it in Jan. while perfectly healthy and more butifull to look at her? The only way to ans. that is i. e.—Spring makes us all phoolish even to impairing our eye site and at that perhaps it is fortunate as there are a good deal of sory looking ash heaps in the Spring wich is ment for a metafor so can be either which way.

To sum up the forgoing will say to not listen to the roosters crow, while studying as it is just a sign of a new laden egg and you are mistaken if you think they are calling you; 2nd. to not stand gazing at the budding limbs or any other kind as you are libel to get the roomatiz in your own; thirdly look to your diet and you will be showing no more wisdum then the adverbial early bird who has gone down in Histry on a Diet of Worms and has kept his figger in great shape; and finoly bewar of yung men with Spring Feever. They are contagius. If you will observe these improved methods tried and true your report card will be as free from sin as a salt makerel.

Clifton Connor also returned after having been absent since Wednesday for the same reason.

Camille Warner has been sick with the "flu" since last Monday. She returned to school Monday afternoon.

The public speaking class had five visitors Friday. The guests were some of the contestants and their coaches who took part in the sub-district oratory and declamation contest.

CHRIST, THE SAVIOR BEMIDJI PASTOR'S THEME WEDNESDAY

Rev. Erdman Frenk Will Deliver Next Sermon In St. John Church Series

(By Rev. E. H. Kreidt)

"Christ—a man whom the world could not do without. Before his time, and since, there have been men indespensible to particular people and periods, but his indespensibility was to the whole race, and for all time—a respect in which he is unique, solitary, devine." Thus writes Lew Wallace in his masterpiece, Ben Hur.

Jesus Christ is the central figure, the oustanding character of the human race. He has left his stamp on the world as no other. He would understand the course of the world, the march of civilization, must understand Jesus Christ and his work.

Who was he? Why was he? What is the key to his influence which has not weakened these two thousand years?

The answers are many and varied. Today, when the opinions regarding Jesus Christ are so uncertain and even destructive it will be worth while to hear one who still firmly believes in the historic Christ and his universal mission.

The people of Thief River Falls are cordially invited to hear Rev. Erdman Frenk of Bemidji, Wednesday at 8 p. m., at the auditorium, when he speaks on "Jesus Christ, the Savior."

Pennington Co. Boys Win Free Trip to State Fair

Included among the 185 boys who have made exceptional records in boys club projects throughout Minnesota and who will be rewarded with a free trip to the 1923 Minnesota State Fair and a membership in the camp to be conducted on the grounds by the extension department of the University of Minnesota, are two Pennington county boys and also winners from every county in the Red River Valley. The winners from this county are Virgil Denhart of Hazel and Lawrence Letnes who resides near Thief River Falls.

Virtually every county in the state is represented by boys who have been chosen to go to the state fair by club leaders. Each boy must be 15 years old and must have won in some county club project to be eligible for the awards. The winners in the dairy calf projects are also eligible to compete for the $100 scholarships offered by the Minnesota Journal.

The winners in Norman and Marshall counties have not yet been announced at the university. The boys who were successful in the other Red River Valley counties are as follows:

Becker—Gandriel, Detroit, dairy calf; Ambrose Tourn, Calloway, dairy calf.

Clay—Morris Stadum, Glyndon, garden; Frank Brown, Glyndon, garden.

Clearwater—Carl Widseth, Gonvick, potato; Martin Negaard, Gonvick, potato.

In the thirty games played, Crookston won twenty-two and lost eight, with a grand total of 829 points against their opponents' 583. Altho the Gunners lost seven games away from home, return games played resulted in victory for the Gunners. Who Is Responsible For School Going Into River?

Joseph Roy, local house-mover, is having a dispute with the officials of St. Bernard's Catholic church of Thief River Falls as to who shoulders the responsibility and the loss occasioned when the Knox school building which Mr. Roy was moving for the church, went through the ice into Red Lake river. Mr. Roy claims he had a contract wherein the church officials assume the responsibility of loss due to action of the elements, whereas the church officials say the contractor is at fault.

The building was only recently purchased by the church from the Thief River Falls school district and was being moved from the east side of the city to the west side. The movers left it standing on the ice of the Red Lake river one day when quitting time came and during the night the water was let out of the dam 700 yards below the point where the building stood. This caused a hollow under the ice and the heavy building broke through—took a nose dive, and now stands at an angle of about 30 degrees forward, in which position it is frozen fast.—Red Lake Falls Gazette.

North Dakota Leaguers Proceed to Drop Townley

A. G. Townley has been dropped by the Nonpartisan league of North Dakota as the result of the adoption of new by-laws and the setting up of a "state autonomy" plan with only nominal connection with the National Nonpartisan league. A contract with Townley to organize the state by obtaining membership has been abrogated, according to a ruling of J. C. Miller, convention chairman.

An attempt by the league to recall Governor R. A. Nestos is extremely unlikely. At the statewide convention at Bismarck, discussion of the recall in executive session was meager. However, should sentiment develop a recall, a recall and referendum may be conducted at the same time.

Polk County Farmer Does Not Wait For Grand Jury

Rather than wait in the Polk county jail until the June term of district court to which he had been bound over by Judge J. A. Hendricks at his hearing Saturday on a grand larceny charge of the second degree, William Preblile, Bygland Polk Co. farmer, entered a plea of guilty before District Judge Wm. Watts Monday and was given a sentence not to exceed two and a half years in the state prison at Stillwater.

Editor Bemidji Pioneer 13 Years, Sells Interest

E. H. Denu, one of the most prominent editors of Northern Minnesota, who has been managing editor of the Bemidji Daily Pioneer and the Bemidji Weekly Pioneer, and secretary and manager of the Bemidji Pioneer Publishing company for the past 13 years, has sold his interests in the company and severed his relations with the firm, effective, March 1.

Under Mr. Denu's management the Pioneer has made a wonderful growth during the 13 years of his editorship. In 1909 the company was capitalized at $20,000 while it is now figured at over $60,000.

Mr. Denu was recently elected president of the Northern Minnesota Editorial association at its winter meeting at Red Lake Falls. Previous to that he had been vice-president for one year, serving as a member of the board of directors previously. He has been an active member of the editorial association and has done much in developing the co-operation of the country press.

During his residence in Bemidji he has been active in civic affairs, having served as president of the Civic and Commerce association. He has also been a director of that organization for about ten years. Through his position with the Pioneer he has been able to accomplish much good for the city as a whole.

The business management of the Pioneer Publishing company will be assumed by G. E. Carson, who has been connected with that firm since the early days of its establishment.

Read And Think

In regard to the church attitude there are at least five classes of people.

First, those who kick and kick and do nothing but kick, at the church. They are never seen in church and take pride in the bad habit of staying away.

Second, spasmodic church-goers are those who attend when they feel like it but do not often feel like it.

Third, periodic church-goers are those who attend Christmase, Easter, and on special days but are afraid to get into the good habit of going to church regularly.

Fourth, occasional church-goers are those who attend when nothing prevents but are satisfied to let any excuse get in the way and prevent. They stay home for company instead of taking them to church.

Fifth, loyal church-goers are those who allow no excuse to keep them away from church that would not keep them away from their business.

The Old Silver Dollar

How dear to our heart is the old silver dollar,
When some kind subscriber presents it to view;
The Liberty head without necktie or collar,
And all the strange things which to us seem so few,
The wide-spreading eagle, the arrow below it,
The stars and the words and the strange things they tell;
The coin of our father, we're glad that we know it,
For sometime or other 'twill come in right well;
The spread-eagle dollar, the star-spangled dollar,
The old silver dollar we all love so well.

GALAXY OF STARS ARE FEATURED IN GREAT PHOTO PLAY

Wallace Reid, Agnes Ayres, May McAvoy and Others Featured In Production

A wholesome comedy of family life in America! A picture story that conveys a fine message without being a preachment! That is William de Mille's Paramount production of "Clarence," featuring Wallace Reid, Agnes Ayres and May McAvoy, three screen stars of unquestioned popularity. Manager Brumund announces that "Clarence" will be the bill at the Lyceum theatre Sunday and Monday and he asserts it is one of the most enjoyable pictures booked by him this season.

"Clarence" is the humorous story of an ex-soldier who drove mules without swearing and who became a good angel in the family of a millionaire whose happiness is being dashed upon the rocks because of their lack of harmony and constant bickering. Clarence found the task of reconciling this family nearly as difficult as driving army mules without cussing, but he accomplishes the task with the aid of his saxophone, his genial temperament and general tact, so that happiness is the lot of all concerned.

"Clarence" is packed with laughs from beginning to end. In the title role Mr. Reid scores a conspicuous success, while Agnes Ayres and May McAvoy have parts suited to their personalities. There is a supporting cast of rare excellence, and the screen version of Booth Tarkington's famous play is said to rank as one of the most enjoyable pictures of the year. Kathlyn Williams, Adolph Menjou, Edward Martindel, Bertie Johns, Robert Aegnew, Dorothy Gordon and Maym Kelso are in the supporting cast.

Local Talent To Present Norwegian Comedy Mar. 16

Friday evening, March 16, a Norwegian comedy, "Petter og Inger," will be presented at the Sons of Norway hall by a cast composed almost entirely of local persons.

The play is being directed by Mrs. Anton Sannes of Minneapolis, well known comedienne, who has had charge of Norwegian performances thruout the country and has pleased large audiences in the majority of cities and towns of the Northwest. Together with her husband and a troupe of players, Mrs. Sannes has presented "Petter og Inger" very successfully in the twin cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul, Duluth, Fargo, and a large number of the smaller places, and every time it has been well received owing to the decidedly humorous characterizations.

Annar Myhre, who is at present making his home with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Prytz in this city, takes the part of Petter, the young hero of the story. Mr. Myhre, who has a splendid barytone voice, has appeared in many Scandinavian plays and operettas; particularly in the twin cities and Duluth, and has received high praise from dramatic critics for his excellence on the stage.

The press has at numerous occasions given him the most favorable comment, particularly when he has appeared in solo numbers. A number of songs will be rendered in "Petter og Inger." The latter part of this month Mr. Myhre leaves for Minneapolis to take the leading role in an elaborate play entitled "Erik," which is sponsored by the Swedish Dramatic club and will be shown in the Metropolitan theatre, March 25. Mr. Myhre has made a hit with Minneapolis audiences previously in this play and also in "Petter og Inger." He was a prominent member of the Skratthult company two seasons.

The part of "Inger," the young unmarried daughter who causes "Mor Hansen" oceans of worry, is played by Miss Carolyn Melby, instructor in the local schools.

Roy Prytz, who plays the part of "Lodsen," also has had considerable experience on the stage both in acting and singing and has appeared in Thief River Falls at a number of occasions and during his stay in Warren took an active part in dramatics there. J. Borry, playing the unique role of "Departemangs Lars," an old man with young ideas and feeling vastly important, is well known to Thief River Falls people and will be remembered in the presentation of "Til Saeters." Dreng Bjornaraa will represent "Amerikaneren," who has been in the United States but returns to Norway and grasps the opportunity to play a joke on the home folks.

The proceeds will go to Mrs. Sannes, who is aged and a widow without any support.

The winners supported the affirmative of the question; "Resolved: That Congress should relieve the existing agricultural depression through the establishment of a government corporation to finance the sale of agricultural products."

Among the debaters on the Crookston affirmative team is Arne Solem of Thief River Falls, who is said to be doing very well in verbal combats. The other members of the team are Albert Kopecky of Tabor and Iver Johnson of Crookston.

To Err is Human

Speaking of typographical errors which, like the poor, are always with us, reminds us of a report of a wedding. The statement was made that "the roses were punk." In a later edition an apology was offered and was followed by this: "What we meant to say was 'The noses were pink.'"

FARMERS
Turn Weeds Into Money

Sounds just as impossible as turning water into wine, but the miracle is being performed every year, right here in Pennington County. You can do it and every farmer can do it, with a Bunch of Sheep.

Why be alarmed about the sow thistle and other weeds, when sheep are particularly fond of such?

If you have a piece of brush land which you wish cleaned up, how can it be done any cheaper than by turning in a Bunch of Sheep?

Sheep produce the farmers' easiest livestock money, because they require less care, less housing and cheaper housing than any other farm animal.

LONG REST FOR CONGRESS

After being in session nearly continuously for four years congress adjourned on Monday and, unless called together in extra session by the president, will not re-convene until next December.

There is a decided difference of opinion as to just what position this congress will occupy in history. It has functioned during a period of reconstruction following the war and had to face an area of depression due largely to the same cause. Whether or not it met the difficulties in a creditable manner or simply followed the line of least resistance and evaded its responsibilities is something for the future historian to figure out.

For whatever of good or bad there is to record, the Republicans will receive either the credit or blame, at least during the past two years. It is probable that the long session will about average up in this respect with its predessors. Of course Republican spokesmen wound up by pointing with pride to various achievements, while Democratic spokesmen were no less emphatic in viewing with regret the utter lack of constructive legislation to be credited to the majority. So far as this effect upon the people as a whole is concerned, these swan songs might as well have been omitted. They have watched proceedings rather more closely than at any previous time in our history and have pretty thoroughly made up their minds on the subject. It is certain that enough has been done as well as left undone to furnish subjects for lively controversy for many years to come.

If your particular view is one of condemnation, just bear in mind that the late congress functioned during a period of general world upheaval and fell heir to the unstable and unbalanced conditions inevitably following one of the most destructive wars in all history. Whether these conditions were faced with the proper amount of courage and foresight is something every man and woman will decide according to his or her own view of the matter.

There will be many new faces in the next congress—three of them from Minnesota. Henrick Shipstead will assume the senate seat now occupied by Senator Kellogg, while new men will replace two veterans in the lower house—Steenerson and Volstead. The Republican majority in both houses will be greatly reduced—a situation not generally viewed with regret as the present politican allignment has proven somewhat unwieldy.

Everybody will be glad that congress has adjourned. The lawmakers need the rest and so does the country.

IS HAVING GOOD EFFECT

When Dr. Pritchett launched his criticism of the way in which time is wasted in the high schools of the country, he started something. Educators generally agree with the president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of teaching when he says modern schools teach a little of many things instead of exact knowledge on a few fundamentals.

In commenting on Dr. Pritchett's article, W. F. Webster, superintendent of the Minneapolis schools, issued a long statement of which the following gives the gist:

> A reviewed plan will be put in operation in Minneapolis high schools next September to fit students for their life jobs.
> Instead of three courses offered by the high schools, offering a variety of subjects, there will be seven or eight courses, each aimed at fitting a boy or girl in some definite line.
> Students must get down to work and parents must co-operate in helping both teacher and student.
> High school students should work eight hours a day; six hours in school and two hours outside.
> The great mass of students going into clerical pursuits must be diverted into industrial lines which offer the greatest future.
> Taxpayers will spend their last dollar for education but they want definite results.
> One year of a modern language, which does not teach the student to use the language, is a waste of time.
> Teaching students to read and write the English language and to know books should be 50 per cent of the object of any school.
> Students electing "snap courses" in high schools are doing so too often with the consent of parents.

Parents and teachers will agree that the above contains a lot of good sense, particularly the paragraph calling attention to the desirability of diverting a greater number of students toward industrial pursuits. Too many young folks aim at becoming doctors and lawyers and not enough in preparing themselves as engineers, electricians and farmers. They have the wrong idea of what the world and the country needs and it should be the duty of the schools to help set them right.

Indications are that something of value is going to come out of Dr. Pritchett's articles.

Legislative Letter

(By Martin W. Odland)

St. Paul, Minn.—The legislature has taken action on several measures of state-wide interest the past week and—true to form—has put off action on others. Capital punishment and the Carley investigation of the so-called "machine" were put out of the way by the senate, and the house has dealt with the pre-primary convention law.

As was expected, the senate killed the capital punishment bill, the vote being 41 against the bill, and 26 for it. This disposes of the question for good at this session of the legislature, but it is safe to assume that if the murderers continue as busy in Minnesota during the next two years as they have been during the recent past, the next session will be confronted by a more earnest determination on the part of certain legislators to restore capital punishment than that which animated Senator J. D. Sullivan and the other champions of the death penalty at this session. The senate debate lasted four hours, Wednesday afternoon.

Carley Resolution Wins

The senate took final action on the now famous Carley resolution Thursday afternoon and, after a long debate, ended by adopting the resolution unanimously. It calls for a thoroughgoing investigation into the doings of the state machine during the recent past. Senator Carley maintains that the corrupt practices act has been violated all the way from A to Z; that state officials have been putting in a great deal of their time on politics, instead of attending to their duties; that they have their appointees out in the state to electioneer at the expense of the state. These are serious charges and, if found true, the people will be apt to clean house at the state capitol two years hence.

Of course, it is one thing to make a charge; another, to prove it. Senator Carley will be on the investigation committee to be appointed by the lieutenant governor, so it is said, and it is up to him to do his utmost to prove his charges.

Pre-Primary Killed

The house made short work of the pre-primary convention, foisted upon the state by the legislature of 1921. Rep. Gislason, author of the repeal bill, did not wish to go to bat on the proposition Tuesday afternoon, as per schedule, on account of the absence of a large number of farmer members, so he asked for a postponement till Thursday afternoon. Mr. Gislason thought there would be a real fight and didn't dare to take chances. But when the bill finally came up for consideration it didn't show up. Only 7 representatives voted against the bill—Anton Anderson of Hendricks, A. R. Cole of Fergus Falls, Guy Dilley of St. Paul; J. O. Haugland of Montevideo, W. I. Norton of Minneapolis, John E. Stevens of Minneapolis and C. R. Wilkinson of Lake Elmo. The vote for the bill was 117, 7 members being absent.

Nobody took the floor in defense of the convention, although Rep. Stevens of Minneapolis made remarks that might be construed as such, when he submitted an amendment to retain the convention for the purpose of drafting a party platform and selecting a state central committee.

One reason why the opposition did not assert itself, was the feeling that if they wish to hold conventions in advance of the primary they can do so, law or no law, just as they did in 1918 and 1920. As will be remembered, Gov. J. A. O. Preus and all of the other state officials were nominated at an extra-legal convention in 1920.

It may be taken for granted that the senate will pass the Gislason repeal bill within the next two weeks, no matter what course the politicians pursue, as the senate is fully as "radical" in its tendencies as the house.

The North Dakota supreme court has fixed March 14 as the date for hearing arguments on the appeal in the William Gummer murder case, it is announced by Wm. C. Green, special prosecuting attorney in charge of the state's case, and Barnet & Richardson, counsel for the defendant.

An appeal in the case was taken some time ago, the defense alleging error in admission of certain evidence and the lack of sufficient evidence to sustain a conviction.

The attorneys for the defendant, who now is serving a life sentence in the state penitentiary, have filed their brief. The state's brief will be filed within a day or two.

YOU SAVE ABOUT ONE THIRD THE FUEL

Figuring very conservatively, you get at least one-third more heating value out of the fuel you burn in the Jamesway stove than you could get from any other stove. In emergencies it is possible to carry fire in this stove from 12 to 48 hours. Though soft coal or coke can be used, we recommend the use of hard coal.

EXTRA LARGE HOVER

Because of the good circulation and remarkable radiation the use of an extra hover is made possible. The hover, built of first-class, copper-bearing, galvanized steel sheets, is 60 inches in diameter. You can brood 50 or 1,000 chicks under this hover.

PURE WATER TO BE TURNED INTO MAINS TONIGHT

Plant Ready for Inspection by State Health Department and City's Engineer

Equipment the Very Latest and Most Approved, Even to the Smallest Detail

All Traces of Purifying Agents Filtered Out Before the Mains Are Reached

Unless something unforseen happens the water mains of Thief River Falls will this evening contain a new supply of absolutely pure filtered water. Until the supply has been approved in every way by an officer of the state board of health, however, it might be better not to use it for drinking purposes. This is the advice of L. C. Roberts, engineer in charge of the filtration machinery. Not that he is at all alarmed for fear of any serious consequences if the water is used, but in order to fully protect himself and his concern in every particular.

Thief River Falls has tried for years to secure a pure water supply but until it was decided to stop all experimentation and install a modern filtration plant the money spent was practically wasted. There has always been an abundant supply of water flowing right through the town, and while it might have stood the test as to purity, it was never considered satisfactory. It will be a great convenience as well as relief to the people to have this important matter finally disposed of.

The water flows from the river into the intake well by gravity, the well, which is situated near the river, being lower than the bed of the stream. Here the supply is picked up by small service pumps, installed in duplicate, and forced into the inlet box where it is treated with alumina sulphate, which is the scientific term for common alum. This is used as a precipitating agent only. This alum filters out entirely, none remaining in the water after it passes this stage.

The next halt is at the mixing chamber where a very small amount of the prescribed chemical is mixed with the water to destroy any baccili that may lurk to make trouble for the unwarry. The next step is at the settling basins where about 85 per cent of the mud and sediment still in the water is allowed to remain.

From the settling basins the water goes into the filterer. Here only the top of the water remains, the rest of it being allowed to run on. This is a safeguard against getting any sediment of any kind into the supply that is to be used, the sediment going to the bottom from whence it is removed at certain stipulated periods. The flow then is filtered through 30 inches of filtering sand and 22 inches of gravel. This gravel is of graduated size, running from three inches to one-sixteenth of an inch in size.

The next step is the controllers which control the rate of filteration from the units. From here the water goes to the clear well where it is picked up by high duty pumps and forced into the elevated tank from which the city is supplied.

L. P. Wolf, of St. Paul, engineer in charge of the work, will be here next week to test the plant for possible mechanical imperfections. The filtration machinery was supplied by the McFarland Engineering company of Kansas City, Mo., and is the latest and best of its kind to be had. L. C. Roberts has been in charge of this portion of the work, while M. N. McCue has been the directing engineer for the contractor.

C. M. Carlson of this city erected the building according to the latest plans available for plants of this kind.

Peoples Department Store Opens Formally Saturday

As will be noted by the page advertisement in another part of The Times today, the formal opening of the Peoples Department store will take place on Saturday, March 19.

Mr. Lieberman informs us that a large part of the new goods are already here and more are coming every day. He expects to open with the largest and most carefully selected line of women's ready-to-wear ever shown in Thief River Falls. Practically everything offered has been selected with a view to meeting the quirements of those who prefer moderate priced articles of wear as well as those desiring something more elaborate. The line is complete, and the management extends a cordial invitation to the ladies of the neighborhood to come in and look it over.

The yardage department of the business will prove of much interest. Here will be found the latest and best in piece goods for all purposes and in endless variety. The same holds good in the glove, hosiery, corset and notions departments. The Peoples Department Store will be found prepared to meet all demands.

Woman Puts Marauder to Flight by Wielding Broom

Chief of Police E. O. Erickson was notified by Mrs. Lena Engebretsen, 520 Markley avenue north, that on Sunday night her house had been entered by an unknown man. She was alone with her three small children at the time. The intruder used rough language toward her and when she attempted to summon help she discovered that the telephone wires had been cut, undoubtedly by the intruder. The latter had his coat collar turned up and his face so covered that she was unable to identify him. Grabbing the only weapon at hand—which happened to be a broom—she belabored the visitor to such good purpose that he fled. The man did not find it necessary to use violence in getting into the house as the door was not locked and the supposition is that he had been there for some little time before being discovered.

MRS. M. P. RAPACZ FALLS VICTIM TO PECULIAR MALADY

Death of Local Woman Follows Two Weeks' Illness With Unusual Symptoms

After only a two week's illness of what was diagnosed as the sleeping flu, Mrs. Kathleen Rapacz, wife of M. P. Rapacz, principal of the Thief River Falls high school, passed away at the St. Mary's hospital in Minneapolis Friday afternoon at three o'clock. Mrs. Rapacz was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Donaghue, 224 First street southeast, Minneapolis, and had made her home in Thief River Falls during the past two years, in which time she made a large number of friends to whom the news of her sudden death was a decided shock.

Mrs. Rapacz was taken ill with an ordinary attack of the influenza Feb. 26, at her home, 401 Arnold avenue north, but the malady soon took unusual changes and her condition became critical with no improvement thruout the siege. She was attended by local physicians who diagnosed the affection as being what is commonly known as sleeping influenza, and advised that she be taken at once to Minneapolis and be placed under the care of a brain specialist. Friday, a week previous to her death, she was taken to Minneapolis where she was being attended to by Dr. Hamilton at St. Mary's hospital, which she entered Saturday. No medical attention had any avail, altho a new serum produced at Rochester through experimentation by the Rockefeller Foundation, given her seemed to have beneficial results. Further injection of the serum had no effect and she died Friday afternoon. It was requested by Mr. Rapacz that the news of his wife's death not be made known to the members of the high school faculty play presented Friday evening, as it would greatly sadden her many friends and thus affect the presentation of the play.

Deceased was a graduate of the University of Minnesota and had been domestic science teacher for a time previous to her marriage to Mr. Rapacz, which occurred in Minneapolis, Aug. 5, 1921. There are no children. She was a devoted member of the Catholic church and an active member of the Woman's Auxiliary and Girl's Community club.

As evidence of the esteem in which Mrs. Rapacz was held by the high school faculty and student body of the Lincoln high school, respect to her memory in the form of a silent tribute was paid her on the convening of school Monday morning.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon in Minneapolis. Flowers were sent by several individuals and organizations of this city.

Caught With The Goods

Conrad Vinje, who has figured somewhat prominently in police reports lately, is again in difficulties. He was arrested in front of his place of business by Police Chief Erickson assisted by night patrolman Ralston on Friday evening and two Mason jars containing moonshine booze taken away from him. He was arrested and brought before Judge Tarrant on Saturday morning, waived examination and was bound over to the June grand jury in the sum of $500. Bail was furnished. Vinje claims he secured the liquor from a stranger who said he brought it from Canada.

Opening Club Quarters to Public is Popular Move

The Girl's Community club entertained about 75 guests at the housewarming party given at the club rooms on Saturday evening. The club has offered the use of the club rooms on Fourth street and Horace avenue to the young folks of the Thief River Falls and vicinity and the party on Saturday night was the opening event. The response of the young folks seems to indicate that they welcome the opportunity to use these rooms. On Tuesday evening, March 13, there was an even larger attendance.

The rooms are open to anyone wishing to spend the evening there from 7 to 10 o'clock every week night except Sunday and Monday. For the present at least the club members feel it will be better not to include little children in this invitation and persons taking advantage of the invitation must be 15 years of age or over.

The entertainment offered is entirely free to the young folks and both boys and girls are welcome.

Road Nearing Completion

Highway Engineer Bert Umland states that the state road between Highlanding and Goodridge will soon be finished, work having been carried on at this point for some time.

BEET ACREAGE OF DISTRICT IS NOW OVER 2500

Approximately 800 Acres Signed Up in the Vicinity of Thief River Falls

Refining Company Promises to Erect Loading Dump If 1000 Acres Are Secured

Business Men of City Offer Special Cash and Merchandise Prizes for Growers

A special meeting of the sugar beet committee was held Monday evening, in the commercial club rooms.

All contracts and applications for sugar beet acreage were examined and most of them approved. A few were placed on the doubtful list for further consideration. There are approximately 800 acres signed up in the vicinity of Thief River Falls. If 1,000 acres are secured the factory will likely install a sugar beet dump, which will greatly facilitate the process of unloading, as much of the hand labor would be in that event be eliminated.

The committee discussed ways and means of making sugar beet growing a greater success. Dr. Froehlich started the ball rolling by offering a $50 cash prize for the highest average yield from any field of three acres or over in this vicinity. Olaf Neset offered a $25.00 tea set for the cleanest and best kept field of ten acres or more up to August 15. First National Bank will give a cash prize of $25 for the cleanest and best kept field of ten acres or more up to July 15. The N. W. Electric Railway offers a cash prize of $25 for the best average tonnage along its line. Oen Mercantile company will award a cash prize of $25 for the best average tonnage within ten miles of Thief River Falls, other than along the electric line, which is covered by Mr. Protzeller's offer. The details of these prizes will be worked out by the committee at a later date.

Red Lake county has approximately 450 acres signed up; Mahnomen 400, and the towns north of Thief River Falls 600, making the total over 2,200 acres.

Interest Rate Reduction Will Pass Is Prediction

Senator C. L. Hanson was up from St. Paul on a flying trip the first of the week. He says the legislature has buckled down to the hardest kind of work and from now on there will be few if any vacations.

Senator Hansen called attention to an error in the article appearing in the Times last week in referring to the defeat in the house of the bank guaranteo bill. The heading stated that the measure had been killed in the senate whereas that body has not as yet acted on it one way or another. The bill was defeated in the lower house.

The bill reducing the rate of legal interest in the state from 10 to 8 per cent, passed the senate unanimously some time ago and will soon come up for action in the house. Senator Hansen made the only address in favor of the bill with the exception of that of the author, Senator Buckler of Polk county, when the measure was under consideration in the senate. He is of the opinion that it will pass the house when it is reached by that body.

Yesterday was the last day for the introduction of bills except upon special request by the governor. The legislature will adjourn on April 19.

Young Burglar Points Gun At Rasmusson Last Night

An attempt to enter the basement of the Northwestern garage on Main street was made last evening at about nine o'clock by two young men apparently around the ages of eighteen years.

Alfred Rasmusson, proprietor of the Jefferson Cafe, who is taking charge of the building, noticed someone prowling at the basement windows behind the cafe with the aid of a flashlight. Rasmusson immediately stepped out to inquire as to their mission. The two young men evidently were not desirous of making their intentions or evidently known for one of them turned the flash light on Rasmusson making it impossible for him to distinguish them. When asked to turn the light aside and what they were there for, one of them pointed a gun at Rasmusson. Without any more action the night prowlers walked away and Rasmusson at once notified the police. They succeeded in making their getaway but those taking part in the search have a suspicion as to who the parties were. Further investigation may be made to ascertain their identity.

Crookston Mayor Near End

Yesterday's Crookston Times reports that Charles P. Booth, Crookston mayor, was then hovering between life and death and the time of his death was declured to be only a matter of hours. Mayor Booth has been subject to a very severe attack of pneumonia and said to be unconscious yesterday, his condition gradually growing weaker.

Local Talent Produce Norse Comedy With Singing Friday

Friday evening, March 16, at the Sons of Norway hall, the Norwegian comedy "Petter og Inger" will be presented by a cast composed practically entirely of local people. Those taking part have been hard at work rehearsing for some time and reports are that the play will be of unusual interest to those who understand Scandinavian. Some of the players have taken part in this play a number of times before so that they are familiar with their role to the letter.

The cast contains several unique characters, some of which are being represented by artists on the stage. Mrs. Anton Sannes, who directs the play and also is one of the characters, appeared in this city together with her husband about ten years ago, and is well known to local people. Annar Myhre, a barytone singer and actor of repute, who is making a stay in Thief River Falls, will sing, the play being featured with a number of songs. The others taking part in the performance are Miss Carolyn Melby, J. Borry, Roy Prytz and Dreng Bjornarna, all of this city. Piano accompaniment will be rendered by Mrs. O. F. Mellby.

The comedy promises to be a rare treat for those who enjoy a Scandinavian performance. A dance will follow the presentation of the play.

BANKS WILL BACK FARMERS WISHING TO PURCHASE HOGS

High Class Sows tobe Disposed of At Auction In This City On March 23

An opportunity for securing a start in the pure bred hog business will be given farmers in the neighborhood of Thief River Falls on Friday, Mar. 23, when the Red River Valley Hereford Farm will sell 40 head of purebred Duroc Jersey brood sows at auction at Fisher's livery barn.

The hogs to be sold are all with pig and guaranteed to be sound in every way. They came from the boys' and girls' clubs put out by the Red River Valley Hereford farm, a thoroughly responsible concern.

It is particularly urged that every boy and girl interested in the production of better livestock in this section secure one of these animals and thus get a start toward raising purebred Duroc Jersey hogs. It is a breed peculiarly well adapted to this section, being prolific, maturing early and growing to large size. They are sure profit bringers when many of the things raised on the farm are down in price.

All banks in the city have given their support to the placing of more hogs on the farms of Pennington county, having offered to carry all those who wish to get a start in this business. Arrangements with the banks should be made before the sale in order that there may be no delay or disappointment.

This is an opportunity many have been waiting for. It is generally realized that the county and section are short on this particular class of livestock and have been looking for a chance to get a start. This is now presented and it is to be hoped that our farmers will take advantage of it.

GENUINE FIGHTING BULLS FROM SPAIN USED IN PICTURE

Valentino Risks Life in Facing These Mad Creatures in "Blood and Sand"

Real Spanish fighting bulls were transported from Spain to Hollywood via Mexico for the sensational bullring scenes of "Blood and Sand," Rudolph Valentino's first Paramount star picture which will be shown at the Lyceum theatre Sunday and Monday.

They are said to have differed from the domestic variety as "Man-o'-War" differs from the humble truck horse. Running wild from birth on lonely ranches, shipped in black boxes to continue their isolation from mankind they entered the arena with only the elemental instincts of wild animals, to kill and destroy any one daring enough to face them.

And Mr. Valentino had to get out in front of these interesting creatures!

Sensational to the limit in this great Ibanez story of the life and loves of a young bull-fighter, are those scenes in which Mr. Valentino does sword and cape play before picked animals of Senior Miura, the Duke of Veragua and the Marquise of Saltillo, the three leading bull-breeders in Spain. He was trained for the dangerous business by Rafael Palomar, famous Spanish matador, and was well versed in the graceful art.

"Blood and Sand," a Fred Niblo production is a story of a bull-fighter. It abounds in those colorful elements every American admires. It was adapted by June Mathis while Alvin Wyckoff presided at the camera. Lila Lee and Nita Naldi have the principal feminine roles while others in the cast include Walter Long, Leo White, Rose Rosanova, Marie Marstini, George Periolat, Jack Winn, Harry Lamont, Fred Becker, Charles Belcher and Gilbert Clayton.

Arrested in Minneapolis As Burglary Suspects

Three young men, former residents of Thief River Falls, are under arrest in Minneapolis, being suspected of implication in a series of house burglaries. They are Arthur Ostmoe, Ivan Erickson and Irving Rudd, all of them well known here. The police are investigating into their activities in selling second-hand clothes in what is known as the lower Loop district.

Detectives believe they will be able to connect the young men with a series of house burglaries which have been committed in Minneapolis during the past month.

BETTER COUNTY FAIR THAN EVER DIRECTORS' AIM

Show Will Be Held on August 1, 2 and 3, From Wednesday to Friday Evening

Lachman Shows, Carrying 25 Cars, Secured to Furnish Amusement Features

Auto and Horse Racing Will Take Place Every Afternoon During the Fair

The Pennington County Agricultural society has made arrangements for one of the best fairs ever held in this section of the state on August 1, 2, and 3. At a meeting of the directors last Thursday it was decided to secure the Lachman Exposition shows, which is a twenty-five car concern. These people usually play only at state fairs and have a contract with the Minnesota Fair association to appear at the big show at Hamline. The free acts were signed up with the Western Vaudeville association, consisting of two troups, furnishing three acts, or forty-five minutes of exciting vaudeville.

The Sterling Bros. Trio is a two act combination aerial. They offer a star program of astonishing aerial feats, denoting unexampled bravery and phenomenal training as well as the nicest of judgment allied with the most wonderful agility in many exploits of a pecularly hazardous nature. Their array of sensational mid-air exploits will be long remembered by the spectators who are lucky enough to witness their performance. They introduce a comedy acrobatic act, replete with rip-roaring situations, which keep the audience in an outburst of laughter from the opening to the closing number of their performance.

The Marriott Troupe consists of five people, three ladies and two gents, presenting an act unlike anything ever shown before. They use extra propellors on the wings of a monoplane. The monoplane is mounted on a pedestal, seventeen feet high with a gun attached. The five people will perform on the wings of the monoplane giving many sensational and startling features.

The fair directors voted to have auto and horse racing every day, including performances by the lone pacer.

The officers acting on the fair board are: President John Bratrud; first vice president, Albert Johnson; second vice president, Fred Beerbower, secretary, J. J. McCann; treasurer, Herbert Fuller; directors, S. E. Hunt, R. J. McKercher, V. C. Noper, Emil Griebstein and Stuart McLeod.

Will Open New Store

A. E. Keith, formerly connected with the Save-U-Money store at Stillwater, has been in the city the past week for the purpose of arranging for the opening of a clothing store here by the same concern. They will occupy the quarters on LaBree avenue recently vacated by the Co-operative Meat Market, the latter institution having moved to Main avenue and Fourth street.

The new concern will handle men's clothing as well as furnishings of all kinds. The building is now undergoing alterations which will be completed so that business can be commenced about the first of April.

Mr. Keith will be in charge and will arrange to move here at once. Mrs. Keith and two children are expected to arrive in a few days.

Clever Comedy Presented By High School Faculty

"Assisted by Sadie," a delightful comedy in four acts was presented by the faculty of Lincoln high school at two performances last Friday. In the afternoon the auditorium was crowded and while the evening crowd was not quite as large the big hall was comfortably filled.

It was without question one of the best performances by local talent ever seen in this city. Every person on the program acquitted him or herself with distinction and as the play itself left nothing to be desired in the way of crisp dialogue and interesting situations, the evening was one of genuine enjoyment.

To single out any particular person in the cast for special mention would be most unfair. Every one showed a keen appreciation of the business in hand and did not allow the perfromance to lag for a moment.

The music furnished between the acts by the high school orchestra under the direction of Miss Maude L. Johnson added greatly to the enjoyment of the large audience. As a result of the enterprise the athletic club of the school find their equipment fund swelled by a very substantial figure.

For a more extended review of the play the reader is referred to the School Progress page of The Times.

Benson Ordered to Provide Children With $15 per Month

Clarence Benson, who has been residing in Hickory township and who was last week arrested by the local authorities for not supporting his family of wife and three children, was unable to secure bonds but by order of the court will have to provide $15 per month for the support of the children.

Benson was tried before Judge N. W. Tarrant in municipal court last week and given a suspended sentence of ninety days in jail. The family had been furnished with only $30 since April last year. The court order provided that Benson, being unable to secure bonds for the support of the family, be required to deliver to his wife a sewing machine now in his possession, and execute a bill of sale of a Ford automobile to W. J. Brown. The auto is to be sold as soon as possible, three fourths of the sum received to be paid to Frank Savage of Hickory township for taking care of the children. The children have made their home with their grandparents during the past year, Mrs. Benson being employed in Thief River Falls.

Beginning July 1 defendant is to pay $15 per month to Frank Savage for board and lodging of the three youngsters. This fall he must pay such additional sum as may be required to buy winter clothes for them The order also prohibits him from leaving the state of Minnesota within one year and provides that he report to County Attorney Quale at specified intervals.

Mr. Benson is at present at the Savage home near Erie, and intends to secure employment as soon as possible.

BANK DEPOSIT BILL BURIED IN SENATE BY 19 TO 45 VOTE

Three Nonpartisan Members Among Those Who Cast Ballots Against Measure

By a vote of 19 to 45 the senate yesterday buried the bank deposit guaranty bill, adopting the report of a majority of the banking committee for indefinite postponement of the measure.

The debate was brief because the fate of the bill already had been determined in the house. The vote of the senate kills the issue for the current session.

Three of the regular Nonpartisan league members deserted their colleagues and voted against the bill.

Senator Lund Moves Substitute

When the committee report came in Senator C. A. Lund, Otter Tail county, one of the authors of the senate bill, moved that a substitute bill be placed on general orders. Later he sent up a minority report as a member of the banking committee and moved its adoption.

Mr. Lund declared there is a general demand for this legislation, citing action of the farm bureau and other organizations. Senator Chris Rosenmeier, chairman of the committee, told of evidence presented at committee hearings, showing the failure of the system in other states.

Senator K. K. Solberg said the system has operated well in South Dakota and made an impassioned plea for the bill. Senator William Nelson said the public generally is under the impression that the proposed bill provides a state guaranty. "When it is understood that the state is not behind the guaranty fund, but only administers it, the public does not want the bill," he said.

System Called Dangerous

Senator F. F. Cliff reviewed the South Dakota situation to show that banks there had been saved by a liberal use of state funds. He declared the system indefensible and dangerous.

On the roll call the following senators voted for the minority report: Arens, Bonniwell, Bridgeman, Buckler, Deisen, Devold, Hausler, Jackson, Johnson, Kelson, Landby, Lee, Lund, Morin, J. W. Nelson, Nordlin, Pederson, Solberg and Wahlund.

Senator M. J. Conroy, C. L. Hansen and R. C. Sletten were absent. The other 45 senators who voted to kill the bill, included Senators Nels Peterson, Frank Romberg and Herman Schmechel, Nonpartisan league members.

Must Now Serve Sentence

Richard Olson was arrested for disorderly conduct on complaint of his wife Sunday evening. Olson came home in the afternoon and found Mrs. Olson not present. She returned in a short time, however, accompanied by her sister. It is alleged that Olson struck and kicked her. The sister-in-law in the meantime notified the police and Chief Erickson and Patrolman Ralston hurried to the scene. They arrested Olson and he was brought up in municipal court the next morning. He was arrested last November and released on parole by Judge Tarrant. A 30-day sentence was at that time imposed which he is now serving.

The committee in charge of the program for the meeting is composed of Miss M. Lindblom, Mrs. Theo. Tandberg and Mrs. Geo. Josephson.

Asked to Attend Meeting

Councilman Andrew Ness has been notified of a meeting of the executive committee of the League of Minnesota Municipalities on March 23, to be held at the University of Minnesota. Mr. Ness is a member of this committee, having been appointed last June by the president of the league, Mayor Hodgson of St. Paul.

Among the matters to be considered at the meeting are arrangements and program for the Faribault convention of the league; legislation of special interest to the league; and general league business.

RIVER PROJECT NOT APPROVED BY DEPARTMENT

Clearwater Plans to Receive Endorsement of Authorities At Washington

Disposes of Any Possibility of Drainage or Flood Relief in District at Present

Chairman Selvig Supplies The Times Readers With Report of Board Activities

The Clearwater river improvement project, having for its main aim the prevention of floods and control of flood waters, failed of approval when presented to the Secretary of the Interior. This does not mean that the project is found unnecessary or is in any way condemned. Other plans may be submitted for the approval of the department, but failure to approve the project under the plans of the Red Lake Drainage and Conservancy commission will prevent any work being done in the Clearwater river basin under the direction of the board and following the plans submitted. This effectively disposes of flood relief and flood control in both the Clearwater and Red Lake basins, petitions for the latter project having been refused previously by District Judges Andrew Grindeland and C. W. Stanton.

Chairman C. G. Selvig of the commission has submitted a preliminary report of the board's activities since the district was organized. The report has not yet been turned in to the court owing to the absence of C. E. Boughton, Sr., attorney for the commission, who is in California.

The preliminary report is addressed to each individual member of the conservancy board and to Engineer G. W. Walker and Attorney C. E. Boughton Sr. Explaining this report Chairman Selvig says:

"Under date of November 21, 1922, I wrote to Judges Grindeland, Watts and Stanton that the annual report of the board would be prepared and filed as soon after a decision was made in the proceedings pending as possible. This report has not yet been made as I feel that our attorney, who is in charge of the proceedings under the conservancy act, is the only person who can assist the secretary in making this report.

"The vouchers are in the secretary's hands. On account of lack of funds there are many warrants outstanding. No attempt has been made to call them in as the court order increasing the preliminary fund in the amount of $10,000 has yet been complied with by all the counties involved.

"As you know an appeal to the Supreme Court on this order was taken by Pennington county. The order was affirmed on February 2, 1923. The latest advices are that Beltrami and Clearwater counties have not yet obeyed the order and that Pennington county is holding back $900.00 to defray the expense advanced in establishing the district. I do not know why this is being done excepting to make the board's work as difficult as possible.

Welcome Investigation

"Few seem to realize that the members of the board were appointed by the judges to carry out the wishes of the people who petitioned for the district and later petitioned for certain projects. Since these petitions were filed, all the expenditures that have

Elks' Masquerade Party St. Patrick's Day Evening

The first masquerade party of the 1923 season will be given at the Elks' club room on Saturday evening. It will be a regular St. Patrick' Day party in which only Elks and their ladies will take part. The best music obtainable has been secured for this occasion and arrangements made for an elaborate lunch. Dancing will begin at 8:00 o'clock sharp and will end at midnight. Elks are urged to be on hand as there is sure to be a good time going. This will also be the last party to be given under the direction of the present officers as their newly-elected successors will take office on the first Friday in April.

Haugan Here March 25

Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, March 25, B. B. Haugan of Redfield, S. D., eminent Norwegian lecturer, will appear in Thief River Falls and address those who wish to hear him, at the Sons of Norway hall. Mr. Haugan was scheduled to speak here about two months ago, but owing to the inclement weather conditions, was unable to be here and the local committee has been notified that he will appear the 25th.

Mr. Haugan is well-known thruout the country among the Scandinavian people and many in this city and vicinity are familiar with his writings or lectures. He has chosen as the subject for his lecture here, "The Norwegians, their history and traditions," which subject he is particularly capable of treating.

May Buy Adjoining Property

The Odd Fellows at their meeting on Tuesday night heard the report of the committee recently appointed for the purpose of investigating the merits of different sites proposed for a new hall. It was the general opinion that securing the Hilliard property adjoining the present lodge quarters would prove the best and most satisfactory way out of the difficulty, but no definite action was taken. It is probable that final action in the matter will be taken at the regular meeting to be held on March 20.

LONG REST FOR CONGRESS

After being in session nearly continuously for four years congress adjourned on Monday and, unless called together in extra session by the president, will not re-convene until next December.

There is a decided difference of opinion as to just what position this congress will occupy in history. It has functioned during a period of reconstruction following the war and had to face an area of depression due largely to the same cause. Whether or not it met the difficulties in a creditable manner or simply followed the line of least resistance and evaded its responsibilities is something for the future historian to figure out.

For whatever of good or bad there is to record, the Republicans will receive either the credit or blame, at least during the past two years. It is probable that the long session will about average up in this respect with its predessors. Of course Republican spokesmen wound up by pointing with pride to various achievements, while Democratic spokesmen were no less emphatic in viewing with regret the utter lack of constructive legislation to be credited to the majority. So far as this effect upon the people as a whole is concerned, these swan songs might as well have been omitted. They have watched proceedings rather more closely than at any previous time in our history and have pretty thoroughly made up their minds on the subject. It is certain that enough has been done as well as left undone to furnish subjects for lively controversy for many years to come.

If your particular view is one of condemnation, just bear in mind that the late congress functioned during a period of general world upheaval and fell heir to the unstable and unbalanced conditions inevitably following one of the most destructive wars in all history. Whether these conditions were faced with the proper amount of courage and foresight is something every man and woman will decide according to his or her own view of the matter.

There will be many new faces in the next congress—three of them from Minnesota. Henrick Shipstead will assume the senate seat now occupied by Senator Kellogg, while new men will replace two veterans in the lower house—Steenerson and Volstead. The Republican majority in both houses will be greatly reduced—a situation not generally viewed with regret as the present poitician allignment has proven somewhat unwieldy.

Everybody will be glad that congress has adjourned. The lawmakers need the rest and so does the country.

IS HAVING GOOD EFFECT

When Dr. Pritchett launched his criticism of the way in which time is wasted in the high schools of the country, he started something. Educators generally agree with the president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of teaching when he says modern schools teach a little of many things instead of exact knowledge on a few fundamentals.

In commenting on Dr. Pritchett's article, W. F. Webster, superintendent of the Minneapolis schools, issued a long statement of which the following gives the gist:

> A reviewed plan will be put in operation in Minneapolis high schools next September to fit students for their life jobs.
> Instead of three courses offered by the high schools, offering a variety of subjects, there will be seven or eight courses, each aimed at fitting a boy or girl in some definite line.
> Students must get down to work and parents must co-operate in helping both teacher and student.
> High school students should work eight hours a day; six hours in school and two hours outside.
> The great mass of students going into clerical pursuits must be diverted into industrial lines which offer the greatest future.
> Taxpayers will spend their last dollar for education but they want definite results.
> One year of a modern language, which does not teach the student to use the language, is a wdste of time.
> Teaching students to read and write the English language and to know books should be 50 per cent of the object of any school.
> Students electing "snap courses" in high schools are doing so too often with the consent of parents.

Parents and teachers will agree that the above contains a lot of good sense, particularly the paragraph calling attention to the desirability of diverting a greater number of students toward industrial pursuits. Too many young folks aim at becoming doctors and lawyers and not enough in preparing themselves as engineers, electricians and farmers. They have the wrong idea of what the world and the country needs and it should be the duty of the schools to help set them right.

Indications are that something of value is going to come out of Dr. Pritchett's articles.

Legislative Letter

(By Martin W. Odland)

St. Paul, Minn.—The legislature has taken action on several measures of state-wide interest the past week and —true to form—has put off action on others. Capital punishment and the Carley investigation of the so-called "machine" were put out of the way by the senate, and the house has dealt with the pre-primary convention law.

As was expected, the senate killed the capital punishment bill, the vote being 41 against the bill, and 26 for it. This disposes of the question for good at this session of the legislature, but it is safe to assume that if the murderers continue as busy in Minnesota during the next two years as they have been during the recent past, the next session will be confronted by a more earnest determination on the part of certain legislators to restore capital punishment than that which animated Senator J. D. Sullivan and the other champions of the death penalty at this session. The senate debate lasted four hours, Wednesday afternoon.

Carley Resolution Wins

The senate took final action on the now famous Carley resolution Thursday afternoon and, after a long debate, ended by adopting the resolution unanimously. It calls for a thoroughgoing investigation into the doings of the state machine during the recent past. Senator Carley maintains that the corrupt practices act has been violated all the way from A to Z; that state officials have been putting in a great deal of their time on politics, instead of attending to their duties; that they have their appointees out in the state to electioneer at the expense of the state. These are serious charges and, if found true, the people will be apt to clean house at the state capitol two years hence.

Of course, it is one thing to make a charge; another, to prove it. Senator Carley will be on the investigation committee to be appointed by the lieutenant governor, so it is said, and it is up to him to do his utmost to prove his charges.

Pre-Primary Killed

The house made short work of the pre-primary convention, foisted upon the state by the legislature of 1921. Rep. Gislason, author of the repeal bill, did not wish to go to bat on the proposition Tuesday afternoon, as per schedule, on account of the absence of a large number of farmer members, so he asked for a postponement till Thursday afternoon. Mr. Gislason thought there would be a real fight and didn't dare to take chances. But when the bill finally came up for consideration it didn't show up. Only 7 representatives voted against the bill—Anton Anderson of Hendricks, A. R. Cole of Fergus Falls, Guy Dilley of St. Paul; J. O. Haugland of Montevideo, W. I. Norton of Minneapolis, John E. Stevens of Minneapolis and C. R. Wilkinson of Lake Elmo. The vote for the bill was 117, 7 members being absent.

Nobody took the floor in defense of the convention, although Rep. Stevens of Minneapolis made remarks that might be construed as such, when he submitted an amendment to retain the convention for the purpose of drafting a party platform and selecting a state central committee.

One reason why the opposition did not assert itself, was the feeing that if they wish to hold conventions in advance of the primary they can do so, law or no law, just as they did in 1918 and 1920. As will be remembered, Gov. J. A. O. Preus andall of the other state officials were nominated at an extra-legal convention in 1920.

It may be taken for granted that the senate will pass the Gislason repeal bill within the next two weeks, no matter what course the politicians pursue, as the senate is fully as 'radical" in its tendencies as the house.

N. D. Supreme Court to Hear Gummer Appeal March 14

The North Dakota supreme court has fixed March 14 as the date for hearing arguments on the appeal in the William Gummer murder case, it is announced by Wm. C. Green, special prosecuting attorney in charge of the state's case, and Barnet & Richardson, counsel for the defendant.

An appeal in the case was taken some time ago, the defense alleging error in admission of certain evidence and the lack of sufficient evidence to sustain a conviction.

The attorneys for the defendant, who now is serving a life sentence in the state penitentiary, have filed their brief. The state's brief will be filed within a day or two.

PURE WATER TO BE TURNED INTO MAINS TONIGHT

Plant Ready for Inspection by State Health Department and City's Engineer

Equipment the Very Latest and Most Approved, Even to the Smallest Detail

All Traces of Purifying Agents Filtered Out Before the Mains Are Reached

Unless something unforseen happens the water mains of Thief River Falls will this evening contain a new supply of absolutely pure filtered water. Until the supply has been approved in every way by an officer of the state board of health, however, it might be better not to use it for drinking purposes. This is the advice of L. C. Roberts, engineer in charge of the filtration machinery. Not that he is at all alarmed for fear of any serious consequences if the water is used, but in order to fully protect himself and his concern in every particular.

Thief River Falls has tried for years to secure a pure water supply but until it was decided to step all experimentation and install a modern filtration plant the money spent was practically wasted. There has always been an abundant supply of water flowing right through the town, and while it might have stood the test as to purity, it was never considered satisfactory. It will be a great convenience as well as relief to the people to have this important matter finally disposed of.

The water flows from the river into the intake well by gravity, the well, which is situated near the river, being lower than the bed of the stream. Here the supply is picked up by small service pumps, installed in duplicate, and forced into the inlet box where it is treated with alumina sulphate, which is the scientific term for common alum. This is used as a precipitating agent only. This alum filters out entirely, none remaining in the water after it passes this stage.

The next halt is at the mixing chamber where a very small amount of the prescribed chemical is mixed with the water to destroy any baccili that may lurk to make trouble for the unwarry. The next step is at the settling basins where about 85 per cent of the mud and sediment still in the water is allowed to remain.

From the settling basins the water goes into the filterer. Here only the top of the water remains, the rest of it being allowed to run on. This is a safeguard against getting any sediment of any kind into the supply that is to be used, the sediment going to the bottom from whence it is removed at certain stipulated periods. The flow then is filtered through 30 inches of filtering sand and 22 inches of gravel. This gravel is of graduated size, running from three inches to one-sixteenth of an inch in size.

The next step is the controllers which control the rate of filtration from the units. From here the water goes to the clear well where it is picked up by high duty pumps and forced into the elevated tank from which the city is supplied.

L. P. Wolf, of St. Paul, engineer in charge of the work, will be here next week to test the plant for possible mechanical imperfections. The filtration machinery was supplied by the McFarland Engineering company of Kansas City, Mo., and is the latest and best of its kind to be had. L. C. Roberts has been in charge of this portion of the work, while M. N. McCue has been the directing engineer for the contractor.

C. M. Carlson of this city erected the building according to the latest plans available for plants of this kind.

Peoples Department Store Opens Formally Saturday

As will be noted by the page advertisement in another part of The Times today, the formal opening of the Peoples Department store will take place on Saturday, March 19.

Mr. Liebermann informs us that a large part of the new goods are already here and more are coming every day. He expects to open with the largest and most carefully selected line of women's ready-to-wear ever shown in Thief River Falls. Practically everything offered has been selected with a view to meeting the quirements of those who prefer moderate priced articles of wear as well as those desiring something more elaborate. The line is complete, and the management extends a cordial invitation to the ladies of the neighborhood to come in and look it over.

The yardage department of the business will prove of much interest. Here will be found the latest and best in piece goods for all purposes and in endless variety. The same holds good in the glove, hosiery, corset and notions departments. The Peoples Department Store will be found prepared to meet all demands.

Woman Puts Marauder to Flight by Wielding Broom

Chief of Police E. O. Erickson was notified by Mrs. Lena Engebretsen, 520 Markley avenue north, that on Sunday night her house had been entered by an unknown man. She was alone with her three small children at the time. The intruder used rough language toward her and when she attempted to summon help she discovered that the telephone wires had been cut, undoubtedly by the intruder. The latter had his coat collar turned up and his face so covered that she was unable to identify him. Grabbing the only weapon at hand—which happened to be a broom—she belabored the visitor to such good purpose that he fled. The man did not find it necessary to use violence in getting into the house as the door was not locked and the supposition is that he had been there for some little time before being discovered.

MRS. M. P. RAPACZ FALLS VICTIM TO PECULIAR MALADY

Death of Local Woman Follows Two Weeks' Illness With Unusual Symptoms

After only a two week's illness of what was diagnosed as the sleeping flu, Mrs. Kathleen Rapacz, wife of M. P. Rapacz, principal of the Thief River Falls high school, passed away at the St. Mary's hospital in Minneapolis Friday afternoon at three o'clock. Mrs. Rapacz was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Donaghue, 224 First street southeast, Minneapolis, and had made her home in Thief River Falls during the past two years, in which time she made a large number of friends to whom the news of her sudden death was a decided shock.

Mrs. Rapacz was taken ill with an ordinary attack of the influenza Feb. 26, at her home, 401 Arnold avenue north, but the malady soon took unusual changes and her condition became critical with no improvement thruout the siege. She was attended by local physicians who diagnosed the affection as being what is commonly known as sleeping influenza, and advised that she be taken at once to Minneapolis and be placed under the care of a brain specialist. Friday, a week previous to her death, she was taken to Minneapolis where she was being attended to by Dr. Hamilton at St. Mary's hospital, which she entered Saturday. No medical attention had any avail, altho a new serum produced at Rochester through experimentation by the Rockefeller Foundation, given her seemed to have beneficial results. Further injection of the serum had no effect and she died Friday afternoon. It was requested by Mr. Rapacz that the news of his wife's death not be made known to the members of the high school faculty play presented Friday evening, as it would greatly sadden her many friends and thus affect the presentation of the play.

Deceased was a graduate of the University of Minnesota and had been domestic science teacher for a time previous to her marriage to Mr. Rapacz, which occurred in Minneapolis, Aug. 5, 1921. There are no children. She was a devoted member of the Catholic church and an active member of the Woman's Auxiliary and Girl's Community club.

As evidence of the esteem in which Mrs. Rapacz was held by the high school faculty and student body of the Lincoln high school, respect to her memory in the form of a silent tribute was paid her on the convening of school Monday morning.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon in Minneapolis. Flowers were sent by several individuals and organizations of this city.

Caught With The Goods

Conrad Vinje, who has figured somewhat prominently in police reports lately, is again in difficulties. He was arrested in front of his place of business by Police Chief Erickson assisted by night patrolman Ralston on Friday evening and two Mason jars containing moonshine booze taken away from him. He was arrested and brought before Judge Tarrant on Saturday morning, waived examination and was bound over to the June grand jury in the sum of $500. Bail was furnished. Vinje claims he secured the liquor from a stranger who said he brought it from Canada.

Opening Club Quarters to Public is Popular Move

The Girl's Community club entertained about 75 guests at the house-warming party given at the club rooms on Saturday evening. The club has offered the use of the club rooms on Fourth street and Horace avenue to the young folks of the Thief River Falls and vicinity and the party on Saturday night was the opening event. The response of the young folks seems to indicate that they welcome the opportunity to use these rooms. On Tuesday evening, March 13, there was an even larger attendance.

The rooms are open to anyone wishing to spend the evening there from 7 to 10 o'clock every week night except Sunday and Monday. For the present at least the club members feel it will be better not to include little children in this invitation and persons taking advantage of the invitation must be 15 years of age or over.

The entertainment offered is entirely free to the young folks and both boys and girls are welcome.

Road Nearing Completion

Highway Engineer Bert Umland states that the state road between Highlanding and Goodridge will soon be finished, work having been carried on at this point for some time.

BEET ACREAGE OF DISTRICT IS NOW OVER 2500

Approximately 800 Acres Signed Up in the Vicinity of Thief River Falls

Refining Company Promises to Erect Loading Dump If 1000 Acres Are Secured

Business Men of City Offer Special Cash and Merchandise Prizes for Growers

A special meeting of the sugar beet committee was held Monday evening, in the commercial club rooms.

All contracts and applications for sugar beet acreage were examined and most of them approved. A few were placed on the doubtful list for further consideration. There are approximately 800 acres signed up in the vicinity of Thief River Falls. If 1,000 acres are secured the factory will likely install a sugar beet dump, which will greatly facilitate the process of unloading, as much of the hand labor would be in that event be eliminated.

The committee discussed ways and means of making sugar beet growing a greater success. Dr. Froehlich started the ball rolling by offering a $50 cash prize for the highest average yield from any field of three acres or over in this vicinity. Olaf Neset offered a $25.00 tea set for the cleanest and best kept field of ten acres or more up to August 15. First National Bank will give a cash prize of $25 for the cleanest and best kept field of ten acres or more up to July 15. The N. W. Electric Railway offers a cash prize of $25 for the best average tonnage along its line. Oen Mercantile company will award a cash prize of $25 for the best average tonnage within ten miles of Thief River Falls, other than along the electric line, which is covered by Mr. Protzeller's offer. The details of these prizes will be worked out by the committee at a later date.

Red Lake county has approximately 460 acres signed up; Mahnomen 400, and the towns north of Thief River Falls 600, making the total over 2,200 acres.

Interest Rate Reduction Will Pass Is Prediction

Senator C. L. Hanson was up from St. Paul on a flying trip the first of the week. He says the legislature has buckled down to the hardest kind of work and from now on there will be few if any vacations.

Senator Hanson called attention to an error in the article appearing in the Times last week in referring to the defeat in the house of the bank guarantee bill. The heading stated that the measure had been killed in the senate whereas that body has not as yet acted on it one way or another. The bill was defeated in the lower house.

The bill reducing the rate of legal interest in the state from 10 to 8 per cent, passed the senate unanimously some time ago and will soon come up for action in the house. Senator Hansen made the only address in favor of the bill with the exception of that of the author, Senator Buckler of Polk county, when the measure was under consideration in the senate. He is of the opinion that it will pass the house when it is reached by that body.

Yesterday was the last day for the introduction of bills except upon special request by the governor. The legislature will adjourn on April 19.

Young Burglar Points Gun At Rasmusson Last Night

An attempt to enter the basement of the Northwestern garage on Main street was made last evening at about nine o'clock by two young men apparently around the ages of eighteen years.

Alfred Rasmusson, proprietor of the Jefferson Cafe, who is taking charge of the building, noticed someone prowling at the basement windows behind the cafe with the aid of a flashlight. Rasmusson immediately stepped out to inquire as to their mission. The two young men evidently were not desirous of making their intentions or evidently known for one of them turned the flash light on Rasmusson making it impossible for him to distinquish them. When asked to turn the light aside and what they were there for, one of them pointed a gun at Rasmusson. Without any more action the night prowlers walked away and Rasmusson at once notified the police. They succeeded in making their getaway but those taking part in the search have a suspicion as to who the parties were. Further investigation may be made to ascertain their identity.

Local Talent Produce Norse Comedy With Singing Friday

Friday evening, March 16, at the Sons of Norway hall, the Norwegian comedy "Petter og Inger" will be presented by a cast composed practically entirely of local people. Those taking part have been hard at work rehearsing for some time and reports are that the play will be of unusual interest to those who understand Scandinavian. Some of the players have taken part in this play a number of times before so that they are familiar with their role to the letter.

The cast contains several unique characters, some of which are being represented by artists on the stage. Mrs. Anton Sannes, who directs the play and also is one of the characters, appeared in this city together with her husband about ten years ago, and is well known to local people. Annar Myhre, a barytone singer and actor of repute, who is making a stay in Thief River Falls, will sing, the play being featured with a number of songs. The others taking part in the performance are Miss Carolyn Melby, J. Berry, Roy Prytz and Dreng Bjornaraa, all of this city. Piano accompaniment will be rendered by Mrs. O. F. Mellby.

The comedy promises to be a rare treat for those who enjoy a Scandinavian performance. A dance will follow the presentation of the play.

BANKS WILL BACK FARMERS WISHING TO PURCHASE HOGS

High Class Sows tobe Disposed of At Auction In This City On March 23

An opportunity for securing a start in the pure bred hog business will be given farmers in the neighborhood of Thief River Falls on Friday, Mar. 23, when the Red River Valley Hereford Farm will sell 40 head of purebred Duroc Jersey brood sows at auction at Fisher's livery barn.

The hogs to be sold are all with pig and guaranteed to be sound in every way. They came from the boys' and girls' clubs put out by the Red River Valley Hereford farm, a thoroughly responsible concern.

It is particularly urged that every boy and girl interested in the production of better livestock in this section secure one of these animals and thus get a start toward raising purebred Duroc Jersey hogs. It is a breed peculiarly well adapted to this section, being prolific, maturing early and growing to large size. They are sure profit bringers when many of the things raised on the farm are down in price.

All banks in the city have given their support to the placing of more hogs on the farms of Pennington county, having offered to carry all those who wish to get a start in this business. Arrangements with the banks should be made before the sale in order that there may be no delay or disappointment.

This is an opportunity many have been waiting for. It is generally realized that the county and section are short on this particular class of livestock and have been looking for a chance to get a start. This is now presented and it is to be hoped that our farmers will take advantage of it.

GENUINE FIGHTING BULLS FROM SPAIN USED IN PICTURE

Valentino Risks Life in Facing These Mad Creatures in "Blood and Sand"

Real Spanish fighting bulls were transported from Spain to Hollywood via Mexico for the sensational bull-ring scenes of "Blood and Sand," Rudolph Valentino's first Paramount star picture which will be shown at the Lyceum theatre Sunday and Monday.

They are said to have differed from the domestic variety as "Man-o'-War" differs from the humble truck horse. Running wild from birth on lonely ranches, shipped in black boxes to continue their isolation from mankind they entered the arena with only the elemental instincts of wild animals, to kill and destroy any one daring enough to face them.

And Mr. Valentino had to get out in front of these interesting creatures!

Sensational to the limit in this great Ibanez story of the life and loves of a young bull-fighter, are those scenes in which Mr. Valentino does sword and cape play before picked animals of Senior Miura, the Duke of Veragua and the Marquise of Saltillo, the three leading bull-breeders in Spain. He was trained for the dangerous business by Rafael Palomar, famous Spanish matador, and was well versed in the graceful art.

"Blood and Sand," a Fred Niblo production is a story of a bull-fighter. It abounds in those colorful elements every American admires. It was adapted by June Mathis while Alvin Wyckoff presided at the camera. Lila Lee and Nita Naldi have the principal feminine roles while others in the cast include Walter Long, Leo White, Rose Rosanova, Marie Marstini, George Periolat, Jack Winn, Harry Lamont, Fred Becker, Charles Belcher and Gilbert Clayton.

Arrested in Minneapolis As Burglary Suspects

Three young men, former residents of Thief River Falls, are under arrest in Minneapolis, being suspected of implication in a series of house burglaries. They are Arthur Ostmoe, Ivan Erickson and Irving Rudd, all of them well known here. The police are investigating into their activities in selling second-hand clothes in what is known as the lower Loop district.

Detectives believe they will be able to connect the young men with a series of house burglaries which have been committed in Minneapolis during the past month.

BETTER COUNTY FAIR THAN EVER DIRECTORS' AIM

Show Will Be Held on August 1, 2 and 3, From Wednesday to Friday Evening

Lachman Shows, Carrying 25 Cars, Secured to Furnish Amusement Features

Auto and Horse Racing Will Take Place Every Afternoon During the Fair

The Pennington County Agricultural society has made arrangements for one of the best fairs ever held in this section of the state on August 1, 2, and 3. At a meeting of the directors last Thursday it was decided to secure the Lachman Exposition shows, which is a twenty-five car concern. These people usually play only at state fairs and have a contract with the Minnesota Fair associtiou to appear at the big show at Hamline. The free acts were signed up with the Western Vaudeville association, consisting of two troups, furnishing three acts, or forty-five minutes of exciting vaudeville.

The Sterling Bros. Trio is a two act combination aerial. They offer a star program of astonishing aerial feats, denoting unexampled bravery and phenomenal training as well as the nicest of judgment allied with the most wonderful agility in many exploits of a peculary hazardous nature. Their array of sensational mid-air exploits will be long remembered by the spectators who are lucky enough to witness their performance. They introduce a comedy acrobatic act, replete with rip-roaring situations, which keep the audience in an outburst of laughter from the opening to the closing number of their performance.

The Marriott Troupe consists of five people, three ladies and two gents, presenting an act unlike anything ever shown before. They use extra propellors on the wings of a monoplane. The monoplane is mounted on a pedestal, seventeen feet high with a gun attached. The five people will perform on the wings of the monoplane giving many sensational and startling features.

The fair directors voted to have auto and horse racing every day, including performances by the lone pacer.

The officers acting on the fair board are: President John Bratrud; first vice president, Albert Johnson; second vice president, Fred Beerbower, secretary, J. J. McCann; treasurer, Herbert Fuller; directors, S. E. Hunt, R. J. McKercher, V. C. Noper, Emil Griebstein and Stuart McLeod.

Will Open New Store

A. E. Keith, formerly connected with the Save-U-Money store at Stillwater, has been in the city the past week for the purpose of arranging for the opening of a clothing store here by the same concern. They will occupy the quarters on LaBree avenue recently vacated by the Co-operative Meat Market, the latter institution having moved to Main avenue and Fourth street.

The new concern will handle men's clothing as well as furnishings of all kinds. The building is now undergoing alterations which will be completed so that business can be commenced about the first of April.

Mr. Keith will be in charge and will arrange to move here at once. Mrs. Keith and two children are expected to arrive in a few days.

Clever Comedy Presented By High School Faculty

"Assisted by Sadie," a delightful comedy in four acts was presented by the faculty of Lincoln high school at two performances last Friday. In the afternoon the auditorium was crowded and while the evening crowd was not quite as large the big hall was comfortably filled.

It was without question one of the best performances by local talent ever seen in this city. Every person on the program acquitted him or herself with distinction and as the play itself left nothing to be desired in the way of crisp dialogue and interesting situations, the evening was one of genuine enjoyment.

To single out any particular person in the cast for special mention would be most unfair. Every one showed a keen appreciation of the business in hand and did not allow the porfromance to lag for a moment.

The music furnished between the acts by the high school orchestra under the direction of Miss Maude L. Johnson, added greatly to the enjoyment of the large audience. As a result of the enterprise the athletic club of the school find their equipment fund swelled by a very substantial figure.

For a more extended review of the play the reader is referred to the School Progress page of The Times.

Benson Ordered to Provide Children With $15 per Month

Clarence Benson, who has been residing in Hickory township and who was last week arrested by the local authorities for not supporting his family of wife and three children, was unable to secure bonds but by order of the court will have to provide $15 per month for the support of the children.

Benson was tried before Judge N. W. Tarrant in municipal court last week and given a suspended sentence of ninety days in jail. The family had been furnished with only $30 since April last year. The court order provided that Benson, being unable to secure bonds for the support of the family, be required to deliver to his wife a sewing machine, now in his possession, and execute a bill of sale of a Ford automobile to W. J. Brown. The auto is to be sold as soon as possible, three fourths of the sum received to be paid to Frank Savage of Hickory township for taking care of the children. The children have made their home with their grandparents during the past year, Mrs. Benson being employed in Thief River Falls.

Beginning July 1 defendant is to pay $15 per month to Frank Savage for board and lodging of the three youngsters. This fall he must pay such additional sum as may be required to buy winter clothes for them. The order also prohibits him from leaving the state of Minnesota within one year and provides that he report to County Attorney Quale at specified intervals.

Mr. Benson is at present at the Savage home near Erie, and intends to secure employment as soon as possible.

BANK DEPOSIT BILL BURIED IN SENATE BY 19 TO 45 VOTE

Three Nonpartisan Members Among Those Who Cast Ballots Against Measure

By a vote of 19 to 45 the senate yesterday buried the bank deposit guaranty bill, adopting the report of a majority of the banking committee for indefinite postponement of the measure.

The debate was brief because the fate of the bill already had been determined in the house. The vote of the senate kills the issue for the current session.

Three of the regular Nonpartisan league members deserted their colleagues and voted against the bill.

Senator Lund Moves Substitute

When the committee report came in Senator C. A. Lund, Otter Tail county, one of the authors of the senate bill, moved that a substitute bill be placed on general orders. Later he sent up a minority report as a member of the banking committee and moved its adoption.

Mr. Lund declared there is a general demand for this legislation, citing action of the farm bureau and other organizations. Senator Chris Rosenmeier, chairman of the committee, told of evidence presented at committee hearings, showing the failure of the system in other states.

Senator K. K. Solberg said the system has operated well in South Dakota and made an impassioned plea for the bill. Senator William Nelson said the public generally is under the impression that the proposed bill provides a state guaranty. "When it is understood that the state is not behind the guaranty fund, but only administers it, the public does not want the bill," he said.

System Called Dangerous

Senator F. F. Cliff reviewed the South Dakota situation to show that banks there had been saved by a liberal use of state funds. He declared the system indefensible and dangerous.

On the roll call the following senators voted for the minority report: Areas, Bonniwell, Bridgeman, Buckler, Deisen, Devold, Hausler, Jackson, Johnson, Kelson, Landby, Lee, Lund, Morin, J. W. Nelson, Nordlin, Pederson, Solberg and Wahlund.

Senator M. J. Conroy, C. L. Hansen and R. C. Sletten were absent. The other 45 senators who voted to kill the bill, included Senators Nels Peterson, Frank Romberg and Herman Schmechel, Nonpartisan league members.

Must Now Serve Sentence

Richard Olson was arrested for disorderly conduct on complaint of his wife Sunday evening. Olson came home in the afternoon and found Mrs. Olson not present. She returned in a short time, however, accompanied by her sister. It is alleged that Olson struck and kicked her. The sister-in-law in the meantime notified the police and Chief Erickson and Patrolman Ralston hurried to the scene. They arrested Olson and he was brought up in municipal court the next morning. He was arrested last November and released on parole by Judge Tarrant. A 30-day sentence was at that time imposed which he is now serving.

Goodridge Club Annual Election Friday, Mar. 23

The annual meeting of the Goodridge Community club will take place at the school house in that village on the evening of Friday, March 23. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected and a particularly interesting program has been arranged. All members are requested to be present.

The club at Goodridge has had a very successful year. It is one of the most energetic organizations of its kind in the county and has managed to hold the interest of its members when others have fallen by the wayside.

The committee in charge of the program for the meeting is composed of Miss M. Lindblom, Mrs. Theo. Tandberg and Mrs. Geo. Josephson.

Asked to Attend Meeting

Councilman Andrew Ness has been notified of a meeting of the executive committee of the League of Minnesota Municipalities on March 23, to be held at the University of Minnesota. Mr. Ness is a member of this committee, having been appointed last June by the president of the league, Mayor Hodgson of St. Paul.

Among the matters to be considered at the meeting are arrangements and program for the Faribault convention of the league; legislation of special interest to the league; and general league business.

RIVER PROJECT NOT APPROVED BY DEPARTMENT

Clearwater Plans to Receive Endorsement of Authorities At Washington

Disposes of Any Possibility of Drainage or Flood Relief in District at Present

Chairman Selvig Supplies The Times Readers With Report of Board Activities

The Clearwater river improvement project, having for its main aim the prevention of floods and control of flood waters, failed of approval when presented to the Secretary of the Interior. This does not mean that the project is found unnecessary or is in any way condemned. Other plans may be submitted for the approval of the department, but failure to approve the project under the plans of the Red Lake Drainage and Conservancy commission will prevent any work being done in the Clearwater river basin under the direction of the board and following the plans submitted. This effectively disposes of flood relief and flood control in both the Clearwater and Red Lake basins, petitions for the latter project having been refused previously by District Judges Andrew Grindeland and C. W. Stanton.

Chairman C. G. Selvig of the commission has submitted a preliminary report of the board's activities since the district was organized. The report has not yet been turned in to the court owing to the absence of C. E. Boughton, Sr., attorney for the commission, who is in California.

The preliminary report is addressed to each individual member of the conservancy board and to Engineer G. W. Walker and Attorney C. E. Boughton Sr. Explaining this report Chairman Selvig says:

"Under date of November 21, 1922, I wrote to Judges Grindeland, Watts and Stanton that the annual report of the board would be prepared and filed as soon after a decision was made in the proceedings pending as possible. This report has not yet been made as I feel that our attorney, who is in charge of the proceedings under the conservancy act, is the only person who can assist the secretary in making this report.

"The vouchers are in the secretary's hands. On account of lack of funds there are many warrants outstanding. No attempt has been made to call them in as the court order increasing the preliminary fund in the amount of $10,000 has yet been complied with by all the counties involved.

"As you know an appeal to the Supreme Court on this order was taken by Pennington county. The order was affirmed on February 2, 1923. The latest advices are that Beltrami and Clearwater counties have not yet obeyed the order and that Pennington county is holding back $900.00 to defray the expense advanced in establishing the district. I do not know why this is being done excepting to make the board's work as difficult as possible.

Welcome Investigation

"Few seem to realize that the members of the board were appointed by the judges to carry out the wishes of the people who petitioned for the district and later petitioned for certain projects. Since these petitions were filed, all the expenditures that have

D., eminent Norwegian lecturer, will appear in Thief River Falls and address those who wish to hear him, at the Sons of Norway hall. Mr. Haugan is well-known thruout the country among the Scandinavian people and many in this city and vicinity are familiar with his writings or lectures. He has chosen as the subject for his lecture here, "The Norwegians, their history and traditions," which subject he is particularly capable of treating.

May Buy Adjoining Property

The Odd Fellows at their meeting on Tuesday night heard the report of the committee recently appointed for the purpose of investigating the merits of different sites proposed for a new hall. It was the general opinion that securing the Hilliard property adjoining the present lodge quarters would prove the best and most satisfactory way out of the difficulty, but no definite action was taken. It is probable that final action in the matter will be taken at the regular meeting to be held on March 20.

LOCALS PLAY IN CROOKSTON FINALS

High School Basket Ball Team Plays Warren as First Opponent at Tournament

The Thief River Falls high school basketeers left on this afternoon's train for Crookston where they take part in the district No. 1 championship tournament which starts this evening. The contests of the eight teams in the race will take place this evening and Friday evening. The contenting teams will play for the right to enter the state championship tournament to be held at the Kenwood Armory, Minneapolis, on March 27, 28 and 29. The district champions also gain possession of the loving cup put up by the athletic association. A team must win the cup three years in succession to keep it permanently.

The local team is composed of Clifford Sorenson and Sydney Schutt, forwards; Stanley Sorenson and Charles Horron guards; and Milford LaBree center. Craig Halvorson, Math Barzen and John Sether accompanied as substitutes. The aggregation is in charge of coach H. M. MacFarlane, who accompanied the team. The team has been going thru some real hard practice the past few weeks and the locals entertain high hopes of winning at least the first clash with Warren this evening.

Eight teams will take part in the district classic. They are the same aggregations which have been at the top throughout the entire season and are unquestionable the strongest in the northwestern section of the state. The teams are: Crookston, Stephen Fosston, Thief River Falls, McIntosh, Warroad, Warren and East Grand Forks. Ada high school has been named as the alternate team and will enter the tournament in case any of the other teams are not able to play. Ada finished the season with a record of six games won and eight lost, or percentage of .428.

The games played last week decided the race, although the first six teams in the standings were already "in". Ada, Argyle and Bagley were unable to overcome Warren and East Grand Forks for the seventh and eighth positions in the standings.

The first game of the evening will be between East Grand Forks and Stephen at 7 o'clock. At 8 o'clock Warren and Thief River Falls will clash. These four teams are evenly matched and hotly contested games can be expected. Crookston will meet the strong McIntosh quint in the first clash. The final game of the first day of the tournament will be played at 10 o'clock between the Fosston and Warroad quints.

Superintendent G. H. Sanberg, member of the district committee, has announced that Coach Dean of Carleton college, of Northfield, will officiate so it is certain that the game will be handled in an efficient manner. Coach Constance of the Northwest School will assist in the officiating.

The Crookston team and its coach and the visiting teams and their coaches will be the guests of the business men of Crookston at a dinner to be given at the Association rooms on Friday at 12 o'clock.

The final standing of the teams entered in the tournament follows:

Team	W.	L.	Pct
Crookston	10	0	1.000
Stephen	5	2	.714
Fosston	6	3	.666
Thief River Falls	6	3	.666
McIntosh	7	4	.636
Warroad	3	2	.600
Warren	5	4	.555
East Grand Forks	3	3	500

Not Returning to Accident Scene Costs Driver $12,000

A verdict of $12,000 was returned by a jury in district court at Bemidji last week, against Frank Doyea of Bemidji, the sum being awarded Adolph Mueller and his wife were suit for personal damages.

The suit arose as the result of an automobile accident on the Maple Lake road just four miles east of Crookston on August 23rd, in which Adolph Mueller and his wife were seriously injured. Their 12 year old son, who was also in the car when the accident occurred was uninjured.

Doyea was arrested by Crookston authorities immediately following the accident, it being believed that Doyea was in some way connected. He was bound over to a Polk county district court when given a preliminary hearing. He has been out on bonds of $1,000 since that time. The charge on which Doyea was taken into custody was that of failure to return to the scene of the accident.

Marvelous Radio Growth

On Jan. 1, 1923, there were about 21,000 radio transmitting stations in the United States, 276 of which are on board ships. There were 570 broadcasting stations, covering every state except Mississippi. Twelve oceanic stations communicate with Great Britain, France, Germany, Poland, Holland, Italy, Hawaii, and Japan. Only 191 wave lengths are available, of which 122 are used by the 279 government stations, leaving only 69 for the 17,000 private stations. A measure before congress is designed to regulate, by licenses, the broadcasting stations, to the end that annoying confusion be eliminated.

McIntosh Woman Dies

Mrs. C. Zatterberg, wife of well known McIntosh merchant, passed away in that village Sunday, according to the Crookston Times. Her death was caused by pneumonia from which she had suffered but a brief period. Mr. and Mrs. Zatterberg had been residents of McIntosh for the past 36 years, the former being proprietor of a harness shop.

Resolution of Condolence

Whereas it has pleased God in His wisdom to remove from our midst the wife of our friend and buddy, Max P. Rapacz.

Be it resolved that we, the members of Emil Hogberg Post No. 353, American Legion of Argyle, Department of Minnesota, express to the bereaved husband our deepest sympathy in his hour of sorrow. May they all seek comfort in Him who alone can still the aching heart.

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be sent to Mr. Rapacz and one to the Marshall County Banner and Thief River Falls Times for publication.

Veterans' Bureau Man Here In Interest Of Service Men

Fred W. Zeller of Fargo, of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau was lately in Thief River Falls in the interest of the war veterans in this section. Mr. Zeller said that although the time elapsed for the filing of claims for vocational training Dec. 16, this in no way affects ex-service men in filing their claims for compensation, or reinstating or converting their government insurance. Most of the men, said Mr. Zellmer, had had insurance granted to them, but because of illness and for financial reasons they had not been able to keep this insurance in force. Many of them had become discouraged and are making no effort to avail themselves of the privileges accorded to them by law. Section 408 of the Sweet Bill has amended the war risk insurance act to the extent that now disabled men are enabled to reinstate their lapsed insurance or to convert term insurance to ordinary life, 30-payment life, 20-payment life, 30-year endowment, or endowment at the age of 62.

Under the war risk act any person in the military or naval service was given the privilege of obtaining from the United States insurance against death and total permanent disability in amounts up to $10,000. This insurance is issued by the Bureau of War Risk Insurance of the treasury department on yearly term plan, and no charge is made in premium for permanent total disability benefits. No limitations as to age at which disability occurred, or cause of disability; no restrictions as to residence, travel, occupation, military or naval service.

Dividends are accumulated through excess interest earnings over 3½ per cent plus and mortality savings, and paid to all those whose insurance has been in force more than one year. In case of illness, on application, premium may be waived by insured until recovery. No matter what a man's disability may be, or its degree, provided he has not been declared permanent total, he will be accepted on payment of all back premiums due from date of lapse, plus 5 per cent interest compounded annually on each premium due.

After four years of premium payments on a 20-year endowment, the extended insurance values would take care of all payments of premiums for the remaining 16 years, but by so doing insured would only draw the face value of his policy, having sacrificed the pure endowment by this course.

Mr. Zeller has left a supply of reinstatement and conversion blanks with Oscar Paulson, commander of Elmer Eklund Post No. 117, who will assist ex-service men in reinstating and converting their government insurance.

LOCALS PLAY IN CROOKSTON FINALS

High School Basket Ball Team Plays Warren as First Opponent at Tournament

The Thief River Falls high school basketeers left on this afternoon's train for Crookston where they take part in the district No. 1 championship tournament which starts this evening. The contests of the eight teams in the race will take place this evening and Friday evening. The contesting teams will play for the right to enter the state championship tournament to be held at the Kenwood Armory, Minneapolis, on March 27, 28 and 29. The district champions also gain possession of the loving cup put up by the athletic association. A team must win the cup three years in succession to keep it permanently.

The local team is composed of Clifford Sorenson and Sydney Schutt, forwards; Stanley Sorenson and Charles Herron guards; and Milford LaBree center. Craig Halvorson, Math Barzen and John Sether accompanied as substitutes. The aggregation is in charge of coach H. M. MacFarlane, who accompanied the team. The team has been going thru some real hard practice the past few weeks and the locals entertain high hopes of winning at least the first clash with Warren this evening.

Eight teams will take part in the district classic. They are the same aggregations which have been at the top throughout the entire season and are unquestionable the strongest in the northwestern section of the state. The teams are: Crookston, Stephen Fosston, Thief River Falls, McIntosh, Warroad, Warren and East Grand Forks. Ada high school has been named as the alternate team and will enter the tournament in case any of the other teams are not able to play. Ada finished the season with a record of six games won and eight lost, or percentage of .428.

The games played last week decided the race, although the first six teams in the standings were already "in." Ada, Argyle and Bagley were unable to overcome Warren and East Grand Forks for the seventh and eighth positions in the standings.

The first game of the evening will be between East Grand Forks and Stephen at 7 o'clock. At 8 o'clock Warren and Thief River Falls will clash. These four teams are evenly matched and hotly contested games can be expected. Crookston will meet the strong McIntosh quint in the first clash. The final game of the first day of the tournament will be played at 10 o'clock between the Fosston and Warroad quints.

Superintendent G. H. Sanberg, member of the district committee, has announced that Coach Dean of Carleton college, of Northfield, will officiate so it is certain that the game will be handled in an efficient manner. Coach Constance of the Northwest School will assist in the officiating.

The Crookston team and its coach and the visiting teams and their coaches will be the guests of the business men of Crookston at a dinner to be given at the Association rooms on Friday at 12 o'clock.

The final standing of the teams entered in the tournament follows:

Team	W.	L.	Pct
Crookston	10	0	1.000
Stephen	6	2	.714
Fosston	6	3	.666
Thief River Falls	6	3	.666
McIntosh	7	4	.636
Warroad	3	2	.600
Warren	5	4	.555
East Grand Forks	3	3	500

Not Returning to Accident Scene Costs Driver $12,000

A verdict of $12,000 was returned by a jury in district court at Bemidji last week, against Frank Doyen of Bemidji, the sum being awarded Adolph Mueller and his wife were suit for personal damages.

The suit arose as the result of an automobile accident on the Maple Lake road just four miles east of Crookston on August 23rd, in which Adalph Mueller and his wife were seriously injured. Their 12 year old son, who was also in the car when the accident occurred was uninjured.

Doyen was arrested by Crookston authorities immediately following the accident, it being believed that Doyen was in some way connected. He was bound over to a Polk county district court when given a preliminary hearing. He has been out on bonds of $1,000 since that time. The charge on which Doyen was taken into custody was that of failure to return to the scene of the accident.

Marvelous Radio Growth

On Jan. 1, 1923, there were about 21,000 radio transmitting stations in the United States, 276 of which are on board ships. There were 570 broadcasting stations, covering every state except Mississippi. Twelve oceanic stations communicate with Great Britain, France, Germany, Poland, Holland, Italy, Hawaii, and Japan. Only 191 wave lengths are available, of which 122 are used by the 279 government stations, leaving only 69 for the 17,000 private stations. A measure before congress is designed to regulate, by licenses, the broadcasting stations, to the end that annoying confusion be eliminated.

McIntosh Woman Dies

Mrs. C. Zatterberg, wife of well known McIntosh merchant, passed away in that village Sunday, according to the Crookston Times. Her death was caused by pneumonia from which she had suffered but a brief period. Mr. and Mrs. Zatterberg had been residents of McIntosh for the past 35 years, the former being proprietor of a harness shop.

Resolution of Condolence

Whereas it has pleased God in His wisdom to remove from our midst the wife of our friend and buddy, Max P. Rapacz.

Be it resolved that we, the members of Emil Hogberg Post No. 353, American Legion of Argyle, Department of Minnesota, express to the bereaved husband our deepest sympathy in his hour of sorrow. May they all seek comfort in Him who alone can still the aching heart.

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be sent to Mr. Rapacz and one to the Marshall County Banner and Thief River Falls Times for publication.

Veterans' Bureau Man Here In Interest Of Service Men

Fred W. Zeller of Fargo, of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau was lately in Thief River Falls in the interest of the war veterans in this section. Mr. Zeller said that although the time elapsed for the filing of claims for vocational training Dec. 16, this in no way affects ex-service men in filing their claims for compensation, or reinstating or converting their government insurance. Most of the men, said Mr. Zellmer, had had insurance granted to them, but because of illness and for financial reasons they had not been able to keep this insurance in force. Many of them had become discouraged and are making no effort to avail themselves of the privileges accorded to them by law. Section 408 of the Sweet Bill has amended the war risk insurance act to the extent that now disabled men are enabled to reinstate their lapsed insurance or to convert term insurance to ordinary life, 30-payment life, 20-payment life, 30-year endowment, or endowment at the age of 62.

Under the war risk act any person in the military or naval service was given the privilege of obtaining from the United States insurance against death and total permanent disability in amounts up to $10,000. This insurance is issued by the Bureau of War Risk Insurance of the treasury department on yearly term plan, and no charge is made in premium for permanent total disability benefits. No limitations as to age at which disability occurred, or cause of disability; no restrictions as to residence, travel, occupation, military or naval service.

Dividends are accumulated through excess interest earnings over 3½ per cent plus and mortality savings, and paid to all those whose insurance has been in force more than one year. In case of illness, on application, premium may be waived by insured until recovery. No matter what a man's disability may be, or its degree, provided he has not been declared permanent total, he will be accepted on payment of all back premiums due from date of lapse, plus 5 per cent interest compounded annually on each premium due.

After four years of premium payments on a 20-year endowment, the extended insurance values would take care of all payments of premiums for the remaining 16 years, but by so doing insured would only draw the face value of his policy, having sacrificed the pure endowment by this course.

Mr. Zeller has left a supply of reinstatement and conversion blanks with Oscar Paulson, commander of Elmer Eklund Post No. 117, who will assist ex-service men in re-instating and converting their government insurance.

SCIENCE USES SHERLOCK STUFF

Fiction Detective Is Outdone in Quest for Clues to Secret of the Flowers.

EVEN BEES HELP IN SEARCH

Question of Which Buds Attract Honeymakers Has Important Bearing on Case—Bee Carries Telltale Entries on Legs.

New York.—While writers of mystery stories have been borrowing from science for improvement of detective methods, Dr. F. K. Richtmyer of Cornell university and Dr. F. E. Lutz of the American Museum of Natural History have been borrowing detective methods for scientific research in the last year. They have been engaged by the National Research council to solve one of the important problems of science. It is essentially a detective job, requiring the most delicate kind of trailing, spying, spotting and inside work.

The mere statement of the mystery does not suggest false whiskers, marked bills and the dictaphone. The problem is simply: "Why have flowers color?"

Until recently it was assumed, on orthodox Darwinian lines, that flowers had developed colors to attract pollenating insects whose visits were necessary for the manufacture of seeds. But recently this theory has been challenged. Experiments have indicated that insects may be color-blind. Some apparently cannot see red. Why should flowers be red if bees, moths and other pollenating insects cannot see red? Why should they display other hues, brilliant to the human eye but apparently invisible to insects?

Blind to Some Colors.

Other experiments indicated that if the bee, the moth and the fly are blind to some colors that we see they can see other colors invisible to us. They can see or in some way detect ultra-violet light, which is mere blackness to human beings. So it became important to learn how ultra-violet colors attract insects.

Doctor Richtmyer, a physicist of Cornell, and Doctor Lutz, an entomologist of the American Museum of Natural History, were chosen to work out the fine detective devices needed for sleuthing among insects and flowers.

The investigators were put on the case to discover whether flower colors, visible and invisible, are efficient in attracting insects.

A year's work on this difficult case has produced a good deal of information. Doctor Richtmyer has found flowers which reflect no ultra-violet color at all, others which reflect it richly, others which reflect it in varying proportions and some which reflect it strongly from some parts of their surface and not at all from other parts. The next step is to discover whether a bee shows a preference for flowers which are strong in ultra-violet coloring—whatever it may be—or whether it is biased in favor of any particular color.

A year ago the only method for solving the problem was leg-work. The scientist would have to pick out a bee and shadow it, following the bee from flower to flower and jotting down in his notebook, like a Scotland Yard man, what flowers the insect visited and what it overlooked. But it is difficult to follow a bee on its rounds, because it keeps darting off in unexpected directions and losing itself among the other bees in the same field. It would take many years of field work by many observers to get enough statistics to establish what colors a bee prefers.

Here Doctor Lutz invented a short-cut, an armchair detective trick which enables a scientist in his laboratory to gather facts in one day which the field worker could not collect in a year. It might be expressed briefly by saying that the bee keeps a diary and that the investigator discovered a means of reading the diary. Sherlock Holmes reconstructed the route walked by his friend Watson from the variations of mud stain on Watson's boots. Similar telltale entries are recorded on the legs of the bee. They are placed there by the bee in storing his honey, so that his conduct day by day for a whole season is registered in detail.

Traced by Pollen.

The grains of pollen indicate where a bee has been. Each flower has a different type of pollen grain. Under the microscope one is like a curry-comb, another is a disk, a third is a lozenge, a fourth is covered with hair, a fifth is twisted like a figure 8 and so on. A grain from any flower is distinguishable from the grain of any other flower.

Take a bee, the investigator found, brush off his legs, examine the sweepings under a microscope and from the character of the grains it is possible to tell every flower which the bee has looted of honey on its last flight.

By another application of this method it is possible to lay bare the history of a given bee for months. In storing honey in special cells for the young the bee, on each return to the hive, deposits the pollen grains that stick to its hairy legs. Examination of the group of cells under the microscope yields complete biographical data. It is possible to tell what flowers the bee visited and which were its favorites.

An enormous amount of information about bees may thus be obtained.

Scrub Stock Is Expensive.

Use a purebred sire if there is one in the neighborhood. Scrub stock costs much and returns little. Sell or eat the scrubs.

Watch Condition of Calf.

Watch the condition of the calf's bowels. At the first appearance of scouring or offensive odor, reduce the feed and treat for scours.

Feed Roughage Liberally.

Feed a cow all the roughage she will eat.

Increases Income With Better Cows.

John P. Nelson, a farmer at Stillwater, Minn., increased his farm income per acre from $16 to $23 in five years by grading up his herd with a purebred bull. "Having tried for years to make a decent income on an eighty acre farm," said Mr. Nelson, "I decided to use a pure bred sire and grade up a herd from scrub dams. The daughters of this bull at two years produced as much as their mothers at mature age. In some cases the two-year-olds exceeded their dams' production by 30 to 40 per cent. My herd average increased from 160 pounds of butterfat to 240 pounds in two years."

The average butter fat production in Minnesota is 140 pounds. At the National Dairy show, to be held at the Minnesota Fair grounds October 8 to 15, there will be cows whose production will average 600 pounds. Better dairy cattle is the answer.

Fifty Years Dairy Progress in Wisconsin.

The owners of 1,846,000 dairy cows in Wisconsin caused 1,720 cheese factories and 812 creameries to be established in that state; 1,493,000 cows in New York caused 995 cheese factories and 576 creameries to be built. Among the educational exhibits at the National Dairy show, to be held at the Minnesota Fair grounds Oct. 8 to 15, will be "Fifty Years of Dairy Progress in Wisconsin." These representations of progress will be grouped in ten year periods. Wisconsin buttermakers, cheesemakers, Bureau of Markets, Wisconsin Agricultural College and other organizations are getting the exhibit together. This exhibit alone is worth a trip to this agricultural educational exposition.

Dairy Cow Aids Farmer and Banker.

The creamery at Almelund, Minnesota, in Chisago County, received $163,350.56 for butter last year, of which $142,603.42 was paid to the farmers. Chisago county produced in 1919 $1,310,707 worth of creamery butter. One out of every three bulls in the county are pure breds. The state bank of Almelund has resources of $283,839.31 having increased to that amount from $23,261.60 in seven years. There is a thriving cow testing association in this community. These are samples of what the National Dairy Show, to be held October 8 to 15 at the Minnesota Fair Grounds, will do for the farmer or the banker.

How to Double Dairy Production.

What the use of pure bred sires is doing to increase dairy production at lower cost will be demonstrated at the National Dairy Show at the Minnesota Fair Grounds, October 8 to 15. In one Minnesota county, which holds the record for the United States the average butter fat produced per cow was 140 pounds. The minimum yield should be 300 pounds, so it can be seen how dairy production can be doubled by the use of pure breds. "Why milk 40 cows when 10 will give better results" is the message of the National Dairy Show for every farmer.

Tells Profit From Pure Breds.

George S. Taylor, a farmer at Hugo, Minnesota, increased the average annual butter fat production of his herd 100 pounds through the use of two pure bred sires. Thus, through better breeding and the keeping of records, many Northwest dairy herds are being built up to a profitable basis. The exhibits of dairy cattle and cow testing associations at the National Dairy Show to be held at the Minnesota Fair Grounds, October 8 to 15, will furnish examples of this kind to demonstrate how the farmer can increase his production and earnings at less labor and lower cost.

CARE FOR FARM WOODLANDS

Keep Stock Out as They Injure Young Seedlings and Trees—Forest Supplies Timber.

Take care of the farm woodlands, advises the forest service of the United States Department of Agriculture. Keep the stock out—they injure the young seedlings and trees. Woodland and pasture land are most profitable when managed separately. The home forest, if well cared for, will supply all the timber which the farm needs for buildings, fences and fuel.

Animal Food Required.

Animal food is required for the best growth in chicks, as well as for large egg yields. Where bugs and worms are scarce, it is well to feed meat scrap, fish scrap, or any form of milk products.

Bad Time to Buy Cows.

Usually it is a bad time to buy milk cows any time during the middle of the summer unless they are dry and due to freshen some time during the fall or early winter.

Realizing Value of Silo.

Dairy farmers are realizing more and more the place of the silo in the successful feeding of dairy cows.

Plan to Build Silo.

Plan to build the silo and remodel dairy barn or build new one.

FACTORS IN DAIRY FARMING

Of Great Importance That Barns and Utensils Be Clean to Add to Creamery Check.

Good clean barns, clean milking practices, and clean dairy utensils are three essential factors in dairy farming, whether for the man who is making it his sole business, or the farmer who uses five to ten cows to add the creamery check to his income for the month, along with other farming work.

Silo Increases Profits.

Business farmers and experiment stations have found that a silo not only increases the yearly profits of the farm, but eliminates many uncertainties of live stock raising.

Feed Calves Separately.

Tie the calves up so they can be fed separately.

Cows Standing Highest.

The cows that stand highest in testing association records are fed grain regularly to supplement pastures.

Should He Give It Up?

The way of the editor as well as the transgressor, is hard.

He tries to please—mostly tries.

If he writes an article boosting someone he is considered mushy. If he doesn't he is no help to the town.

If he takes a stand on issues he's a crank. If he doesn't he hasn't opinions.

If in writing a obituary he writes of the virtues and overlooks the weaknesses of the deceased he's a humbug. If he doesn't he has some explaining to do.

If he writes an article boosting someone he is mercenary.

If he doesn't he becomes dead.

If he's dry he's a hypocrite.

If he is wet he is a booze-fighter.

If he supports the church it is for business reasons. If he doesn't, he is an atheist.

If he publishes editorials he's got the big head. If he doesn't he doesn't know enough.

If he supports a family he's a grafter. If he doesn't he's a radical.

If he's rich he made his money dishonestly. If he's poor it's because he wasn't businesslike.

If he's successful any one could have done it. If he's unsuccessful he missed his calling.

Paraphrasing Lincoln, you can please some people all the time; all the people sometimes; but you can't please all the people all the time.—Ex.

Orchard And Garden Notes

Buy some of the improved zinnia seed that is on the market this year.

Seeds of some early vegetables may be sown now for transplanting later.

Tuberous begonias should be potted now and placed in a warm place.

Double petunias are best propagated by cuttings. A small percentage come true from seed. Excellent singles come from double seed.

Improve any warm days now by pruning and claning up the orchard and getting equipment ready for spraying. Chemicals and repairs should be purchased at once.

Spray snowballs and highbush cranberry bushes with lime sulphur before the leaves come out, to destroy the aphis eggs. Follow this with a spray of some tobacco preparation.

Fruit plants such as raspberries, currants and grape trellises make good borders for the garden. Plum and apple trees will furnish shade as well as fruit in the back yard.

Lettuce seed ranges from 150 to 600 pounds an acre. Between 2,000 and 2,500 acres of lettuce are grown in California for seed.

Get ALL The Power from Your Engine

SLOW starting—stalling—any number of engine troubles—are due to improper lubrication. This is particularly true in winter.

If you are not using Polarine, you are not getting all the power your engine is capable of delivering—nor all the economy. Polarine will avoid undue strain on battery and on starter. It will avoid worn bearings and scored cylinders.

Polarine gets into action the moment the engine starts, because its viscosity is scientifically correct—its body stable, without being heavy. Its consistency, even in the coldest weather, is such that it spreads quickly, forming a perfect film between all the moving metal surfaces.

Polarine is scientifically adapted to develop the full efficiency of your engine. The grade of Polarine specified in the chart is specified by our Board of Lubricating Engineers, who know the design and construction of your car.

Use Polarine

THE PERFECT MOTOR OIL

Made in Five Grades

It is the oil chosen by the driver who wants pep, economy and power from his car.

Polarine is a specialized product—made only from crudes chosen for their high lubricating properties.

Polarine avoids carbon troubles. This is proved by hundreds of tests, in laboratory and on the road—under toughest driving conditions.

Specify Polarine. Don't leave the choice of an oil to the garageman. The length of life of your engine, as well as your own comfort in driving, is involved.

The essence of true economy is to change your motor oil every 500 miles and fill up with the right grade of Polarine.

River Project Not Approved By Department

been made were made to carry out the necessary legal steps as provided by law. The members did not seek places on this board. They were asked to serve. All of them have given the best service they knew how to give.

"I understand there is a movement among the objectors to these projects now to ask for an investigation of the records of the Red Lake Drainage and Conservancy Board. I have had in mind to request the public examiner to send a man to Red Lake Falls who would go over the records with the secretary and treasurer at once. We certainly do not oppose any desire to investigate our records. They are open to the public. Most of the documents are court records.

Result Not Forseen

"The enclosed financial statement was compiled hurriedly from the secretary's warrant register. Anyone interested will be sent a copy. As to details of expenditures, the public examiner is required by law to examine the accounts and will do so.

"All the members of the board realized last April that funds were nearly exhausted. At the Gonvick hearing the writer and others of the members informed the court of the financial condition of the district especially as a continuance of the hearing was decided upon and ordered and the viewers were directed that both projects would be ordered. That the proceedings were dismissed in the one and plans not approved by the federal government in the other was not and could not be forseen at that time.

Valuable Data Gained

"The board members, guided by their council, followed the legal steps outlined. I, for one, do not wish to place the blame upon anyone. Neither do I believe that the board should be blamed. The plans and specifications, reports of engineer and viewers and the information gained regarding the practical problems for these projects now belong to the district. In the future, if the farmers so desire, they may agitate for direct federal and state aid, the union of the two projects into one and to secure an amendment to the existing state law which will minutely specify the method of securing payment by water powers which is covered adequately but only in a broad way in the present law.

"If sufficient federal and state funds are provided, perhaps the farmers on the higher lands, draining onto and drowning out the unfortunate settlers on the lower lands whose entire possessions are annually jeopardized by floods, will join with them in putting these necessary projects through.

"I know that you feel as I do that this has been a thankless task. I have been compelled to give it many days and evenings of my own time. Personally I wish to have someone else take up the work in the future. This much has been done: there are now definite engineering plans that are valuable for the future which need not be worked up again.

"As members of the board I presume we shall willingly admit that we have made mistakes in common with all other human beings. The attitude of the farmers regarding the Red Lake project seemed to me more like a sudden uprising than a deep-seated permanent opposition, especially as just a few months before we had been charged with delaying the project. Time will justify the plans submitted. Regarding financing, while not very hopeful about it, I sincerely hope that both the federal and state government will assist with direct appropriations at some time in the future when there is a desire to proceed.

"I am in favor of presenting our resignations to the judges as soon as the final account is made and audited. This is something for each individual member to think out for himself. I do not wish to be in the position of where a large number of farmers believe a project that they don't want is likely to be threatened even though I do know that it is absolutely necessary.

"During an agricultural depression like the one we are passing through, it is difficult to look to the future with optimism, although this is the time to remove obstacles that stand in the way of prosperity.

"I shall be glad to get your views regarding these matters. Mr. Boughton, Jr., has promised me to let us know when his father returns."

Attached to this preliminary report is a statement of the receipts and disbursements of the commission to date. This shows that the warrants issued for the Red Lake and Clearwater projects amount to $21,467.81, from which is to be deducted the reimbursement from state appropriation for these two projects, $2,842.79, leaving a balance, according to the secretary's records, of $18,625.02 as the total expenditure. Receipts from the 1920 preliminary fund were $5,000.01, leaving a balance of $11,527.11. The court has authorized an assessment against the counties involved for the year 1923 of $10,000 which will leave a balance unprovided for $1,527.11.

"In addition there is the bill of Pennington county covering district organization expense which has never been presented to the board as well as bills for attorney's fees, etc., which have not been presented.

Board's Work Well Done

"The classification of the vouchers has not been made but all vouchers are in legal form as suggested by Mr. Cook of the public examiner's office, who advised Mr. Boughton and the secretary of the proper set of books, vouchers and warrants to use for the permanent records of the district.

"Considering the magnitude of the projects, the difficulties that confronted the board in securing funds to proceed with the engineering work, the repeated charges of delays that were made, the extent of the viewers' work where the court ordered reviewing twice, the necessary expense incident to meetings of the board and seven court hearings, the several conferences necessary with the state drainage commissioner and the consulting engineer, the actual survey work embracing about 500,000 acres, the board submits this preliminary to its final report with confidence that they have done the best they could do under the circumstances.

"The 1923 preliminary fund order provided that the counties should advance the following sums: Beltrami, $2,162.50; Clearwater, $3,691.00; Marshall, $850; Pennington, $2,671.00; Polk, $412.00 and Red Lake, $866.00. Total $10,000.00.

"The state appropriation was expended under the direction of E. V. Willard, state commissioner of drainage and waters.

Co-operative Stores Not a Success, Says Townley

The views of Arthur C. Townley, former president of the National Nonpartisan league in regard to farmers' co-operative organizations are changing, it was indicated in a speech made by him at Sioux Falls, S. D., on Monday of this week. He declared against the advisability of farmers establishing stores, elevators, mills and other businesses. Though refusing to assert that such experiments in the past had been proven absolute failures, he said that "experience has shown that farmers' stores and other organizations have failed to reduce the price of commodities or to conduct the business on a better basis."

"You can't farm and run a business too," he continued, "and make it a success in competition with men especially trained for that work and with highly developed organizations already functioning."

Townley's speech was given to explain the National Producers' alliance which he started a short time ago at Minneapolis. He declared farmers should keep a record of the cost of production and take steps to see that they were properly paid for their labors. It is the purpose of the new organization, he explained, to regulate the sale of farm products at a certain price and also to prevent the supply from exceeding the demand.

"Conditions have changed," he asserted, "and now the public realizes that the farmer must have a fair price for his goods if the nation is to prosper."

With public opinion in its favor the new alliance should be a success, he continued.

As with Minnesota among the states, so with the United States among the nations. No other part of the world has or can supply us with the kinds of timber we need if we fail to produce it ourselves. We cannot trust to the nation; the nation cannot trust to the world. We must grow what we need or go without.

CLEAR-CUT STATEMENT OF EUROPEAN PROBLEMS

More Economics, Less Politics Seen as Necessity—Sound Money Required.

The problem of European rehabilitation is set forth in simple and clear-cut terms in a statement of the general principles involved, prepared for the Journal of the American Bankers Association by B. M. Anderson, Jr., an economist of national reputation, who has devoted particular study to America's interest in the foreign situation. Mr. Anderson schedules these main principles as follows:

1. Free play of private enterprise is the great hope of the future. This means, on the one hand, that governments should withdraw as rapidly as possible from the practice of bread subsidies, unemployment doles, public operation and control of industry, and the like. It means, on the other hand, that many governments must perform far better than they have been performing what is perhaps the greatest economic function of government — the provision of sound money as a basis for safe business.

2. Economic considerations must be given priority over political considerations, and steps toward rehabilitation must be based on a realistic summing up of assets and liabilities.

3. Patchwork solutions dealing with only one or two elements of the problem are unlikely to be successful. Just because reparations and interallied debts, public finance, currency reform and so on are really tied together, it is necessary that we should undertake to accomplish all of them in one comprehensive plan. If we are to accomplish much in connection with any of them.

A Comprehensive Plan

4. A comprehensive plan should undertake to accomplish the following things:

(a) The restoration of the moneys of continental Europe to a gold basis. Since this obviously cannot be done for most of the former belligerents at the old gold pars, it is necessary that newer and much lower gold pars should be established, at which gold redemption can be speedily begun and certainly maintained. In the case of those currencies whose values have approached the vanishing point, even more drastic measures may be necessary.

(b) Public finances must be reformed by such drastic increases in taxes and such radical reductions in expenditures as will enable the governments to pay their way without further increase in domestic debt. Floating debts should be funded into long time issues.

(c) A workable adjustment of the reparations problem based on economic realities is essential.

(d) Artificial trade barriers must be greatly modified.

(e) The governments of Great Britain and the United States, in consideration of radical reforms on the continent of Europe, can well afford to reduce greatly or even cancel the debts of their continental allies.

(f) The bankers of the United States, Great Britain, Japan and perhaps other non-European countries, in consideration of financial reforms in continental Europe, should, and doubtless would, be ready to place with the investors of their countries substantial blocks of continental securities to provide necessary working capital, to facilitate the financial and currency reforms and to assist in industrial revival on the continent of Europe, taking great pains that no part of the new loans be used for non-essential purposes.

LAND PRICES A PUBLIC PROBLEM

Speculators by Running Selling Values Above Production Values Make Farming Unprofitable.

CIVILIZATION PUT BACKWARD

Bankers' Farm Expert Discusses Economics of Farm Finance From Farmers' Viewpoint—Calls Farmers Men of Affairs.

By D. H. OTIS
Agricultural Director American Bankers' Association.

D. H. Otis

Our farmers are fast becoming men of affairs. They do business in a business way. Our rural banks owe their existence to the patronage of the farmer.

Our farms are run as business enterprises. The products of the farm are thrown upon the market in large quantities. Our farmers do not attempt to supply their own needs from what they produce but rely on purchasing what they need from the sale of the product or products that they are able to produce best and most economically.

Land, labor and capital are the three factors involved in production. A rise in any one of these factors increases the cost of production. Land values have been rising rapidly. This means that many of our farmers have become wealthy not so much from the farm products sold from the farm but from the rise in value of land. They are enjoying what is commonly spoken of as the "unearned increment." Some day somebody will have to pay for this. If we do not then it will be our children or our children's children.

Something to Think About

It is said that only from 7 to 15 per cent of the farms of the United States are inherited. The rest must be paid for in whole or in part once with each generation. Can this be done? With increasing land values this becomes increasingly more difficult. A reasonable rate of interest on land worth $300.00 will involve an interest or rental charge of $15.00 to $18.00 per acre. On land worth $400.00 this will be from $20.00 to $24.00 per acre. This is a heavy fixed charge for the farmer who attempts to pay for his farm in the course of a life time. Unless this can be done it means that we are to be cursed with a permanent tenant system.

The census shows that our farm acreage has not increased near in proportion to the increase in population. It is true that we have regions of undeveloped or only partially developed land, but the unused land is the least productive or is poorly located or needs development, or the rainfall is uncertain. Our labor costs are greater than in European countries and as increased yields per acre usually involve more labor the increase in production from more intensive culture or from developing less desirable land takes place slowly. Improvements in our country which increases labor or utilization of less desirable land involve higher prices for food unless the farmer is willing to take less profits.

The greatest problem of our nation is to have men on farms that can produce food at prices that the consumer can afford to pay. The farmer has the job of feeding the world. He cannot loaf on the job. He must do his best to select crops, livestock, feed, breed and conduct his business economically so as to furnish food at low cost and at the same time he should have a reasonable return if agriculture is to be made permanent, profitable, and comfortable.

Civilization Needs the Farmer

The solution of our food problem is directly connected with the land problem. If there is a proper adjustment between the value of land and the other factors of production and the prices of farm products then it will be possible for the farmers to attack this problem with the hope of arriving at a satisfactory solution. If land values are run up beyond their value for production purposes in order that the speculator, be he farmer or real estate dealer, may make money then the real farmer will find farming unprofitable. The brighter and more ambitious young men will be attracted away from the farm and the farmers as a class will deteriorate. This in turn will mean that our civilization will go backward instead of forward.

Every citizen is therefore interested in the land problem and should use his influence to see that speculators do not run the selling value beyond production value. Fictitious land values spell higher cost of living and ultimately a lower class of citizens as farmers.

CONTROL OF CHICKEN PESTS

Application of Blue Ointment Will Prove Efficacious, as Will Sodium Fluorid.

A study of the life of chicken lice shows that there are a dozen different kinds infesting the same bird. Most of them, however, frequent the rear part of the body at least once in every twenty-four hours where they obtain the necessary moisture for their life and growth. This moisture is obtained from around the vent. This habit of lice would answer one method of treatment, the use of blue ointment.

Blue ointment applied around the vent and under the wing of each fowl affected seems to get rid of the lice in a very short time. A piece the size of a good sized pea is plenty for one bird. If the blue ointment is thick and heavy it should be melted so that it can be applied in a very thin layer. It is well to make a second application two weeks after the first, especially if the birds are badly affected.

Any of the advertised lice powders and many of the home-made powders seem to work very well. Good dust wallows handy to the poultry house also aid considerably in controlling this pest.

Sodium florid can also be used to control lice. This is a common preparation which can be obtained at any drug store. It is applied by what is known as the pinch method. A pinch should be worked into the fluff of the tail, a pinch under each wing, a pinch on the back, and a pinch worked into the neck feathers.
